SATURDAY EVENING, AUGUST 17.

NEWS FROM HOME.—Scotia's immortal bard once prayed

Oh wad some power the giftie gie us,
To see ourselves as ithers see us,
It would frae many a blunder free us.

The truth is patent to all and its latest development is none the less valuable than preceding instances. Our contemporary gave us a very good report of a preliminary meeting on Wednesday evening to form a Reform Association for Rideau Ward. No particular object was stated in the act thus determined upon, but while the local paper did not show its hand there could be no harm in letting Big Thunder know what was doing in Kingston. Under the impression that the sublimated essence of Gritism alone read this paper, it was thought perfectly harmless in every way to let it know the real issue in view, and so the Kingston correspondent let the cat out of the bag in the following style:—

The late election is already proceeding beneficial results in the Reform body of Kingston. The lesson has not been thrown away. It has been determined to carry Reform principles into the municipal representation of the city, and for that purpose and to strengthen and perfect the organization of the body here it has been decided to establish the Reform associations in each ward in the city. Last night the first of these was established with marked success in Rideau Ward. There was a full attendance, and thirty members were enrolled. Mr W. Robinson, M.P.P., and other gentlemen addressed the audience, and perfect unanimity of action prevailed. It is understood that a certain sum will be paid by members for the purpose of disseminating Reform papers and pamphlets more extensively among the people, thus keeping the public more intimately acquainted from time to time with the actions of its representatives in parliament. So rolls the ball; and like an avalanche it will surely gather weight and overwhelming power.

Thank you, gentlemen. We are much obliged to you for the information. If you are going "to fight it out on that line," you will be met fairly and squarely. If it is necessary to embreil every man in politics, and make him toe the mark as a Conservative or Reformer, well and good. We regret the issue; we should be exceedingly sorry to see good men on either side displaced from our municipal councils simply because they happened to vote for Sir John or Mr Carruthers, but if the thing must be done let it be fairly understood. But is it not very remarkable that Rideau Ward alone is favoured so highly? Has the Grit majority in that ward excited its late members to try their hands? Would it not be a sight to make good men smile, to see the hatchet buried between the rival grits, and both yoked to carry the flag borne by the bone of contention three illustrious ex-joints to a victory for pure Reform. Forewarned forearmed and if the conservatives are caught napping after this fair notice, the result must rest with themselves.

THE THOUSAND ISLANDS.—A tourist among these beautiful islands cannot fail to be struck with the unrivalled beauty of the whole panorama so lavishly spread out by good dame Nature. Winding among their picturesque channels and high rocky shores, the mind insensibly is struck with the marvellous display. The cool breeze continually playing about in nooks and crannies of the rocks and trees fans the heated brow, and at every turn some new beauty presents itself. The scene just now is at once splended, and romantic, nearly every island is dotted here and there with white tents, and the merry laugh of the pleasure seekers is heard on all sides. Troops of visitors from Canada and the States are sprinkled here and there finding amid the cheerful scenes health, recreation, and pleasure. The splendid island off the village of Alexandria Bay, owned by the Messrs. Pullman, the renowned patentees of the Palace cars on so many of our railroads is the most delightful spot we have ever seen. It is not very large, but any diminutiveness in this respect is men than compensated by the most incomparable beauty of all its surroundings. Here and there on the neighbouring islands are found the less pretentious homes of poorer men, and all combined makes that end of the islands a scene of surpassing pleasure. There is just one thing we must deprecate. The islands are just as nature left them, and yet we are pained to hear that the ubiquitous Yankee Hotel is about to supplant the tent and homestead. Men will make money, but it seems too bad that in doing so, the charm of novelty will be replaced by the senseless follies of Saratoga and Long Branch, as the Islands now are, they are simply sublime; with huge Yankee hotels and their attendant abominations of crowded rooms and wretched meals the charm would pass away. One thing however will afford relief. There are about 1,800 Islands in all, and it will take some years to abolish nature and substitute in her stead the meretricious charms of a tasteless art. Let all pay a visit of a week to those enchanting places, and he will return with the conviction that the finest attempts of beauty in art are but a horrid commentary on the stern simplicity of unadorned nature.

PRINCE EDWARD.—Cheering news comes to us from this county. Mr McCuaig has been making a most successful canvass, and the strongest hopes are entertained of his success. The visit of Sir John Macdonald to Picton has had a most beneficial effect among the electors. We heard of one Mr Bongard, who controls some 16 or 17 votes, and who, having heard Sir John's speech upon that occasion, said he had been voting on the wrong side all his lifetime, but would do so no longer. We have also heard of a whole school section which formerly supported Mr Walter Ross, and which will not give him a single vote this time. In fact there is a grand upheaval of the people in Prince Edward against the obstructionist candidate, Ross. They see very well that he is a political failure, and although he may be a very worthy citizen, he is quite unfitted for the position into which he has thrust himself. There is a healthy political feeling abroad in Prince Edward which we are pleased to note; it is a sure augury of victory for McCuaig next week. It is now beyond a peradventure that the ministry will have a majority of 30 or 50 in the new House, and so the electors of Prince Edward must decide whether they will wheel into line with the party of Union and Progress, and Sir John Macdonald at the helm, with Mr McCuaig as their representative, or remain out in the cold dormant and stagnant with Walter Ross. That they will give a good account of themselves next Friday, we have not the shadow of a doubt.

ADDINGTON.—The nomination is over, and the candidates are only Mr Lapum and Mr Shibley. At one time we feared that at the last moment a Grit might be brought out and slip in between the two Conservative candidates. That danger is now past, and the electors have only to decide between Messrs J. N. Lapum and Shibley. Well, between these two we think they should have no difficulty in deciding in favour of Mr Lapum. Personally we know more of Mr Shibley, and have more business transactions with him than with Mr Lapum; but politically we find Mr Lapum a consistent, upright man, which is more than we can say for his opponent. To the supporters of the Government we would say that Mr Lapum has consistently proved his sincerity by his acts; there has been no playing "fast and loose" with him for the purpose of gaining temporary popularity or Grit votes, he came out as a Conservative, and has voted steadily and squarely with the Government, and this should gain him the gratitude of its friends. Mr Shibley also is an Annexationist, he has never made any secret of his principles, he may possibly do so now to gain support, but that is not honest, if he believes in the benefits of Annexation, this would be the time to proclaim it on the housetops. It might be unpopular at first, but if really a benefit it would in the end succeed. (Magna veritas et prevalebit.) So far however from avowing this principle, Mr Shibley rather shirks it from a fear of offending the loyalty of the electors of Addington. He may do so if he pleases, but the man who hides his principles for the purpose of currying favour with the electors ought not to be the man for Addington. Honesty, and consistency in politics as in every thing else ought to have its reward, and if so the electors of Addington will have no difficulty in deciding to vote for a straight forward independent man in Mr Lapum.

ALGOMA.—The nomination for Algoma, took place at Sault Ste Marie, on Tuesday last. Geo. T. Denison, the Hon. John B. Robinson, Frederick Cumberland and Col. Rankin were nominated. The contest will be between Col. Denison, and the Hon. Mr Robinson. Denison, is a well known disappointed office-seeker, and like all such is down upon the government. Mr Robinson is a supporter of the Ministry, add it is believed will be elected.

THE GRAIN TRADE—ITS INCREASE.—For several years past the large and important grain trade—or rather the transhipping business of this port has steadily increased. Although very extensive and profitable last season, we are authentically informed the trade up to the time we write, drawing an inference from the amount of grain passed through the hands of the different forwarding firms, is in excess of that of any previous corresponding date. In 1871 about 10,000,000 were transhipped here; this year it is confidently expected to be considerably more. Immense quantities of wheat and corn are now under weigh in vessels consigned to Kingston. The experience of the past has, however, been productive of good results. The cargoes are not shipped in a manner to create a rush, and the forwarders being possessed of superior facilities there is no ground for complaint—few detentions occur, and consequently the absence of claims for demurrage. The management of the business in this port—the most prominent in Ontario—is commendable, and its disposal gives satisfaction to all connected therewith.

PISCATORIAL PLEASURES.—Almost daily jovial parties of young men and ladies too leave in sail or small row boats for a few days' angling among the Thousand Islands. The fame of the St. Lawrence for such excursions and recreation extends far and wide, and companies of tourists from Cobourg, Belleville, etc., have passed this port in pursuit of pleasure and relaxation, and rarely, if ever, have any returned with disappointed anticipations. Annually many seek a favourable site on the river, and feel supremely happy "tenting on the old camp ground," wiling away the weary. ome hours in fishing, and feasting occasionally on a delicious "catch" of the finny denizens of the St. Lawrence.

SPECIAL TELEGRAMS

(Per Montreal Telegraph Line.)

The Elections.

EAST GREY.—HURRAH FOR FLESHER.

Returns from East Grey are nearly complete. Flesher will have a majority of about three hundred.

NORTH BRUCE.

So far as heard from, Mr Gillies has a majority of 10.

EAST TORONTO.

At 10 o'clock the Globe's bulletin said

O'Donoghue.....302

At the same time the Leader claimed a majority of 32 for Beatty. It is evidently a close election so far.

LATER.

11 o'clock.—The Mail says

Arrival of the Steamship Samatian.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The steamship Sámatian arrived at Father Point at 9:40 a.m.

The Rev. Mr Mulock has returned from old Orchard Beach where he has been spending the last few weeks. We are pleased to see him look so well after his trip.

Major Gerahty and Mr J. Anglin have left town for the old country. We wish them a pleasant trip.

METEORIC—NOT THE COMET.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock on Thursday night a very large, luminous meteor appeared in the north western sky. It burned with a phosphorescent hue, and moved slowly southward, scintillating brilliantly and gradually diminishing in size, till at length it vanished altogether, leaving a long tail, resembling that of a comet, and making a loud noise as it burst into a thousand fragments. It was seen at Belleville, Napanee, Ottawa and several parts of the Province, and is similarly described by our contemporaries.

KINGSTON COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.—By a reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the classes in this school will open on Monday. The success which has attended the Institute in the past is very likely to continue, as the application for admissions has never been greater than they are at the present time. In addition to the pupils who are coming from the city and other parts of the country, the pupils of the Public Schools will have an opportunity of competing for several scholarships on Monday. The examination will be held in the Johnston Street School house at eleven o'clock, and the Head Master is very happy to announce that the scholarships to be competed for at this time have been presented by the following gentlemen:—John Carruthers, Esq., G. A. Kirkpatrick, Esq., M.P., Hon. A. Campbell, Sir John A. Macdonald, and the Trustees of the Institute. One or two more may be announced on Monday. These scholarships are of the annual value of $18, and are tenable for two years at the Institute. The pupils of the Public Schools and the public generally ought to appreciate the efforts made by the masters of this school to give it a position second to none in the Province.

CHARITABLE.—Charitably inclined persons would have an opportunity of doing a kind act by contributing a few dollars towards defraying the expenses of a deserving family to their father in the West. Contributions will be thankfully received at this office or by Mr C. H. Hatch.

THE HARBOUR—THAT SHOAL.—In Thursday evening's issue we referred to the accident that befel the propeller Lake Michigan, in grounding on the shoal opposite the wharf of the Canadian Engine and Machinery Company, and called the attention of the proper party—the City Council—to the fact that this was not the first mishap that had occurred owing to the absence of a buoy wherewith to designate the danger to vessels entering the port. The Whig makes this the subject of a bitter attack upon the Government, and has a great deal to say about the $10,000 granted for harbour improvement. Balderdash surely. The Whig knows well that it only requires something like $10 to place a buoy upon the rock; it is a matter of purely local interest, and why such buncomb? The writer, however, is excused. It is plainly evident that his brain is rambling. He has little knowledge of the position of the harbour, else, in alluding to the propeller Argyle, which struck on her passage down the St. Lawrence, he would not have said that she continued her course to Oswego, and finally beached on Grenadier Island. Absurd!

O'BRIEN'S CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.—The exhibition given by this excellent combination last night was the best witnessed in Kingston for many a day, the attendance being so large as to fill the spacious pavilion, and numbered, we believe, over 3,000 persons. The museum, menagerie, and caravan were replete with attractions, and the circus has had no equal to our recollection. The equestrianism, gymnastics, acrobatism, and contortion acts of the several artists—a first-class staff—were better than usual, and elicited the approbation of the immense assemblage of spectators.

THE ALL ENGLAND ELEVEN.—On Monday next the celebrated English Cricketers who sailed for Quebec per steamship Sarmation on the 8th inst, are expected to arrive in Canada, and the most active preparations are being made for their reception and the subsequent matches which are to come off in this order:—That at Montreal will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next. The playing at Ottawa begins on Tuesday, Aug. 27th. The Grand Trunk, Canada Central, and St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railways, together with the various steamers, will carry passengers two ways for one-fare for these matches.

HOW IS THIS?—We see by the Belleville papers that coal is being offered cheaper there than it is in Kingston.

Russell Gurney and W. H. Smith, M.P., have sailed for America in the Moravian. Gurney returns to resume his seat in the American and British Joint Claims Commission, which meets in Newport next month, and Smith, the well-known news dealer of London, will make a tour through Canada and the United States.

CRICKET MATCH.—In lieu of the match unavoidably postponed between the Ottawa Cricket Club, and an eleven of this city, there will be a contest this afternoon, between a team selected from the News and Whig and the Kingston Cricket Club. The typos as a rule are unpretentious, but as recent experience went to show, some of them can handle the willow equal to players of local celebrity. A good match is in prospect. Odds on the typos.

REMEMBRANCE.

Still throbs my heart with anguish,
Still fill mine eyes with tears,
As memory never failing,
Brings back the bygone years.

Revives the hidden sorrow,
The grief that Rachel knew,
When in Rama she was weeping
For the children Herod slew.

And gazing down the vista
Of the eventful past,
A lovely vision rises
The fair, the loved, the lost.

O joys! the sweetest, purest,
Ye were like summer's bloom;
O morn! how fair thy rising,
To end in deepest gloom.

Lord clear my darkened vision,
And guide my weary feet
To a land of blest reunion,
To happiness complete.

THE ARCHBISHOPS AND THE ATHANASIAN CREED.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York have replied to the Memorial respecting the use of the Athanasian Creed, which, at the instance of Lord Shaftesbury, was presented to them by seven thousand lay members of the Church of England. The Archbishops represent that "Under all the circumstances," they "are prepared to assent to the course now recommended" to them—that is, to the adoption of measures "to render the recital of the Creed in the public services of the Church no longer compulsory." Whatever the immediate result of the present agitation, such a declaration as this renders the continued imposition of the Creed upon the Laity no longer possible. Archbishop Tillotson wished "we were well rid of it," and now, after nearly 200 years, during which the use of the Creed has been revived and vigourously defended, the two Archbishops concur in an authoritative declaration that they are, at least, willing to be rid of it.

The workingmen of Montreal will hold a mass meeting on Friday evening at the corner of Canning and St. Joseph streets, in the interest of Mr George A. Drummond. We hope they will follow the example of their noble brethren in Hamilton, and vote like a solid phalanx for the people's candidate—G. A. Drummond.

We learn of the drowning of a man from the schooner Richmond on her way from here to Oswego. The man was John Keith, an uncle of the captain's. Mr Keith, who was walking along the side of the vessel on the lumber, was heard to cry out, and seen fall into the lake. The captain immediately threw overboard a number of planks and the vessel was hove to and the boat sent out, but the man could not be found. He probably sank at once. The occurrence was purely accidental, and no one was to blame.—Napanee Standard.

Dr. Whitcher, the energetic Commissioner of Fisheries, has returned from a tour of inspection of the fisheries of the Lower St. Lawrence. He reports that he found them in excellent condition, especially the salmon fisheries. The catch has not been very large this season on account of low water, but the streams, he says, are actually swarming with salmon fry. Mr Wilmot, of the Newcastle fish breeding establishment, accompanied Mr Whitcher for the purpose of selecting places in which salmon breeding can be undertaken profitably. They believe from their observations that enormous quantities of salmon can be raised in that section with a very small outlay of capital.—Ottawa Citizen.

Photographers have plenty to do at the sea-side resorts, a sudden impression having taken possession of the minds of fashionable ladies that it is the correct thing to have their photographs taken seated in romantic groups on the beach.

A bride of fourteen is on exhibition at Niagara this season. She looks younger, and child-like wipes her eyes with her apron when she cries. She had first row with her husband last Wednesday—called him a nasty man, and said she would go to see her ma.

A travelling correspondent of the Troy Times, who has been making a tour in the Dominion, tells the people of the United States of Canada's resolve to work out her own destiny in her own way, apart and distinct from the Republic. "I am satisfied," says he, "that 99 out of every hundred of the people are opposed to annexation; they dream of an independent nation. The people who rule are loyal to Great Britain, but hope some day to build here a Greater Britain. Johnny Kanuck is willing that his Cousin Jonathan shall visit him, on condition that the Yankee pays double price for everything, but under no circumstances will little Johnny consent to sleep in the same bed with big Jonathan. This antipathy is natural. We need not be a sponge among nations, absorbing, like water, all our weak neighbours. Give them a fair show. Let these English-speaking sons of the North do their own work in their own way; let them, if they can, hew out of this wilderness a nation compact and friendly, and then perhaps will follow, not annexation, for that signifies the swallowing of the lesser by the greater, but consolidation, which implies mutual privileges." We thank our Yankee cousins for these liberal, brave words.—Montreal Gazette.

A HOWLING DOG.—The Rev. John Light, vicar of All Saints' Church, Clyesdale road, Nottinghill was summoned for keeping a dog so as to be a nuisance. There was a cross summons against the complainant, a gentleman named Barclay, for going to the defendant's house at four o'clock in the morning, and knocking violently at the front door. The dog, it appears, was fastened near the church, in order to deter evil doers from committing sacrilege, but the animal kept up such a dismay howling through the night, that Mr Barclay, who was unable to sleep, at length lost patience, and proceeding to the vicarage, knocked up the gardener, and implored him to keep the dog quiet. Eventually the summonses on each side were withdrawn on the understanding that the noisy animal was to be speedily removed from the neighbourhood.

CAUGHT FIBBING.—GEO. BROWN AT ELORA—HOW HE PUT HIS FOOT IN IT.

Brantford, August 10th, 1872.—Yesterday evening there was a large turnout of Grits at Elora to listen to a speech from the Great Blunderer himself the Hon. George Brown. Amongst other rash statements which Mr Brown made, he charged upon the Government gross incorrectness and wilful falsification in taking the census in Ontario. "Why," said the Hon. George in an ecstacy of slanderous exultation—"Why, gentlemen, only think of it, the Globe office in Toronto, with its 200 employees was never enumerated!" His audience, open-mouthed, swallowed the statements, and were horrified at the gross misconduct of the Ottawa Government's officials. Fortunately, Mr J. J. Hawkins, of Brantford, was present on the platform, and a memorandum was handed to him that the census enumerator who had taken the Globe office was present at the meeting. At the close of the windmill oration, Mr Brown was magnificently bustling off, when Mr Hawkins rose and requested leave to say a few words, and at the same time called out to Mr Brown to "stay a minute, and he would detain him but for a moment." The suddenness and directness of the appeal took the audience by surprise, and, Mr Brown not knowing what was in store for him, came reluctantly back to hear what this questioner had to say. Mr Hawkins then rose and said, "Mr Chairman, I wish to enquire if there is present at this meeting a Mr Byrne, formerly of Toronto, and if he is will he please to stand up." Mr Byrne arose and all eyes were fixed on him. Mr Hawkins then asked him "If he had acted as census enumerator in Toronto last year, and in that capacity had enumerated the Globe office?" The answer came clear and distinct "Yes sir, I enumerated the employees in the Globe office and was there some ten times in the discharge of that duty!" The effect on the audience was dramatic. It was indescribable. Mr Hawkins turned to them and said: "There, gentlemen, you see what reliance can be placed upon Mr Brown's statements. Those who stood near Mr Brown, even his own supporters, shrunk from him as if he had a leprosy, and the Great Villifier himself grew pale and red by turns. He stuttered and stammered and endeavoured to explain, but the best Grit in the crowd saw it was "no go," and felt the truth of old Peter Brown's encomium on his son, "that he was uncoclever, but awfu' economical o' the truth." Mr Brown's veracity is now at a discount in Elora.

Now, what was the object of this foolish mis-statement? If there had been anything to gain by it, beyond the mere gratification of a miserable spite, one might find and excuse for it, but it was as senseless as it was uncalled for. Surely Mr Brown did not want any further increase of representation for Toronto—or for Ontario either. If every redistribution Bill decennally increases the Government majority by some half-dozen votes, it may possibly be found undesirable for the Grits to have any increased representation for Ontario at all.—Ottawa Citizen.

The Sunday School in connection with All Souls' Church, Walsworth, held a fete in Camden-park, Chiselhurst, on Tuesday, by permission of the Emperor Napoleon. The Emperor and Prince Imperial came out to see the children, and replying to an address delivered by Dr. Hill, his Majesty said that he had always taken an interest in education, and that he had been much touched by the kindliness of the reception which all classes of English people had accorded to him during his stay in this country. He had always valued the friendship of this nation, and the sympathy which he had everywhere met was exceedingly grateful to him.

DIED.

At Guelph, on Wednesday, 13th inst., Mr John Henry Chace, aged 36 years.
