NEW YORK DESPATCHES

Erie, Pa., Sept. 4, midnight.—The Reed House, the principal hotel here, was destroyed by fire to-night.

Nagaskis, Japar, Aug. 31, via London, Sept. 4.—The Pacific Mail steamer America arrived here on the morning of the 24th inst. at 11 o'clock. The same night the freight deck took fire and immediately the whole ship was enveloped in flames defying all efforts to extinguish them. The vessel burned all night and was totally destroyed, together with Hong Kong mails, freight and passengers, and officers, luggage. The rapid progress made by the fire forced all hands to jump into the water, there being no time even to lower the boats. Six Chinamen were burned or drowned and ten Chinamen, engineers, store keeper, steerage watchman, and cook are missing. The Treasure will be recovered. The cause of the fire is unknown.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—The collection of diamonds, rubies, and sapphires, recently exhibited here as coming from Arizona have been sent to London for identification, if possible, by the parties claiming to have recently sold them to Americans. The disbelief in the genuiness of the reported discoveries is increasing here.

Carlist, Pa., Sept. 5.—The trial of Dr. Schoeppe was continued yesterday. The medical testimony is of a conflicting and contradictory character. The general impression is that an acquittal will be the result.

Louisville, Ky. Sept. 5.—Colonel Dunican read a despatch from Francis Adams, when the convention met this morning stating that he would serve as Vice-President along with O'Conor, but in no other capacity. The convention then adjourned without making any new nominations.

San Francisco Sept. 5.—Despatches received here state that the elections for members of the Canadian Parliament just concluded in British Columbia was very exciting and resulted in the choice of Messrs Decesmes and Nathan.

SOUTH GRENVILLE ELECTION TRIAL

Prescott, Sept. 3.—The South Grenville trial was opened here to-day at noon before Mr V. C. Mowat. The petitioner, Mr W. H. Ellis, claims the seat. He was represented by his counsel Mr R. A. Harrison, Q.C., and Mr James Reynolds. Mr C. F. Fraser appeared in person. Mr A. N. Richards, Q.C., and Mr James McLellan also appeared for him. Mr C. A. Brough was the registrar. Mr Fraser's majority was nine.

Mr Harrison endeavoured to have the respondents begin with their charges of corrupt practices. This was combatted, and then Mr Harison argued that the scrutiny should be entered upon. The respondents said they were not ready as they had prepared and were ready to meet petitioner's charges of bribery.

The scrutiny was then proceeded with, the petitioner attacking the votes of respondent, respondent to have leave to offer further evidence where he was. He is to do so to-morrow. Petitioner to be prepared with his bribery lists to-morrow. The votes attacked to-day have been Albert Aiken, James Lundy, Ferdinand Levidy, W. Scott, and Pat Mullin, all adjourned for further evidence, and Andrew Brown, Thomas Clelland, David Adams, Haller Smaden, J. W. Bass, Augustus Whitney, and James Murphy held good, and Hugh Rankin, Joseph Cavanagh held bad. —Globe.

The expectation that Miss Nellie Grant is to "come out" this season fills the hearts of the fashionable young ladies at Washington with unwonted hope. Long years have passed since the White House could present such a boon to the metropolis as a maiden just entering upon the threshold of womanhood to ornament and beautify with rare modesty and queenly deportment the executive parlors of the nation. Miss Lane, President Buchanan's niece, was the last lady who filled this role, and she fitted the niche superbly.

O'Grady, a diamond pedlar, was exhibiting a set of diamond studs to some politicians in the vicinity of the Brooklyn city hall a few days since. As the price was $4,000, he did not find a purchaser, and thought he put them back in his pocket. They fell upon the ground and were subsequently picked up by two boys, who took them to a jeweler on Court street and sold them for $5. In the meantime O'Grady, missing them, offered a reward of $1,500 for them. The jeweler sold them to a gentleman in New York, and they have not as yet been recovered.

CATHOLIC AND ORANGE.—Mr Kidd, a Catholic, who was defeated the other day in South Perth, hastened down when the contest was ever there to go into Cardwell to help Mr Hillyard Cameron. Going into the Catholic Township of Adjala, he told his co-religionists there that a sense of gratitude to the Orange body, which had supported him so heartily in Perth, had induced him to come there to help the ex-Grand Master. We commend this circumstance to the Orangemen of South Victoria, who, we hope, will come forward as strongly for Mr Dormer on Tuesday next, as the Orangemen of South Perth did for Mr Kidd.—Mail.

The Bishop of London, by bestowing upon the Rev. Daniel Wilson, of Islington, a prebend in St. Paul's Cathedral, has done a judicious act, which will meet with approbation from all those who desire to see merit duly rewarded in the church. Mr Wilson, who is the son of the late Bishop of Calcutta, has long held a very prominent place amongst the Evangelical section of the church.

The steamer Bienville was burned at sea, but the loss of life in consequence was small. The Metis was wrecked within sight of the shore, and the loss of life was large. These facts are suggestive, and have no little weight of judgment against the officers of the Metis.

One of the saddest expressions ever uttered was that of a poor woman who had lost her husband and two children in the disaster on the sound. The body of her husband was washed ashore, and as she sat beside it in the cabin of the steamer which brought her back to New York she said, in answer to some sympathising words, "No, no; my husband is here; but how can they find my poor babies in so large a sea?"

The Queen of Burmah is dead, and the King takes her demise greatly to heart. His majesty refuses to see any! ody, and is said to gaze constantly on skulls, and such like objects. As a touching evidence of his grief, it may be mentioned that the late Queen's food is placed for her daily, and she is always spoken of as sleeping, not dead.

The first tubular bridge—The bridge of the nose.

The Globe insists that "Mr Louis Riel" shall be elected for Provencher, and thinks it very heartless of Clarke to oppose him. As Riel is an opponent of the Government—a Manitoba Grit—the advocacy of the organ is not to be wondered at.

A splendid stick of oak measuring forty-five feet in length and twenty-two inches square was brought up from Garden Island, near Lachine, by Hon. James Skead for his new mill. It is a sample of the oak timber that used to be made years ago on the Ottawa, and has been lying in the river for several years. It was drawn through the city this morning by two span of horses and it was admired by every lumberman who saw it.

"Nearly two hundred Reformers who supported Durand, voted against Macmahon "simply because he was a papist." Had our party sank their miserable bigotry for once there can be no doubt Mr Macmahon would have been elected." These are the words of one of the leading Reformers of our city.

MONTREAL ELECTIONS.—The Montreal Star says: "A rumour is current this afternoon to the effect that in consequence of some formality prescribed in law having been neglected relative to the voters' list, according to which the citizens were allowed to poll their votes, that the ections are null and void.

The St. John (N.B.) Telegraph says of the Minister of Militia for Montreal East: "We regret exceedingly the defeat of Sir George E. Cartier, and we sympathise deeply with him, because the strongest canvass made against him was on the ground that the Government did not, in an arbitrary manner, set aside the New Brunswick School Act! We regard Sir George Cartier as one of the fairest, purest, and most honourable of the statesmen of Canada, and we should be very sorry to find him deprived of a seat in the House of Commons. No doubt he will obtain another constituency."

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Picton Gazette says: "Mr Asa Foster, one of the oldest residents of the Township of Sophiasburg, died very suddenly at the residence of his son, on Monday last. All the members of the family were temporarily absent, and left him sitting in his chair, in his usual state of health; but on their return—being absent only a few moments—he was quite dead. This sudden visitation of death, it is presumed, was caused by heart disease. Deceased was 73 years of age.
