THE CORNWALL

Manufacturing Company

HAVE PLEASURE in intimating the complete restoration of their works at CORNWALL, which are now in full operation, producing large quantities of WHITE and GREY BLANKETS, and Heavy Medium Class TWEEDS.

They regret, however, having again to draw the attention of the public to the continuance of the disreputable practice of importing ENGLISH Blankets and selling them as Canadian. These Blankets are made largely of Shoddy and Cotton Waste, with a small percentage of Pure Wool, and though lightly in appearance, closely imitating the CORNWALL BLANKETS, and ticketed "CANADIAN MANUFACTURE," have neither WARMTH NOR WEAR, but can be sold at a lower price than the CORNWALL BLANKETS (which are made of PURE WOOL) can be produced for.

The public are cautioned against this attempted deception, and respectfully informed that the name of the CORNWALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY is printed on the Ticket of every Blanket made by them.

MONDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23.

CHEATING UNCLE SAM.—Our telegraphic reports from New York announce the little speculating game of a chief clerk in the Treasury Department by which the United States government has been cheated out of the small matter of $185,000. There is no denying the fact that when a Yankee goes in for this kind of thing he succeeds very well, and Mr James J. Johnston is no exception to the rule. But it argues fearful laxity of oversight somewhere, that a man shall be able to filch systematically until he has acquired a competent fortune, and then retire on his earnings. We saw rather an amusing story the other day from an Albany paper of a bank porter stealing about $500,000, and then very cooly informing the authorities of the institution of his whereabouts, and generously offering one-half of the plunder to them on condition of a free pardon and undisturbed possession of the balance. Mr J. J. Johnston can now go and do likewise, for Mr Hitthouse his superior officer reports that the report of his defalcation was premature, and that his friends will not tell where he is. Just so. He is perhaps enjoying the bracing Canadian air by this time, and enjoying the fruits of his peculation in dignity and ease. The Government feel quite content about the matter as Mr Hillhouses' bondsmen are in for the amount. Reports from the other side just now are pretty rife on such matters, and we have pretty nearly arrived at the conclusion that the explanation of the whole matter lies in a nutshell. President Grant's term of office expires on the 4th March 1873, and his friends having made about as much as they need expect by honest toil, have now gone in on the filch, and are taxing their ingenuity how best to do it. We are happily free from any such influences, and among the long roll of Canadian civil servants, we can only recall the solitary Reiffenstein case, and he was made to feel that Canadian law draws a close distinction between meum and tuum. Our Yankee friends will some time or other find that the only way to secure honest work will be to set upon the Iron Duke's advice and shoot a contractor or civil servant or two, "to encourage the others." Meanwhile Mr Johnston has made money, and himself scarce at the same time."

FROM OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Sept. 20.—The Citizen authoritatively contradicts the rumours going the rounds of the press of coming Ministerial changes.

Hon. Wm. Macdougall has declined to be nominated for South Gronville in the Local House.

Sir George Cartier left by the noon train for Montreal. Sir John A. Macdonald and Hon. Mr Langevin will administer the affairs of his Department during his absence.

A full meeting of the Cabinet has been called for Monday next. Dr Tupper and Hon. Mr Mitchell will probably have returned by that day.

Mr Lindsay Russell, Inspector of Surveys, have returned from Manitoba.

Sir George E. Cartier was yesterday present at an interesting ceremony in his honour at the new college of the Congregation of Notre Dame, got up expressly with reference to Sir George's departure for England. The children sang a hymn written expressly for the occasion, and the bishop pronounced the benediction. Sir George replied appropriately.

Lieut.-Colonel Macpherson, formerly the very popular Deputy Adjutant General for the Montrel District, has been confirmed in his appointment as Accountant to the Militia Department.

Major Futvoye, Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence, is about to retire on a superannuation allowance and reside in Quebec, of which city, it is reported, he will be appointed the Recorder.

The Police Magistrate O'Gara, Ottawa, finding that by the statutes of 1870 his jurisdiction in extradition cases was taken away, sent for Dennehy, the Providence murderer, Friday, and ordered him to be discharged from custody under the warrant. He was immediately afterwards arrested under the warrant of Judge Armstrong, who only has jurisdiction here in such cases. A number of witnesses have arrived from Providence and the case will come up to-day.

ARREST OF A UNITED STATES MURDERER IN CANADA.

A couple of detectives, one of them belonging to Ottawa, have succeeded in apprehending in Canada the perpetrator, of one of the most horrible murders lately recorded in the United States, and they thereby become entitled to receive the handsome sum of fifteen hundred dollars offered as a reward for the apprehension of the murderer in question. The perpetrator of the terrible crime was arrested at Grenville, on the south side of the Ottawa River; his name is Patrick Dennehy, and the circumstances of the case are briefly as follow: Dennehy is a confectioner by trade, but for some time previous to the murder he had been employed in the sash and blind establishment of Mr Geo. H. Favour in Providence, Rhode Island. On the 6th inst., all employees were absent from the place at noon, except a glazier who was up stairs, and Dennehy, who was down stairs with Mr Favor. It is supposed that the prisoner called his employer into the cellar, where the murder was committed. How the fatal blow was struck can never be known, but is is supposed that his skull was fractured by a blow from a heavy iron bolt or a heavy stick, which was afterwards found smeared with blood and hair. The body was concealed in the corner of the cellar and covered with straw. The crime was committed on the 6th, and Dennehy remained the Friday and Saturday following, working in the cellar and cleaning the floor. It was remarked that he had never spent so much time in the basement, or worked so thoroughly there before. After receiving his weekly pay, Dennehy left. The Wednesday of the following week the the body was discovered by a working man who had entered the cellar to get some straw. His attention was directed to the body by the disagreeable stench emanating from the place. Dennehy was suspected at once. On oppening his trunk a letter, addressed to a man at Ottawa, was found, and, following up his clue, a detective arrived at the capital of the Dominion. It was ascertained that an individual answering Dennehy's description had been staying at one of the hotels, but had left for a trip down the river. The United States detective, accompanied by one of the Ottawa detective staff, proceeded to Grenville on Monday where he met Dennehy, who was on his return from Lachute. Among Dennehy's effects left at Providence was a letter signed by him and dated 3rd September, three days only before the murder was committed, in which the following strange language occurs: "I am sick of life; the future is a blank, unwritten. The woman I have took to wife has done all this. The bright hopes of the anticipated future have faded away. And the dark clouds of death, nay worse than death, have succeeded them. I now leave friends and kindred never more to behold them. My mind is driven to distraction, my thoughts are all on the past and the present. I have meditated over all that has happened; it seems like a dream. But, alas! it is a cursed reality." Some explanation of the terms in which in this letter is written may be found in the circumstance that Dennehy says that he robbed his employer's safe, but denies having murdered Favor. The prisoner will, of course, under the extradition laws be remitted to Providence.—Montreal Gazette.

Judge Gwyme has a poor opinion of the roads in the County of Renfrew. In his charge to the Grand Jury on Tuesday he said:—There was a subject that in their capacity as Grand Jurors, would be their duty to give their careful and deliberate attention to. He spoke of the only access there was to this town from the South. The road over which passengers were compelled to travel in coming to Pembroke from Sand Point was a disgrace to the town. It was astonishing that no injury to life or limb had been sustained. Peoples' lives were in continual jeopardy in passing over this road. It was one of the particular duties of the Grand Jury to attend to the matter, and see that the lives and limbs of travellers coming here are protected. Every municipality through which the road passes is is responsible to any passenger who might sustain injury in going over this road. Part of the road passed through this municipality. If they would only reflect, they would see that they are responsible for the lives of people passing over it, or to any one that might fall off the stage and thereby be injured,—a thing that may occur any day. In these matters, municipalities are absolutely and wholly responsible. They (the Grand Jury) were conservers of the public interests. They should bring in a bill against these corporations, and compel them to mend this road, or some day they would fall responsible. [The Kingston and Pembroke Railway will when completed abate the evil to some extent.]
