CAUTION.

THE

Cornwall Manufacturing Co'y.

HAVE PLEASURE in intimating the complete restoration of their works at CORNWALL, which are now in full operation, producing large quantities of WHITE and GREY BLANKETS, and Heavy Medium Class TWEEDS.

They regret, however, having again to draw the attention of the public to the continuance of the disputable practice of importing ENGLISH Blankets and selling them as Canadian. These Blankets are made largely of Waddy and Cotton Waste, with a small percentage of Pure Wool, and though lightly in appearance, closely imitating the CORNWALL BLANKETS, and ticketed "CANADIAN MANUFACTURE," have neither WARMTH NOR WEAR, but can be sold at a lower price than the CORNWALL BLANKETS (which are made of PURE WOOL) can be produced for.

The public are cautioned against this attempted deception, and respectfully informed that the name of the CORNWALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY is printed in the ticket of every Blanket made by them.

The Daily News.

TUESDAY EVENING, OCT. 22.

Secular versus Church Organs.

In the Church Herald of the 10th inst. we observe a spiteful and unwarrantable attack upon the DAILY NEWS in a communication signed "S." The animus of the writer is shown by the very opening sentence of this letter; "It has oftentimes appeared to me a very undesirable thing (he says) to have, as in the case of the Diocese of Ontario, the official announcements of the Synod published in a local secular paper." Considering that the official announcements have only been published in the News five months, this "oftentimes" is perhaps only a slight exaggeration introductory to what follows. This sapient writer thinks "the secular press is too much mixed up with politics, and with local interests." Probably it is, but how that unfits it for being the medium of acknowledging the cash payments to the Synod authorities, or notices from the authorities to the clergy or laity, does not appear, but we are told, in addition, that "it is too far identified with a particular section of the diocese." We don't know exactly what this means. We will not pause now to hazard an opinion as to its meaning, but hasten on. "Still more (we are told) it is sometimes made the vehicle of very ill-judged attacks on individual clergymen, as has lately been the case with the Kingston News, a paper which by local Kingston interest, was chosen as the organ for publishing Synod and other official announcements of the Diocese." Well we never heard of well-judged attacks, and we have seen in church papers, and not unfrequently either, attacks on clergymen, aye, and even the bishops, have not been spared. "S" is a little astray when he states that it was "by local Kingston interest" that the News was chosen as the official organ of the Diocese. Probably he knew no better, but when he was rushing into print with his spiteful communication, he should have been well informed upon the subject which he desired to ventilate. As a matter of fact the News was chosen by the Executive Committee, composed, as "S" probably knows, of the leading clergymen and laymen of the Diocese, who are nominated by the Bishop, and of which committee he (the Bishop) is the chairman. Composed as it is, it may well be supposed that it was not for any special love the committee bore to the Editor of the News that it was chosen as the official organ of the Diocese, but because that the paper suited them, and probably also because the Editor treated them with a degree of liberality they would seek in vain elsewhere. "S," however, proceeds: "Now, I observe that the same paper contained three personal attacks, within a number of late, on our clergy." We have not the slightest hesitation in saying that this statement is simply untrue. We may remark that we fully intended correcting in this number a statement made in the News of the 14th ult., which has given rise to this exceedingly unkind and unChristian communication of "S," and other such communications, we believe, from the same party. We consider it a simple duty to correct an error when a statement is made in our columns (no matter how inadvertently) reflecting upon any person wrongly. In the News of the 14th ult. there was a paragraph which we extracted from the Morrisburgh Courier. The statement in that paper was that a meeting of churchmen had been held (without saying where) to protest against ritualistic practices. In the absence of anything to the contrary, we assumed that the meeting was held at Morrisburgh, the Rector of which is the Rev. Edwin Loucks, a very much esteemed and hard-working clergyman, and we so stated it. The fact was, however, that the meeting was not held in Morrisburgh at all, but in an adjoining parish. The clergyman of the adjoining parish is one for whom we always entertained very great respect, and of whom we never heard the charge of "ritualism" breathed. We think, however, we will not be far astray if we consider him and "S." as one and the same person. The very afternoon that the paragraph appeared in the News a friend of Mr Loucks called upon and informed us of the error we had fallen into, when we promised its correction. However, he himself forwarded a communication which we inserted as a vindication of Mr Loucks. As far as this gentleman was concerned, we felt he had a right to an ample apology and we gave it. Now for "S." (the clergyman of the adjoining parish) he considered it his duty to come forward to exculpate the Rev. Mr Loucks and he forwarded us a letter for insertion in the News which we should have inserted with pleasure had it not contained a malignant attack upon the News (similar to his letter to the Church Herald), which of course we declined publishing, but wrote him if he would withdraw the paragraph of which we complained, we would publish it with pleasure. To this letter he did not reply, but published the letter in a local contemporary containing the offensive and untrue paragraph of which we complained. He goes on to state that "a similar charge (Ritualism) is insinuated against a second clergyman. We presume "S." himself. This is totally untrue. We insinuated nothing. We published the paragraph from the Courier and stated openly the name of the Rev. Mr Loucks as that of the clergyman who we believed was referred to; as to "S." we knew nothing of him at the time. We have now shown that the naming of Rev. Mr Loucks was an inadvertence which might happen to any person or to any paper—church or secular. As to "S." we made no attack upon him. We found an item of news in the columns of a respected contemporary, and we published it as such. We expressed no opinion concerning its truth or falsehood. "S." appears, however, to think that we should not only have exculpated the Rev. Mr Loucks, but himself also. We beg to differ from him, we will leave that to his own parishioners and to his own local organ, and when they do so, we may give it a place in our columns. We have thus disposed of two out of the three charges made against us by "S.," we consider, pretty satisfactorily. Now as to the third. Reference is made to a communication which appeared over the signature of "A Churchman." No one knows better than "S." that the editor of a paper declines to hold himself responsible for the opinions of his correspondents, and if he examines the Church Herald, or indeed almost any paper, he will find a notification to that effect. While we, therefore, decline to hold ourselves responsible for our correspondents' opinions, we are free to admit that the letter referred to was an abuse of our confidence, and not such a letter as should have been published by one clergyman of another. We shall certainly only publish such letters in future over the proper signatures of the writer. We beg "S." to remember, in conclusion, that the Editor of the News did not seek the appointment of official organ to the Diocese, and that whenever the Executive Committee can get better terms or as good from a Church paper, they are quite welcome to it as far as the News is concerned.

Correspondence.

THE SERENADES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY NEWS.

Sir,—A writer ("Fair Play") in the Whig of last evening undertakes to correct alleged "scandalous and false accusations concerning the serenade of the medical students of Friday night last." He remarks: "As far as I can learn the party neither annoyed any one, nor was there any complaint laid before the Police Magistrate, as stated in Saturday's News." The shortest way of disposing of this communication is to pronounce it a fabrication, and an untruth from beginning to end. The Police Magistrate did receive a complaint, and delivered certain instructions for it to be acted upon in the usual manner. I speak from a personal knowledge of the facts. The Whig, in accepting "Fair Play's" falsehoods, again puts its foot in the pie completely, and adds to the ridiculousness of the position by its amusing and slanderous insinuations.—Yours,

AN OBSERVER.

Oct. 22.

IMPORTED CABBAGE.—The crop of this favourite vegetable in this vicinity being somewhat of a failure this season, large supplies are imported from the district of Montreal, where the growth of cabbage has been most encouraging. Green grocers of this city have dealt largely in this commodity lately, and will likely secure extensive consignments for the winter months. This morning a car load arrived for Mr McCuaig.

The Medicos have long enjoyed great privileges which they are unwilling to permit falling into disuse. The old rows of "town Trinity College, Dublin, throw a light upon the practice which has a charm for the youthful disciples of Esculapius amongst us. The noisy proceedings of Friday night might have been tolerated had we been accustomed to such scenes and practices. However, our education has been somewhat deficient in this respect and the medicos' went at it a little too strong for us at first. If a repetition of the performance is intended it might be well to leave us a copy of the programme, so that we may know when the applause is intended to come in. As at present we don't exactly see it.

The Leader comes to us dressed out in a new suit of type and looking particularly bright and clean. Our able contemporary has recently made large additions to its editorial staff, and is now one of the liveliest and best conducted papers in Canada.

RECIPROCITY.—The importance of the question of reciprocal free trade with the United States, and of the discussions at the National Board of Trade induced the proprietors of the Montreal Gazette to incur the expense of sending a representative to the meeting at New York. The Gazette was the only Canadian paper specially represented there, and its columns contain a full and interesting report of the discussion which took place on Friday morning. Such journalistic enterprise is highly commendable.

A SINGING QUACK.—Last evening a crowd of noisy boys and a number of men congregated at the corner of Princess and Wellington streets, attracted thither by a quack, who treated his auditors to a series of trashy lingo of the efficacy of certain soap, alternated with comic songs, accompanied on the guitar. The proceedings were relieved about 9 o'clock by a shower of rotten eggs, which caused a hasty scattering of the crowd. It must be great recompense to the vocalist to be thus contemptibly treated when doing his utmost to entertain his hearers. The audience surely cannot be an appreciative one. The quack, scented with an unsought and unpopular perfume, says we, and he "knows how it is himself."

THE HORSE DISEASE.—The complaint ("Epizootic," resembling influenza,) with which the horses throughout the entire Province are suffering severely, has taken firm root here, but we are pleased to learn that the number of cases is not increasing so rapidly as many were led to believe. Our exchanges teem with accounts of its progress almost everywhere; but we think that although a disease that spares none in particular, that it is not dangerous if attended to in time and with care.

BE ON THE LOOK OUT.—There is unlimited truth in the axiom, "forewarned is forearmed." And it would be advisable for our merchants and citizens generally to take heed to this, in view of the many burglaries that have taken place in this city of late. It were useless to recount the several larcenies committed and the mode of their committal; suffice it that different parties have sustained small losses, and it believes our readers to be constantly on their guard against intrusion.
