THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 5.

W. FRANK LYNN.—A genius boasting the name given above has been contributing a little during the past summer to the amusement of the public through the columns of the Globe. He seems to be a sort of wandering apostle of Gritism, an importation from England who judges at first sight, and lectures with small regard to honesty or truth. He appears to have been sent out by somebody, or come out himself to Canada to teach us benighted old fogies some of the true instincts of humanity. He therefore travelled over all the Western States and railways, and dropped at times a letter in favour now of one thing, now of another. He seems a perfect master of gasconade, and economises the truth to such an extent, that it requires ten-power lens to perceive a grain of it in any of his brochures of thought. The fellow cannot write plain English; and yet forsooth, he sets himself up as a mentor to all and sundry, and presumes to talk about matters of which he knows little and is likely to know less. He turned up in Manitoba during the Dominion elections, and dated some of his productions from a hay-loft, implying that at last he had gone to grass. Since that time he has remained in that Province and sends down periodically a letter to the Globe, and we are bound to assert that in not one single one of them has he said anything to induce an emigrant to try his chances in that rich and fertile colony. Like poor Mrs. Gummidge, he evidently feels himself "a lone, lorn man," and wails at times so harshly that it really seems as if the fellow was hard up.

He has now struck upon a fruitful theme of writing. He prefaces his remarks with some indefinite statements about the magnitude of the business upon which he is going to write, and tells his readers that they must keep his letters for reference. Now Mr Lynn ought to know something about the eternal fitness of things, and he should consider that if he wants people to mind what he says, he should tell them something worth remembering. But he does not. He simply tells us that the country is going to be ruined, and yet his statement of the case does not argue any such end for it. He says the Metis are selling out claims for merely nominal sums to speculators, and that Canadians are tabooed from them. All very well, Mr W. Frank Lynn, but if the Metis are selling out the best lands in the Province for a nominal sum, are the sons of Canada such arrant fools as not to purchase them? The fact is Mr Lynn proves too much for his own good. He shows that the best lands of the Province are selling daily to new proprietors, and wishes us to believe that they are going into the hands of speculators and the Roman Catholic church.

Mr Lynn must be paid for quantity not quality in his letters, for he occupies one whole column of the Globe in telling this much. And then he concludes with a sort of mysterious hint that he has more to tell. We do not doubt but if his future utterances are no more valuable than the letter now before us, we would advise him to reconsider his base of operations, and see if he cannot make himself more useful in some other walk of life.

THE MUNICIPAL LOAN FUND.—As the session of Parliament approaches at which, by promise of the Premier, a settlement of this fund is to be effected, it may not be out of place to give a little information on the subject. It may be generally stated that the Municipal Loan Fund was a measure introduced and passed into law by the present Finance Minister during his occupancy of the Premiership, and that the intention of it was to loan money to the Municipalities to assist them in the furthering of needed improvements. There was always considerable doubt on the subject of the loan, and the fact that the provisions of the act only remained in force for a few years, would seem to indicate that it was soon felt to be, what everybody has since considered it, a mistake. Taking advantage of it, however, the following municipalities borrowed the amounts opposite to their names, and of course spent, it in various ways, some useful, and others far otherwise:

Bertie, township	$ 40,000

In by far the greater part of these cases the money has been allowed to accrue by the non-payment of interest, and to such an extent has this gone that in some cases it is useless to look for either principal or interest in full.

In many cases, however, the peculiarity of the loan is so great that no law of equity would refuse to relieve them of a part, and in many cases, of the whole of the indebtedness. Where the money was used in furthering public works which have resulted more to the benefit of the public than the municipality, common justice would dictate the course for the public to assume to be the relieving of the debt in its entirety. Such is the case of the $800,000 borrowed by the counties of Lanark and Renfrew, which was given in a lump sum to the Brockville and Ottawa Railway, which merely ran through the eastern part of one of the counties, and was never carried into the other. We believe that London, Cobourg, Woodstock and Norwich did the same with their money investing it in railways which benefitted them to some extent. But the case of Norwich is much the same as Renfrew. It gave its money to the defunct Woodstock and Port Dover Railway, and all it has to show for it is a few miles of grading done in the townships. Port Hope expended its money in the harbour which is a public benefit, and as such demands fair and liberal treatment. But while such may be the case in many instances, regard must be had to the general interest, and the government will need to proceed cautiously in its operations in all cases, so as to do justice both to the public and to particular interests and places. It is true we have a large surplus, but that has been gained for the country by the public generally, and it will not do to wipe off this debt to particular places unless others be treated in a similar manner. If the country is to make presents to one locality, justice equally demands that a fair proportion of the united earnings be given to other places which have never dabbled in loans which they were unable to pay.

Such we apprehend was Mr Blake's idea when he proposed his great scheme of aiding the municipalities, the figures of which we append, and if the present government will combine the two plans then we will give them credit for sincerity in their motives, and at the same time award them a due meed of praise for their efforts. It will be a credit to them, but would equally have been the task of any Ministry in power, for the thing had to be settled and the turn of the wheel has given it to the Reformers to do so:

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.—By a proclamation in last Saturday's Gazette, the Legislature is called together, "for the despatch of business," on the 8th January.

The new Church of England at the village of Selby will be opened for Divine Service on Sunday next. The Rev. Saltern Givens will preach on the occasion. The offertory will be in aid of the building fund.

Temperance Meeting.

Pursuant to notice a temperance meeting was held last evening in St. James' Church. The Church was tolerably well filled, though had more persons accepted Mr Kirkpatrick's invitation, it would not have been difficult to have accommodated them.

The litany was said by the Rev. E. H. M. Baker, and a portion of Scripture, the Epistle for Advent Sunday, read by the incumbent.

An address of considerable length was then delivered by the Rev. F. W. Kirkpatrick, who strongly advocated total abstinence as the best cure for intemperance. He argued also that there could be nothing objectionable in a promise to abstain of it; was felt that increased influence was thereby obtained.

Other addresses were then delivered by the Revds. J. A. Mulock, W. Shortt, and F. W. Dobbs, and much earnestness in recommending the same course was displayed by these speakers.

Some familiar hymns were heartily sung during the evening, and so favourable an impression was made—to judge from the attention of the congregation—that it is intended (D.V.) to hold a similar meeting in the same church during Lent.

The Church of England has often been accused of being backward in the conflict with the sin of intemperance, but we hope that the day has come when the charge, however false, will no longer have a semblance of truth in it. We may add that fourteen of the diocesan clergy have joined in the total abstinence movement, while many others among them heartily sympathise with the efforts which are being made, though hesitating, as yet, to take the final step of a promise to abstain. No body of men see more of the misery occasioned by excess, and the example of their self-denial for the sake of others, cannot be without a most wholesome effect.

POLICE COURT, THURSDAY.—(Before Mr Strange, P.M.—William McCombery, who looks to be an Italian or foreigner by birth but who at present appears to be a perambulating "useless," except to increase the revenue of the bar-room, was booked for drunkenness. $2 or 15 days. Adeline West was down for vagrancy. She was attired in some novel style of merino dress, which had lately undergone the process of dying, and having received an over-plus of colour it, was imparted pretty freely to her symmetrical hands and arms giving her the bronze of a mulatto. Add to this outfit "a cheek as bould as brass," and one has a passable description of gentle Adeline. In response to his Worship, who enquired whether she desired to go to gaol for 30 or 60 days, having no home, she coolly said she "didn't care a d—n which." This remark provoked the risibilities of the few spectators present to suppressed laughter; the next instant she muttered, "Send me for six months, and when I get out it will be fine weather." She went her weary way for 60 days. Peter Began, the young man so ruthlessly shuffled off by his wife, was still in limbo this morning awaiting a bailsman to come to his relief.

We beg to remind our readers of the Board of Trade meeting to-morrow evening, and of the desirability of having a full attendance. The subject of the tariff is a very important one for the mercantile community, and should be intelligently discussed, in order that the delegates to the Dominion Board of Trade may know the opinions of the merchants, and be prepared to adequately represent them. The question of proposed changes in the Insolvency Laws is also to be brought forward, and several other important matters are on the tapis. We hope, then, to see a good attendance.

CAPTAIN SWALES.—We had a telegram this morning from our genial friend, Captain Swales, of the British American Hotel, from Portland, in which he announces that he will get back to old Kingston on Monday, where he is sure of a hearty welcome. The Captain announces that he saw the DAILY NEWS on file at the Grand Hotel, Panama, and felt like meeting an old friend.

ELOCUTION.—On Tuesday evening Professor Melville Bell, the eminent reader, whose talented services have been engaged by Queen's University in the delivery of a course of lectures on elocution, gave the first of a series of these readings in the City Hall to a fair and very intelligent audience, Rev. Principal Snodgrass presiding. Mr Bell's abilities require no criticism; he has few equals, and never fails to interest and instruct those attracted by his reputation, and desirous of enjoying an evening's entertainment of this description. We hope to see the remaining two readings on the succeeding Tuesday evenings well attended.

GARRISON BAND.—The following is the programme for Friday evening, which will be played by the above band in Ontario Hall:—

1—Quick March..Grand Duchess..Downing
2—Chorus of Greeks.....Rossini.
3—Waltz.....Georgiana.
4—Fantasia....On Popular Airs....A.H.R.
5—Quadrille.....Potpourri.....Strauss.
6—Galop.....Cupid's Arrows...C. Barthman.
God save the Queen.

ORPHANS' HOME.—The Treasurer of the Orphans' Home thankfully acknowledges the receipt of $10 from A. Maclean, Ontario street.

MORALITY.—The mischievous youths who broke the windows of St. George's Cathedral last Sunday with snowballs have not yet been apprehended, not because their names are unknown, but out of respect for their parents and relatives. In addition to the select and interesting photograph gallery of distinguished roughs, and choice literature of the Police Station, the authorities have procured a copy of the Ten Commandments with which to edify the lads brought under their notice and care, whose early moral training has been neglected.

A RELIC.—Col. Hamilton, of Toronto, has sent to Brockville, to be forwarded to Col Atchierley in England, a portion of the cuff of the coat, elegantly embroidered in gold, worn by General Sir Isaac Brock, commander of the British troops, and who was killed at Queenston Heights in 1812. The relic is now in the hands of Mr D. O'Brien, messenger at the Military office in this town, who will be glad to show it to any one desiring to inspect it.—Brockville Recorder.

"THE MICROSCOPE AND NATURAL HISTORY."—On Tuesday evening, N. F. Dupuis, Esq., Professor of Natural Philosophy in Queen's University, and of Botany in in the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, delivered a highly interesting lecture in the Kirk Mission House, Toronto, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of the Queen city. We extract the notice of this lecture, on "The Microscope in Natural History," from the Globe:

"The learned gentleman began by remarking the superiority of a man as evinced by his inventive faculty, and pointed out the spectroscope, telescope, and microscope as the noblest monuments of his genius. With their aid, curious man can gaze beyond his own horizon into the marvels beyond—discovering with the first the syntax and prosody of Nature's language, and by means of the others interpreting the wondrous stories written there. Creation, above him boundless in the great, and beneath him limitless in the minute, opens to his contemplation, and calls forth his praise. The lecturer touched upon the geographical, vegetable, and animal departments of scientific research, detailing many strange and interesting facts revealed in "common things" by the microscope. Amongst other matters, the professor said he had taken the trouble to estimate the speed of an animalcule one 500th part of an inch in size, and found that it travelled at nearly the same rate as an ordinary Grand Trunk train—(laughter)—or about twelve miles an hour. The lecture was illustrated with photho-micographs and drawings, cast upon the wall by a magic lantern illuminated with the oxy-hydrogen light, which forcibly supplemented the eloquent discourse."

DR. PUNSHON.—Yesterday the Rev. W. M. Punshon, LL.D., arrived in Kingston, and during his stay here will be the esteemed guest of Rev. G. R. Sanderson. This evening he delivers in the City Hall his famous lecture on "Mayflower Memories," his latest effort in which he is said to completely captivate his listeners by the sublimity and rare beauty of his language, and the elegance and forcibleness of his oratory. On Sunday next he preaches the anniversary sermon in the Sydenham Street Wesleyan Methodist Church in the morning, the pulpit in the evening being occupied by Rev. E. Robson.

THREE YEARS.—This morning Patrick Hural, (whose face appeared familiar to the writer) left the Police Station, where he had remained over night, in custody of the Deputy Sheriff of Middlesex, convicted of larceny, and sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the Kingston Penitentiary.

FRATERNAL WELCOME.—On Monday afternoon next, Captain Swales, who, with his wife and sister-in-law have been on a tour of nearly thirteen weeks duration, visiting San Francisco, China, and many other places of interest en route, return to this city. We understand that he will be enterta[illegible] on his arrival.

WEBER & COS., PIANOS.—The Belleville Intelligencer says: Mr T. H. B. Purdy of Kingston, who has for some years been travelling agent for the sale of Weber & Cos., Pianos, is about to open a wareroom in Belleville. These instruments are quite equal to anything manufactured elsewhere, and have been proved superior to any made in Canada. The handsome Piano of this Company's mark, exhibited at our last local fair, and so much admired, has been purchased by Dr. P. Dorland, and is pronounced by good judges to be of very superior tone and finish. Mr Brock Ostrom of Sidney has just bought his third piano from Mr Purdy, thereby proving his entire satisfaction with his previous purpurchases. These pianos are manufactured in Kingston expressly for this climate, their tone, finish, and durability, are not excelled, they are sold all over Canada, including Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and give universal satisfaction.

S. D. FOWLER.—Yesterday we viewed on exhibition in the show window of the City Book Store, an artistic photographic picture of the late S. D. Fowler, Esq., prepared in splendid style in Indian Ink by Messrs Sheldon and Davis for St. John's Lodge, A.F. and A.M., of which Bro. Fowler was the esteemed and deeply lamented Past Master, and highly honoured and respected among the whole Masonic fraternity. The names of the photographers is sufficient proof of its superiority, and cannot fail to elicit the admiration of all beholders. It will be hung with the other portraits of distinguished members in the Masonic Hall.

The Governor-General has consented to become the patron of the Ottawa Curling Club.

The Times newspaper of this city was disposed of by auction to-day to Mr Edward Griffin.

The city is still full of railway men.

The Law Journal for November, an unquestionable authority among the profession, takes the very strongest ground in condemnation of Mr. Mowat's descent from the Bench to engage in party politics. The article is well worth a perusal by those who may have any lingering doubts on the subject.

Mr Mowatt, in his nomination speech said "the fourth of Mr Sandfild Macdonald's colleagus was Mr E. B. Wood, of Brantford, and it must be confessed that his record as a Reformer had been entirely clean. This is a direct slap in the face to the Globe, which for four years denouced "Speak Now" as a traitor!—London Herald.

FROM FORT GARRY.

Fort Garry, Dec. 4.—The dinner of the St. Andrew's Society was held last night. Chief Justice Morris and seventy others were present.

It is understood here that Mr Morris has accepted the Lieut.-Governship.

The weather is fine and the stages are still running. Traffic is to be kept open during the winter from the railway tramway to this place.

The political movement of the day is be attempted division of the French party as between Royal and Clark.

"Charley, what is osculation?"
"Osculation, Susie dear,
Is a learned expression, queer,
For a nice sensation.
I put my arm, thus, around your waist,
This is approximation;
You need not fear—
There's no one here—
Your lips quite near—
I then"—
"Oh! dear!"
"Susie, that's osculation."
