TO ADVERTISERS.

The expense of advertising in a Daily Paper is very much greater than that of advertising in a Weekly or Semi-Weekly; it can, however, be vastly lessened by previous agreement; but in order to ensure this cheapness, it is imperatively necessary to pay each for advertisements as they are handed in. In no single case will any abatement of the advertising tariff be allowed, unless pre-payment is made.

 Notices of Marriages, Births and Funerals, invariably charged.

To Our Advertising Friends.

Our advertising friends would confer an additional obligation by forwarding their favors at as early an hour as possible; as disappointments will occasionally occur when announcements are sent at a late hour at night, for insertion next morning.

THE AMERICA YACHT.

At a dinner recently given to Commodore Stevens, at New York, to celebrate his return from England, the following graceful tribute was paid by that gentleman to the authorities of this country:—"Our arrival was greeted with every hospitality and courtesy, not only by the noblemen and gentlemen of the Royal Yacht Club, but by the officers of Government. Lord Palmerston sent down an order that the America should be admitted in all the English ports on the footing of English yachts—the Custom-houses were all free to her—and the admiral of the station at Portsmouth offered every assistance and civility. The Earl of Wilton and the veteran Marquis of Anglesey, now 80 years of age, were among the first visitors on board, and they and all the members and officers of the Yacht Club, and numberless others, evinced in every manner the kindest feelings, and showed us the most delicate attention. From the Queen herself we received a mark of attention rarely accorded even to the highest among her own subjects; and I was given to understand that it was not only intended as a courtesy extended to myself and friends, but also as a proof of the estimation in which she held our country, thereby giving a significance to the compliment infinitely more acceptable and valuable. Long may the bond of kindred affection and interest that binds us together at present remain unbroken! As a further proof of the feelings of the Government and the people towards us, I will mention the following act of kindness:—We had the misfortune, the day before the race with the Titania, to knock off a part of our outer shoe. This rendered it necessary that we should haul her out; and we repaired to the Government dock, at Portsmouth, for the purpose. On the instant the application was made an order was issued by the admiral to repair her in the shortest time possible. If you could have witnessed the vigour and good will exhibited, from the admiral down to the humblest mechanic of the yard, to complete her for the next day's race, you would, I am sure, have felt the obligation (rendered so doubly binding by the manner in which it was tendered) as deeply and sincerely as ourselves, and would regret, as much and as sincerely as ourselves, that any cause of quarrel should arise to separate two nations that want but to be better acquainted with each other's good qualities to become and to remain fast friends. She was docked at 12 and finished by 8 o'clock the same evening. For this important service no remuneration, in any shape or way, would be listened to. The admiral, in expressing the pleasure it gave him to do us a service, endeavoured to prevail upon us to believe the obligation to be altogether on his side. I trust, with confidence, that if occasion should occur, this delicacy and feeling will be as promptly and as delicately reciprocated."

Yesterday was the annual convocation of the University of Toronto, at which the distribution of medals, and prizes, and admissions to degrees took place. The ceremony came off in the hall of the Legislature Assembly, and was honored by a fine display of visitors. The Chancellor was absent, through indisposition, and his place was supplied by Vice-Chancellor, Professor Crofts. The usual routine of proceedings was gone through. The recitation of prize poems and essays was a miserably lame affair. This one point seems, as if by general consent, universally neglected. It is especially incumbent upon the professors to see that those who are studying law, know a little more about elocution than a mere schoolboy. The whole affair reminded me of a grocer's apprentice reading over an invoice of an addition to the stock in trade. There are several professorships vacant in the University, and the 19th of this month is fixed as the latest day for receiving applications. Dr. Burns, minister of the Free Church, in town, is applying for the chair of Civil History and English Literature. Instead of certificates, however, he intends sending in a synopsis of what he considers the duties and necessary qualifications for such an office. Mr. Esson, Professor of Moral Philosophy in Knox's College, Toronto, is also a candidate. Mr. Buckland, secretary to the Agricultural Association, is a candidate for the chair of Agriculture, as is also Mr Hind, mathematical master in the Normal School. I should think that Mr Buckland has every way more practical experience in the Agricultural way, and has pretty good abilities as a writer on that subject.—Globe of 19th

A fire broke out about three o'clock on Thursday morning, in one of these substantial stone buildings, which adorn the opposite side of the Lachine canal—it was owned and occupied by Messrs. Holland and Dunn, as a nail factory. The fire engines were early on the spot and succeeded in arresting the progress of the flames.—The building was insured for £800, at the New York Pictretton Insurance Company; but we regret to learn that there was no insurance on the Machinery—valued at £1,500.—M. Herald.

MELANCHOLY CASE OF MANSLAUGHTER.—On Thursday last a case of manslaughter occurred in the Village of St. Thomas, under the following circumstances. William Green, aged 19, son of Mr. Edward Green, of the Township of London, has been for some time attending the school of Mr. Crare, which school was situated immediately in the vicinity of the Grammar school kept by Mr. Thompson late of this town. It appears that from the time that Green first entered the school, he was made the butt of ridicule by a number of the other boys, and in many instances teased to an unwarrantable extent, and sometimes handled roughly by a united band of the other pupils. On Thursday, during the period of intermission, Green was again attacked by the lads of his school, and after a time, a reinforcement assembled from Mr. Thompson's school, a very rough description of play or scuffling then ensued, Green having to bear more than his share of the cuffs and knocks of the assembled hosts, together with the unpleasant nicknames which greeted his ears from all sides, became exasperated and threw his antagonists right and left as they approached him. At length Edmund Soydere son of a widowed lady in St. Thomas, came in contact with Green, who in a moment of thoughtless excitement, struck the unfortunate boy on the head, and gave him a kick on the region of the lungs, when he fell but immediately got up again, and complained of a pain in his leg. His appearance indicated severe suffering; he was placed in a waggon, and taken to his mother's residence, a short distance, where he expired in a few moments, without uttering a word, and before a medical man could be obtained. Green was immediately arrested, and the coroner summoned a jury, before whom a post-mortem examination of the body took place, showing internal injuries sufficient to cause death. A patient and protracted investigation was held, a number of witnesses were examined, and a verdict of manslaughter recorded against the prisoner, who is now in the County Gaol, where if not bailed out, he will have to spend the long dreary months of winter, as no court competent to try his case will sit until April or May next.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF ELOPEMENT AT DUNGARVIN.—On the evening of the 10th instant, a respectable farmer, turning the seat of life, made his exit to the land of freedom with a lovely lady one, aged about 19 years, leaving a wife and two children bewailing his loss. The following is a verbatim copy of a letter which the wife received on the 16th ult:—"Liverpool, October 13, 1851. My dear Margaret—I have arrived in Liverpool, safe on board the Iron Duke, in company with Miss ——, after a very violent and stormy passage of 48 hours, destined for the land of freedom. I hope you are not angry with me, my dear Margaret, as I have left you as my better part behind, I trust it will make ample provision for its own off-spring. As for my part, as soon as I am united to my young fair on the other side of the Atlantic, I shall have a sweet paradise of my own for the remainder of my days, and shall labour most strenuously to endeavour to please and support her. Be assured, my dear Margaret, when God sends me anything, I will not forget you and the children. Give my love and best respects to all inquiring friends, and tell them that I will always kindly remember them when far away.—I remain, not yours, &c.,

THE IRISH ANNUITIES.—A treasury minute, arranging the details of the remittance of postponement of the annuities due to the Government by the distressed poor-law unions, has arrived in Dublin. The minute substantially amounts to an arrangement by which there shall be no annuity levied for this year in any union in which rates to the amount of 4s in the pound have been levied during the past year. If rates to that amount have not been levied, then the annuity will be levied to the amount of rates for current local charges actually levied with the maximum of 4s. The effect of this minute will obviously be to relieve for the current year the more distressed unions from any demand on the score of the consolidated annuities.

Stockton in the early part of this month became the scene of outrages of a similar character to those which some time since disgraced San Francisco. On the 3rd inst. three men were shot in the vicinity of Stockton. On Saturday evening an attempt was made to shoot two others without any provocation. On the same night a Mexican was inhumanly murdered in a house, on the outskirts of the city, and on Sunday morning an attempt was made to shoot a gentleman, without any reason that he could imagine, this is a most unprecedented state of things in that city and has excited considerable sensation in that community.

As the steamer Republic was on her last trip from Panama to San Francisco she struck upon a rock near Point Blanco, about twenty miles from this city, during the prevalence of a dense fog, owing to the judicious and skilful management of Capt. Hudson, his officers, passengers and crew, she was kept afloat until California went down to her relief. The latter towed her to San Francisco, the damage it is thought will be easily repaired.

The steamer Miner, loaded with hay, was completely destroyed by fire, last week, a spark from the smoke pipe fell upon the hay and in a moment the whole was enveloped in flames, one man was burnt to death and another dangerously, the boat was a total loss.

The Mormons have at length taken possession of Rancho of San Barnardino near Los Angelos for which they paid $125,000 $25,000 was paid down, the remainder to be paid in two equal annual instalments. It is said to be their intention to build a great city there, and a Railroad to Salt Lake is confidently spoken of. It is also said that the heads of the Church Desert have given directions to the Mormons in Europe that all the emigrations to this country must come by the way of the Isthmus of Panama to San Diego.

The population of San Barnardino is to be increased 5000 within the next six months. It contains within its boundary more than 70,000 acres of excellent land, the greatest part of which can be irrigated. The Santa Anna river runs through it, furnishing it a never failing supply of pure water; and having excellent mill seats. The mountains near are covered with pines sufficient to supply with lumber all California for years.

THE QUEEN'S PLATE AT MONTREAL, FOR 1851.—At the last Montreal races, the Queen's Plate, of £50 guineas, was awarded to "Miss Bell", ownes by Mr. McVey, of Longueuil, and entered as a Province-bred horse. This horse won two out of the three heats, the first being won by Mr. F. Owen's grey horse "Captain McGee". After the first heat, however, Mr. Owen—who had intended to object to Miss Bell before the start! but whose message had not been attended to by the person charged with it—objected to the mare as being improperly described as Province bred. Had the objection been made previous to the first start, the burden of proof of the pedigree would have been upon the owner; as it was not made till after the first heat, the proof fell upon the objector. At the time, the necessary amount of evidence was wanting; but enough was produced to stewards to hold the money for further investigation. The result of the investigation has been, to establish conclusively that Miss Bell, the Province-bred horse, was born at Lexington, Kentucky, and of course was ineligible to run for the Queen's Plate. The race has, therefore, since been awarded and the money paid to Mr. Owen; and the further effect will be, to reverse the decision of a number of bets to a considerable amount, which had either been settled or held in abeyance; upon Miss Bell's being declared the winner. We may, probably, on a future day, give a more particular account of the whole details of this shameful affair, which involves, in addition to the Frauds on the race-course, a fraud upon the Customs. At present we shall only add that the winning horse was bred in Montreal by M. J. Hays, Esq., and was got by Hector Bell out of Lorette, now the property of Col. Gugy.—Montreal Herald.

THE HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT.—The new house of Commons is undergoing considerable alterations. The roof is to be retained as it is in its improved state; but the benches and other furniture of the body of the chamber are undergoing considerable change. The reporters' and strangers' galleries are also to be altered, and, when the alterations are completed, the house will present a much more agreeable appearance than it did at the end of last session. The yards and sheds in the immediate neighbourhood of the house in which the materials were worked in New Palace-yard are about to be removed, and are to be reconstructed on an abutment close to Westminster bridge, where piles have been sunk; and a platform is in the course of formation for the workmen's sheds being built upon it. Since the sale of the materials of the old House of Commons and House of Lords the new buildings have presented a very unsightly appearance, but, now that the old buildings are almost entirely removed, the beauty of the new buildings has become apparent. The new window constructed at the western end of Westminster-hall is now shown to great advantage, and attracts general attention from its architectural beauty. When the ruins are removed from Old Palace-yard, the exterior of the new House of Lords will be seen to advantage. The main entrance to either house of Parliament is to be through Westminster-hall, the Peers and Commoners passing from Westminster hall along the corridor leading to the centre of the building, the Peers turning to the right and the Commoners to the left.

☞ MOST MELANCHOLY.—A very serious misfortune, too serious by far to be grinned at, had very nearly happened to the Kingston Press. The light of its countenance was about to be darkened:—in other words, there was no paper in town to print on. Every office in the city but one had exhausted its stock, and could get no more for love or money. The 'Daily British Whig' crawled along during the week in the best way it could; but its very large Weekly Edition, together with those of the 'Argus' and 'Herald,' had to be postponed until to-day, even if to-day they have all been published. In the midst of a fierce Electioneering contest one would almost think this want of printing paper in town could not have happened accidentally; nevertheless, however good and practical the hoax might be, there is no reason to believe it has been practised. The facts are these, the few paper mills in Canada are wholly inadequate to supply the province with printing paper; consequently the greatest portion of what is consumed is imported from the United States. But it is cheaper to do so, than purchase at the extravagant prices demanded at the Canada Mills. A duty of 12½ per cent. freight, exchange and commission, all added to the American Manufacturer's invoice, will make the article less costly than the first cost of the home commodity. And yet rags and labor are much cheaper in the Province than in the States. One probable cause may be assigned for the extraordinary difference. The American dealer takes nothing but cash, while the Canadian generally gives credit. The real cause is, the demand in Canada for printing paper is so great, particularly in places of unready access to the neighbouring country, that almost any price can be obtained for it. These things being premised, it should be stated, that for the past two years all the Kingston Printing Offices, (one excepted,) have been in the habit of purchasing their supply of paper from the two city Stationers, Mr. Duff and Mr Palmer, who have furnished it at prices for cash perfectly satisfactory to their customers. All of a sudden the supply of these gentlemen falls short, and the trade are thrown somewhat unexpectedly on their own resources, at a period of the year when steamboats are lying up for the season or are arriving very irregularly. If what we have stated could possibly draw the attention of capitalists to the construction of paper mills, and the manufacture of printing paper, our labor would be amply repaid. The cash expended in the 'British Whig' Office for printing paper alone exceeds $35 per week, and the other newspaper offices lay out a proportionate sum. These outlays are always cash. There are nearly one hundred periodicals published in Canada, and the political economist can judge from what is expended by four newspapers, of the whole amount. Flouring Mills don't pay, and Saw Mills will soon follow the same example. Cotton Mills and Paper Mills will have to take their places, and the sooner the latter are constructed, the better it will prove for the enterprising capitalist. A heavy duty with attendant expenses will protect his manufacture, while his raw material, that is, his stock, will be here much cheaper and better, from the quantity of linen mixed with Canadian rags. And last, tho' not least, the price of his labor will be less.

DIRTY WORK.—As no paper in the late Midland District could be found sufficiently vile to publish ought against the personal character of David Roblin Esq, the Warden of the United Counties, and the Liberal Candidate for Lennox and Addington, the dirty work has devolved upon the Coburg Star.—Much good may it do him.

MORE BANQUETS.—The inhabitants of Ballina headed by four Roman Catholic clergymen, have presented an address to Mr Geo. Henry Moore, one of the members for Mayo, complimenting him upon his championship of 'the faith' during the last session of Parliament, and inviting him to name an early day for a banquet which they propose to give him and his colleague in part payment for their senatorial services.

"You have, Sir, (they say) won the affection and secured the esteem of every true Irish heart by your undaunted courage, determined perseverance, and talented energies in combating the most dastardly assaults of a godless and persecuting Government upon a religion which is essentially harmless, essentially innocent—upon a religion which has thriven and flourished under the Neros and Caligulas, and will still continue to flourish despite the most ignominious enactments of England's benighted Minister."

In the course of his reply, Mr. Moore remarked:—

"It would be false modesty in me to attempt for a moment to disparage the great efforts which were made in Parliament during the last session, and in which I was fortunate enough to bear a part, not only in defending our religious liberties, but in founding a great system of policy which, if ratified by Irish constituencies and carried out by Irish Representatives, will enable Ireland, even in an alien Legislature, to govern her own country through and by and for her own people. That this can be done, the experience of the past session has proved; and that this shall be done, requires but the organized and determined will of Irish constituencies. The people have been taught their power—it is for them to use and improve it; and Irish representatives should learn, from the noble and enthusiastic manner in which their discharge of public duty has been greeted, to persevere in its performance."

STRANGE CASE OF CHILD MURDER.—On Thursday last a man, who has since been ascertained to hold a respectable situation in Glasgow, called upon an undertaker in Main street, Gorbals, and purchased a child's coffin, desiring at the same time that ground for the interment should be prepared in the Old Gorbals burying ground. On Friday night he called at the same place, carrying the coffin, which was then screwed down, and stating that he would return alone on the following evening and bring the body. As the circumstance took down the undertaker gave information to the police, by whom the coffin was taken to the station. When opened it was found to contain the body of a full-grown male child presenting however black marks upon the lips. A post mortem examination was made by Drs. Easton and Anderson, which leaves no doubt that death was the result of suffocation, and from the marks upon the lips there is little doubt that death has been caused by the process named burking. The man was apprehended when he returned for the interment and states that the body was sent to him in a Railway parcel by his niece a young woman in Perthshire, and of the truth of this statement there is no doubt. Information has accordingly been sent to the Perthshire authorities, and measures will be taken for the girl's apprehension.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

November 18th.

We are now receiving the first instalment of winter in a fall of fine snow, quite sufficient to have induced the presence of winter vehicles in the streets. The weather however, looks heavy, and indicates rain.

Ten more days will most probably close the navigation and put a stop to trade, except that appertaining to the city.

In business we have no new feature to note, nor any increase of activity to mention. The same inactivity which has distinguished it for some time past, continues to distinguish it still; and there now appears little probability of any material improvement taking place at this late season.

The following are the closing Market prices to-day.

DR. WISTAR'S
BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
Be not deceived! Remember SETH W FOWLE, Boston, Mass., is the sole proprietor of the original receipt for the manufacture of the original and only genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
This article was originally prepared by WILLIAMS & CO., of Philadelphia. Now that this preparation is so well known, that there will be, and now are, found those so villainously wicked as to concoct a spurious and perhaps poisonous mixture, and try to palm it off as the GENUINE BALSAM. We raise no false alarms. We advise the public of the schemes, that their health may not be trifled with, nor ourselves plundered of our just rights.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER. In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances where patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when MERCURY has been resorted to vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the LIVER to a healthy action, and in many instances effected permanent Cures! after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Be careful, and see that what you buy has the SIGNATURE of I. BUTTS.
