MAY HAVE HORSE RACES

Local Horse Owners May Open River Speedway

Local owners of fast steeds are again centering their attention on Fox river and if they are given sufficient encouragement by the local lovers of horse flesh a speedway will soon appear on Fox river for the purpose of pulling off a number of horse races there.

In speaking with one of the owners of local horses on Tuesday afternoon the writer was informed that most of the boys are willing to take their animals out and get them in shape for a few events of this kind. Match races may also be arranged between local and out-of-town horses. Such match events have always proven big drawing cards in the past and there is no reason why the sport should not be as popular this winter as it has been in the past.

Those who have horses and are in for such events will kindly see Frank Justen of this village.
