FAIR WEATHER CONTINUES.

ANOTHER WET DAY GREETS KINGSTON'S FAIR.

A Splendid Exhibit of Poultry — Some of the Principal Prize Winners—Baseball in the Rain —Mud Everywhere in Sight.

Too bad, too bad! Gloomy weather, small crowds, depleted treasury, plenty of mud! These are some of the features of the fair this year. The weather cannot be amended, but there might be larger crowds and a consequent swelling of the treasury. Notwithstanding the rain Wednesday, a fairly large attendance favored the fair, but the crowd was small to what it would have been had the weather been fair and bright. While congratulations must be heaped upon the directors for their work in making the exhibition a success as regards the entry list, at the same time sympathy must be extended that the financial end of the enterprise is short, but this condition is due to no fault of theirs. Amends can be made to a certain extent by a large attendance to-morrow, when every feature of the fair can be seen as well as on any of the earlier days. None of the exhibits will leave the grounds until six o'clock.

Rain, rain, dismal rain. The race track looked like a freshly ploughed field; the soft clay was of the tenacity of putty and square yards of it were carried away by every person who was obliged to cross it. Horse racing was out of the question under such unfavorable conditions. The baseball match was played, but, my! what an exhibition it was. The ground was soft and muddy, the ball greasy and the players soaking wet. The platform attractions were run off on time for the benefit of the half-filled grand stands, and a special feature was added to the balloon ascent, two aeronauts ascending instead of one, something never before seen here. The balloon was carried southward over the city.

A place worthy of a visit is the building containing the poultry exhibit. It is well filled this year, there being 600 birds on view, which is an increase of 120 over last year. The building is in charge of Henry Turpin, a painstaking superintendent, well qualified to fill such an important post. Some of the best birds in Ontario can be seen here. Many of them are prize winners of a dozen fairs. Some of the principal exhibitors are: W. H. Reid, Union street, who entered 140 birds and secured 135 prizes; G. H. Oldrieve, who made ninety entries and captured eighty prizes; W. Driver, who got twenty-eight prizes out of thirty entries; chief of police Baillie, who was awarded ten prizes on twelve entries; A. McMahon, who captured five prizes out of eight entries; Stuart & Sons, Amenie, whose forty entries included thirty prize winners. The black Langshan hen shown by W. Driver is the handsomest bird in the exhibit, and the best of the variety ever shown here. It was awarded first prize, and a cock of the same kind exhibited by chief of police Baillie also took first prize. Another beauty shown by W. Driver is a buff leghorn cock; this bird got first prize at Sherbrooke, Que., where there were 1,800 entries. A golden Wyandotte cock entered by the same fancier was given second prize though it captured first at Sherbrooke. Stuart & Sons show a beautiful cock and hen of the silver Poland variety, receiving the premier prize, Chief of police Baillie shows a pair of buff Wyandotte cocks which received first and second prizes. Another fine bird in Mr. Driver's collection is a black Java cock, which won prizes at Toronto, Hamburg and Sherbrooke, and also captured the premier prize here. The bird scores a percentage of ninety-four and a half, and out of 110 birds shown of that variety, it was by far the best. G. S. Oldrieve shows a number of game cocks, which were successful prize winners. Charles Fralick shows a splendid specimen of Indian game cock, which captured a red ticket. Chief of police Baillie was also successful with his white Plymouth rocks, getting first and second prizes. W. H. Reid is the largest exhibitor and his winnings are proportionately large. He has some beautiful birds on view. S. Conley shows a pair of wild geese, domesticated. They attract considerable attention. A couple of cages of guinea pigs, also shown by Mr. Conley, secure the attention of the crowd; the little animals are quite tame. Altogether the poultry shed is an attractive spot. Besides the hens there is a large showing of ducks, geese and turkeys.

Afternoon Events.

The rain played havoc with the afternoon's programme. The horses races had to be postponed, owing to the heaviness of the track. Then the rain interfered with the platform performance, which, however, took place later, between showers. The singing, dancing, cornet music and band concert were much enjoyed, and were all of a high class nature. It being too wet for them to play outside, the Ogdensburg, N.Y., band was stationed in the palace, where they discoursed good music during the course of the afternoon.

The palace and horticultural hall were the principal items of interest, in the absence of outdoor attractions. The exhibits were spoken of in terms of praise, while the horticultural display drew forth the rapturous explanations of the spectators.

Owing to the dampness of the air yesterday Leo Stevens did not venture to do his bomb explosion act, but instead made a double balloon ascension. Shortly before five o'clock the big bag was filled. "Let go," came the cry from Leo; the guy ropes were loosed and in a second Leo and his companion, Benjamin, were speeding heavenwards. The scene was a very pretty one, as the two aeronauts rose into the mists and clouds, both suspended from the same balloon. At the altitude of a thousand feet, Benjamin cut loose his parachute and descended safely—to mother earth. On up went Leo until the eye strained to follow his flight. Soon he was lost in the clouds, and the wondering crowds gazed for several minutes in the direction he had gone, but naught could they see of him. It was a brief period of suspense; then the parachute was seen making its earthward trip. Leo landed in safety, and was soon again on the grounds.

Kingston fair has a midway all its own. The visitor should not miss seeing it. There's Cobo, the wonderful and wierd woman snake eater; moving pictures of the Pan-American; the merry-go-round; the children's delight; candy stands and refreshment stalls, and other attractions.

Last Night's Performance.

Despite the weather and the muddy grounds three or four hundred citizens visited the fair last evening. The palace was well lighted up, and made a pretty scene. The platform attractions were given in their entirety, and the people in the grand stand, where it was dry, enjoyed the performance. The aerobatic and contortionist's feats, the dancing and music were above the ordinary. The side shows were in full swing. When the character of the evening is taken into consideration, a bigger attendance could not have been expected. The citizens must rally to the support of the directors. Every man and woman should attend if they possibly can. It will only cost them a quarter, and their money will save the directors from getting "into the hole." If the fair is to be continued, the citizens must give it their sympathy and support.

Notes Of The Day.

Allan Chadwick acted as managing director yesterday.

The Sunbury cheese factory received first prize for colored cheese, and Joseph Cramer second.

"She eats 'em alive, she eats 'em alive," is one of the startling announcements one hears from one of the booths.

Baicen Bros., Portsmouth, were the principal prize winners in vegetables. They made a large showing of fine garden vegetables.

Chicago boasted of its midway, and Buffalo is proud of its midway, but each is outclassed by the midway at Kingston's big fair.

It has been decided to have a parade of prize stock around the ring Friday afternoon, the only parade of the kind during the fair.

The directors had a load of straw dumped in front of the main gate, with a view to covering up the mud and making passage possible.

The exhibit af bread, buns and other domestic stuff is much larger than in former years. The exhibit shows up to better advantage in the palace.

In machinery hall a couple of weaving machines from the cotton mill are on exhibition, in charge of S. Eves. Their operation is watched with interest by many visitors.

Ernest McRae has on exhibition in his store window fine samples of pears and apples, which he wanted to exhibit at the fair, but his entry money was refused Monday morning.

Ten citizens wanted to attend the fair last evening, but though they searched all three newspapers, they failed to find any announcement that the grounds were to be open.

John Switzer, Sydenham, has on exhibition a splendid specimen of a running stallion, named Mickado. It is a full blooded animal, from the stables of Gooderham & Worts, Toronto.

A number of mounted artillery men were on hand yesterday to assist in keeping the crowd in order, but their services were not pressing, as the crowd was small and easily controlled.

It is estimated that at least 100 entries were refused on Monday. It is impossible to lay down hard and fast rules with regard to certain classes of stuff it is desired to have exhibited.

Some of the binder twine machines from the Kingston penitentiary are on exhibition in machinery hall. They are in charge of T. P. Connors, superintendent of the binder twine department.

Music of an excellent character was furnished Wednesday afternoon by the Ogdensburg band, under the leadership of T. Levere. The band is composed of a splendid lot of young men, whom it is a pleasure to meet.

On Tuesday 621 people entered the grounds, of which number sixty-seven came in by subscription ticket. The total receipts were $160.90. It was estimated that 1,500 people were on the grounds yesterday, despite the continuous rain fall.

A father and two sons brought a large flock of sheep for exhibit and applied at the office for the customary passes for attendants. Two were issued and they were told that the third one of the party would have to pay an admission fee at the gate every time he desired to enter.

A Princess street merchant, a director of the fair, secured space in the palace for an exhibit. He took a load of stuff to the grounds, but ere the goods were placed in position an officious official and the merchant had a few words, with the result that the goods were not shown and were returned to the store.

W. H. Macnee has a curiosity on view in horticultural hall, being what is known as a Japanese fern ball. It is shaped to represent a monkey and is an odd-looking affair, having green ferns growing from it. It appears to be a piece of bark, but closer examination reveals the fact that the object is cleverly made. It attracts a lot of attention.

Big crowds visited the moving pictures of the Pan-American exposition which are shown in a large tent near the palace. Everything that transpires in the famous midway is here represented in most realistic style. It is something no one should miss seeing. The spectator, after paying the usual small fee, is entitled to go in and stay as long as he likes.

CHENEY SCORED A SHUT OUT.

PONIES DEFEATED ROCHESTER SEVEN TO NOTHING.

Grounds Wet, But Good Ball Played—Sullivan an Aeronaut — Night Bowling in Peterboro—Flashes at Things.

Ponies have another hero, and his name is "Bill" Cheney. Last night "Bill" wore a rose, and held his head very high, as everybody he met bowed reverently to him. And why all this decoration and worship? Well, it was simply this—that "Bill" plastered the Rochester baseball team with whitewash yesterday, enabling the Ponies to win by 7 to 0. Rochester couldn't find his delivery, and were able to get only three hits. The only run the visitors got was a run to the boat.

The Ponies had done such damage last week to the twisters of VanAlmkerk and Thompson, that Neef was placed in the box for yesterday's match, and he allowed ten hits. In the first and fifth innings, Ponies inaugurated a batting bee, good for seven runs.

The fair grounds diamond was very wet after the rain showers, but did not effect the game to any extent. Good ball was played all through, Ponies having a record of no errors, while Rochester had only two.

Flashes At Things.

McCann, the ex-Canadian league pitcher, has been signed for Brooklyn for next year.

In the last six games the Torontos have made eighty-nine hits, an average of nearly fifteen hits a game.

The baseball match looked forward to is that between Gananoque and Ponies at the fair on Friday afternoon.

Easton, Ponies third baseman, leaves to-morrow for a trip up the Rideau. Either Derry or Cheney will fill his place on Friday and Saturday.

Bicyclist Nelson's untimely end illustrates the terrible dangers that face the pace followers, and which are regarded lightly by both the racers and the public.

Rumohr, the Winnipeg sculler, wants to row Sullivan, the backer and trainer of champion Towns, and announces that he is prepared to meet the New Zealander on the Winnipeg course on Saturday, September 21st.

Toronto 'Varsity is arranging to play a game with Buffalo university at Buffalo this fall. The arrangements are about completed and only the date is to be fixed. The game will be played half Canadian and half the American rules.

"Junction Joe Clarke," a former resident of Brockville, well-known in Ontario rugby circles, figured recently in a prize fight to a finish in Dawson city. "Joe" had the best of the fight up to fifteen rounds, when a chance blow put him out of business.

The Toronto News calls George Sullivan a good aeronaut, because he went "up in the air," during Monday's match with Montreal. "Sullivan," it says, "made his ascension in the third innings, but manager Barrow had a strong rope on him, and hustled him back to earth and the benches in a hurry."

So enthusiastic are the lawn bowlers in Peterboro, that an electric light system has been installed on the grounds, and the bowling goes merrily on till eleven o'clock at night. Kingston is not a whit behind. "Bowling" goes on every night throughout the year till eleven o'clock and often all night, for some bars never close.

This is the kind of criticism the Buffalo baseball team gets from the Enquirer when it loses a match: "If the 'Human Bomb' refuses to take chances on railroad day the members of the alleged Buffalo baseball club should be bound hand and foot and sent up in his place. Buffalo has no use for these misfits. They are a disgrace to baseball and to themselves. They are without shame, or they would not ask for pay for their miserable exhibitions. In another column will be found a report of the farce put up by the Bisons yesterday."

Citizen's Royal Edition.

On September 20th, the Ottawa Citizen will issue a royal souvenir number to commemorate the visit of the duke and duchess of Cornwall and York. It will consist of twenty-eight pages, of which twelve pages will be on fine paper, illustrated with over 100 half-tone cuts. There will be a page each devoted to civic, social, athletic, military, political and commercial life in the capital. As there will be at least 20,000 visitors in the capital, and as every one will want a souvenir of the visit, the edition will be exhausted in a few hours. The list is already up in the thousands; price ten cents.

Attacked by a Crane.

John Grimason, of Sydenham, while out hunting about a week ago, wounded a large crane so that he was able to capture it. It afterwards attacked him, attempting to pick his eyes out. One eye was badly injured and required a physician's care. On Wednesday Mr. Grimason came to the general hospital for special treatment. It is not yet known whether the sight of the eye can be saved or not. Mr. Grimason is a son of Mrs. Grimason, Princess street.

Frederick Cole, Harlowe, Ont., had acute rheumatism for one year. Seven bottles of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure cured him. This preparation is used internally. Price 50c. per bottle. For sale at Wade's drug store.

Armorer-Sergt. T. Worth, of the Royal Canadian artillery, Kingston, is in Hamilton for the purpose of inspecting the guns of the local battery.

Miss B. Van Luven left this morning for Syracuse, after spending a few weeks' holidays in Sydenham and vicinity.

J. S. R. McCann has received several maps of the islands, including those the government wish to sell, accompanied by their description and valuation. So far the only applications have been made by United States.

Almonte has a youth of twelve years who tips the scales at 143 pounds, and Smith's Falls has a young man twenty-one years old who only weighs about sixty pounds, and who only stands a little over three feet high.

A Victoria ward resident says he was amused to read about the credit taken by aldermen Dunlop and Graham regarding improvements to streets in the ward. He thinks the improvements were so few that it is hardly worth while quarrelling over them, for it would be hard to divide the sum total into two respectable parts.

COFFEE DISEASES.

Minister and Young Lady Affected.

Ministers sometimes find they suffer from the effects of bad habits as well as ordinary people. Rev. Mr. ——, of Athens, N.Y., had become greatly emaciated from coffee drinking, which produced stomach trouble and all of the effects of overwork or poor nourishment.

He quit the coffee and began drinking Postum Cereal Food Coffee.

His health began to improve and he now weighs 151 pounds, an increase of fifteen pounds over his former weight. This improvement in health and strength is shown to be due to the use of Postum Food Coffee, by the fact that when he stops drinking Postum—as he has done far an experiment—he begins to lose flesh and get back into his old condition.

A young lady who writes about the case says that she was formerly suffering greatly from "those twin diseases," dyspepsia and nervousness. "I knew that both of the diseases had their origin in the use of coffee, and while I was fully aware of its injurious effects upon my system, I was not willing to give it up, for I did not know of anything to take its place.

Tea, I knew, was also injurious, and as for cocoa, it lacked the "snap and go" which can alone satisfy a coffee drinker's taste. About two years ago I purchased my first box of Postum Food Coffee and quit the use of coffee. I made Postum according to directions and found I had a drink not only equal to coffee, but far superior to it in many ways. Since that time I have used it constantly and find my general health very much improved, and the "twin diseases" gone. I also send you the names of Rev. and Mrs. ——, of Athens, N. Y., who have been greatly helped by the use of Postum Food Coffee in the place of ordinary coffee."

A LADY CLAIMS $10,000.

FOR MENTAL SHOCK AND INJURY TO REPUTATION.

Syracuse Woman Sues Thousand Island Park Customs Inspector for Accusing Her of Smuggling.

Syracuse Herald.

The complaint in the slander action brought by Mrs. Jennie T. Tuttle, of No. 401½ Landon avenue against Charles C. Hosmer, the custom-house officer at Thousand Island park, has been drafted by attorney Frank W. Talbot of this city. Damages in the sum of $10,000 will be demanded for the mental shock received and the injuries to her reputation. Mrs. Tuttle is the wife of Robert R. Tuttle, the insurance man at No. 414 University block.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Tuttle went to Kingston, Ont., August 13th, and bought an enameled belt buckle at A. C. Johnston Bros.' for $2 as a souvenir of the trip. At the defendant's office on the dock at the park, it is alleged that the defendant said to Mrs. Tuttle, "You are not telling the truth. Nine out of every ten women are liars. I was at Kingston to-day and saw you buy that buckle and know you paid more than $2 for it."

Mrs. Tuttle complains because the remarks conveyed the impression to the bystanders that she was smuggling.

1,000 ISLANDS.

The Fare is 50c., And Including Dinner $1.

Steamers "North King" and "Caspian" leave Swift's wharf daily, except Monday, at 10:05 a.m., calling at Alexandria Bay and Rockport, and giving one hour at Gananoque; home 4:45 p.m.

The Fair's Misfortune.

One of the fair committee strongly advocated having the show during the first week in September, which is generally markedly good weather. Again this was the case this year. But the farmers pleaded for the second week and some people did not want to double on Toronto exhibition dates, so the safer choice was overruled. After two successive years of bad weather perhaps the second week will find fewer advocates in future, provided the fair does not die out. One bane of Kingston is selecting unpropitious dates. This is notable in trying to keep up Victoria day after several dampening experiences, while Dominion day, almost invariably fine, is allowed to pass over without a celebration.

He Was Put Off.

There was a bit of a scuffle on an inbound car, opposite Rockwood gate late last night. Several young men slightly steeped in liquor, were talking loudly, and one began to use too strong language. A street railway official ordered him to stop, and receiving only abuse, pulled the troubler off the car. There was a general mix-up for a minute, but the street railway official's friends took a hand, and kept the noisy man's comrades at bay, and also kept them from boarding the car again.

Cars To The Fair Grounds.

It would be a great boon to the fair directors if the street railway company would build a switch to the fair grounds' gate. As it is, passengers have to walk several blocks, and then they think they might as well walk the rest of the distance. The hacks at the gate do a big business, which the street railway might get. A branch line from the Williamsville junction would serve a very useful and accommodating purpose more than once during the year. What think ye of it, King Ben?

He Is A Veteran.

Timothy Williams, Belleville, a veteran of 1837, applied at the crown lands department for the grant of land old soldiers are entitled to. He is eighty-three years of age and had an adventurous career during the rebellion. In the act passed last session there is no provision made for veterans of 1837, but the minister has promised to consider the case. So far the department have received 13,000 applications from people who claim to be entitled to the government grant.

Styles For The Winter.

The easiest way for readers to get a good idea of styles popular this winter is to buy the October Delineator, on sale at news stands. It foreshadows tendencies of fashion which will prevail. The October number is also full of good general reading, tastefully illustrated.

The Kind Of Poverty.

When people grow sallow faced and wrinkled it is a sign of blood poverty. Wade's Iron Tonic Pills contain the four best tonics known to science, and give color to the face by enriching the blood. They are a great blood maker and nerve strengthener. Fifty pills in a box for 25c. at Wade's drug store.

Give a Helping Hand.

Every citizen with a spark of pride in him and who wants to show appreciation of the fair directors will go to the fair, pay his quarter, and help make the gate receipts as large as possible. To-night and to-morrow let the silver drop as rain falls from the clouds.
