On account of the epidemic of influenza all the schools, churches, picture show and all places of public amusement were closed at Woodstock last week.

A number of near-by cities and villages are holding "Community Sings." Such an occasion was participated in by a large crowd of people at Harvard last Sunday.

On December 1 forty Chicago breweries will discontinue the manufacture of beer and owners are now trying to figure out how to make use of these plants in the future.

A party of Alden vigilantes visited the home of Carl Bollwahn near that village one evening last week and applied yellow paint to everything in sight and also painted the word "slacker" in large letters in two conspicuous places. The action came as the result of Bollwahn absolutely refusing to live up to Uncle Sam's request not to use his car on Sunday.

Two carloads of Fordson tractors, fourteen in number, were received by Manley Bros. at Harvard one day last week. All except two of the machines had been sold previously to their arrival. All told, the Harvard firm has handled twenty-three machines, most of which were disposed of in the McHenry county territory.

FORMER PASTOR'S APPEAL

To Parishioners of St. Mary's Catholic Church

Sierra Madre, Calif., Sept. 27, 1918. Dear Father Berthold—I see from last week's Chicago Wochenblatt that you have begun the building of a good, practical and nice church, judging from the description you gave me of it in your letter, which I read with great interest. I am glad you are getting on well. Have courage, for you will have a hard task for a few years and then you can look back with joy on the sacrifices and labor you have brought and the good people of your flock will rejoice with you and will be proud of what they have achieved. I hope the few "slackers" there may be will soon come forward and do their share for the good work. It would be too bad to see any of the German speaking people of McHenry pull away from the rest. They have always been so united, like a big family. In the best of regulated families they have little disagreements; they fight them out and then they settle down and all goes harmoniously again. The ancestors of the Germans of Johnsbury and McHenry most all come from Mayen, east of Trier, and near Coblenz, a district lying between the rivers Rhine and Mosel. Their Johnsbury and McHenry descendants are all more or less related to one another, either by ties of blood or marriage. All speak the same dialect in German and it would look bad to see any of them pull away from their kinsmen.

If ever there was a time when the Germans and descendants of Germans in this country should stand by one another it is now. Altho we all do our duty to our adopted country faithfully as citizens, we are watched and despised because we have a drop of German blood in our veins. We of German descent must do our duty in every way to our country here, but also should sympathize with one another in our trials and keep harmony and love among us. If we wish and hope to bring about the brotherhood of man on earth we must begin right at home. We are hoping that democracy will soon rule the whole world; that kings, kaisers, emperors and all autocrats and money-kings will be soon thrown on the junk pile; that the world will be ruled for the benefit of the masses and not the classes. That spirit was in the hearts of the Germans when in 1848 they struck for liberty and equality for true democracy and most of the Germans that migrated to this country since then were imbued with that spirit and they and their descendants have ever struggled for true democracy.

Let us hope that the thousands of men of German blood who went across to fight for true democracy may soon return to tell us that at last we have got what our grandfathers fought for—liberty, equality and the brotherhood of man.

Meanwhile, I, as former pastor, and "Trierer Landsman," who loves old McHenry and the good people of St. Mary's parish, and wishes their success and happiness, would beg and entreat them to be of one mind and heart in helping to build up and keep up their nice parish. United you will stand—divided you will fall. If everyone does his duty according to his means you will succeed easily. I wish I could come to McHenry and have a good heart to heart talk with all my dear "Landsleute" there. I think I could get them all to join the big family circle to which they belong.

Father Berthold, you may make any use of this letter you may deem fit or good. You will be very busy with your church building work now for some time. Should you find time now and then to drop me a line I shall always be glad to hear and get news from dear old McHenry.

I am feeling pretty well and am doing my little parish work here right along. Wishing you all success in every way, I am,

Yours,

M. W. Barth.

RINGWOOD BANKER DEAD

HENRY F. WHARTON VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Cashier of Ringwood Bank Passed Away at His Late Home on Monday of This Week

Once more the angel of death has entered our midst, claiming one of Ringwood's most useful and best beloved citizens, Henry F. Wharton, who passed peacefully from this life to the great beyond Monday evening, Oct. 14, 1918, at 7:30 o'clock, after an illness of but a few days, succumbing after a brave fight against that dread disease, pneumonia.

Why the king of terrors claimed him thus ruthlessly, who shall say? Man is disposed, at times, to rebel against the disposition of Providence; and standing in the presence of one who was dear in life friends protest that fate has been unkind.

The last act in the drama of the life of our deceased friend typifies the utter unselfish and generous character of the man. Always mindful of others, he remained bravely at his post, helping and serving his family and friends, neglecting his own personal welfare until nature rebelled, the disease which caused his death being far advanced when he took his bed.

Henry F. Wharton, son of R. G. and Anna H. Wharton, was born at Gilmore, Illinois, January 8, 1881, and passed peacefully from this life on October 14, 1918, aged 37 years, 9 months and 6 days.

He received his education in the public schools of Illinois and California, where he removed with his parents when seven years of age. At the age of fifteen he united with the Methodist Episcopal church and lived a consistent Christian life until claimed by death. Upon the return of the family to his native state, Henry began his life of usefulness as a clerk in a store at Edgewood, Ill., later accepting a clerical position at Sadoris, Ill., at which place he met his life companion, Myrtle Pearl Berry, to whom he was married July 4, 1908. To this union two children were born—Doris Vivian, age nine, and Norman Stewart, age two.

In 1910 Mr. Wharton was engaged as manager of the Klemeyer Lumber company at Bridgeport, Ill., and two years later removed to Gary, Ind., where he accepted a better position, Gary was his home until about four years ago, when he and his excellent family became valued and useful citizens of Ringwood. During the first year of his residence there he was manager of the lumber yard and two years ago was influential in causing the establishment of the Bank of Ringwood, since which time he held the responsible position of cashier of the institution. How well and efficiently he discharged his duties is well known to every one in this community and his genial good nature, pleasant smile and kindly word will be missed by all.

The deceased was an honored member of the Masonic, Modern Woodman and Mystic Worker lodges.

Besides the grief stricken wife and two children, there are left to mourn father, mother, two brothers, Charles of Edmund, Wis., and Lawrence H. of the Great Lakes Naval Training station; also three sisters, Mrs. Clara Brown of Salem, Ill., Flora and Laura of Woodstock, Ill., numerous other relatives and a host of friends.

Our departed friend had lived among us only a few short years, yet his life was an open book, absolutely frank, friendly and generous, he endeared himself to all. A companion to the young and to the little children, a wise counselor for the aged, a brother to the youth and middle-aged and a friend to all. Variously in the passing out of the life of our noble friend and neighbor the stricken family and relatives are suffering the greatest loss that humans are called upon to bear. The loss to our community is great.

With a mind rich and fragrant with the perfume of sweet charity, clean tempered and honest in his way of life, why was he chosen by the dark winged angel? The babe of unknown promise and the aged drift to the other shore, and we know they have yielded to nature's normal course. But our friend, full armed with high commission for his world's work, falls like a strong oak felled by the blast. Still in young manhood the life of the beloved friend held many possibilities. If honest dealing and filling a sphere with wholesome joy and high purpose is a measure of a man's being, then Henry Wharton has not lived in vain. Men loved him most who knew him best. It was good to have been his friend, to have felt the impress of his heroic courage, to have lived in companionship with his virile manhood. Surely the consciousness of work well done inspired the gentle resignation with which he serenely accepted the decree that sent him from our midst.

The funeral took place from his late home in Ringwood at 3:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. W. E. Grose of Chicago officiating. The members of McHenry Masonic lodge attended in a body and took charge of the services at the grave. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Holly of McHenry sang. The remains were laid at rest in the Ringwood cemetery.

CHANGE IN PASTORS

Rev. Wm. E. Grose Transferred to Chicago

As a result of the action taken at the recent Rock river conference in Chicago the McHenry M. E. church will have a new pastor during the coming year in the person of Rev. C. J. Hewitt, who has been given charge of the Methodist Episcopal churches of McHenry, Ringwood and Greenwood.

Rev. W. E. Grose, who has taken care of the McHenry charge in connection with that of Crystal Lake, where he has resided during the past two years, has been transferred to the Bowen M. E. church, near Ashland and Irving Park Blvd., Chicago. He is succeeded at Crystal Lake by Rev. H. P. Barnes.

McHenry people, both members and non-members of the M. E. church, are sorry to see Mr. Grose leave, as he has made many warm friends during the two years that he has presided here. The writer has had very pleasant dealings with Mr. Grose during his reign here and have yet to meet a more congenial fellow than the reverend gentleman of whom we speak.

The very best wishes of his little flock as well as his many friends in McHenry will accompany him to his new field of labor.

WESTFALL WOODBURN DEAD

Passed Away at His Late Home at Belvidere

Westfall Woodburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Woodburn of this village, who grew to manhood here, passed away at his late home, corner East Madison street and McKinley avenue, Belvidere, Ill., at 11:40 o'clock last Friday night, a victim of that much dreaded disease of influenza followed by pneumonia. He was ill but a week.

The deceased will be favorably remembered by many of our people as the family made this village their home for quite a number of years. He attended the public school here and after leaving same went to Elgin, where he was employed for a number of years. He has been a resident of Belvidere for about eight years, where he was employed at the National sewing machine factory. During the past three months he worked at the Parsons casket hardware factory.

There are left to survive him a wife and two children, Lenora and Winfield; his parents, who reside in this village, and four brothers, as follows: Wayne of Rockford, Wirth, who is at the present time confined in the Woodstock hospital, Winfield of Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Wallace of Woodstock.

The funeral services were held from the home at one o'clock on Monday afternoon of this week, Rev. R. E. Harkness officiating. Burial took place in the Belvidere cemetery.

Mr. Woodburn was about thirty-five years of age. His many friends in McHenry extend their deepest sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

McHENRY IS OVER THE TOP

IN ITS SUBSCRIPTION TO THE FOURTH LOAN

Over-Subscribes Her Quota By Over $20,000—McHenry People Loyal to the Cause—Is Second in County

The village of McHenry, in perfect keeping with the spirit that she has shown since the outbreak of the present war with Germany, went "over the top" in its subscription towards the fourth liberty loan.

Not only did our good people come forward and subscribe its full quota, but they have done even better, and by the time that the loan closes next Saturday night our records will show that we have subscribed to bonds to the amount that will represent in round numbers a total of nearly $100,000.

This splendid record has been made possible thru the work of the best working organization in McHenry county and the splendid co-operation of our people and it is needless to say that the workers as well as the subscribers are entitled to all the praise that goes with this grand, patriotic accomplishment.

McHenry has never faltered in any one of the various drives that have been made here in connection with the winning of the war and, while the present task, which is to come to a close next Saturday, looked like a mighty big undertaking (and this it certainly was), our quota was made up in a comparatively easy manner, judging from the work that has been and is being done by workers in other localities. The true 100 per cent American spirit thus exemplified here places our village and its people in a position high up on the altar of honor and The Plaindealer takes this opportunity of extending its thanks to those who are in any manner responsible for giving our community this excellent standing in the eyes of the entire country.

It is indeed gratifying to our hard-working and never-tiring county chairman, C. W. Stenger, to know that his little community has set such a splendid example, one that is now being followed out by various other county organizations in their endeavor to put their respective communities over the top by the time the gong sounds the closing of the drive.

To begin with, the village of McHenry was thoroughly organized for the work that had been laid out and every one who shouldered the responsibility of getting in the subscriptions worked hard and unceasingly from the very first day of the drive until the present time and, altho there are still a few more subscriptions to come in, the workers feel that their duty to their country is just about completed. Every one of the workers set out with a spirit to do his or her very best and that they have accomplished their task and done it well no one can deny. The work of these individuals was made easy as well as pleasant thru the co-operation of our good citizens and we believe that we are not speaking an untruth when we say that each and every purchaser of a liberty bond today feels mighty proud to be the owner of such. It proves beyond a shadow of doubt that each and every subscriber realizes to the fullest extent the important factor that we really are in this gigantic conflict, for without our money our cause would be a forlorn hope.

During the entire drive everyone in this community has taken renewed interest in the world war. All have made a sacrifice and all have bought to the very utmost of their ability. In fact, it just seemed as if everyone appointed himself or herself as a committee of one to see that McHenry went over the top with honor.

Our deeds and actions, combined with those of the people of the entire U. S. A., have already started the opening of the gates to an honorable peace, which is sure to come to us and our allies in due time, and when those brave boys are given back to us we will all be in a position, at least here in McHenry, to greet them with open arms and tell them that we who remained at home also fought the battle of victory and fought it well.

Fox Lake Boy Returns

The village of Fox Lake paid homage and deference to the first returned Lake county marine, Noel White, injured in service abroad, when on Tuesday afternoon he left the Great Lakes station and rode in an automobile to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. White, well known residents of Fox Lake, to greet them for the first time since his return from abroad. He has been at the Great Lakes station for the past ten days, being one of the eleven men sent back from France to recuperate at the big training station after being injured in service.

Change in Time Card

A number of the summer trains over this branch of the C. & N. W. railroad have been discontinued since last Saturday. These include the Saturday afternoon train, one Sunday train and the early Monday morning train.

PUBLIC PLACES CLOSED

Drastic Action Taken by the Village Board

As an extra precaution against the spread of any disease that may have infected this community, our schools, moving picture show, public halls and all places of public amusement were ordered closed the first of the week.

As an extra precaution against the spread of any disease that may have infected this community, our village board met on Monday evening of this week and passed a resolution which calls for the closing of our schools, churches, moving picture show, lodge halls, dance halls and all other places of public gatherings.

Our schools were the first to observe the order, they closing on Monday of this week, while J. W. Smith, proprietor of the Central opera house, also closed down, there having been no shows at that popular playhouse since Sunday evening.

The pastors of the various churches in the village were notified this (Thursday) morning and, altho masses have been read at the Catholic church here every morning this week, we are informed by the clergymen of McHenry that they are willing to abide by the ruling, which means that no masses will be read until such time as the village board and board of health see fit to lift the ban.

Mayor Chamberlin informed us this (Thursday) morning that over at Woodstock, where everything has been closed for nearly a week, very gratifying results have already been obtained, and as a result of this ban in that city may be lifted at any time.

Children, who have been sent home from school, are also warned to keep off the streets. If everyone will observe the closing and do everything they can the danger will soon have passed and McHenry will be spared much sickness and possibly deaths. The village board and board of health thus kindly ask our people to co-operate so that this desired end may be obtained.

Just how long the schools and other public places will remain closed in McHenry depends upon local health conditions. At this time we do not know of a single serious case of illness, altho there may be some. However, taking into consideration that the influenza and pneumonia epidemic seems to be on the wane thruout this entire locality, it looks to us as if the present ban will be of very short duration.

AN INFLUENZA WARNING

Issued by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake of the State Dept. of Public Health

An influenza warning has been issued by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, director of the state department of public health, to every man, woman and child in Illinois.

The warning is to be "On Guard." On guard against the careless sneezer, cougher and spitter because such persons are largely responsible for the widespread epidemic of influenza, which already has invaded 800 Illinois cities and towns and has caused hundreds of deaths.

The rules issued are as follows: Do not become panicky. Do not visit the sick. Keep out of crowds. Avoid dusty places. Work, sleep and live in the open air. Avoid contact with persons who have "colds."

Keep your hands clean and keep your fingers out of your mouth. If you get a cold, go home, go to bed and have a doctor called.

Dress warmly, do not permit yourself to get over tired, avoid chills. The influenza germs are spread by careless sneezing, coughing and spitting.

Do not use patent medicines or other so-called "cures."

If you are tired, chilled or physically "below par," you are most likely to be infected with influenza.

If you hear of a case of known or suspected influenza, report it at once to the local health officer.

If you get a cold, cough, sneeze and spit in a cloth which must be burned or thoroughly disinfected.

LIBERTY DAY IS OBSERVED

BIG DEMONSTRATION HERE LAST SATURDAY

Parade Is Feature of the Day—Liberty Loan Honor Flag Is Raised Amid Cheering of Big Gathering

Another very splendid patriotic demonstration occurred in this village last Saturday afternoon, when the observance of Liberty day took place.

As announced in last week's issue of The Plaindealer, the day was marked with a big parade, followed by the raising of McHenry's liberty loan honor flag and a short program.

The parade, almost a half mile in length and participated in by the McHenry Boy Scouts, school children, liberty loan workers, business men and citizens in general, left the McHenry public school grounds at 2:30. The parade was headed by Earl Walsh and Frank Chance Page, who rode on spotted Shetland ponies. Following these were the Boy Scouts, school children, liberty loan workers, lodges, business men, citizens and three beautiful as well as most appropriately decorated floats. The line of march was as follows: Starting from in front of the public school building east to Green street, north on Green street to Elm street, east on Elm street to Water street, north on Water street to Pearl street, west on Pearl street to Green street, south on Green street to Waukegan street, west on Waukegan street to Railroad street, south on Railroad street to Main street, east on Main street to Green street, north on Green street to the village hall, where the flag raising and program took place.

The spectacle was most impressive. True to the 100 per cent American spirit that has been manifested in this village ever since the outbreak of the terrible conflict in which our country is now engaged, nearly every business house in town closed down during the two hours that the parade and exercises were being held.

Each and every one who took part in the parade is worthy of the credit of doing his or her part in making Liberty day, 1918, one that will long remain in the memory of those who witnessed same. All of the liberty loan workers appeared in the parade, each carrying a large American flag. We also wish to make special mention of the little folks, the Boy Scouts and the high school girls who rode in the floats, not forgetting the many grown people who joined in to make the event a success.

The exercises in front of the village hall consisted of the raising of the honor flag, together with a beautiful American flag, a short speech by Postmaster T. J. Walsh and the singing of "America" by the entire assemblage. It was truly a typical American demonstration. Mr. Walsh's speech was in perfect keeping with the day, and when he announced that the village of McHenry had over-subscribed her quota to the fourth liberty loan by $20,000 a mighty cheer went up from those assembled. A more patriotic spirit could not have prevailed and the day will go down in history as one of the grandest and most memorable that the village has ever experienced.

Friday and Saturday of this week are children's $1.00 days at the Blake sisters' millinery parlor. Call and inspect the children's hats at $1.00 each.

Enjoy Trip to County Seat

A motoring party, for which Mrs. Frank Schnorr and Mrs. L. H. Owen, who are guests of relatives here, were responsible, was enjoyed during the recent ideal autumn days. The Hudson Six was hired by the ladies and they included in their party Mesdames H. E. Clemens, J. B. Perry, Alois Smith and Lydia Owen. After enjoying a sight seeing tour of the city of Woodstock and a luncheon there, they were escorted to the machine, they saw "The Unbeliever."
