ARE HURRYING TO OTTAWA

TO CONSULT THE AUTHORITIES THERE

The Proposed Revolt By Members of The Order of The Midnight Sun — Aid Expected From the Americans in Alaska.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Overland, through Alaska, to the sea, by water to Seattle, and through the United States on their way to Ottawa, officials of Yukon are hurrying to plead at the Canadian capital for help to put down the threatened rebellion by members of the Order of the Midnight Sun. Three of these officials have arrived at Chicago and others are on the way. Mr. Minard, the leader of the party of officials, said: "We expect to proceed to Ottawa at once and will have a consultation with the government authorities about conditions in the territory. The trouble may assume an international phase because so many members of the secret military order are Americans, and we cannot try them for treason. This affair is of too serious a nature to be handled by the police. Arms and ammunition, we are told, have been secreted in great quantities. Provisions have been cached at various strategic points this side of White Horse, which is the railway terminus, and beyond. Dawson was to be the capital of the republic. The conspirators depend on aid from the Americans throughout Alaska."

Had A Lively Tilt.

Alderman King seems to have undergone a change of heart since the last secret meeting of the fire and light committee, as at last night's meeting of the council he said, after alderman Graham had announced that in committee he had opposed the cutting down of accounts of local experts: "Unfortunately the press was not present at the committee meeting, so we have no record of the vote." This gave alderman Graham a chance to tell the council what he thought of alderman King and secret meetings, and he gave his colleague a sound dressing down. Alderman King, in reply, said that twenty out of the twenty-one aldermen around the board favored the secret meetings under the circumstances. Alderman Graham replied that three out of the seven members of the committee were opposed to secret sessions of the committee.

Wonderful Hypnotic Feats.

At Victoria theatre, last night, Prof. Ferris performed what cannot be called other than marvellous hypnotic feats. Although the crowd was nothing like what the performance deserved, he gave the full programme to the entire satisfaction of the audience. One of the most interesting tests given was that of performing the operation of cutting a man's leg off, by the only "Sammy" Norris, who imagined himself to be a great doctor. Although "Sam" knew nothing of the workings of an operation, he used every instrument properly and went through the entire work of any doctor in performing such, as testified to by physicians present. To-night Prof. Ferris will give an example of "mental suggestion," which is the very finest of mind work.

May Be Heard Next Week.

The city solicitor says that he has not yet received official notice of the light, heat and power company's intention to appeal to the court regarding the disputed question of the company's right to receive value for their franchise. He was informed unofficially that the company intended appealing. The matter will be argued in the first instance before a single judge in Toronto. In the event of the city winning, the company could carry the case to a higher court. It is likely that the first argument will be heard in Toronto next week.

Waits Solicitor's Advice.

In answer to a question by alderman McLeod, alderman Farrell stated in council that the question of submitting a bylaw to the people regarding the purchase of the plant of the light, heat and power company, was under consideration. Just as soon as the city solicitor advised that the bylaw be submitted, his advice would be carried out.

Locomotive Driver's Instinct.

Truro, N.S. Searchlight.

A good story is being told at the expense of a popular I. C. R. locomotive engineer running out of Truro. It seems that on last Sunday morning he was coming from Moncton to Truro with a light engine. While coming through the yard at Oxford Junction, a hen was seen to cross the track unnoticed by the engineer. The conductor saw it, and said quickly to the engineer, "There is a hen on the track." The engineer immediately shut off steam, put on the air brakes and blew for brakes, all on the spur of the moment.

The great part of the joke seems to be in the fact of blowing for brakes when there were not any cars attached to the locomotive.

A Brandon Scheme.

Frank Sentinel, Alberta.

A man in Brandon has hit upon a scheme to build houses, so as to reduce the cost of heating them. Heat cannot pass through a vacuum, so he is going to build the walls so that there will be a vacuum between the cold outside air and the warm inside air. He will have to make them of sheet steel, otherwise some woman will drive in a nail with a hair-brush and let out the vacuum.

SOME EUROPEAN POWERS

APPEAL TO UNCLE SAM TO END BOER WAR.

A Distinguished Member of The Cabinet Quoted as Saying that Intervention is Asked Almost Daily.

London, Nov. 26.—Sir Thomas Wemyss Reid, the author and editor, in an article entitled "A Message from America," in the December number of the Nineteenth Century and After, will quote "One of the most distinguished members of the cabinet" as saying:

"I do not think you in England realize the depth of feeling that exists outside of your own country on the subject of the South African war, nor the extreme gravity of the situation, which that feeling has brought into existence.

"I am not speaking of American feeling, which is largely on your side, but the more friendly we are to England, the more anxious we are to see you extricated from the meshes of the net in which you are now caught.

"It is terrible to think of the pitifulness of the whole thing and of the loss suffered by universal humanity owing to the effacement of England for two years and the consequent absence of her influence from the side of justice and progress."

Sir Thomas further says the member of the cabinet in question told him that almost daily appeals were being made to the government of the United States by representatives of European powers to take some step to end the war. These representations from the ministers of the powers were made unofficially, although the United States government well knew their respective governments were backing them therein.

The Big Euchre Party.

The seventy tables at the progressive euchre party for the children of Mary fund at Ontario hall last evening were filled with a representation of every social circle and every church. It was a popular event. There was zest in the playing and keen interest in results. John McIntyre, the accepted and acceptable master of ceremonies on public occasions, the veritable Ward McAllister of Kingston, made the announcements and presented the prizes, assisted by Dr. McCammon and Thomas Ronan, and by a charming committee of ladies, of course. The prize winners at five of the sections were:

Highest—Miss Josephine Brown, Cornelius Bermingham. Consolation—Major Panet, Mrs. Bogert.

Highest—Mrs. J. B. McKay, Dr. Abbott. Consolation—Miss Branigan, Dr. O'Connor.

Highest—Mrs. Drury, James Redden. Consolation—Charles Donoghue, Maud Adams.

Highest—Miss Sullivan, Sergeant Bailey. Consolation—Miss Anderson, Mr. Lanier.

Highest—Miss Clairmont, Mr. Cayley. Consolation—Miss B. Daley, Mr. Bearance.

No record was kept of results in any of the sections and no report can be given of two of them.

In one other section Miss Healey and George Sullivan carried off honors. Who won the consolation prizes are not known.

A Bower Of Beauty.

The annual bazaar under the auspices of the children of Mary opened to-day in the city hall. The hall has been beautifully fitted up; the booths are places that remind one of fairyland. At noon to-day dinner was served and a great many availed themselves of the opportunity of partaking of an inviting repast; supper was also served this evening from five to eight o'clock. To-night a sale of the goods contained in the booths will be in order and to-morrow night there will be a grand programme of music provided. John O'Brien, who has held the position for many years, is again the faithful guardian of the door.

The Barges Arriving.

The tug Nellie Reid and four barges of the Kingston & Montreal forwarding company, arrived at noon to-day from Montreal. The barges will go into winter quarters at Portsmouth after a prosperous season. The tug May P. Bell also arrived from Ogdensburg with the schooner Lapwing. Next week all the barges of the line will be in winter quarters at Portsmouth. The barge Dakota, which arrived to-day from Montreal, had aboard 100 tons of iron for the locomotive works.

Lord Aberdeen's Romance.

Few people know that the earl of Aberdeen met his wife through trespassing. He was staying with a friend in the Highlands, and while out alone wandered into a neighbor's domain. The owner of the land was Mr. Majoribanks, now lord Tweedmouth, and the two met on the moor. A challenge from the one and an apology from the other led to an invitation to lunch at Guisachan, and the innocent poacher there saw Miss Isobel Majoribanks, and promptly fell in love with her.

Expressed Disapproval.

Toronto Mail and Empire.

At Hamilton, Prof. Shortt, Queen's college, delivered an interesting address recently on "Responsible Government," which elicited from J. H. Long a speech in favor of annexation. Thereupon the audience expressed strong disapproval. The people of this country are not prepared to discuss national suicide. That is the Long and the Shortt of the whole matter.

AN OLD RESIDENT DEAD.

Passed Away in Fredericksburg on Saturday.

Napanee, Nov. 26.—On Saturday last B. B. Perry, one of the oldest and best known residents of North Fredericksburg, died at his residence, aged seventy-nine years. The deceased was one of a large family, whose history dates back to the U.E. loyalist time. Only one sister, Mrs. David Fralick, Napanee, remains of the large family. Several sons and one daughter, Mrs. Galt, Napanee, survive. Frank H. Perry, Napanee, is a son. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon.

Snow fell quite freely yesterday and in the evening the jingle of the merry sleigh bells was heard on our streets for the first time this season.

Saturday was such a cold day that the market was but poorly attended, not more than half the number of rigs were present, as on the previous Saturday. The buyers also were in the minority and long before noon the market was deserted.

Sale Of Battle Abbey.

London, Nov. 26.—If any of America's multi-millionaires desires to buy a really old and historic seat he has a chance to-day, when Battle Abbey is put up for sale at auction. It is still one of the most famous places in the three kingdoms, and it enjoyed equal celebrity more than four centuries ago. The historic pile was erected by order of William the Conqueror as a monument to his victory over king Harold on the field of Senlac. The abbey was consecrated in 1094, during a visit of William Rufus to Hastings, and the occupants of the original abbey came from the Benedictine monastery of Marmoutier-les-Tours. In more recent years it became the property of the dukes of Cleveland. On the death of the duchess of Cleveland some years ago, Battle Abbey, the lordship of the manor and the several thousand acres of land passed into possession of Capt. Forester, who now offers the estate for sale.
