

Our Own Cough Cure

White Pine With Tar

This is a remedy that cures by removing the cause. It is a soothing, healing, expectorant remedy. It stimulates the secretions; it loosens the cough. It does not drug a cough into silence as narcotic remedies do; it stops the cough only when the cause of the cough is removed. It is a remedy easy to take and is equally good for children and adults. It is economical to use, because you get a liberal quantity for the price, and because it cures. It is positively guaranteed.

clusive. It was in the form of a school of instruction on the remodeling of clothing, a very timely subject, as just at present Uncle Sam is asking us to conserve clothing as well as food.

The association was very fortunate in being able to secure the help of Miss Wilkerson of the State University, who is a specialist in that line. Miss Wilkerson has a very pleasing personality, is a good speaker and made the points in her work very plain, so that even amateurs in sewing could be benefited.

The subjects of the afternoon lectures were: Monday, "Textile Situation, Cleaning and Pressing;" Tuesday, "Patterns and their Adjustment;" Wednesday, "Seams and Hems;" Thursday, "Skirt Hanging and Dying;" Friday, "Costume Designing." Most of the townships were represented, the afternoon lectures being well attended. About twenty joined the morning class and brought work for individual instruction.

Miss Blair, the county home advisor, will take up the same line of work in each of the townships so that the members who were unable to attend the county meeting may have the same help. The meetings are to be held two consecutive days in each place. If arrangements can be made the work will be taken up in McHenry sometime next week.

Ringwood, Johnsbury and Volo were well represented in McHenry during the afternoon and evening. Read The Plainfinder and keep posted on local happenings.
