COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going on in the Business World—The Market News.

The best grade of hard coal is selling in Chicago at $6.25 a ton.

The Hessian fly is doing great damage to the fall wheat in western Ontario.

The village of Batavia, N.Y., is bankrupt. The council owes some $21,000, and the village taxes are to be restrained of to pay the debt.

Swift & Co., of Chicago, by issuing bonds to the amount of $5,000,000, have secured the control of all the land and property in "Packingtown," a suburb of Chicago.

The Japan tea market in New York and Chicago is quite exhited at present. Stocks are very low and fully 5c. a lb. dearer. Some American dealers sought stock in Canada yesterday.

It looks as if Canadians will soon be shipping salmon to the states. American pack advanced recently and the supply is not large. Should the Canadian catch prove light prices will be very firm.

A market report, referring to filberts, says that should crops in Naples, Spain and Asia Minor be good we think present prices are not likely to be maintained, but neither do we believe that we shall see them down to 37s or even 40s.

M. P. Castle, London, has sold his collection of European postage stamps for $150,000, which is believed to be the biggest price ever paid. Now that the Orange Free State has been taken off the map as an independent republic, collectors are paying as much as $25 for a single stamp of the government, and the price is rising. A full set of Transvaal stamps would now cost about $5,000.

The Toronto dry-goods trade has felt the first effects of the reduction in the preferential tariff on British goods from twenty-five per cent. to thirty-three and a third per cent. The effect of it would be to largely increase the buying of British goods, with a corresponding benefit to British manufacturers. The Canadian consumer was saved through the tariff, the general advance in the leading staples, and wholesalers were enabled to largely maintain the previous prices of goods.

The offerings of new clip wool in Toronto are quite free, but the demand is slow, with sellers and buyers apart. The truth of the matter is local dealers are afraid to buy. A dealer just returned from Boston writes that there are 180,000 lbs. of Canadian fleece wool in the market, which could be bought at 30c., this, allowing for the 12c. duty, freight, etc., is on a parity of less than 16c. at Ontario points. The same party writes that he could not sell any Canadian wool in Boston, and that Irish and English wools are offering at less than Canadian growers ask.

TO BOYCOT KING BEN

And the Electric Railway Unless Union is Recognized.

At the meeting of the trades and labor union last night there was a long discussion over the street railway company's refusal to recognize their employees' union. One of the high officers of the council said this afternoon: "King Ben' refuses to recognize the street railway men's union. We will give him time to change his mind. The men are not arbitrary, they have only asked for a ten hour working day and that their union be recognized. The company granted the former."

"What will you do if 'King Ben' refuses the other request?" asked the reporter.

"We intended to boycott the road," was the reply. "We are fully 900 strong in this city, and these taken with the sympathizers of the men, make a number that will be worth King Ben's while to consider with before refusing their request. The rules of every union say that arbitration and every other resorce must be resorted to before a strike can be inaugurated. We will wait to see what the company will do, then we will have another meeting, and determine upon what action we shall take."

She Remembered Many.

Mrs. Emma Keep-Schley, of Watertown, N.Y., who died recently, left a very large estate. The bequests in her will amounted to $3,147,000. Not only did she remember all her relatives near and distant, but she included all her servants, past and present, with legacies of from $5,000. The servants of her married daughter were also remembered. Her maid received $10,000, but she has to care for the deceased lady's pets during their lifetime. A male nurse named "Edward," who looked after her husband during his last illness, receives $5,000, and another nurse who cared for Mrs. Schley's sister in her last illness also receives $5,000. Two clerks in Altmann's big dry goods store in New York also receive $5,000, and another clerk in "Connolly's" is to have $5,000. The bequests to charitable institutions are not large or numerous. The bulk of the estate goes to Mrs. Schley's daughter.

A June Wedding.

Deseronto Tribune.

On Wednesday last, at St. Patrick's church, Napanee, one of the fair daughters of Deseronto, Miss Mary O'Rourke, was united in marriage to Daniel Clifford, Bath. The bride wore a charming dress of white blue, trimmed with white lace over satin. She was given away by her brother, Bernard O'Rourke. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie Clifford, sister of the bridegroom, also gowned in blue. The bridegroom was attended by Robert O'Rourke, cousin of the bride. A reception was held in the evening at the residence of the bride's mother. The happy couple left on Thursday for Bath.

HE WON'T DISCUSS PEACE.

WAR WILL CONTINUE UNTIL NO BURGHERS ARE LEFT.

Six Hundred Die in a Single Month—Over 12,000 Cases of Enteric Fever at Bloemfontein at One Time.

London, July 6.—The cordon around Gen. De Wet appears still to be wide; at least he has not yet been correlered. Despatches from the front, except official ones, deal with trifles or vague probabilities.

The Daily Telegraph's Lorenzo Marques correspondent, attempted on July 4th to interview president Kruger at Waterwalender. Herr Kruger was there but he deputed state secretary Reitz to talk. The secretary said:

"We do not need to discuss peace. President Kruger wishes, through me, to repeat what he has said over and over again. The South African republic will fight for independence as long as 500 burghers remain alive, and even then will continue to fight. Such is our decision."

Dr. Conan Doyle, writing to the British Medical Journal, says he thinks that there were 10,000 to 12,000 cases of enteric fever at one time. Six hundred patients died at Bloemfontein in one month. Dr. Doyle declares that the physicians did all they could.

The Boers Repulsed.

Maseur, Basutoland, July 5.—The Boers made a determined attempt to retake Ficksburg (Orange River Colony) yesterday. They attacked the place at midnight. The fighting was short, but fierce, lasting an hour, and the federals were repulsed.

Waiting For Consent.

London, July 6.—The foreign office has received official despatches from Tokio to-day, and it is understood that the Japanese, in addition to the forces already landed in China, had 20,000 troops mobilized and ready for action the moment she should receive the mandate from the powers. Great Britain is now awaiting answers from the chancelleries to the proposals. The British cabinet had a long meeting this morning under the presidency of lord Salisbury and fully considered the crisis.

MEMBERS OF LEGATION.

Those Who Represented United States At Pekin.

Washington, July 6.—The members of the United States legation in Pekin so far as known here are: Edwin H. Conger, minister; Herbert G. Squires, secretary; William E. Bainbridge, second secretary; Fleming Cheshire, interpreter; Mrs. Conger, Mrs. M. S. Woodward and her daughter, Miss Jane Woodward, Chicago; Miss Cecil Payne; Miss Laura Conger, the minister's daughter, and Mrs. Mary Pierce, his niece.

All Have Perished.

Bremen, July 6.—The firm of Malchers & Co., Shanghai, telegraphs, under date of July 6th: "We have reason to believe that all the foreigners in Pekin have perished. The rebellion is spreading in North China. The foreigners at Tien Tsin must quit that city as fresh attacks are expected. The disturbances are increasing in Shantung. We see, at present, no occasion for apprehension in the Yang-Ste territory, or Shanghai, as the viceroys of Wu-Chang and Nan-King do not recognize the present holders of power in Pekin."

They Are Seventeen.

Chicago, July 6.—Officers of the American missionary board in this city state that probably seventeen or more of their representatives are victims of the Pekin massacre, if the report from Shanghai be correct.

The Best Policy.

London, July 6.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew, in the course of an interview, said last evening: "The best policy to be pursued after the uprising is suppressed will be to elevate to the throne a wise progressive native prince like Li Hung Chang."

Prepare For The Worst.

London, July 6.—In response to inquiries, cabled to Shanghai, in regard to the situation at Pekin, the following telegram has been received from an authoritive quarter: "Shanghai, Thursday, July 5th, prepare for the worst."

FIRE BURNING BRISKLY.

Families Who Lived About Plant Are Removing.

New York, July 6.—The fire in the Standard Oil Co's works at Bayonne, is burning briskly this morning despite the efforts of the firemen and the company's men. The flames are spreading. Two more tanks of crude oil exploded this morning, throwing the burning oil in every direction. Several benzine tanks caught the flaming oil and a tank exploded just before midnight last night and in a panic to get away several men were hurt. More than fifty families who live near the plant have left their homes and are living in the open.

J. H. Alexander, general manager of the Standard oil company, says there has been no careful estimate of the damage so far, but $4,000,000 would be a conservative estimate. The fire will burn for days.

Bishop McEvoy's Ultimatum.

Chatham, Ont., July 6.—Bishop McEvoy has issued an ultimatum concerning the school question in Tecumseh. He informs the parishioners that the Catholics of Tecumseh are entitled to have separate schools, and that it is his intention to force this right throughout his diocese. The change will take place at Tecumseh the first of the school year, and Catholic children must attend separate schools. The parishioners have little to say concerning the order, but the majority are understood to be adverse to the change. If the present public school building is used for a separate school, three qualified teachers will lose their positions and their place will be taken by sisters from the Ursaline convent at Chatham.

Come with the 14th regimental band and spend Sunday in Rochester. Boat leaves 11 p.m. Saturday. Full band on board and plenty of choice music.

J. C. Clark, Springfield, Mass., formerly in the employment of the Dominion express company in the local office, is visiting friends in this city.

DISHWASHING.

Woman's Greatest Drudgery Near Its End.

Frederic J. Nash in Alaska's.

Few women have the courage after dinner, when the day is done, to wash dishes. That is drudgery. It means putting the cups and saucers, plates, platters and vegetable dishes into a big pan of hot suds, rubbing them with a dish cloth, setting them to drain, and wiping each piece with a towel. Noah's wife's dishes were cleaned in the same way; and very probably Noah's wife lamented her reddened and roughened hands as the wives of less distinguished men have done ever since. Probably, too, she found that her best pieces of tableware got scratched in the process or slipped out of her soapy hands and smashed to bits. It is not likely, though, that she bothered her head much about the condition of the dish-cloth or the drying towel. Living as she did in that menagerie, she could not be blamed for not keeping everything sweet. If any of her daughters have bothered their heads much either it has been mighty little purpose, seeing that they have not greatly improved the process. Men that keep hotels, though, being able to get only the lowest class of help to wash dishes—what a comment that is upon us men—that expect the wives of our bosom to do such work—found that the bill for broken china was ruinous. Guests insisted upon being served upon fine porcelain, and refused to eat from slabs of tombstone, so some way out had to be found. A machine was invented capable of being operated by anybody, and that could be trusted to wash thoroughly, rinse and dry the most delicate ware without chippage or breakage, all at the rate of 9,000 pieces an hour. Think what an army of dish-washers such a machine must displace, and what an economy it must be! For not only is the hotelkeeper rid of the necessity of giving standing room and subsistence to that army, but of provishing captains and generals for it, and of enduring the damage that must inflict upon friend and foe alike, after the fashion of all armies.

The dishes are collected and scraped and then dropped into wire baskets with wooden interiors so arranged that the dishes stand on edge without touching each other. Pitchers, cups, bowls and the like go into the washing tank, where hot suds, mixed with air, so as to present thousands of sharp cutting edges, are driven against the dishes with tremendous rapidity and force. They are washed in twenty seconds. A trolley carries the basket to the rinsing tank, where two souses take off the suds. They drain and dry from the heat they have absorbed from the rinsing water. China and silverware thus treated always look brighter and fewer than if washed by hand.

SLY OLD LI HUNG CHANG.

How Chinese Minister Proved Guilt of Would-Be Poisoners.

Chicago Chronicle.

Many residents of Chicago will remember the visit of Li Hung Chang to this city during the aged Chinese minister's tour of the United States. His quaint observations on men and things were distinguished by wonderful shrewdness, which shows itself in everything that the old man says or does. A characteristic story is now in circulation regarding him. He was engaged in a bitter fight with some of the most conservative members of the tsungli-yamen, when he received as a present a magnificent, but, as he had reason to believe, poisoned cake. He put the cake aside and set all his powerful machinery to work to find out who was at the bottom of the plot. The investigation was partly successful, the crime being traced to three men, of whom one at least was absolutely guilty. Li had the trio arrested and brought to him. The cake was produced, with the remark that "politeness forbade his tasting it until the three generous donors had had an opportunity to enjoy its excellence."

Li cut the cake and one of his servitors handed it to the unwilling guests. Each took a piece and ate, or pretended to eat. One crumbled the pieces and let them fall to the floor, but the other two ate calmly, without manifesting any emotion. Ten minutes and the two men began to show symptoms of suffering. Li smiled benignantly and said to the man who had not eaten:

"Your wisdom is so great that I am compelled to preserve your head as a souvenir, to transcendent genius."

The man was removed and promptly decapitated. To the other two the prime remarked:

"The cake that you are eating is not the one you sent, but one which I had my cook imitate. The poison from which you are suffering exists only in your imaginations. I know of no way to cure the present pain except by letting you share the fate of your friend who has just left the room."

VESSEL-OWNERS COMPLAIN.

No Money on Lakes—They Turn to St. Lawrence Route.

Montreal Herald.

A mean stress from the freight vessel owners of the great lakes. They claim that the lumber and ore carrying trade is dead, and wages of employees are so high that none of them are making money.

In this case they are turning to the St. Lawrence route to save them. One of the vessel owners says: "It is not surprising that vesselmen are looking to the St. Lawrence route to place their competitive strength upon an equality with that of the trunk roads, and they are arranging to have next season a large fleet of boats suitable for that route. All rail routes for the transportation of western produce to the seaboard are only aggressive when rates are high. Lake and rail routes have gone under the control of railway companies and are made subservient to the interests of the railways. The St. Lawrence route has not been brought to the lesson of the profiteers of the west any too soon."

Adlai May Be Named.

Kansas City, July 6.—Chairman Richardson called the convention to order. Senator Hill, this morning, in answer to the well defined sentiment in the convention for his nomination for second place, said: "I will not accept a nomination. I don't want it, and will not take it. I believe Mr. Stevenson will be nominated."

Pennsylvania is a unit for Stevenson. Illinois will poll solidly for Stevenson, and claims that he will be nominated on the first ballot.

The Spice of Every Day Life—What The People Are Talking About — Nothing Escapes Attention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Botterell, Ottawa, are visiting in the city.

Get Picton excursion tickets to-morrow from Gildersleeve.

W. R. Carroll, mayor of Gananoque, and wife, spent the day in this city.

John Donnelly, sr., continues in a very weak condition and is slowly sinking.

Only about 130 freight cars were drawn over the street railway tracks last year.

Get your tickets at Gildersleeve's office for the "Columbian's" excursion to Picton to-morrow.

The street railway employees had a practice baseball game at Lake Ontario park this afternoon.

Mrs. John Nixon, with her four children and maid, East Orange, N.J., are camping at Stella.

The Granite baseball team went down to Gananoque to-day to meet the team of that place in a friendly match.

On June 27th, at the home for incurables, Toronto, Eliza, wife of the late Gordon Chrysler, Port Hope, died, aged seventy.

Go to Gildersleeve for tickets for to-morrow's Picton excursion.

City solicitor McIntyre has the necessary documents for the prosecution of a city baker charged with selling light weight bread.

Miss Eva Burrows, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. S. Roughton, University avenue, for several days, returned to her home in Belleville to-day.

The steamer New York brought 100 excursionists from river points to the city at noon. The steamer Empire State took the New York's route this afternoon.

The first session of the New York state teachers' association was held on Thursday evening, in the tabernacle at Thousand Island park. Over 600 teachers are in attendance.

It was the A.M.C., of Kingston, and not the Ottawa hospital corp, which won the baseball match and the maple leaf trophies at the close of camp. The Ottawa boys were not in it.

Archibald Abernethy went out to Battersea this morning to attend the funeral of his uncle, Robert Abernethy, a much-esteemed resident of that village. The funeral took place this afternoon at two o'clock.

Thomas McAuley will likely abandon the idea of improving and heating the stores and offices owned by him on Wellington street. The tenders were too high, in fact, about $100 higher than he anticipated.

Two Shetland ponies, belonging to the two sons of G. De Witt, junior proprietor of the Thousand Island house, upset a heavy dray horse, belonging to Cole Staples, Acadamina Bay, were quartered in their stables on Wednesday night.

J. A. Scott, M.A., formerly of the Whig composing staff, was married on Wednesday to Miss Fannie Johnston, Johnston street, this city, by Rev. E. B. Lanceley. They left on the morning train for Montreal, where they will reside.

The burned tug Drake, towed from Oswego to Kingston a few days ago, is still sink off Booth's wharf. It was kept afloat with difficulty on the way over. S. Chapman is engaged in raising the tug which will be rebuilt at Davis' dry dock.

The attraction at Lake Ontario park continues to draw large crowds each evening. There is ample space for everybody to witness the entertainment and the street railway company is doing its best to afford every accommodation to patrons. The entertainment is above the average in point of merit.

PICTURES ON SOFA PILLOWS.

Latest Fad Which Camera Enthusiasts Have Found.

Syracuse Post-Standard.

The photograph sofa pillow is the latest fad to which amateur photographers are inviting themselves. About two weeks ago a new implement made its appearance in one of the art stores. It is photographic silk on which pictures are printed just as on paper. They are then sewed together in blocks for the pillow cover.

Every sport-loving girl who has a camera is interested. There are all sorts of souvenir possibilities in the photograph silk pillow. Some of the cuteness are planning for pillows that shall constitute a record of vacation sojourns or trips. All the places that they visit and all the people that they meet will be included with true purpose in view. Others who have good views of pretty local scenery are making Syracuse pillows with the city streets and the nearby suburban resorts in picture. Still others are making college pillows, for which they borrow the plates from friends if they have not the opportunity of taking the pictures themselves. In a few weeks their industry will have developed Harvard pillows and Yale pillows and Vassar pillows and all the rest. The pictures are of course those of college buildings, the college campus and college scenes, and it is quite the correct thing to have the pillow bordered with ribbon ruffles in the college colors.

The new printing material is easy to handle. Anyone who has dipped into photography at all can manage it. It looks very much like white bolting silk when it is developed. It can be printed in black, green, purple or brown tints, as well as in blue. The latter, however, is the simplest process, and requires no toning bath. The treatment is exactly the same as for blue prints. The cloth as it comes in the package is the color of the blue print paper and must not be exposed to daylight, which will fog it. You open it in artificial light, cut off a piece the size of your camera plates and lay it in the printing frame on the plate with four layers of newspaper above it before the cover is snapped in. It requires about the same length of time to print in the daylight as blue paper, and must afterwards be washed for two hours to bring out the picture.

To allow for seams in sewing the blocks together and to make a white border around each picture, cut a mat a quarter of an inch or so deep from black paper. Place it in the frame between the silk and the plate, and as it prints a quarter inch space all around the picture will be protected from the light, and so come out white in the washing.
