STRATTON SAYS THINGS IN GOOD SHAPE FOR PARTY

"It looks good for the whole Republican state ticket," William J. Stratton said today. "Going up and down the state with Curly Brooks and other candidates, meeting party leaders and plain ordinary voters in every county, I find Illinois getting ready to take her accustomed place in the ranks of Republican states.

"When I was Secretary of State," Mr. Stratton said, "I inaugurated the policy of earning and paying into the state treasury interest on office receipts. Doing this, and giving the state's business the same care and attention any successful business man has to give to his own business, I managed to run the Secretary of State's office at less expense to the taxpayers, in proportion to the amount of business handled, than any similar department was run in any other state in the Union. I believe the people are entitled to have public business run that way.

"I hope and expect to be elected Secretary of State this time. Here and now I make the pledge that I will administer the office as honestly and efficiency as I did before. Every penny of public funds that passes through my hands will be turned into the state treasury for the benefit of the taxpayers."

"Bill" Stratton, as he is known to his legion of friends throughout the state, is McHenry county's neighbor being a resident of Ingleside in Lake county. He has always received strong support from the voters of McHenry county and he is expected to poll a large vote on November 3.

ELMER J. FELLOWS DIES AT ST. CHARLES

Elmer J. Fellows, 76 years old, a resident of St. Charles and for many years a property owner in this vicinity, as well as a pioneer figure in the history of milk marketing in northeastern Illinois, died October 15 at an Elgin hospital, where he had been receiving treatment for the last five weeks.

Mr. Fellows had never fully recovered from injuries sustained four years ago in an automobile accident on the Fox River trail, just north of his home community.

Himself, a farmer, as well as a champion of the farmer, Mr. Fellows owned the James R. Sayler farm, west of McHenry, for several years.

One of the organizers and an early president of the old Milk Producers Association he had been interested with marketing activities of the farmers for many years. He was active in organizing the Co-operative Marketing Company sixteen years ago and was also active in the Milk Producers Association.

He was associated on the editorial staff of the "Prairie Farmer" for a time.

For many years he was a dealer in livestock and at one time was in business at Springfield, Mo., and had owned the stockyards in St. Charles.

He was also active in community affairs and served for many years on the Kane county board of supervisors.

He was born on a farm east of St. Charles on Feb. 13, 1860, and on May 12, 1886, he was married to Rowena Baldwin of St. Charles. Last May they observed their golden wedding anniversary.

Besides the widow, Mr. Fellows is survived by a daughter, Gertrude Fellows of St. Charles, a son, George of Minneapolis, Minn., a grandson; two brothers, Henry of Kansas and William, Aurora; two half sisters, a half brother and his stepmother.

He was active in Masonic circles, had held office in Unity Lodge 48, A. F., and A. M., of St. Charles and belonged to the Medinah Shrine of Chicago.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the Congregational church with burial in Union cemetery, St. Charles.

CAR DAMAGED ON EASTERN MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs James Perkins, daughter, Mrs. Adeline Matson, of Waukegan and Darlene Lockwood returned home Saturday night from a two-weeks motor trip to Syracuse, N. Y., where they visited relatives.

Although the trip was a most enjoyable one it was marred by an automobile accident when they were out the second day on their journey and about 600 miles from home. The accident occurred at Northeast, Pa., when an approaching machine turned directly into them as it appeared to be turning across the pavement onto a side road.

The Perkins car, which was a new Chevrolet, belonging to Mrs. Matson, was overturned, but the occupants fortunately escaped injury, although the trip was held up for a day while repairs were made to the car.

The trip to Syracuse was made through Cleveland, Ohio, while the return trip took them through Canada, crossing the Windsor bridge. They also visited Niagra Falls and other points of interest.

"WAY BACK WHEN"

When the 60th anniversary number of the Plaindealer was published a "Way Back When" memory recalling the Hallowe'en pranks of local boys with Fred Schnorr's gate was inserted in the ad of the Claire Beauty Shop.

Recently Mrs. Noonan received a picture from Mr. Schnorr showing three boys making away with a gate, and underneath it the words, "If your gate happens to disappear, just remember that an ancient spirit of Hallowe'en is being reincarnated into modern youth."

Oriental Story Tellers

Story tellers (who in private domestic circles are generally women) are a characteristic Oriental institution.
