TEACHINGS OF CONFUCIUS.

WORLD'S DEBT TO THE SAGE OF CHINA SET FORTH.

How He Taught Virtue and Humanity, Though Perhaps With No Belief in Immortality.

Pittsburg, July 24.—Rev. F. R. Donehoo, of the West End Presbyterian church, preached on Sunday on the "Teachings of Confucius," but without touching the most remotely, on the present Chinese question. He took his text from Acts x. 34-35: "God is no respector of persons, but in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness is acceptable to Him." In part he said:

"No mere man has ever impressed himself upon so many minds for good as did he whom we know as Confucius. Chinese history informs us that this distinguished sage made his appearance at a time when corruption was gnawing at the vitals of the nation, when decay in manners and morals was bringing sadness and dread to the hearts of the thoughtful among them. Confucius was no theologian, nor did he make any pretence of being such. He was no prophet. He made no use of future retribution in stimulating men to the discharge of duty or in deterring them from wrongdoing. His mission was to teach men so to live that they might reap a reward in this present life.

"While the sayings of Confucius occasionally hint at a recognition of a higher power than man's, and seem to imply a belief in some kind of immortality, yet in no single saying can we find any positive assertion of belief in a future state of existence. He seemed rather to obscure and ignore the entire idea of a Supreme Being, never once mentioning his name. He was, therefore, an agnostic after the modern type, pure and simple. All that he concerned himself about was to have men seek for their heaven here in this world. If men would only lead moral lives and abstain from evil, either as it affected themselves or others, it was within the reach of all to attain the goal of all human hopes. To the question, 'Is there one word upon which the whole life may proceed?' he replied, 'Is not reciprocity such a word? What you do not yourself desire, do not put before others.'

"When reading the life of Confucius one is puzzled to account for the marvelous hold of his teachings upon the hearts of his countrymen throughout all that vast empire. At times he numbered as many as 3,000 pupils who were greatly impressed by his good sense and sincerity. But the closing years of his life were attended with many discouraging circumstances. Friends turned away from him, corrupt judges and governors slighted him, and he was finally removed from office, and at last died in obscurity and neglect.

"In passing judgment upon Confucius it should be borne in mind that he lived before Christ's day, and therefore had no opportunity to learn anything of his heavenly doctrines, which are the substance of our religion. His sayings were transmitted orally by his disciples, and therefore subject to error in transmission. The substance of his instruction was embraced in the term virtue, which he understood as including all moral excellence. He divided this into five heads, knowledge, humaneness, righteousness, propriety (the preservation of the right relations between men, polite manners) and faithfulness. Filial piety he regarded as of primary importance.

"The study of this great man's life and his sayings constrain us to bear hearty testimony to his many virtues. The world owes a debt to Confucius, and his name deserves to be held in reverence by all who honor uprightness. Nor can one turn away from the study of his teachings without being impressed with the truth of Paul's words that 'when the gentiles having not the law do by nature the things contained in the law, these having not the law are a law unto themselves.'"

STOLE PARK FLOWERS.

Thieves And Vandals Operated Last Night in Parks.

Caretaker Phillips, of the city parks, was not in very good humor this morning, and he had good reason for being downcast. Last night some thieves and vandals had operated in the City and Frontenac parks. In the former some of the finest geraniums and petunias had been dug up from their various beds and carried off. The loss of one very fine petunia in particular, which set off a bed in a brilliant manner, Mr. Phillips regrets very much. In Frontenac park the operations were confined to vandalism. Some fine geraniums, just breaking out into flower, were broken and scattered about.

This morning Mr. Phillips brought a bundle of the pieces to alderman Walkem's office to show the parks' chairman just what had happened. Alderman Walkem, too, was indignant over the disgraceful actions of the thieves. Mr. Phillips says it is impossible to watch over the parks, as the thieves are continually intent upon watching himself and his men. Should the good fortune occur of one of these park destroyers being caught, chairman Walkem will show no mercy. Such actions must be stopped, and stopped at once. All fair-minded people should report to the proper authorities should they see anyone meddling with the parks flower beds.

Will Return The Money.

On the market Saturday George Bateman, insurance agent, paid a farmer 75c. for a pail of berries. The farmer delivered the berries, but at the house, in the absence of Mr. Bateman, he collected again for the fruit. The market clerk and police were notified of the occurrence. This morning Mr. Bateman received a letter from the farmer, who resides near Napanee, saying that the collection of the price the second time was a mistake, and promising to make restitution.

Will Join The Army.

Police Sergt. Snodden has accepted a sergeantcy in the 14th P.W.O. rifles and will leave in a day or two for London, Ont., to qualify. He will be a valuable acquisition to the ranks of the city corps, and will be by large odds the tiggest man in the regiment. Police constables Graham and Arniel are also members of the 14th regiment.

BATTERSEA BEARINGS

Patrons to Erect a New Cheese Factory.

Battersea, July 24.—The second eldest son of Robert Clark, a bright little fellow about three years, died very suddenly last week. The burning of the cheese factory has proved to be a serious inconvenience to the farmers, to say nothing about the loss. The milk now has to be drawn much farther to Sands' or Keelerville factories. The origin of the fire seems to be a mystery, but the general impression is that it was the work of a fire-bug. A meeting of the shareholders was held Monday night to consider plans for the future. It was finally decided to dissolve the old company and form a new one, taking in all patrons who desire to join and charge one dollar per cwt. for making, all round till the factory is paid for. A site for the new factory has been selected and the new building will be erected as quickly as possible.

Mabel Lake, Earl Lake; Benjamin Ennis and Charlie Ruttan, pupils of Mr. York, passed the entrance; also Harold Sleeth, pupil of Miss Gardiner, Flossie Pixley, pupil of Miss Gummer, and Jane and Dave Robb, pupils of Miss English. Miss Robb made the highest number of marks obtained by any candidate in the county. C. Knapp is erecting a new dwelling on the corner of Main and Water streets.

Miss Emma McVety, Kingston, spent a week as guest of Mrs. W. Merriman. Her beautiful singing was a great treat to us, especially her fine rendition of "The Home Land," on Sunday night. Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Brebner and family, Pittsburg; Misses Eveline and Fannie Anglin, Kingston; Miss Vickie Sears, Inverary; Joseph Elmer and family, Kingston; Bessie Eby, Kingston, Mr. Maton, Bedford Mills.

A Fine String Of Bass.

Chaffey's Locks, July 24.—Farmers are busy with their harvesting. They report a good crop. Berries are scarce and demand a good price. Mr. Terry, New York, arrived last week to spend a few weeks at his cottage on Terrymore island, Indian lake. The Misses Regan have returned to Rochester, N.Y., after spending a couple of weeks with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fleming spent Sunday at Philipsville. Mrs. Williams and little son, Smith's Falls, returned home last week. Mr. Haycock had a nice three-hour catch of fish on exhibition last Friday evening, consisting of twelve black bass, averaging four pounds each. Mrs. Boulger and daughter are the guests of Mrs. W. H. Fleming. J. Dunn, Elgin, spent a few days of last week here. Some of the late arrivals at Idyl Wild are: Mr. and Mrs. S. Sutherland, the Misses Moore, Master Keith Sutherland, Kingston; G. Dougherty, Gananoque; Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Rochester, N.Y.

Telephone Line Finished.

Bellrock, July 24.—The berry season is past. There were a great many huckleberries and wild raspberries. The telephone line between Bellrock and Moscow is completed. The work of finishing the repairs on the church here does not seem to go ahead very fast. A little daughter at P. Sagriff's. Recent visitors: Mrs. Taylor, Newburgh, at D. L. Amey's; Mrs. Sweet, Selby, at F. W. Valleau's; Miss Annie Yorke, Tamworth, at James Yorke's. Mrs. James Yorke is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Carl, Tamworth. Mrs. Carl is seriously ill. Mrs. Halstead, Watertown, N.Y., is at M. Percy's.

TO DO DOMINION SERVICE.

ARCH. BLUE WILL BE CENSUS COMMISSIONER.

His Place in the Bureau of Mines Will be Filled by Promotions—Death of Patrick G. Close of Toronto.

Toronto, July 25.—Archibald Blue, director of the provincial bureau of mines, this morning announced his acceptance of the position of commissioner for the taking of the dominion census next year. Mr. Blue will leave for Ottawa early in August to begin making arrangements for the work of census taking. Hon. E. J. Davis, commissioner of crown lands, states that Mr. Blue's present position will be filled by promotion and rearrangement of the staff and no new appointment will be necessary. Mr. Blue, it is understood, will remain permanently in the dominion service.

Patrick C. Close, for many years a prominent citizen, died this morning under peculiar circumstances. About two weeks ago he was bit in the neck by a mosquito, and scratched the spot until the blood came. A few days afterwards he began to show symptoms of blood poisoning and despite the efforts of his physician, died early this morning. Mr. Close was a wholesale grocer in his earlier years. About twenty years ago he became interested in real estate, latterly he had been a member of the assessment court of revision. He sat in the city council from 1872 to 1880, and in 1877 acted as president of the council.

Death Of An Old Resident.

Patrick Fallon, an old and respected resident of the city and one who had passed the Psalmist's alloted span of life, died at five o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his home, on Rideau street. He was born in the county of Leitrim, Ireland, and came out to Canada when a young man. He chose Kingston as a place of residence, and here he always made his home. For a number of years he was engaged in boating on the Rideau canal, and he afterwards followed the occupation of laborer. Mr. Fallon was one of the best of neighbors, kind, open-hearted and generous. His death was due to cancer. About a year ago he underwent an operation at Hotel Dieu, but he never fully recovered. The deceased was a member of St. Patrick's society and the Holy Family, of St. Mary's cathedral.

A widow, one son and five daughters survive. The children are Patrick Fallon, at home; Mrs. Lineaugh, Bagot street; Mrs. James Brady, Rideau street; and Misses Jennie, Sarah and Mary, at home. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning service to be conducted in St. Mary's cathedral, where a solemn requiem mass will be sung by Rev. Fr. Fallon, Ottawa, nephew of the deceased gentleman. The remains will be interred in St. Mary's cemetery.

Come To An End.

The movement inaugurated by dry goods clerks for a weekly half holiday during the months of July and August has fallen through owing to the tenerity of some of the clerks, who feared they would lose their customary summer vacation should they ask for a weekly half holiday. A petition was prepared and circulated among the clerks of two dry goods stores. All the clerks, twenty-two in number, signed the document. It was then sent to another store, but the clerks refused to sign it, and a similar reception was accorded it at another place of business. Seeing that the clerks were not united upon the question, the matter was there and then dropped. The clerks of the largest dry goods store in the city were not given an opportunity of signing the petition, though they are in sympathy with the movement. Three of the leading dry goods merchants have expressed their approval of the scheme and have said that they would close up for half a day each week as desired, as they required the rest as much as their clerks, and could enjoy a holiday just as much.

Could Not Agree.

At the police court this morning magistrate Duff, clerk Shannon, chief Ruttle, B. M. Britton, Q.C., M.P., and John McIntyre, Q.C., were engaged for a long time trying to figure out how best to divide the $50 which Louis Silverstone deposited with the court as a guarantee of his return when his case was again called, but which he forfeited by his non-appearance. After many attempts to arrivive at a solution of the difficulty, they had to give it up. Two warrants have been issued for the arrest of Silverstone.

Commenting on the case the magistrate said: "I have not much pity or sympathy for those people, the plaintiffs. They thought they were getting something for nothing, or at least $5 worth for $1."

Patrick Gough, for drunkenness, was fined $1 and costs, or given the option of spending fourteen days in jail.

"Cuddy" McMahon, on a similar charge, had a fine of $3 and costs entered against him, or if he cares to, he can spend one month in jail.

Jacket Caught Fire.

Miss Bateman, daughter of George Bateman, University avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury by fire last evening. She was preparing tea, at about seven o'clock, when some light material, which served as trimming on the jacket she wore, caught fire. In a few seconds the whole jacket was ablaze. Her little brother's cries attracted Mr. Bateman's attention, and he soon extinguished the fire with the aid of a shawl. Luckily the young lady was not injured though the same cannot be said of the jacket.

Elected Trustee.

Ex-alderman H. W. Richardson was to-day elected by acclamation to fill the position of school trustee on the board of education, representing Victoria ward. Mr. Richardson takes the place of the late Alexander Horn. There was not any opposition. The new member was proposed by Paul Reid, seconded by alderman Webster.

Abbott Is In Charge.

M. C. DAVY DROWNED.

His Body Found in the Water on Monday.

Bath, Ont., July 23.—On Monday morning our citizens were surprised to hear that Marshall C. Davy's body had been found in the bay. It seems he had gone in for a bathe, and whether he fell, or was taken with cramps, is not known, but when his son went to water the cows in the morning he found his father's body lying in the water. The funeral was on Wednesday.

Mrs. Joseph Morgan, Kingston, also Mrs. Fair, Staten Island, N.Y., were here attending the funeral of their uncle, M. C. Davy. A. Jory and wife, Kingston, are here on a visit at Thomas Bain's.

The congregation of St. John's church are to be congratulated upon the splendid success of their garden party at Thomas Howard's lawn. The ice cream was of fine quality and the programme excellent. There was a large and very orderly crowd, and the proceeds came to just $40, which will be devoted towards repairing the church. Announcement was made for two more such socials on Aug. 11th and Sept. 1st respectively.
