McHENRY MERCHANTS ATTEND FURNITURE SHOWS IN CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Justen, whose furniture store is on Main street, went to Chicago Tuesday morning to spend two days at the semi-annual furniture shows at the American Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart. They plan to go in again next week for a few days, also, for it is at this time that they will do their buying for the next six months, including the summer season.

George and Albert Justen, proprietors of the furniture store on Green street in McHenry, also plan to attend the funiture shows in Chicago this week where they will purchase their stock in readiness for the busy summer season.

These two major furniture shows opened Monday and officials anticipate a record attendance of 11,000 before the market closes on Jan. 16.

This year the American Mart has 750 exhibitors, whose wares cover two million square feet of space and the Merchandise Mart has 600 exhibits, covering one million square feet of space. The Merchandise Mart expected registrations at the rate of 600 persons an hour Monday morning and a prediction that twenty-five million dollars worth of orders will be written in the next two weeks was made by Percy Wilson, manager of the Merchandise Mart.

The reciprocal tariffs between the United States and Canada will bring an unprecedented number of buyers from the dominion, Frank S. Whiting, vice-president of the American Mart, stated.

Since last July's show the American Mart has added seventy new exhibit lines. Both shows report new exhibitors not only in furniture but also in all lines of household furnishings and floor coverings.

The Merchandise Mart reported that 95 per cent of the nation's lamp makers and glassware manufacturers are represented this year in the displays.

Both orders received and actual shipments of furniture were 36 per cent ahead of 1935 during the first ten months of 1936, according to the latest report issued by the National association of Furniture Manufacturers, based on figures of a representative cross-section of producers throughout the nation.

Despite the sharp 1936 upturn, much of it dating from the July market, the furniture industry in general has a considerable distance to go to reach pre-depression levels.

TEAR GAS DRIVES BURGLARS AWAY FROM LOCAL OFFICE

Persistence seems to be the main trait of robbers who continue to break into the Farmers Mill, regardless of the fact that at each attempt the work becomes harder, the danger increases and the recompense decreases.

The sum of fifty cents was the total amount obtained by robbers who broke into the office of the McHenry County Farmers Co-operative company here on Tuesday night of last week after gaining entrance to the office by prying open a door.

The burglars first broke into the tool shed of the Chicago and North-Western railroad and stole some tools which they used in pounding open the door of the safe after gaining entrance to the mill.

More troubles awaited them, however, for when the safe was opened it released some tear gas which must have driven the burglars from the office. Undaunted, however, they broke some windows in the office to let out the tear gas and then returned to carry off their haul, the sum total of fifty cents.

The burglars then proceeded to the office at the Alexander Lumber company, where they gained entrance through a window. Here about $1.50 was taken from the safe.

The robberies were investigated by Sheriff Nulle Wednesday morning and several clues were obtained, which may lead to the solution of the crimes.

The Farmers Mill has been broken into several times and the manager, John A. Bolger, has taken every precaution to prevent such burglaries by installing various alarms and tear gas. Any far-thinking robber would consider it the height of folly to believe that any worthwhile sum of money would be found at the Farmers Mill after the several experiences the manager has had in having the place broken into.

Only recently the safe in the office of the Co-operative company at Crystal Lake was broken into.

Sheriff Nulle is investigating every clue and hopes to break up the gang.

Shoes Always Important

Well-fitting shoes were a token of good breeding in Athens and much attention was paid to footwear. Sandals laced over the instep were put on when leaving the house. Theophrastus says that mended shoes were a sign of avarice, and overlarge or nailed shoes were boorish except for military wear.

"GRADE TRIBUNE" ISSUES VOLUME 2

Volume two of the "Grade Tribune" appeared fresh off the press before the Christmas holidays and is an interesting volume of grade school news, put out by the eighth graders under the direction of M. L. Schoenholtz, eighth grade teacher and principal of the grade school.

Personal items, interviews and cartoons make up the volume which gives evidence of considerable work on the part of the young people. So interesting are parts of the Tribune that we are going to quote some of the instructive facts for readers of the Plaindealer.

Concerning the grade school library we learn that Mrs. Richardson is in charge of the library with two eighth grade girls chosen to be librarians for a term of two weeks. The work of the librarians is to check the books in and out, keep them arranged alphabetically on the shelves and to see that each book has a card. Sixty-six books were rebound and repaired by the book binder who paid a recent visit here.

In an interview Mr. Schoenholtz reported that this is the first time in the eight years he has been here that he has had the sponsorship of the eighth grade. The first year he taught fifth grade and the next year he was moved to the three higher grades. He is anxious to have everyone pass with a good, high grade.

In an interview, Peter Weber, janitor at the grade school, disclosed the following interesting facts: He has been employed as janitor seventeen years next August. He has worked under two superintendents, O. G. Treadway and C. H. Duker. The only vacation he gets is a day or two in the summer. He gets to school about 6 a. m., and leaves for home at 5 p. m.

From an interview with Henry Schmitt, who has driven the school bus for the past fifteen months, we learn that he has eighteen pupils from the grade and St. Mary's school. The one going the farthest is Frank Martin. In every school week he drives 110 miles with the children.

Results of the various grade school basketball games are recorded, as well as Scout news and other facts.

"Tailor Made" Gowns

The elegant eighties saw the introduction of the "tailor made" gown. Before that ladies had known the modistes only as professional constructors of apparel. The introduction of the tailor made gown marked the passing of the "bustle," the street train, and certain other embellishments. It was the first step toward women's sport clothes. It displaced, however, some rather agreeable earlier fashions. The "Dolly Varden" type of girl, in her dainty laundered dimities and cambrics, passed into the background in favor of the "mannish woman."

Mighty City Wall

The mightiest city wall of northern Europe encircles the city of Visby on the Swedish Isle of Gotland. Its towers, moats and ruins enshrine legends from the early days of the Vikings.

MARRIAGE FOLLOWS O. E. S. MEETING

An account found in the Eastern Star Chronicler, of the installation ceremonies of Home Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, which took place in Chicago, December 2, will be of unusual interest to our readers as it also includes an account of a wedding ceremony performed at the close of the installation ceremony, as a surprise feature of the evening.

The bride, Harriet M. Beutler, is a summer resident at Pistakee Lake, residing at Beutler's Shady Hollow Estate, a subscriber to the Plaindealer and well known in this vicinity. She was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Morgan, both being well known and highly respected members of Home Chapter, O. E. S.

Bertram Kisselburg was usher and Robert Goner Jones presided at the organ.

After the groom, Thomas Morgan, and best man had assumed their positions at the foot of the dais, the wedding music was softly played as the bride, Harriet Beutler, on the arm of P. Murray, who gave her in marriage, preceded by her bridesmaid, Marie Kisselburg and maid of honor, Vera Bromley, approached the dais. The impressive and beautiful ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick F. Shannon of Central church.

A wedding supper followed at the Graemere Hotel for 110 guests. Bert Kisselburg was toastmaster and the occasion will long be remembered by those participating.

The Eastern Star hall was tastefully decorated in a manner becoming the occasion of the installation, as well as the wedding and was comfortably filled with members and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are now residing at 4908 Augusta Blvd., in Chicago.

The Plaindealer joins their friends in congratulations and best wishes and hopes that another summer will find them again residents of this vicinity at Pistakee Lake.

IMMEDIATE SETTLEMENT

We desire to state that our recent burglary loss has been settled in a very satisfactory manner by the Earl R. Walsh Insurance agency. McHenry County Farmer's Co-op. Ass'n. John A. Bolger, Manager.

Founded Cleveland

Cleveland, Ohio, was founded in July, 1796, by surveyors from Connecticut, who represented a land company, which had bought a strip of land along Lake Erie. This land had been claimed by Connecticut by right of its old British charter, but it had relinquished rule over it to the federal government and had sold the land to the Connecticut Land company. The company, in turn, resold farms and town lots to people in Connecticut, New York and elsewhere, and these settled in the city and the region around it.

STATE BRIDGE SCENE OF CRASH DUE TO SLIPPERY PAVEMENT

The sleet which formed a film of ice over highways Wednesday forenoon caused accidents and near accidents during the short time that it lasted, making driving hazardous.

A crash at the west end of the river bridge on Route 20 shortly after noon Wednesday involved five cars and injured several persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pitzen were driving east on the pavement, returning to their farm home near McHenry, and Ed Moderhack, with his brother-in-law, Bill Kreutzer, Neil Thurlwell, Gerald Newman and Bill Ahrens, were returning from Waukegan, where they had been to look for work.

The Roosevelt car, driven by Moderhack, and Pitzen's Chevrolet skidded into each other on the icy pavement with a crash that was heard for blocks, overturning one of the cars and completely demolishing them.

In an effort to avoid hitting the wreckage and victims three cars upon the bridge crashed as they skidded when applying the brakes suddenly. Occupants of these cars who were not seriously injured were Arthur Wagner, McHenry, Ken Perrin of 5135 LaFayette Avenue, Aurora, and Peter Schentz, West 23rd street, Cicero. Occupants of all the cars were taken to a doctor for first-aid treatment.

Mrs. Pitzen was badly cut and bruised, with injuries about the chest, and her husband was also injured. Moderhack received severe cuts about the face and head, in addition to bruises.

"Spots" Thurlwell fell to the pavement upon getting out of the machine cutting a severe gash in his head requiring four stitches. Others in the crash were cut and bruised and all were suffering from shock.

Four of the cars, a Plymouth, two Chevrolets and the Roosevelt were taken to Adams Repair Shop.

COLLEGE STUDENTS BACK TO SCHOOLS

Trains leaving Crystal Lake over the weekend, and especially on Sunday, might have been termed "college specials," judging from the number of college students returning on them to college after the Christmas holidays.

George Johnson, Harry Schnaitman and Eugene Sayler were among the group of young people representing the University of Illinois who left Crystal Lake on the 3:20 train Sunday afternoon. Guy Duker, also returning to the University, left on the 8 o'clock train Sunday evening.

Automobiles, also, served as a means of transportation for many of the students.

Miss Kathleen Justen left Sunday for St. Mary's College at Notre Dame and her cousin, Jerome Justen, returned to Lake Forest College Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Purvey returned to Chicago, where he attends the college of medicine.

Lillian Segel returned to the University of Illinois.

Bernice Unti returned to Northwestern University.

Marguerite Johnson returned to teachers' college at DeKalb.

Ruth Reihansperger is returning to Rockford College.

Janet Lindsay returned to teachers' college at DeKalb.

Richard Vycital returned to Chicago to take up special studies.

Ray Howard returned to the University of Alabama.

The holidays came as a welcome vacation for the young people after several months of hard study.

WOODSTOCK'S NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING

Architect's conception of how the new hospital will appear when completed.

Woodstock and surrounding territory is now assured of a new hospital, with the approval of plans and specifications for the construction of the new building. It is expected that ground will be broken next spring and work commenced on the new structure. Frederick Hogdon of Barrington is the architect.

That the new building will be one of beauty and service can be seen from the picture on this page of the Plaindealer.

The building will be in the form of a cross. The main part of the new building will run north and south with two wings, one on the east and the other on the west. The south end of the main part of the building will connect with the present hospital building.

Gift of Mrs. Bentley

The citizens of Woodstock can be grateful to Mrs. George Bentley for this new building. It was a $50,000 bequest from the will of Mrs. Bentley which is making possible the new structure.

The $50,000 really comes from the estate of the late Dr. George Bentley of Pasadena, Calif., because of a clause in his will that requested his widow at her death to make the $50,000 bequest to the hospital.

Dr. Bentley was born and reared in Woodstock. He was one of the city's most highly respected citizens. He made his home in California during the late years of his life prior to his death.

By the terms of the will of Mrs. Bentley all of the $50,000 must be used for the erection of a new building and no part whatsoever can be used for repairs on the old building or for the purchase of new equipment of any kind.

It is for that reason that the new building is being erected entirely from the $50,000 bequeathed. With this sum of money the hospital board and the architect feel confident that a building to accommodate all of the needs of that community and surrounding vicinity in general can be constructed.

Plans For the Building

Plans for the new building call for two stories over all of the building, with a third story over part of the north and south part. The third story will be used exclusively as an operating and sterilizing room. An elevator will be installed.

The remainder of the building will be used for rooms. When the building is completed the hospital as a whole will have a 42-bed capacity. This is 20 more beds than the present hospital contains.

Most of the rooms will be large enough for two beds although a number of the rooms will be equipped with one bed only and will be of the private variety.

Although the $50,000 bequest from Mrs. Bentley is being hailed with much delight, people should not forget that the $11,000 bequest from the Julia Herrington estate will come in mighty handy at this time. This money is now being held in a bulk sum in a bank and ready for use.

The Herrington Bequest

Rev. Kaufman said today that the $11,000 will be used to repair the old building and for the purchase of all necessary equipment for the new operating room. All of this money will be used for these purposes. It is expected some $3,000 will be needed to equip the new operating room.

All details in connection with taxes, including inheritance and other taxes, have been completed. In fact all that remains is the waiting for the expiration date of the probation of the will before the money is available for the building of the hospital.

When completed, the new hospital will be one of the finest in these parts. It is sure to attract much attention in McHenry county and the hospital board has had assurance from physicians in various parts of the county that they will be glad to bring their patients to Woodstock rather than to take them to other cities such as Waukegan, Elgin and Belvidere.

What P. M. A. Means to This Community

EACH year over $25,000,000 is paid to members of the Pure Milk Association for their milk.

Yes—25 million dollars a year in Milk checks!

P.M.A. members in this vicinity spend most of their share of this vast sum in the local trading area. They buy their food, clothes, transportation, entertainment with this money. They pay their taxes, rent and meet their social obligations with this income.

Pure Milk Association takes off of the individual farmers shoulders any credit risk involved in the sale of milk. The association guarantees the arrival of the monthly milk check. That makes for regularity and stability of income.

Pure Milk Association is a marketing cooperative composed of 14,500 dairy farmers, each member operating his own farm. Collectively we furnish approximately 85 per cent of the fluid milk consumed in Chicago—its suburbs and many other major cities and towns in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana.

Pure Milk farmers believe they are entitled to a fair return on their investment and for their labor. By pooling their strength in collective bargaining our members are securing in addition to a guaranteed monthly milk check—

1. The best economically sound price for milk.
2. A guaranteed market for their milk.
3. The protection of the Contagious Guarantee Fund.
4. Judicious control of production.
5. Representation of their interests in state and national legislation.

But that is only a part of the story. The Pure Milk Association is much more than a bargaining group. It's members are a powerful force for maintaining and bettering the quality of milk, giving full voluntary cooperation to Health Departments in localities where their milk is sold. They are an aid in increasing the efficiency of dairy farm production and management. They are guarantors of a steady supply of milk to the dealers and the public.

They also are sponsors of the Chicagoland's Neatest Dairy Farms Movement, which has received national recognition. They are partners in the Health Educational Movement to increase the general consumption of milk and milk products. Hundreds of city and rural schools in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin receive Health Educational literature free of charge.

Write us today, for Free Booklet giving our complete story in full detail, and receive as a gift the little booklet entitled "How to Prolong Youth and Beauty."
