Might Cause Radio Trouble

Some radios are particularly sensitive to disturbances caused by the ignition of an oil burner. The condition can be corrected by the installation of intermittent ignition with proper controls.

From Chance to Science

Trained geologists have largely replaced rule-of-thumb prospectors in exploring for new oil and mineral deposits, but most of the world's known store of metal was first discovered by men who had neither scientific nor technical guidance.

Rubber Glove as Icebag

If an emergency arises for an icebag and none is at hand, a rubber glove will serve for a short time. The glove is filled with small pieces of ice and a rubber band is wound tightly around the wrist end to prevent leaking.—Popular Mechanics.

Beef Tea

Beef tea is nothing more than colored water, but nevertheless has a real function. It stimulates the appetite and aids digestion, for the gastric juices flow more abundantly when it is taken.
