Well Ventilated Closet Helps Preserve Wardrobe

A roomy, well-ventilated closet properly used can be of tremendous value in conserving your clothes and keeping your wardrobe in pin-neat appearance.

By hanging your dress on a hanger immediately after removing it, and placing it in the closet, the dress will keep its press better and the life of the material will be lengthened. A little space should be allowed between each garment.

If your closet isn't well-ventilated, hang the dress ouside the closet awhile so that the air may circulate freely about it before you put it back with the rest of your clothes. By letting a dress "rest" after a day or two of wear, the amount of pressing needed can be cut down.

Padded hangers to fit the shoulders of your suits and dresses can be made at home. Unless you use padded hangers, the shoulders will stretch out of shape.

Pledge of Allegiance

Originally the pledge to the flag read: "I pledge allegiance to my flag, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." At the National Flag conference in Washington in 1924, it was contended that the pledge could be applied to the flag of any nation, and it was proposed that the pledge be changed to read: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America . . ." so that the first real pause should come at the word "America." The former practice of extending the right hand upward from its position over the heart at the word "flag" is probably responsible for the pause at that word, but now, as provided by an act of congress approved December 22, 1942, the hand is held over the heart throughout the pledge.

M'HENRY MAN FELT LIKE SWOLLEN BALLOON; FULL OF STOMACH GAS

Recently a McHenry man stated that he used to feel like a swollen balloon after every meal. He would bloat full of gas and spit up aciduous liquids for hours aftr eating. Was terribly constipated. This man is one of the hundreds in this vicinity who now praise ERB-HELP. He states he was amazed at the results when he took this medicine. Now he eats what he wants without gas or bloating, and bowels are regular for the first time in years. He feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP, contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELP. Bolger's Drug Store.

McCullom Lake On Parade

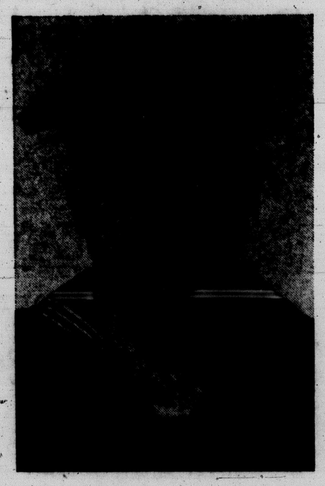
By "Yardstick"

Greetings folks!

There was much joy in many a home in McCullom Lake this past weekend.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Steinbach were pleasantly surprised when their two sons arrived home unexpectedly last Sunday to enjoy their furloughs with their parents at McCullom Lake. Ist Sgt. Jerome Steinbach of the Army Air Corps has been stationed at Recife Brazil for the past three years and is home on a 21 day leave.

IST SGT. JEROME STEINBACH



S. K. 1/C WILLIAM STEINBACH

S. K. 1/c William Steinbach has been stationed at Miami, Florida, for the past year.

Among the many relatives and friends who welcomed these two brothers at the Steinbach home were Mr. and Mrs. John Steinbach, their children, Carol Ann and Jean, the Misses Anna and Sadie O'Neil and Miss Katherine Craine of Chicago. A hearty welcome to both of you fighting men. May your leave be a pleasant one.

Mrs. Boyle was made happy by the arrival of her son of the Army Air Corps who came home last Tuesday to enjoy a 21 day leave with his wife and baby daughter.

Lt. Boyle has been stationed in Texas for the past year being assigned to that post after having accomplished over 40 bombing missions over Germany, being shot down three times, taken prisoner and managing to escape each time. He wears many medals and decorations for his heroic deeds. May you enjoy your well earned vacation to the utmost Lieutenant.

Another one of our returned heroes is of the U. S. Navy. Lt. Cowan is enjoying his 21 day leave from duties overseas with his lovely wife, Betty. "It's good to be back" were Lt. Cowan's first words as we greeted him. To which we replied, "It's good to have you with us," and we meant it.

LT. H. B. COWAN

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo McKim were also made happy when their son arrived home last Wednesday to spend his ten days furlough with them. Alan has been stationed at the Naval Air Base at Norfolk, Va., for the past year.

A. M. M. 1/C ALAN McKIM

He is a member of those unsung ground heroes who keep our Naval fighting birds in the air.

Keep up the good work, Alan, and it is our wish that your short leave will be a happy one.

News Highlights

Electric light and telephone service was interrupted in some sections of our community after last Monday's rain and wind storm.

Two huge trees on Maple Hill drive were uprooted and fell across the power lines, causing a short circuit. The efficient crews of the Public Service Co., as well as the Telephone Co., soon had the situation well in hand and service was restored.

According to information received the wind reached a velocity of 75 mph. and caused some damage to trees and victory gardens in the community.

Mrs. Elsa Purdy, of Hewit, Calif. and Henry Mintred of Riverside, Calif., spent a very pleasant three days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parsells at McCullom Lake.

Mrs. V. Buns is enjoying a one week stay at her cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mattern are treating their grandson, Oliver, to one month of pleasure at their home here.

Violets to Jerry Perski, Max Kolin, Don Doolin, Jack Reimer, Jack Sales, Clarence Feiereisel and the three unidentified boys for their labors getting the diving raft anchored on the lake. You have all done a swell job and your efforts are appreciated.

A gay old time was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harker and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edmonds last Saturday evening when about thirty guests gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Trye Rojnstad on their 43rd wedding anniversary. To say that these two grand folks were pleased is to put it mildly.

Among the many guests present to congratulate the young couple were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pyritz, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kaminski, Mr. and Mrs. George Baumbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sawdo, Otter Ebert, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomsen, Mrs. Joseph O'Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Struck. The refreshments, consisting of a delicious buffet supper was enjoyed by all. Many happy returns of the day to you both, Mr. and Mrs. Rojnstad.

Clarence Feiereisel, president of the McCullom Lake Property Owners Ass'n, informs us that the annual meeting of the association will be held on Aug. 5th at 2 p. m. at the beach at which meeting new directors will be elected.

The nominating committee composed of Mr. Davidson, Mr. Donahue, Mr. Marwey, Mr. Matterer and Mr. Musynski nominated the following members to serve for the next three years: Chris. Dvore, George Gorenson and Wm. J. Smith. C. Parsells was chosen for a one year term.

Any member wishing to nominate members for these offices may do so by submitting the names of his candidates to Wm. Turney, R. R. 1, West McHenry, Ill.

The McCullom Lake Community Club held their regular meeting at the home of F. W. Bailey last Sunday. The next meeting will be held Sunday, July 22, at 1 p. m. All members are urged to be present as matters of vital interest will be discussed.

Welcome to McCullom Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Guvreau. We just know that you will say "Lincolnwood was never like this."

May we also extend the glad hand to Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brautigan those two love birds who have recently purchased the Stroud home and intend to stay and give us a hand with the snow next winter.

Some sunny Sunday afternoon in the near future the "Screwey Dozen" will hold their moonlight ice skating carnival on the lake. That's the dope we got from the group's 14th vice president and what a dope. Let's all wait for future developments.

From what we have seen in the past these nuts will stop at nothing.

Have you met Kansas City Shirley yet? If not, why not? Send us your last year's Christmas tree and we will arrange an introduction.

Because Joseph "Mush" Bauer has so many friends here at McCullom Lake we know that they will be glad to learn that this regular guy will be up and around with us again in the near future according to latest reports from the Woodstock hospital where Joe is at present convalescing from burns received in an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kaminski had as guests over the weekend, Mrs. and Mrs. Lawrence Chaboski, Mrs. Stanley Plessouski, her son, Robert, and Miss Anna Targanus, all of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo McKim entertained Mr. and Mrs. G. Boyle and daughter, Pat, Mr. and Mrs. Westphal, Mrs. Smith of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Housel of Pearl City, Ill., over the weekend.

Jerry Cermak is a very busy man this week, playing the role of a parent. His charming niece, Jeanne Souhrada, her girl friend, Betty Cerlowski, and his nephew, Ronnie Cermak, decided that uncle Jerry's place would be a swell spot for a week's vacation and how right they were.

The kids are having a grand time and Jerry wishes he had a few hairs o turn grey, but, then one can't have everything.

Congratulations To

Mrs. Lillian Goodman on her 16th birthday, July 26th. You don't look a day over, Lill.

Society Notes

The McCullom Lake Ladies Pinochle Club held their regular bimonthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Feiereisel yesterday and enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon not to mention the delicious refreshments served by their gracious hostess.

Our Thought For This Week

Faith is the bird that feels the light when the dawn is still dark.

ADIOS.

Eat License Plates

The fact that the porcupine has a particular yen to eat synthetic rubber tires has had wide publicity. But now another "synthetic appetite" comes into view. Stray dogs in the West are said to be eating auto license plates—the plates are made from a soybean base. Hunters who park in secluded spots are taking a lot of chances these days.

Proteins Vary

Not all proteins are of equal value; some are more efficient than others in building and maintaining tissues. In fact, it may take twice as much of certain plant proteins as of some animal proteins to build the same number of cells. In general, animal proteins are higher in value than plant proteins, such as legumes and cereals. Soybeans by far surpass other plant proteins in quantity and quality of protein. Contrary to beliefs held heretofore, it is not harmful to eat more protein than is needed, nor do persons doing hard physical work require extra protein food. The rate of tissue breakdown is not affected by work; therefore hard workers require only extra calories for energy. The extra energy may be supplied by fat or carbohydrates, although protein foods make a high calorie diet more palatable.

VERMONTER'S REACTION

A man driving through Vermont came to his mother's birthplace, a town where he had spent considerable time as a boy when he was 40 years younger and some 200 pounds lighter. Recognizing the name of a distant cousin on the village's only filling station, he pulled in, and a slow-moving Vermonter ambled over.

"Ever hear the name of Towslee?" he asked.

"Yup," the native replied.

"Ever know Almeda Towslee?"

"Yup."

"She married a Blanchard, you know."

"Yup."

"Well, I'm her son," the traveler exclaimed.

Without looking up, the old-timer remarked, "Growed, ain't you?"

TOUGH GUY

Harry—What kind of war work are you doing?

Jerry—I'm a tank tester.

Harry—What do you do?

Jerry—Just lie down. They run the tanks over me and if the treads don't break, they're oke.

It's a Sad World

A small boy was sitting on the front steps, a picture of dejection, when the minister happened to walk by.

"What in the world is the matter with you, Fred?" he asked.

"Oh," he explained, "I'm disgusted: my parents won't mind me any more!"

Crockery Holiday

Housewife—Yesterday you broke four dishes, the day before you broke three, and today you broke five. What will the score be tomorrow?

New Maid—Not so much, madam. It's my afternoon off.

Shopping Fun

Mrs. Jones—I stood in line yesterday for over two hours.

Mrs. Smith—What for?

Mrs. Jones—I don't know. It was gone before I got in the store.

This Smells!

Dumb—There's something we'll always be able to get cheap.

Dora—What's that?

Dumb—Toilet water. You can always get all you want for a scent.

On a Crowded Bus

First Strap Hanger—Are you a toe dancer?

Second Ditto—Why, no.

First S. H.—Then will you please get off my feet?

Mirror, Mirror

Wifey—That woman is the ugliest person I think I ever saw.

Hubby—Not so loud, dear. You forget yourself.

Nuts to You!

Farmer—How did you get up in that tree?

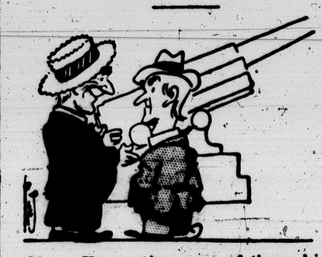
Boy—Can't you see? I sat on it when it was acorn!

Heap Big Feet

Soldier—Life was just one big desert until I met you.

Girl—Is that why you dance like a camel?

BRIGHT IDEA



Mac—Every time one of those big army guns goes off, $1,000 goes up in smoke.

Jack—Why don't they use smokeless powder?

Frighten the Beast

Painter—I did this picture to keep the wolf from the door.

Critic—Why don't you hang it on the doorknob where he can see it.

Invitation?

He—What is home without a mother?

She—It just happens I will be, tonight.

Choo! Choo!

Harry—What kind of a plant is a Virginia Creeper?

Jerry—It isn't a plant, it's a railroad.

You Said It!

Slim—What do they call a bustle nowadays?

Jim—A deceitful seatful!

Skip This!

Nit—Does this wind bother you?

Wit—Oh, no, talk as much as you like!

Shake, Brother

Harry—I have the grip.

Jerry—Come on, let's pack it.

Principle of Debate

The fundamental principle of debate is to create in the mind of someone else a belief in the ideas of the speaker; very few people pass a day of their lives without engaging in some form of debate.

Insect Damage

Insects feed on plants by chewing the leaves, sucking plant juices, or tunneling into the roots, stems or leaves. Control measures depend on the type of damage being done.

Uruguayan Farming

Most of the cultivated areas in Uruguay are located along the Uruguay river, in the west, and along the Plata, in the south. Some zones are very fertile, but not as much as the nearby parts of Argentina. This, together with the higher wages that prevail for farm-hands in Uruguay (this is not the case when considering the wages of the peons engaged in the livestock raising "estancias"), makes the cost of growing grain fairly higher than in Argentina. This is especially true in the cases of corn and wheat. The farmers who grow these crops are protected by two groups of laws: (1) tariffs that under normal conditions prevent the import of grain from Argentina and (2) fixed minimum prices for them.

Scorched Pans

When food becomes scorched on the bottom of a good kettle or pan, allow it to cool gradually, then fill with cold water to which baking soda has been added. Slowly bring to a boil, repeating the process if the food has not become softened.

Maple Sugar

Maple sugar has the same chemical composition as cane or beet sugar, the maple flavor resulting from the presence of certain chemical compounds. Sugar is produced in the leaf and stored in the roots as starch in the wintertime. Early in the spring the starch changes to sugar, which is carried in the sap up through the trunk, where it becomes available to the sugar worker.
