THE TORY LEADERS SPEAK.

SIR CHARLES DEALS WITH THE TRADE QUESTION.

Accuses the Liberals of Breaking Their Pledges—From a Political Point of View the Gathering Was Fairly Void of Novelty.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The conservatives held a large and fairly enthusiastic demonstration at Windsor hall last night. The object was chiefly to enable Sir Charles Tupper to present to the public his lieutenant from the west, Hon. Hugh John Macdonald, and naturally "Hugh John's" appearance was the signal for a loud outburst of applause. The chair was occupied by D. A. McCaskill, president of the John Macdonald Club, who will be the next conservative candidate in Victoria. He announced that there were five thousand people outside trying to get in. Although this was an exaggeration, there were several hundred who were unable to gain admittance and an overflow meeting was held around Sir John Macdonald's statue in the square, addressed by J. G. Bergeron and others. As a demonstration it was a success, but from a political point of view it was fairly void of novelty.

The proceedings were opened by a joint address to the three speakers of the evening, the feature of which was the prediction that Hugh John Macdonald's success in Manitoba was a forerunner of the result of the next general elections. Sir Charles Tupper was heartily applauded on rising to speak. In view of the importance of Montreal as a manufacturing centre, he dealt at length with the fiscal policy of the government, accusing the liberals of violating all their pledges to the electors. He advocated a policy of mutual preference within the empire, but he several times repeated himself, and the audience grew restless. There were great applause when Sir Charles interpreted a brief reference to the assistance Canada gave Britain in South Africa, but when Sir Charles returned to trade questions again he lost somewhat the attention of the meeting. The mention of Hugh John Macdonald's name, however, was quickly and loudly cheered. He enlarged on his statement in Quebec that under imperial federation Canada's contribution this year would be $46,000,000, by saying that if he had been a prophet he would have said that Canada's contribution would be more than double that figure.

Having spoken for over an hour on trade questions, and a few minutes in denunciation of imperial federation, Sir Charles ridiculed Sir Wilfrid's efforts to remove certain causes of irritation between Canada and the United States. In conclusion he declared that the policy of the conservatives was to protect the labor of Canada, against any country in the world, and announced that Dr. Roddick and Mr. Quinn would again be the conservative candidates for St. Antoine and St. Anne's, respectively. It is needless to say that he did not repudiate pamphlet No. 6. His address, which towards the end was interrupted with a cry, "Time's up," lasted about one hour and three-quarters.

Hon. Hugh John Macdonald received the warmest greeting of the evening on rising to speak, but though he had all the sympathies of the audience it was plain that disappointment was felt as he proceeded, for his address was lacking in vigor and substance, and indistinctly heard at the back of the hall. Hon. George E. Foster's address was largely of a humorous character, which roused the lagging interest of the meeting.

DISTRICT DASHES.

News of the District Condensed From the Whig's Exchanges.

W. H. Comstock, M.P., Brockville, has purchased $100,000 of that town's debentures at 100½.

The eldest son of William O'Connor, Renfrew, undertaker, was on Saturday night kicked in the face by a horse and seriously injured.

Truman Kilborn, Cape Vincent, N.Y., has been paid $100 as damages for injuries received by his son on the foot scraper at the schoolhouse.

The Rathbun company will send a gang of men into North Verulam this week to cut timber for next season. The camp will be about four miles from Bobcaygeon.

Tyler Greene, who secured a suit of clothes, under false pretences, from Julius Rochstein at Cape Vincent, N.Y., will spend twenty days in jail in default of paying a fine of $25 for his offence.

Police Court Tips.

"Burly" McMahon, an old rounder, was before the police magistrate this morning on a charge of drunkenness. He was fined $10 and costs, but allowed to go on promising to leave the city for Albany, N.Y.

Maurice Scanlon, also drunk, was given a $10 touch, or in default of payment must languish in jail for one month.

Thomas Coachman would not admit that he was drunk, but there was evidence to prove he was. By paying $5 he can save himself from going to jail for one month.

Coachman told a story about a hold up on Montreal street, near the drill hall, accusing two young citizens of going "through him." The police admit that when they approached to arrest Coachman two men ran away.

Why They Talk.

As soon as the business of council was concluded last night, and the matter of passing several by-laws was taken up, there was a rush of the aldermen for home. Not a sufficient number to form a quorum was left. "That's the way," remarked alderman Craig, "as soon as the reporters go, the aldermen see that their chance of getting into print is also gone, so they do not stay any longer." There is some philosophy in that remark.

Immigration returns shows that 2,138 settlers registered at Winnipeg during August. Russia contributed 200 settlers. The bulk of the arrivals were Canadians from the lower provinces. The figures of the year to Aug. 1st are 27,061.

A MERE VOTING MACHINE.

An Alderman Says That Is What The City Council Is.

"Look out for a disorganized fire department," remarked a member of the city council this morning. "The older men of the brigade want an increase in salary, and they are justified in demanding it in the face of the junior men being placed on the same footing. I don't know where this thing is going to end if it is allowed to run on. Our fire department this year is going to cost us from $750 to $1,000 more than it did last year. The difficulty had its beginning last March when the finance committee sneaked through an increase of $50 in the salary of the chief, if it was thought proper to give the chief an increase, why did the committee want to run the matter through council in that manner? Then also the finance committee placed two call men on the brigade, though they were unasked for by any body; they were simply placed there for a political move.

"Now the two junior men on the brigade have their salaries increased, in spite of the fact that a sub-committee of the fire and light committee has been appointed to prepare a scheme for the readjustment of the wages paid firemen, so that they shall all be treated alike and advance from the minimum to the maximum wage by degrees; such a system has been needed since the brigade was first organized.

"In connection with this increase to the two junior firemen, a surprising ruling was made by mayor Minnes. It was only a few months ago that a resolution was adopted by council to the effect that no communication would be considered by a committee until it had first been read in council. Now these two firemen did not petition the council as they should have done; they petitioned the chief, who recommended to the committee that the increase be granted, and the council swallows the whole pill; there is not a judge in the land who would uphold the transaction as legal. If that sort of thing is to be continued there is little use in having a city council, as it is becoming nothing more than a voting machine, worked on party lines."

Robbed After The Fight.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 11.—Rev. Thomas C. Hood, Presbyterian minister from Colchester South, writes from Shanghai: "When I think of what we have all gone through I am surprised that I am here at all. I came through the awful fight at Tien Tsin without a scratch, being the only man in the party who was not wounded. My earthly possessions, after the fight and a robbery, were a shirt and pair of trousers, socks and a pair of shoes. They started to take my shoes, but it happened to be a pair of white canvass I was wearing, and the Chinese are superstitious about white shoes, which probably accounts for their not taking them."

MISSIONARY TO BOLIVIA.

MISS GILE WILL ENTER UPON MISSION WORK.

She is a Very Young Lady, But Very Earnest—Her Address in the First Baptist Church Last Night—Belongs to Phillipsville, Ont.

A fair and appreciative audience assembled in the First Baptist church last evening, to hear Miss Gile, missionary-elect to Bolivia, speak on her prospective field of christian work. The pastor occupied the chair and led in devotional exercises. Mr. Russell, at present supplying the pulpit of the Union street Baptist church, spoke a few appropriate words, and Master Harold Singleton sang, "Give, Oh Give," in good voice.

Miss Gile spoke interestingly of the field of work toward which she is now looking. Bolivia, until the settlement of Rev. Mr. Reekie, a graduate of the Baptist college, Toronto, in 1896, had been entirely without a settled Protestant missionary. He has the honor of being the pioneer missionary to that great republic of three millions of people, most of whom are in spiritual darkness, and a large number of the aborigines are still pagans. The well-to-do upper classes, of Spanish descent, are largely infidel, and the lower classes are depraved, ignorant and sadly in need of the gospel. Perfect religious freedom is not enjoyed, but missionaries are free to work in a private way and many of the people are anxious for the gospel. Rev. Mr. Reekie has a promising school of boys in Oruro, and Miss Gile goes to the same city for the purpose of founding a girl's school. Mr. and Mrs. Baker who go with Miss Gile, will also join Mr. Reekie in this work, and there is reason to believe that a christian school in this large centre will prepare the way for the larger gospel work in the near future.

Miss Gile's home is near Phillipsville, Ont., and, though young, she has for a number of years been a devoted christian worker. She is a graduate from McMaster university, Toronto, and goes out well equipped for her life work. After the arrival of Miss Gile and party at Oruro there will be eight Baptist missionaries at work in Bolivia. Mr. and Mrs. Routledge, and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are located at La Caz, the capital of the republic.

The Case Settled.

The charge of larceny preferred by a local merchant against Noah Berman, Bloomfield, was settled at the police court this morning by Berman agreeing to pay the merchant $45, both signing a quit claim, each taking a copy. The goods on which the money was due were shipped in 1898, but had all been paid off, but $45. Defendant would not plead guilty to a charge of larceny, giving his reason for so doing, and in the course of which it was brought out that he was to sell the goods, retaining commission, a signed agreement existing between the two men to this effect. The $45 was paid over and Berman was allowed to go.

Evidence Of Good Work.

Rev. Prof. Worrell visited the parish Tyendinaga last Sunday on the occasion of harvest thanksgiving services. He preached at Christ church in the morning, at All Saints' in the afternoon and at the parish hall, Deseronto, in the evening. He also addressed each of the Sunday schools attached to the churches. He speaks very highly of the good work being done by Rev. A. G. Smith, evidence of which was to be seen in the full churches and hearty services. The churches were most elaborately and tastefully decorated, and the singing of the various choirs was admirable.

Will Get Out His Paint Pot.

Alderman Donnelly, chairman of the board of works, has written to alderman Shaw, chairman of the fire and light committee, asking him to paint the poles erected in the streets by his committee. The Bell telephone company has always painted its poles, and will paint the new ones now going up. The street railway company some time ago subjected their poles to a light "wash," which long ago disappeared. Ald. Donnelly thinks the city should set an example in this manner.

Cleaning Out All The Minnows.

By the use of large, illegal nets, by fishermen, the minnows have been pretty well cleaned out of the St. Lawrence. Fishermen now go as far down as Ogdensburg to secure a supply of minnows. In a year or two there will be a great scarcity of fish if this wholesale catching is allowed to go on.

A Desirable School.

Secretary Macdonald, of the board of education, says that the Cataraqui school play grounds are the cleanest in the city. New furniture and new slate blackboards were installed during the holidays, and that school has now the most desirable building and grounds of any in the city. Some people seem to have a prejudice against this school.

The schooner Grantham, which smashed into the piers at Cataraqui bridge ten days ago, has been repaired. The Donnelly wrecking company paid all damages done to the bridge piers, which amounted to $30.

WILL MARRY KIND NURSE.

Wealthy Englishman Settled $12,000 a Year on His Fiancee.

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 11.—Congratulations are showered upon Mrs. Leila Davis in the Atlantic City hospital by the other nurses. They had just learned of her coming marriage to J. R. Hillman, recently a patient in the institution and under her charge.

Mr. Hillman is a wealthy Englishman of middle age, and is in America on a business trip. He has been inspecting the American tube and boiler works, of which, it is said, he holds the controlling interest.

Mrs. Davis is a young widow, and her kindness and gentleness excited the admiration of her patient, who, after his recovery, asked permission to call upon her, and a few weeks later proposed marriage. It is said he has settled upon his fiancee property which will give her an independent income of $12,000 a year.

Mrs. Davis refused to talk, but the matron said the ceremony was to be performed in the near future.

PRAYER AND FAITH CURE.

Physicians Failed, But She Is Now Healed.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 11.—Prayer and faith have done for Annie Reese, of this city, what years of medical treatment failed to do. In 1894 she fell and broke her leg and had been a cripple ever since. She suffered great pain and this week she concluded to be annointed at the Mennonite camp meeting at Macungie. She went to the altar and after the pastor in charge had read from the bible the wonderful cures performed in the time of Christ, the brethren and sisters prayed over the suppliant, who at the end of an hour jumped to her feet completely healed.

In Honor Of The Dead.

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 11.—The battlefield of Brandywine, where the American flag first received its baptism of fire, is to-day the scene of impressive services in commemoration of those patriots who lost their lives in the fight. For 123 years the dead have slept in a wheat field at Sandy Hollow, near Chadd's Ford, without stone or monument. Over a thousand lie there, and to-day, the Gen. George A. McCalle Post, of this city, is conducting services in remembrance of this event, of which this day is the anniversary. G. A. R. posts from Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey are taking part. Two cannon, donated by the government, guard the graves, and the first flag of the country, carried in that struggle, floats its tatters over the field in sadness.

Labor Men Convene.

Utica, N.Y., Sept. 11.—The third annual convention of the New York state workingmen's federation opened in this city this morning. The federation is largely a labor political body, and its members wield much influence at the polls. This session will consider the relation of the various state officials to the measures affecting labor, and the deductions will be scattered broadcast among the voters of the state. A bill framed on the same plan as the recent employers' liability bill will be drawn up this afternoon to be presented to the next legislature.

A Wonder In Science.

Bradford, Eng., Sept. 10.—At physical science section of British association for the advancement of science, now in annual session, Sir William Henry Preece, consulting engineer to the British post office and the colonies, made the interesting announcement that as a result of his experience with wireless telegraphy he had found it quite possible to convey audible speech six or eight miles across the sea without wires. He added that it was a practical commercial system, and might be extended to communication between ships and the shore.

Tammany Ahead.

Saratoga, N.Y., Sept. 12.—The state democratic convention opened this noon. Over 2,000 Tammany men are present to howl on their favorites, and the contest with the Hill faction promises to be warm. Both Croker and Hill are prominent in to-day's proceedings, but the real fight is yet to come. The most plausible candidates for gubernatorial honors are Bird S. Coler, comptroller, and mayor McGuire.

Rich Gold Strikes.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 11.—Arrivals from the north report rich strikes in the Tanana country. One miner reports that the ground in places is paying $100 a day.
