Montreal Wants More of It!

Room 216, New York Life Building,
Montreal, May 30th, 1900.

Messrs. Egyptian Rheumatic Oil Co., Halifax, N.S.:

Gentlemen,—Some weeks ago I received through the mail a sample bottle of your Oil, with a request that I use it and report to you on results.

I now take pleasure in telling you that, while at the time I received this remedy, I was in the care of my doctor, and following a course of treatment prescribed by him, with beneficial results, still I have since used your Oil occasionally as a liniment and find that it has a very soothing and healing effect. I have made enquiries at several druggists to obtain another bottle, but they do not seem to know of it. Can you tell me where to get it in Montreal?

Yours truly,
B. W. EVANS.

THE LAST EDITION.

COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going on in the Business World—The Market News.

The world's production of gold from the year 1492 to 1899 is valued at $9,756,064,000.

Thirty Lancashire mills have closed down, owing to the shortage in the American cotton crops.

There is but one coffee plantation in the Sulu Islands. It covers seventy acres and has 35,000 trees.

The Stella pyrites mines in Hermon are shipping six carloads of refined ore a day and the output is increasing.

The Chronicle reports gross earnings for seventy-one roads for August aggregating $44,306,473, an increase of $2,568,628, being equivalent to 6.12 per cent.

The effort of some of the New York importers of dried fruits to get the Smyrna embargo lifted before the expiration of the sixty-day limit is believed to have failed.

Russia's export of tea is unusually small this year, amounting to only about 5,000,000 poods (about 200,000,000 pounds). There was practically no export to England whatever.

Broomhall, in the Liverpool Corn Trade News, says that if the American farmer knew the real condition abroad he would hold his wheat, and prices might advance as high as they did in June.

Estimating that the British yield this year will run out not over twenty bushels per acre, compared with 32.76 in 1899, this season's wheat production will barely exceed 53,000,000 bushels, against 67,000,000 bushels last year.

The scene on the New York cotton exchange on Monday was unprecedented and the volume of speculation surpassed the business of any previous day on record. The news from Texas caused the wildest excitement. Prices soared 43 to 61 points on the very opening. Fortunes were won and lost within ten minutes. The gallery of the New York cotton exchange was packed with spectators watching the uproar.

On the New York produce exchange there appears to be a feeling that wheat will advance within the next few months. The wheat crop this year in nearly every country seems to be much below what it was last year; exceptions are Turkey, Roumania and Bulgaria, where the crops are large enough to warrant exporting. In the United States, where the crop exceeds that of the whole of Europe, the present estimates indicate that the crop this year is short of that of last year. The same can be said of France, Canada, England and Russia, and almost all the larger continental wheat-growing countries.

Presentation To John Orr.

Last evening at the close of the prayer meeting in Cooke's church, the congregation took occasion to bid farewell to John Orr, Bagot street, who has been connected with the church and Sabbath school since his boyhood. Mr. Orr leaves on Friday for Liverpool, where he takes a lucrative position. D. A. Shaw, on behalf of the Sunday school, read a complimentarily-worded address, and Miss Edith Newman presented Mr. Orr with a beautifully bound volume of Browning's works. Leonard Cook, on behalf of the choir, read an address, and Miss Lila Hazlett presented Mr. Orr with a dressing case. Mr. Orr made suitable replies to both. Rev. Mr. Laird and others expressed regret at Mr. Orr's departure, at the same time wishing him every success in his new sphere of life.

Died At Hotel Dieu.

The death occurred in the Hotel Dieu on Wednesday night of Joseph Quinn, a well-known farmer of Howe Island. About four weeks ago Dr. Ryan amputated his left leg, which was diseased of gangrene. The operation, however, could not stay the progress of the disease. Mr. Quinn was at one time a reeve of Howe Island township. He leaves a widow and a large family of children to mourn his loss. He was fifty-eight years of age, and in religion a Roman Catholic. The remains were taken to his former home on the island.

The Maddest Man In Town.

Brockville Times.

The other morning a local physician, who had been out all night attending a critical case, was aroused about seven o'clock by a telephone call from Kingston. A musical man of that city stated that he was anxious to put on a kermiss in Brockville this winter and wanted the doctor to recommend some society under whose auspices the affair would be a financial success. Just about that time the doctor was the maddest man in town. The Kingstonian was given his answer in unmistakable terms.

Enjoying A Half Holiday.

Many of the stores closed this afternoon in observance of the proclaimed holiday. Other merchants remained at work and let their clerks off, but there were some business places where employees got no half holiday. The public schools and collegiate institute pupils were given a half holiday, which most of them spent at the fair.

Confined To His Room.

Samuel Conley, who was struck in the head by a stone while attempting to disperse the crowd on the fair grounds track Wednesday night, was rendered unconscious. Dr. Bell attended him, and dressed his head. He was very ill during the night, and will be confined to his room for some time.

May Be The Candidate.

A Peach Tree Bears.

William Routley, Sydenham street, has a peach tree which is this year bearing fruit for the first time. It has one large, luscious-looking peach. So far as known it is about the only fruit-bearing peach tree in the city.

To Meet In Convention.

The local agents of the Metropolitan life insurance company will leave tomorrow night for Montreal to attend the fifth annual Canadian convention of that company's agents, which meets on Saturday.

WERE OUT A FOR TIME.

FRED. DENNISON LOST HIS WATCH AND CHAIN.

Went For a Drive With Two Girls and When He Returned His Watch Was Missing—Annie Hill Charged With Stealing It—The Evidence Submitted.

Frederick Dennison, Hartington, and a comrade came into the city yesterday to "do" the fair, but apparently from evidence brought out at the police court this morning the "fair" managed to "do" Dennison. After sight-seeing Dennison's friend met him in the evening at the Grimason house and asked him if he wanted to "put in the time." Dennison replied that he would stay with him if there was any sport going on. Dennison was introduced to two young ladies whose names he could not remember, but who were sisters. The quartette went for a drive after providing for the outing by purchasing two bottles of ale.

They drove out Johnston street beyond the noise and bustle of the city, where the faint glimmer of the oil lamp in the farm house window looked like a beacon light at sea. There the quartette got out of the rig, separated into pairs and remained for about half an hour. It was about half-past ten when the return journey was begun and the "ladies" were taken to a point contiguous to their dwelling, where they parted from their gallants.

So far so good. Shortly after leaving the girls Dennison reached for his watch to learn what o'clock it was, but found his time piece missing. He acquainted his friend of the fact and the two drove to the police station and laid information against one of the girls, who gave her name as Annie Hill, but who is a married woman, whose husband resides at Rochester, N.Y. Annie is over here spending a few holidays and is apparently spending the time very pleasantly. Two policemen found, upon enquiring at the home of Annie's mother, that she had retired for the night. However, she arose, dressed and accompanied the constables to the police station.

In his evidence this morning Dennison stated that on the road out Johnston street the ladies complained that the horse was being driven too fast; Dennison and his lady friend thereupon took the front seat and Dennison drove the balance of the distance. He had his watch when the seats were exchanged, had it after they left the rig out there, but he did not notice having it when he re-entered the rig, but felt sure it was in his possession when he got out of the rig to help the girls disembark near their mother's home; it must have been while taking a tender farewell of Annie that the time piece left its resting place in his vest pocket.

On the other hand Annie freely acknowledged having the watch when asked if it was in her possession. She was surprised at being charged with stealing it; it was given to her by Dennison to keep until Friday night, on which date she had an engagement to meet Dennison again.

John McIntyre, Q.C., appeared on behalf of the prisoner and refused to elect. Several times the magistrate would not allow the prisoner to answer questions put to him by prisoner's counsel; the magistrate did not want to "stir up this nasty matter," he did not care to know what took place out in the country, being concerned only regarding the loss of the watch.

Mr. McIntyre held that the questions were quite proper, but the magistrate refused to allow them to be answered.

Further evidence elicited the fact that though Dennison started for the drive with $15 in his pockets, he did not have that sum with him when he returned.

After taking the evidence of police constable Graham, which went to show that the watch was handed to him by the prisoner from an upstair window of her mother's house, the prisoner asking if the matter would be settled if the watch was surrendered, the girl was committed for trial. It was also stated by the constable that Annie admitted having borrowed the watch by way of a joke, and that she intended returning it Friday night.

The Fair Receipts.

The receipts for sale of tickets were on Tuesday $558, just $123 ahead of same day last year; yesterday $1,488 was taken in, about $1,200 less than last year. This was due to the weather, so threatening and boisterous in the morning. But then Wednesday was the big day last year. Thursday is the big day this year, and it is expected that fully $2,000 will be taken in today, a comparative increase of over $1,200. The entries and privileges have brought more than last year, enough to pay the extras won in the prize lists. The directors felt blue on Tuesday and Wednesday, for a loss was in prospect, one they would personally suffer for the public benefit, but they are pleased today. They will clear expenses sure, thanks to lovely weather for citizens' day.

Can This Be True?

A correspondent writes that it is time something was done to secure a proper lodgement for the lads confined in the county jail awaiting transfer to Victoria industrial school at Mimico. "They are put to work on the stone pile," writes the correspondent, "and it is sad to see their cut and bleeding fingers, and to hear that they are frequently shaken by the task master." The writer thinks the boys overly punished, and in any case should not be confined in a prison where strong men confined as prisoners are rendered physical wrecks.

Kindergarten Work.

Kindergarten teachers have no snap in securing certificates. They have to train in the schools, giving their time for the instruction, and at the close pass a stiff departmental examination. Then a year is spent in the Normal schools, after which time they can begin professional duties, in Kingston at $250 per year. It is easy to start, as a simple examination before the inspector may give them a chance to become students and helpers of the regular kindergarten teachers.

HE WHIPPED HIS WIFE.

Did Not Object, But Protested Against a Fine.

Stratford, Conn., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Joseph Kreevey, wife of a farmer living near here, objected to a fine imposed on her husband for assaulting her, on the ground that he had a right to whip her.

Kreevey was arrested on complaint of James Sanford, who was attracted to the Kreevey farm by the screams of the woman. He found that Mrs. Kreevey had just been horsewhipped by her husband for some slight misdemeanor in their home. Kreevey did not deny the whipping, and was surprised and indignant when the sheriff arrived and arrested him on a warrant. Kreevey and his wife are by birth Slavonians.

The wife and husband were at the trial. The woman said it was true her "man" whipped her about once or twice a week, but that was nobody's business. She had no complaint to make, and did not want her husband sent to jail, fined or reprimanded.

The justice said: "I shall have to take judicial notice of the whipping. You are living now in a free country, where the wife is no slave of her husband, to be brutally thrashed at will. You must comply with the customs of the land and pay a fine of $7 and costs."

YOUNG GIRL AS "STABLE BOY."

Birdie Helm, Sixteen Years Old, Fined For Impersonating a Man.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13.—Birdie Helm was fined $10 in the police court to-day for impersonating a man. She is a sixteen-year-old girl who ran away from her home in Jeffersonville, and putting on boys' clothes, got work in Dr. J. W. Drake's stable, in this city, as stable boy and coachman. Dr. Drake said she had done her work well, and he never suspected her sex until George Brown, her stepfather, learned of her retreat and apprised him.

As the girl would not return to her home Brown had her arrested. She said she put on boys' clothes in order to obtain employment, and thought that as long as she behaved herself she ought to be left alone. She was in Dr. Drake's employ five weeks.

CAPTURED PRIZES.

Ontario Received Awards at the Paris Exposition.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—A letter received at the department of crown lands from J. J. Jardine, Ontario commissioner at the Paris exposition, conveys the information that Ontario as a province captured 263 awards at the fair, including five grand prizes for education. Ontario received the only first medal for education as a province, Quebec coming second. The commissioner also states that Hon. Sidney Fisher, minister of agriculture, has appointed Mr. Murray, an immigration agent, as commissioner for Ontario at the Glasgow exhibition in 1901.

She Cut Her Throat.

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Paul W. Lipke died yesterday at Neepawa as a result of cutting her throat. Mrs. Lipke had been ill for several weeks and on Tuesday afternoon attempted to take her life by poison. Restoratives were administered and she was revived. She later, however, cut her throat, severing her windpipe and juglar vein, and desperately withstood all attempts to dress the wound until too late.

The family came from Perth about three years ago.

Report Not Complete.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Howard Hunter, inspector of insurance in Ontario, states that the list of losses suffered by insurance companies in the Ottawa-Hull fire, published in the dominion insurance inspector's report, which places the total loss at $2,662,097, is not complete because it gives only those companies incorporated under a dominion charter. There are some eleven included in the list.

Roberts Gives Evidence.

London, Sept. 13.—Lord Roberts gave evidence before the hospitals commission at Pretoria on Tuesday. He thought that no blame was attached to his officers in reference to the supply of military stores and equipment. He favored a departmental inquiry when the war was over into the questions which had been raised in connection with the army medical corps in time of war.

A Swiss Anarchist Arrested.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—A Swiss recently landed at Santander from the United States and thence proceeded for San Sebastian, where he was arrested, and his luggage searched. Documents were discovered hidden between the lining and the bottom of his trunk, revealing an anarchist plot to assassinate a European monarch.

Vessel Safe.

Detroit, Sept. 13.—A bulletin to the Journal from St. Joseph, Mich., says that the steamer Lawrence, which had been given up for lost, had been sighted labouring toward this port in an awful sea.

Heavy Sentences.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 13.—William McGuire and James Dowling, Bay City, Mich., were tried here yesterday for house-breaking and stealing. The former got fourteen years and the latter seven in Kingston penitentiary.

ASSAULTED THE GIRLS.

Took Them Out Driving and Then Abused Them.

The residents of Collingwood avenue, near Johnston street, were aroused last evening by the screams of a young woman, which ended as suddenly as they began. A few minutes after this disturbance a girl ran up the street and sought protection at the home of Lieut.-Col. Hunter. Mrs. Hunter was sitting in front of her house when the girl came up, and Col. Hunter was inside. The girl gave her name as Jessie Byron, her home being on Corrigan street. When taken into the house by the kind-hearted colonel, the girl was almost exhausted from running and was besides hysterical. When she revived she stated that she and her companion named Jessie Shea went driving with a young man named Ben. Smith, of Watertown, N.Y. He took them up Earl street and when near the athletic grounds attempted to assault them, one after the other. Both jumped from the rig, going in opposite directions; she did not know what had become of the Shea girl. A search of the surrounding neighborhood failed to discover her whereabouts.

Col. Hunter took the Byron girl home and then reported the occurrence to the police.

The Situation In China.

London, Sept. 12.—The reports of the massacres of missionaries in China forwarded to the Times by its Pekin correspondent, Dr. Morrison, combined with his charges of duplicity against Chinese officials, are producing a painful impression in England. The Times leads the English press in demanding that the empress be deprived of authority and the guilty officials punished. Britain, Germany, Japan, Italy, and Austria are reported to have rejected the Russian proposal to withdraw from Pekin.

The Last Day.

Of the fair is Friday. Every exhibit open—grand presentation of platform attractions, balloon ascension, etc., stock parade of prize animals on the track at 2.30 p.m. If you haven't been to the fair go Friday. The public say it is the best ever seen in Kingston. The horticulture exhibit is particularly fine; don't miss seeing it, also the dairy exhibit and palace.
