Principal's Message

This yearbook chronicles another year in the life of students at N.D.S.S. - a year that was certainly different than any we have experienced in the past. Even though extra-curricular activities were shut down for the second semester due to a teacher labour dispute, the spirit and commitment of your yearbook staff, headed by editors Megan Ryan and Dave Typer shone through. The result of this determination and hard work are reflected in these pages. On your behalf I want to extend a special thanks for their efforts in keeping the spark of the Trojan spirit alive. And now it is up to us to fan that spirit into flames as N.D.S.S. regains momentum heading into its 40th anniversary year. Remember not to worry about what's ahead. Just go as far as you can go - from there you can see farther!

And now for some wise, inspirational words that are always expected of a principal on this page. In his Creed for Optimists, Christian Larsen tells you how you can be somebody. Let me summarize a few of his thoughts:

- Be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
- Talk health, happiness and prosperity to everyone you meet.
- Make all of your friends feel they are somebody special.
- Look at the sunny side of everything.
- Think only the best, work only for the best, and expect only the best.
- Be as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
- Forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievement of the future.
- Give everyone a smile.
- Spend so much time improving yourself that you have no time left to outrage others.
- Be too big to worry and too noble for anger.

Have fun browsing through these pages this year - and in the years to come.

Remember always that in life the young and the old have all the answers. Those in between are the ones that are stuck with the questions.

D.D. MacMaster
Principal

President's Message

This year, that was like every other and yet not like any other, was filled with twists and turns, upward climbs and downward spirals. It had moments that are ingrained in our memory forever, and many pranks, cruel, calculated and clever. This year saw the death of Shannon Hoon, the double loon, cheerleaders swoon, and Mike Harris prune. We lost Norm and gained Waite, had Into the Woods applause, the infamous Colbey Claus, and battled work-to-rule days with a milk craze. We also heard much about Weiland's trips, Pamela's hips, Oprah diet tips, Stern's quips, O.J. clips, and chess-playing computer chips. It was the year of the Rat, the Raptors, the Puddle, the huddle, the Hobart Salesmen; Mr. Bean, the CK Jean, the Cyber scene, conversations, infatuations, ski vacations, procrastinations, party locations, Club Extreme, X-rated web sites, and the X-files.

And we survived. We survived through Mellon Collie, the Ebola virus, and even Striptease. We survived through a fire alarm epidemic as Ray made slinky's academic, we survived as Morrison was replaced with Morissette, and as the royal family made way for Evil Empire. We survived, and looking back, it wasn't sooo bad: a little ironic, don't ya think?

So I guess my word of advice for those of you returning for another tour of duty through these halls, is to just keep repeating "there's no place like high school," because there really isn't. And for those who are sailing on up to that Higher Ground of life after high school, only one saying seems fitting (although the chics hate it when you say things like this): "Check ya' later, dudes!"

Graham Tallman
Student's Council President - 1995/96

HAPPY RETIREMENT NORM!

On November 30, 1995, Norm Gray, Head Caretaker at NDSS, retired after countless years of service. Norm was presented with a number of gifts. The Student's Council, on behalf of all the students at NDSS, presented Norm with a pair of overalls signed by each and every student at NDSS. The staff presented Norm with a mounted overhead picture of the school. And Norm's janitorial staff presented him with the "golden broom" award. The gifts, only tokens of our appreciation, were presented to Norm during a surprise assembly. Norm was led into the assembly with the belief that he was going to clean-up some glass from a spotlight that had fallen...well no spc tlight had fallen, but we were ready to surprise Norm! Thanks for all your hard work, and dedication to NDSS, Norm. Have a great retirement!

Class of Nineteen Hundred and Ninety-Five COMMENCEMENT

Niagara District bid farewell and best of luck to another class of Trojans. The class of 1995 held their commencement ceremony at the beautiful Shaw Festival Theatre.

Awarded for their academic achievements and contribution to school life were: Donald Mak, Aaron Vanderwaal, Sonja Reiger and Heather Cobban, as were numerous other graduates who received awards for arts, academics and athletics. The valedictorians were Matt Peggs and Jessica Littlejohn, who combined forces to present a most unique valedictory address.

The annual commencement ceremony is held in mid-November.

Congratulations to all graduates. We know that wherever you go you will continue to hold the Trojan spirit in you. Best of luck!

WORK-TO-RULE

Just before the January exams were written, students at Niagara District, and at all other high schools in Lincoln County, found out that something called "Work-to-Rule" would cancel all their extra-curricular activities. What they didn't realize was that this would turn out to be a massive teacher labour dispute which would bring all activities at Niagara District to a screeching halt for the remainder of the year. So by 2:45 pm every day, the school halls looked like the above picture...empty. No students, no teachers, just silence. Some students (below) voiced their displeasure with a cafeteria sit-in, while others attended numerous information assemblies to have their concerns addressed. The dispute was resolved in late June.

INTO THE WOODS

After months, weeks and countless hours of practice, rehearsal and design by students at NDSS, Into the Woods was presented to the community at large. There were six performances, and all took place at the gorgeous Royal George Theatre in downtown Niagara-on-the-Lake. The performance was nothing short of spectacular! The sets were masterpieces. The costumes were splendid designs of creativity. The live orchestra was captivating. The actors were flawless in their delivery and presentation.

What a year for the Trojans with their Model United Nations (MUN) Debating! For the first time this year, ND actually put on its own MUN at the Lincoln County Board of Education Offices. Many hours of organization and planning went into this special one-day event. Rebecca Moore was the Secretary-General, Dave Typer was the CEO of Operations, Emily Bis was the Food and Beverage Co-ordinator and, of course, Mrs. Rothmel oversaw it all. Also giving big-time help were the Operations and Delegate Services Team (Darren Eke, Len Wiens and Jeremy Mitchell.) To everyone else involved, thank-you very much. Way to go Trojans!

25th Anniversary Model Parliament

After 25 years of raising awareness through experience, the NDSS Model Parliament Program is still running strong. All grade 10 students participate in it as part of their history course. Neil Tokar took the reins as the Prime Minister, while Erin King assumed the role of the Leader of the Official Opposition. Nick Ruller and Ray Wiecha were the leaders of the N.D.P. and Reform parties, respectively. The debate was lively and ferocious as students debated momentous issues such as the Legalization of Hemp, Prison Reform, Canadian Military Involvement in Somalia and University Scholarships.

There was also a special surprise for the 25th anniversary, as House of Commons Speaker Gilbert Parent presided as the speaker over N.D.'s Model Parliament. All students thoroughly enjoyed the experience of having Mr. Parent come and share his knowledge and wisdom with them. Furthermore, the whole Model Parliament was televised on Rogers Cable-10 for all of the Niagara Region to see. Way to go Trojans!

Activities

Grade 9 Orientation

The Student's Council, along with the help of some other senior Trojans, welcomed the new Grade Nines to Niagara District this year. The new, soon-to-be Trojans participated in teamwork-building activities on a beautiful September morning. Afterwards they were treated to a free B.B.Q. lunch courtesy of the NDSS Student's Council.

WORK-A-THON

This was another wildly successful Work-a-thon for Niagara District this year. This year participants were able to directly funnel all the money they earned to the club or group of their choice. Many students had jobs raking, cleaning, mowing, trimming, weeding, destructing and constructing. One group of students went down to McNab Creek area to work on the rejuvenation plan there. Another group of students went to Lock 3-Mini Golf to work on construction projects there. Many other students went to their neighbour's or their friend's house to work on various tasks there. Well done N.D.!

Milk Activities

We Trojans really chugged the milk down this year... so much that we won ourselves a free dance. The mission was issued to the Trojans by ND's Student's Council. The goal? To be in the top percentile of ALL schools in Ontario for milk consumption. The reward? A free, all-expense paid, video dance. Many milk-related activities were held which drew attention to the cause, and then in June we were awarded with our free dance. Way to go Trojans!

Europe Trip '96

MARCH 6 - MARCH 16, 1996

Limericks from the NDSS 1996
March Break Athens-Paris Trip

by Dave Regier

The long, shining hair of Miss Froese
Gets attention wherever she goes
She strolls down the 'rues'
In her cut-down black shoes
And listens to all Ian's woes.

A streaky-haired femme is Siobhan
Whose response to French wine was,
"Tres bon!"

She gulped and she sipped
'Till her good judgement slipped
And she found that her scruples
were gone

When Rita decided her hair
Should be short so it needed less care,
How was she to know
When sightseeing she'd go
They'd call her 'Sir' most everywhere

When trav'ling with shy Laurel
Goertz,
We notice whenever she flirts
The guys look confused
And somewhat bemused
And shrink back inside their big shirts

When volleyball star Megan Snider
Decided Jask Ramburn should guide her
On her march Break travels,
It all came unravelled.
"Work-to-rule" put an old guy beside her.

A blond, spike-haired fellow named Kyle
Tried going abroad for a while.
His idea of fun
Was to gnaw a hard bun
And ride Paris Metros in style.

When Ian was challenged to play
At Ping-Pong one fine March Break day,
He soon realized
The win he prized,
Would instead be a lost bet to pay.

A smooth power-forward named Zak
Gave ev'ry opponent a whack!
'Till he opened his eyes
And learned that nice guys
End up at the top of the stack.

The fresh-tinted hair of Costello
Looks exceedingly strange on a fellow.
Maybe lots of shampoo
And some old 'mountain dew'
Will cause the condition to mellow.

When Phil took his courage in hand
And let Siobhan bleach that first strand,
How was he to know
That the bright golden glow
Would make him the star of the land?

A sharp, wiry fellow named Wiech
Stuck close to the guides like a leach.
Whatever was mentioned
Got his close attention,
If 'twas only a figure of speech.

A chunky young student named Eke
Just couldn't remember to speak
In the tongue of the land,
So he held up his hand
And said, "To me it's all Greek!"

When Jordan, the hustler decides
To take suckers out for a ride
His super agility
And Ping-Pong ability
Cause a smile that he just cannot hide.

A loquacious fellow named Ure
Professed to have motives so pure
But when push came to shove
It was clear that self-love
Was a malady he couldn't cure.

Why is it that poetry flows
Like snot from an old runny nose?
It sure isn't great
So there's no use to wait
You're lucky I didn't choose prose!

Can't We All Just Get Along?

Everyone is lovely.
Everyone is kind.
Everyone would notice,
if we weren't so blind.

We worry about what people think,
and take it as a slag.
If we learn from their "helpful words",
good fortune's in the bag.

But we can't see, the simplicity
that may the world unite,
We fear all change, and love to blame,
And so we feud and fight.

We're afraid to face
the child inside, for fear of lost control.
Adults have all the power and might,
so we assume the roll.

What's said for love and companionship,
and good old fashioned kindness?
We lost all that when power we craved,
'cause power is short for blindness.

Fear Bred Panic

Like a poor soldier he ran from falling mine,
Thunder blasts roaring behind him.
Dust stinging,
Rocks pelting.
Never looking back.

Shakes to Cave-ins
Trembles to Earth-Quakes,
Fear breeds Panic.

Pursuing life that was running ever faster,
Cracking ground beneath him,
Charging the crumbling death.

Torrents of stone,
Hail of rock,
Ground breaking apart,
Supporting lumber destroyed.

The explosions sounded as hell opened behind him,
Chilling death tapped on his shoulder.
Running faster, faster,
Loose rocks slid beneath his feet in haste,
Panic and despair his only company.

Charging the light ahead like a bull,
Diving for the protection of the open fields,
The rocks pelting stronger in ignored attempts at Falling the panic stricken beast charging away from the Crashing cannons of death roaring in his ears.

Diving over a break in the ground,
Falling,
Horror,
Grasping hands wildly scraping the edge of security.
Clinging to the fallen crevasse wall in horrifying panic,
Sweaty hands, loosing fingers...

Midnight-X-press

Foul rank odours
Reek through the room.
Musty aromas
Pungent incense mixed
With sweat, urine.
Smoke hangs motionless
In the still, stale air.
People crowd
Body to body.
Cramped, packed
Electric currents spike
Through each one.
The clock ticks,
The clock tocks
Time inches by on
The back of death
Riding in the folds
Of his black robe.
Mercy is forgotten.
All that is left is
The rawness of it
The sheer rawness.
Each man's fear
Hale festers and
Grows until there
Is nothing but
The tick and tock
Of death's rusty clock.

Exchange Student

Roland Passier

It was a distinct pleasure for us here at Niagara District to welcome Roland Passier to our high school for both semesters this year. Roland, from the Netherlands, was here on an exchange program. We will never forget his witty and fun remarks he made about practically anything! It was truly a pleasure to have you with us Roland. Best of luck!

1995-96 Yearbook Team

First and foremost we would like to recognize the members of our team: Graham Tallman (Chief Photographer), Chris Grimwood (Advertising and Sales), Ellen Vanderwall (Research and Layout), Olivia Wilson (Research and Layout), Bill Horwood (Layout), Darren Eke (Research and Layout) and Jennifer Heath (Graphic Artist). Each one of these people put in countless hours of time and effort into making this year's yearbook something to remember.

Next, we would like to acknowledge the support and aid of several staff members at District: Ted, for always being there to snap a roll of pics, or roll up a roll for us...thanks again Ted...you did an awesome job! Mr. Swanson (our Financial Man) for ensuring that the yearbook doesn't contribute to the National Debt. Mr. Rowatt for assisting with sales and distribution, as well as his unselfish permission to let us use his photocopier. Mr. Grimwood for letting us use the computers and laser printers whenever we needed. And, of course, the co-operation of ALL other staff for letting us temporarily interfere with their classes so that we might capture the year on film.

We also thank the Niagara Advance for "bailing us out" with Model Parliament pictures, when we discovered that ours did not turn out because we exposed our film. Also Mr. Ted Kingdon for snapping us the shots of the FLCA Pilleterri Wine Gala...thanks! Ray, and his Heritage Images team also deserve a round of applause for their excellent service that they provided us day in, and day out.

We hope that you enjoy this book this year. We tried as best we could to capture the spirit and emotion of this most interesting year at Niagara District.

Sincerely,
Editors,
Meagan Ryan
