THE BEST THING for a man to do is to combine pleasure and expense to develop his muscles and gain stamina. The man who hunts does this. He develops his quickness of thought and mind, and his chase leads him through hills and valleys, putting every one of the muscles of his body to the closest test. COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

What is Going on in the Business World—The Market News.

Advices from the Columbia River, dated October 2nd, say: "Fall fish are not running. So far not ten per cent. of the pack has been put up."

A coast telegram says that Hooched Sultans are very scarce, buyers there paying 5c. to 7c. premium and even offering 5c. advance.

The president of the California canned fruit association says no reduction will be made by the association, and he desires the trade to understand this is authoritative and final.

Many of the Denia shippers are short of raisins, and, it is said, will be unable to fill contracts. Nearly everything is reported to have been shipped from the other side, England having bought very heavily.

It is said that forty per cent. of the Minneapolis flour milling capacity will be closed down because of the lack of flour demand. The Kansas millers are underselling the northwestern spring wheat mills. The foreign flour demand is poor.

The total exports of cheese from Montreal last week amounted to 55,895, against 92,191 for the same week last year; the total sales this season to date is 1,664,885, against 1,512,387 for the same time last year. The total exports of butter last week amounted to 3,185, against 36,612 for the same week last year; total this season to date, 223,507, against 203,674 for the same time last year.

Returns of the sugar production in France from the crop of the year 1899-1900 show that the total quantity of beetroot worked up was 7,394,475 tons. The supposed yield of sugar, estimated at 7.75 per cent. for taxation, was 573,071 tons, but the actual yield calculated in refined sugar was 822,377 tons, or 11.12 per cent. The difference of 249,306 tons between the quantity on which duty was paid and that produced represents the quantity that escapes taxation in France but it sold to the consumer with the amount of the duty of over 600 francs per ton added. This profit forms the indirect bounty that permits producers to export their surplus under cost to foreign countries.

It appears that last year some 600,000 acres were sown to flax in North Dakota and the yield was in the neighborhood of 7,200,000 bushels of seed. The price of flaxseed took a sudden jump in the market, and the farmers who were fortunate enough to have raised a crop of it reaped a rich reward. The crop is measured by the number of bushels of seed, because up to within the last few months no steps were taken to create a market value for the straw. It was quite as much of a waste as wheat straw, most of it being burned as refuse.

But last spring representatives of a large flax fibre company of Boston and London were induced to visit the state. They had experts examine the straw to determine its adaptability to the manufacture of paper under a patent held by them. The experts pronounced it as fine as any straw cultivated solely for the fibre. The outcome was the erection of a huge flax fibre mill in Fargo, with a capacity for working up 1,000 tons of flax straw per month. This will give the farmers of the state a market to that extent for what was formerly a waste product. With the seed and the straw both merchantable, the farmers ought to do exceedingly well raising flax.

To Give Them A Reception.

Limestone lodge, A.O.U.W., held their regular meeting last night. They have heard that the second contingent will arrive home in January, and as four of its officers are members of Limestone lodge the latter has decided to prepare a grand reception and concert. The lodge appointed a strong committee to look after arrangements, and voted a substantial sum of money to defray expenses. The four officers and members are Lieut.-Col. Gordon, Lieut.-Col. Hudon, Dr. Duff and veterinary-surgeon Massie.

Granites Greatly Crippled.

Granites chances of winning at Hamilton to-morrow are very slim. With Hazlett laid up with a broken leg, and Milo confined to his home to-day through illness, the scrimmage will be very weak. Granite back division and wings will have to play a fast game in order to beat the Tigers, who are going up against a crippled team.

It has been learned at a later hour that Curtis will play on the half line, and Jack Elliott on the wing. McDonald's face was poisoned a few days ago, and his condition to-day will likely prevent him from playing.

Convicted For Begging.

John Greenwood, who looks as if the world used him very harshly, was charged at the police court this morning with being drunk and begging on the streets during the past week. He was taxed $3 and costs or one month in jail.

John Gallagher, a peg-leg, had the same offence to answer for, and, in an endeavor to be impartial, the magistrate asked John to deposit $3 and costs or be jailer Corbett's guest for a month.

Return To The City.

FRANCE IS INTERESTED

RESULT OF THE ELECTIONS CAUSES APPREHENSION.

Afraid of Chamberlain—If He Becomes Predominant in Government—Felt in France War May Easily be Provoked.

Paris, Oct. 12.—The British general election is exciting a good deal of interest and comment in continental Europe. The opinion is universal that it is a personal triumph for Mr. Chamberlain, and that if he becomes predominant in the British government an era of aggression and jingoism will be inaugurated, which will seriously threaten the peace of Europe.

In France especially are sober men anxious. It is felt that if in future difficulties arising out of Newfoundland, Siam, Africa, etc., the negotiations are in the hands of Mr. Chamberlain, war may easily be provoked, especially as Chamberlain is likely, as in the case of the Transvaal, to refuse all compromise, and to offer to settle on the basis of absolute surrender by the other party.

After Fashoda, France will never again back down completely, and with Chamberlain at the British helm things are likely to go to extremes.

WILL BE NO INTERVENTION

Notwithstanding Pleasant Story Here Put Up.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 12.—E. P. Wessels, special commissioner of the South African republic to the United States, to-day received a letter from the Boer envoy in Holland, containing the first reliable and definite information of the plans of president Kruger that has been made public. The letter states that president Kruger will leave Delagoa Bay on the Netherlands warship Gelderlan early in October and thus he probably has embarked already.

In regard to the intimation in the British newspapers that English warships will be sent in pursuit, Mr. Wessels said that the envoys were in a position to state officially that any such action by England would be accepted by the Netherlands as a direct declaration of war.

President Kruger bears a commission from the Boer republics, but exactly what it is not even the envoys know. They suppose, however, that he will endeavor to secure intervention by one or all the European powers. The envoys have preceded their president to several of the continental countries and have found among the people a uniform and almost unanimous pro-Boer sentiment, which they hope will be potent enough to force action by the respective governments.

FIVE MISSIONS DESTROYED.

The Rebellion is Becoming Quite Anti-Foreign.

London, Oct. 12.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says the rebellion in the province of Kwan Tung is becoming anti-foreign and that five missions have been destroyed at Han King Chau.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—An official contradiction has been issued of the reports that an invasion of Shan Tung province is contemplated.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—The Chinese minister here has left town. It is believed he has gone to the Crimea to see the czar.

TO MEET—GERMANY?

What a Russian General is Declared to Have Said.

London, Oct. 12.—The Moscow correspondent of the Standard attaches significance to a speech made by the Russian general, in command at Wilna, to some troops that had been ordered to China, but were recalled from Odessa on the very evening of sailing.

He says that the general in addressing the men made this explanation: "The czar decided that it was necessary to bring you back to Wilna so that you might be ready to join us against a foe we shall be ordered to meet."

The correspondent adds that the foe hinted at can be only Germany.

HE STOLE $8,000

And Will Spend Four Years in the Penitentiary.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 12.—W. J. McCaskey, book-keeper of the Hastings saw mill company, to-day, was convicted of misappropriating funds from the firm. The judge recommended him to mercy on the grounds that the slack methods obtaining in the company's offices were responsible for the pilferings. He was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. His defalcations amounted to $8,000.

THURSDAY'S ELECTIONS.

The Government Now Two Seats Ahead of Last Session.

London, Oct. 12.—The results of yesterday's election given out this morning give the unionists four gains and the liberals three, their respective totals of gains thirty-four and thirty-two. The total number elected is 623, as follows: Ministerialists, 383; opposition, 242.

Challenge Has Arrived.

New York, Oct. 12.—The challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton for another series of races for the America's cup, which arrived here to-day, was received by J. S. V. Oddie, secretary of the new York yacht club, this morning. He said the challenge would be considered at a meeting of the club called specially for Oct. 17th, and that its text would not be made public until after that meeting.

ELOPEMENTS ARE RARE.

Parental Consent Required No Matter What the Age.

Elopements are of very infrequent occurrence in France, a fact that is due in large measure to the peculiarity of the French law pertaining to marriages. Not only must the contracting parties—up to any age—have the written consent of their parents, but also in case of the death of their parents they must obtain the consent of their grandparents. Here is a case instanced by a correspondent whose friend, Suzanne B., was engaged to Henri S. Both were orphans, yet it was several months before the ceremony could be performed because of the number of papers and certificates which were necessary for the celebration of their nuptials. No less than fourteen certificates were absolutely indispensible, and Suzanne, as well as her fiancee, was obliged to show in default of their parents' presence or written consent: First, her father's death certificate; second, her mother's death certificate; third, her father's father's death certificate; fourth, her father's mother's death certificate; fifth, her mother's father's death certificate; sixth, her mother's mother's death certificate; seventh, her own birth certificate. Several months elapsed before all these papers could be got together.

When at last all was ready Suzanne B. appeared at the mairie and inquired when she might be married. "Have you the consent of your conseil de famille" (family council, which regulates the affairs of orphans and minors) was the question. "No. My parents died intestate." "Then you can't be legally married." "But I have no conseil de famille." "Well, then, get one as soon as possible," was the reply. And poor Suzanne was forced to write to all her relatives in all corners of France—many of whom she had never seen—and ask them to come up to Paris to form a conseil de famille. After much expense, worry and trouble, not to speak of lawyers' fees, etc., the various members of the conseil de famille were at last collected together to give their consent to the marriage of Suzanne and Henri.

HE IS A CANADIAN.

Doctor Criticized by Roberts is From the Dominion.

London Express.

Dr. Herbert Prior Veale, M.B., of Cambridge, is an English medico, who has been a resident of the Boer capital for nearly ten years, after good experience in Canada. He was a Transvaaller burgher since 1895, and became locum tenens at the state artillery when the military chief of the corps was away on commando. During the war he was principal medical officer of the Boer forces at the capital, and showed considerable skill and business acumen in organizing the central distribution for the requirements of the various Boer Red Cross sections in the field. Dr. Veale seems to have incurred much criticism from Lord Roberts in his treatment of the British prisoners of war; but those on the spot during the time know that the doctor, being an Englishman by birth, was subjected to much unnecessary suspicion and annoyance by certain high officials, who vetoed in the supreme offices many suggestions made by Dr. Veale on behalf of his countrymen, who were in trouble in the enemy's land.

Dr. Veale's brother-in-law is, by-the-bye, advocate Wessels, the famous pro-Uitlander Cape Afrikander, who is to-day legal adviser in the Transvaal. His father-in-law is Lieut.-Col. Bent Duff, commanding the Cape Town highlanders and one of the most esteemed administrative chiefs of the colonial civil service. To say that Dr. Veale is a man of brutal or heartless tendencies would be to libel a clever medical officer, whose extraordinary personal devotion to his patients during the war, whether Boers or British officers, was only equalled by his organizing the best hospital in Pretoria during the troubles—the famous "Bourke" volunteer institution, of which fifty British officers, who recovered there from illness or wounds, can tell the best tales.

The doctor is now at Cape Town with his family.

THE GOAT WOULD KNOW MOST.

Horace Greeley Got Back at One Who Insulted Him.

Chicago Chronicle.

Horace Greeley's humor was generally of the barbed arrow sort, that left a sore behind. On one occasion which he was a power in New York journalism he was sitting on a hotel piazza in Peekskill, quietly scanning the columns of that morning's Tribune, when a stranger came along, glanced contemptuously at the paper he was reading and remarked:

"Fine sheet you've got there, mister. I used to read it myself, but I've subscribed for a decent newspaper now, and as fast the Tribune comes along I feed it to my goat. That's all it's good for."

Mr. Greeley looked at the man with a quizzical smile.

"So you feed your goat on Tribunes, do you?" he asked in the mildest of accents.

"Yes, sir. I do!" blustered the stranger.

"All right, my friend," said Mr. Greeley, quietly, "keep right on reading some other paper and feeding your goat on Tribunes, and I'll guarantee in three months time the goat will know considerably more about what is going on in the world than its owner does."

TEETSEL WILL RUN.

Resigns His Place as Mayor of Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 12.—Mayor J. V. Teetsel Q.C., handed in his resignation as mayor of Hamilton to the city clerk this morning and requested him to call a special meeting of the city council to appoint his successor. When mayor Teetsel was a candidate for mayoralty honors he gave his pledge if elected that he would not accept nomination for either the provincial or dominion parliament during his term in office as mayor. It is expected that mayor Teetsel will receive and accept the nomination for the dominion parliament at the reform convention to be held here to-night. He will likely have as running mate Mr. Wood, M.P.

Never, perhaps, has her majesty laughed so heartily as at a crofter's cottage, near Balmoral. The day was misty and disagreeable, the guid wife brought a glass of whiskey, which the queen put to her lips only. With highland hospitality, the good woman pressed some more, to which her good man rejoined, "Toots, woumon, dinna press her majesty; she mekka had a drap afor she com' here."

CANDIDATES TO BE NAMED

FOR DIFFERENT CONSTITUENCIES IN MONTREAL.

Mr. Tarte to Give a Final Answer on Monday—Gifts From The Clergy of the Diocese of Montreal to Bishop-Elect Mills.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be here to-morrow when the candidates in the different constituencies for the city and island of Montreal will be settled. Mr. Tarte, asked by the liberals of Beauharnois to run there has promised a final answer on Monday.

The clergy of the diocese of Montreal will present archdeacon Mills with an episcopal ring, and the clergy of the diocese of Ontario with a pectoral cross and chain, the laity of Ontario with an episcopal throne for St. George's cathedral, Kingston, and a personal friend with a staff, on the occasion of his elevation to the bishopric of Ontario.
