HOW A SCHEME FAILED

Seeming to Round Up Two Thousand Boers.

WERE ABLE TO GET AWAY

BECAUSE NORTHERN COLUMN MISTOOK ROAD.

The Boers Persistent in Their Raids in the Face of Punishment—Several Slight Engagements With Loss of Life—Boer Laager Secured.

Pretoria, Oct. 15.—Towards the latter part of September information was received at Kroonstadt that the Boer generals would hold a conference with Gen. Dewet, at Heilborn, on Sept. 26th. The British immediately elaborated a scheme to surround and capture them. Col. Knox's infantry brigade, Porter's cavalry, Dalgetty's colonials, Delisle's mounted infantry, and W. Knox's details were ordered to proceed to Heilbron to put the plan into execution. On the first and second days of the march nothing occurred. The troops formed a circle sixty miles in circumference around Heilbron, but they were closely watched by Boer patrols, who occasionally fired sniping shots at them. On the third day as the cavalry approached the town they were opposed by a large force of Boers, who were holding a position on Vichtkop. The cavalry cleared the hill and a shrapnel fire was poured after the retreating burghers. In the afternoon of the same day, just as the cavalry were bivouacking, a strong force of Boers, commanded by Gen. Dewet personally, made a determined attack on them. Gen. Porter handled his brigade magnificently. He took up such a position that the attack was rendered ineffective and compelled the Boers to retire to Heilbron. Meanwhile Gen. Knox advanced to Pader Kaaral, Gen. Dalgetty to Witkyk, and Gen. Delisle to Elsandspruit, reducing the circumference of the Boer circle to twenty miles.

The next day the Boers disputed Gen. Porter's advance on Heilbron from the south-east. There was heavy fighting, but the cavalry were not to be stopped. They took hill after hill in grand style. The artillery did good work. Finally the two thousand Boers, who were opposing the British and holding the town fled to the north-east, leaving in such a hurry that they left their transports behind. It was hoped that they would be turned by the northern column, but the latter unfortunately mistook the road and the Boers got away to the Klip river. The scheme of the British, therefore, failed.

Despatches From Roberts.

London, Oct. 15.—The war office has received the following despatch from lord Roberts dated Pretoria, Friday:

"The Boers have been making many successful raids, and are interfering with railway and telegraphic communications. The damage is quickly repaired, and severe punishments inflicted, but the Boers are remarkably persistent.

"There have been several slight engagements with small bands of enemy. The total British casualties were five killed and six wounded.

The war office has received the following from lord Roberts dated Pretoria, Saturday, Oct. 13th:

"A satisfactory little affair occurred near Frankfort, Thursday. Col. Grove, with the West Kents surprised a Boer laager at dawn, killed seven, wounded nine, and captured eighteen."

The Telegraph's correspondent at Lorenzo Marques cables an interview had by him with president Kruger's grandson, Eloff, who accompanies his grandfather to Europe. He says he did not think president Kruger intended to return to South Africa. He did not suppose the British would allow him to land if he did return. He denied that his grandfather had gone on board the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, which does not sail before next Thursday. When he did embark he would do so openly, under the auspices of the governor of Lorenzo Marques.

Civil Administration.

London, Oct. 15.—As a mark of the opening of lord Salisbury's government, under the new parliament, Sir Alfred Milner started, Saturday, from Cape Town for Pretoria to initiate a civil administration in the Transvaal. The British elections have simplified his mission as the results confirm his policies equally with Mr. Chamberlain's, and without asking for the disclosure by the government of its scheme it is known that it is along general lines that of a crown colony, with an administration similar to those of Ceylon and the West Indies, until Sir Alfred Milner advises that an elective element shall share in the control. His temperament is anti-military, and it is certain that he will seek the quickest exit from the present irritating incompetence of Junio officers holding magisterial positions.

The result of the elections, moreover, has been to reject Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman's advocacy, repeated after his own election, that the plan of former Boer institutions be continued and nothing be done to make the Boers feel that their independence was lost. It is not expected that Cecil Rhodes will have any advisory voice in the settlement. His South African league congress at Cape Town this week has fallen flat, and his hostile reference to Mr. Rose-Innes has also succeeded in bringing from Sir Alfred Milner an intimation that he will ask Mr. Rose-Innes to re-establish the Transvaal judiciary.

Can Quit The Service.

Cape Town, Oct. 15.—The mayor has received a telegram from Gen. Roberts announcing that colonial volunteers, on active service in the Orange River colony, may return home as soon as possible after to-morrow. Gen. Roberts expresses the hope, however, that many of the volunteers will remain in the field until the termination of the war, and says that their leaving now will have the worst possible effect.

A despatch from Mafeking states that Australian bushmen had an engagement Friday at Lietpoort, two miles from Malmani, with a force of Boers who for a considerable time had been strongly entrenched in the kopjes north-east of Malmani. The British loss was two wounded. The Boers left seven dead on the field.

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.

What The Vote Has Developed—Changes in the Cabinet.

London, Oct. 15.—Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour were at the foreign office on Saturday and received visits from such influential party admirers as the duke of Abercorn and Mr. Akers Douglas. This is interesting here in view of the cabinet changes expected by the people. Those who are expecting a sensational reorganization will be disappointed. The queen will hold a privy council at Balmoral on Tuesday, and probably the world will know all that is necessary of lord Salisbury's plan in the next day or two.

There is some authority for stating that lord George Hamilton, the present secretary for India, will be transferred to the admiralty and the marquis of Lansdowne from the war to the India office. In that event the Right Hon. William Albert Hanbury, the financial treasurer, will be promoted to the all important post of minister of war. There will also be some shuffling of minor posts, according to current rumor. Lord Salisbury will have to find a peer to succeed lord Cadogan as viceroy of Ireland. Lord George Hamilton has had much administrative experience. Mr. Hanbury is probably, next to Mr. Chamberlain, the ablest man in the government, although "the man in the street" knows, curiously, little of him. Early this year he was asked to succeed the duke of Norfolk as postmaster-general, but he refused because the post was not accompanied by a seat in the cabinet.

The result of the election was forecasted by Mr. Chamberlain, who was confident that the majority would not be less than 110 and was fairly certain that it would reach 135. He stated on Friday to a friend that the general election had furnished him with only two serious disappointments, one the success of Mr. Labouchere, in his contest for re-election from Northampton, and the other the triumph of the liberal candidate in Rugby, Currie Grant, one of Mr. Chamberlain's most bitter and determined enemies.

Mr. Grant will be sure to take a leading hand in "Chamberlain-baiting," one of the most popular recreations of the advanced liberals.

In Saturday's elections the conservatives met with a slight setback. The liberals gained four seats, as against a conservative gain of one, thus leaving the net gains even at thirty-five each up to date and the ministerialists' majority in the house unchanged.

Up to the present the ministerialists have elected 398 members and the opposition 259. A N Ford, thus sums up the situation: "Seven elections take place to-day, as many next week. The government's triumph is complete, since it retains the immense majority which it had at the time of dissolution. The most liberals can say is that the 'khaki enthusiasm' has not increased materially that majority, and that it falls short of the majority at the last election. The usual comments are heard that it will leave an unmanageable majority, and that the government will be stronger and safer if the balance between the parties in the commons were less. The same morals were drawn five years ago, but the heavy battalions remained session after session in unimpaired discipline. Ireland has gone strongly nationalist and Welsh liberalism has gained ground, but England and Scotland have demonstrated by a large increased conservative majority vote their sympathy with the imperialists. The united kingdom, at the close of the most important campaign since Waterloo, has taken a broad rather than a narrow view of the rational obligations and destinies. While there is a good deal of fresh blood in the new parliament, Winston Churchill is the young man with the promise of a potency of career, and he is in a fair way of being spoiled by flattery."

Smallpox Scare In Alaska.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—Word comes from Alaska of many cases of smallpox there, and that people are considerably worked up, being afraid of an epidemic. All vessels coming from Alaskan ports are now examined thoroughly on arriving here. A tug is sent out to meet all Alaskan vessels, and warn them not to land any passengers or merchandise until a clean bill of health has been given by the quarantine doctors.

Opening Of Grand Central Station.

New York, Oct. 15.—The new waiting room of the Grand Central station was opened to the public to-day. It has many new features which excite the admiration of the patrons of the New York Central and Hudson River, the New York, Hartford and New Haven, and the Harlem railroads.

By showing Kingston's determination in regard to its college, it will prevent Ottawa from securing, a reason why it should offer to endow a Queen's university at Ottawa. Kingston's welfare demands the passing of the by-law.

Message From Archbishop Gauthier.

This morning the Whig telegraphed his grace archbishop Gauthier at Gananoque asking this question:

"Do you favor Queen's by-law? If so please send message to Kingstonians through Whig."

In reply his grace said:

"I earnestly hope the by-law will pass with a good majority."

DIVISION IS IMMINENT.

China May Be Sliced Among the Powers.

GERMAN AIM IS DICTATOR.

BUT THE OTHER POWERS ARE NOT WILLING.

Japan, it is Said, Will Likely Secure Corea—The United States Wants Money and a Coaling Station—Think the Report Due to a Desire to Provoke English Occupation.

Pekin, Oct. 15.—In regard to a division of Chinese territory among the powers it seems the opinion of most of the officers here that if there is such apportionment Japan will obtain Corea. Every one seems to believe a division is imminent and all think America is hardly likely to be taken into consideration. It is generally conceded that the most she wants is a money indemnity and possibly a coaling station. The Germans claim that they have the greatest right to dictate the terms of peace, on account of the murder of her minister, but the other ministers claim that they having been besieged, bombarded and in peril of their lives for weeks, constitutes just as much of an affront to their respective nations as though they had been killed.

To Provoke Occupation.

New York, Oct. 13.—A despatch from Berlin says the German government is well satisfied with the excellent relations between the German and Russian forces in China. On the other side the English reports of a rebellion in south China are discredited at Berlin as merely for the object of provoking English occupation.

An American Hero At Pekin.

London, Oct. 15.—The Times prints a long account of the siege of the legations at Pekin. The correspondent says that on June 7th the American missionaries at Tung-Chow asked Mr. Conger, the United States minister, to send an escort there to bring them to Pekin. Mr. Conger declined on the ground that such a mission would be too dangerous, but W. S. Ament took fourteen carts from Pekin to Tung-Chow, a distance of fourteen miles, and rescued twenty-three missionaries, "an act of devotion and courage," says the correspondent, "which seemed to us who knew the country to be a deed of heroism."

The Chinese Troubles.

Two German warships and several English and French gunboats have been ordered to remain at Canton.

An imperial decree thanks the Russians for withdrawing their troops from Pekin. The Russians did not withdraw until after they had looted all the treasure available. The Russians also balance their withdrawal with the occupation of all Manchuria.

The work of constructing the railway from Kiaochou to Kaumi has been resumed under German military protection.

Gen. Yuan Shi Kai retired fifty kilometres from the railway when requested to do so by the governor, Herr Jaeschke.

The Germans have occupied Kaumi. They seem to be following the methods adopted by Russia in Manchuria.

Gen. Frey, commander of the French forces in China, has requested to be relieved from his duties because of ill-health.

A Shanghai despatch says the foreign garrisons have been strengthened owing to the threatening conditions in the southern provinces. The rebels have massed 10,000 men in Sze Chuan, and are marching toward Hachon Fu.

A despatch from Hong Kong says the rebels who have been victorious over admiral Hoe, who was pursuing them to the north, left forty killed and the rebels took many prisoners. Many Chinese soldiers were beheaded.

Six cities in the Waechau perfecture have been occupied by the rebels and the situation is serious. There is also danger in Canton owing to the depletion of the garrison for service.

All the powers except Japan have responded to the note of M. Delcasse concerning China. The failure of Japan to make reply is attributed to a ministerial crisis.

Transcontinental Agreement.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Eighteen western railroads have signed the articles of agreement of the Transcontinental passenger association, which became effective to-day. The Rio Grande western railroad has declined to sign the agreement until assured that its traffic relations with certain roads will not be affected by the rules of the association. This road also insists that the headquarters of the association shall not be located east of the Missouri river. It wants them in Denver. Most of the roads want the association located in Chicago, but it may go to Kansas City.

Checkers Championship.

Boston, Oct. 15.—Checker players are enthusiastic over the match now in progress for $1,000 a side and the world's championship, at the American house. The rooms have been thronged since play began. The contestants are Mr. Parker, of Scotland, holder of the world's championship, and Charles F. Barker, of this city. If Barker fails to wrest the championship from his opponent his friend, Samuel Grover, of Cambridge, will attempt it.

Hundredth Anniversary.

Newport, R.I., Oct. 15.—The establishment of Methodism and the 100th anniversary of the First Methodist church, in this city, is being celebrated with great enthusiasm. The exercises began yesterday and will continue to and include next Sunday. Friday has been designated as "Old Folks' Day."

Sanford's boy's Suits. Grand Union.

THE PARADE STATES

Of The Troops Serving In South Africa.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 15.—A report was received to-day at the militia department from Lieut.-Col. Evans, commanding the Canadian mounted rifles. The parade state showed 184 on parade, 107 sick and one missing.

Lieut.-Col. Lessard, commanding the Royal Canadian Dragoons, writes from Belfast on Sept. 30th: There was on parade, 150, on detachment, 38; sick, 106; missing, No. 92, Pte. W. Wingard. The battalion was doing out-post duty at Belfast all week.

Lieut.-Col. Otter reports that his parade state was effected at Erste Fabricken, Silverton, and an armoured train at Vereening 516 in command; 37 sick and doing duty at various rest camps, 179, total 805.

SIR WILFRID'S DENIAL.

Neither He Nor His Colleagues Asked Money From Mr. Cook.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has issued an authorized statement denying emphatically that either he or any of his colleagues in the dominion government, ever made a demand upon H. H. Cook for any money for a senatorship.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—A petition is to be laid before the governor-general reciting H. H. Cook's charges of having been asked for $10,000 for a senatorship and asking his excellency to "take such measures as may be deemed advisable to discover all the facts, to punish the guilty, to put an end to the practice, and to restore the good name of Canada, which has been sullied by this deplorable revelation."

ENTERED THE LISTS

And Will Contest Against a Nephew of Sir Wilfrid's.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—Horace Either, banker and mayor of St. Lin, accepted the conservative candidature against Charlemange Laurier, nephew of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in L'Assumption county.

Sales of 1,111 properties by sheriff's sale for non-payment of civic taxes were to be held to-day, but all the cases but fifteen were settled by the payment of the taxes.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, accompanied by Hon. Messrs. Fielding and Blair, are here to-day and leave for Toronto to-night.

MAY BE ADJUSTMENT

In the Troubles in the Pennsylvania Coal Mines.

New York, Oct. 15.—So far as could be learned up to noon to-day the executive officers of the big coal carrying railroads here had recieved no "official" notice of action taken by the united mine workers' union at the Scranton convention last Saturday. The independent operators seem to be waiting for some action on the part of the railroads. While they all refused to be quoted, a leading operator expressed an opinion that matters were now in a fair way of adjustment.

CAPT. SHIELDS ALIVE.

Rescued With His Men From His Filipino Capturers.

Manila, Oct. 15.—Capt. Devereux Shields, who, with fifteen men of company "F" 29th regiment, United States volunteer infantry, was captured by the insurgents last month in the island of Marinduque, was rescued yesterday, with all the members of his party.

A Lad Injured.

Cornwall, Ont., Oct. 15.—Percy Fawthorp aged eleven, had his eight fingers cut off on Saturday by being thrown off a shunting train at the Ottawa and New York railway station, on Saturday. He fell with his hands across the rails.

Resigned Commission.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 15.—Capt. Evans has resigned his commission in the Royal Canadian regiment here and leaves for home this afternoon. He commanded the Montreal company. Lieut.-Col. Ogilvie has been appointed temporarily in command.

Die of Bubonic Fever.

Montevideo, Oct. 15.—The British Highland Prince from Antwerp has arrived here with bubonic plague aboard. Five deaths, including the captain and first officer occurred during the voyage.

Vote for Queen's by-law, and secure to the workingmen of Kingston the wages spent in putting up buildings worth $150,000.
