FATAL GUN ACCIDENT.

Only Son of a Widowed Mother the Victim.

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 19.—A fatal gun accident happened in the gore of Downie yesterday, William Walter Ballantyne, twenty-six years of age, the only son of a widowed mother being the victim. It appears that Ballantyne had returned from a shooting expedition and was placing his gun in the hall when the trigger caught in some way and the contents of the gun entered in his thigh severing an artery. He bled to death before medical assistance could be obtained.

Married In Brooklyn.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening, 17th inst., in Brooklyn, N.Y., at the home of the bride's mother on Clifton Place. The bride was Miss Grace Eleanor Stevens, and the groom, Charles A. Gill, formerly of this city. Relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom were present to the number of forty. The marriage ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dr. John Rhey Thompson, pastor of the Sumnerfield M.E. church, Brooklyn, assisted by the Rev. Frederic Gill, Boston, Mass., a brother of the groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Agnes Stevens, and the groomsman, Clarence A. England. Among those present known in Kingston were Miss Sara Gill, Dr. Edward W. Wright, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. T. Dunlop. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Gill started for the south.

Conservative Chaff.

Freeman, Kingston.

It was under the management of Hon. William Harty that the locomotive works were a success, but no thanks are due the conservative government for the prosperity, the industry enjoyed at that time. The conservative government practically cave the Kingston works the cold shoulder during the several years Mr. Harty was at its head, so much so that not more than ten engines were built by contract from a conservative source. That was the conservative regime the News talks about. A burned child dreads the fire, therefore, Mr. Harty can afford to wait a month until the Laurier government is again installed in power for another five years, which is as certain as night follows day. The works were once a financial success and Mr. Harty will again make them hum. A vote for Britton is a vote toward the opening of the locomotive works.

ELEVEN BRITISH KILLED

AND THE BOERS WERE HEAVY LOSERS ALSO.

Boers Got Into Jagersfontein And a Fight Ensued—A Column Sent To The Relief—Kruger Secretly Put on Ship Board.

London, Oct. 19.—Lord Roberts reports from Pretoria, under date of Oct. 18th:

"A party of Boers got in Jagersfontein on the night of the 16th. A fight ensued in the morning. Our loss was eleven killed. The Boers lost their commandant and twenty killed.

"Kelly-Kenny despatched a column under Hughes-Hallett, which should reach Jagersfontein to-day."

Put Him on Board.

Lorenzo Marques, Oct. 19.—Mr. Kruger was taken secretly on board the Dutch cruiser Gerleland at five o'clock this morning. The vessel will take Mr. Kruger to Holland.

The reason given for Mr. Kruger's embarkation was that he feared the Boers here would attack him. The feeling of the refugees against Mr. Kruger for fleeing from the country is very strong. He left the governor's house in a hired carriage, accompanied by Dr. Haymann, the governor following in a private carriage. The party drove through the custom house and embarked from the customs pier instead of from the passenger jetty. It is reported that Gerleland will sail to-morrow.

City Property Committee.

The city property committee met on Wednesday afternoon. William Wellbourn, College street, complained that the poundkeeper was not doing his duty because he had not collected damages from J. H. Birkett, whose pony had thrice trespassed on complainant's property. Mr. Birkett defended the poundkeeper, claiming that he had no authority to collect damages. The matter was referred to the chairman and the city solicitor.

The confectioners' petition will be looked into by the chairman and the city commissioner. The Palace cafe company, Ogdensburg, will not be allowed to establish a night lunch waggon on the market square. The committee decided to revise the market by-law at its next meeting so that peddling farmers will have to pay the market toll, which they now fail to do.

Bicycle Club "At Home."

The opening "At Home" of the Kingston bicycle club on Thanksgiving eve, was as popular as ever. The parlors of the club house were taxed to their full capacity. An excellent dance programme was furnished by Miss Daunt. Refreshments were served about midnight, and the happy evening came to a close about one o'clock. It is the intention of the club to give a large dance on Hallowe'en night.

W. W. Sands To Retre.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Frontenac reform association will be held on Saturday, when it is understood Dr. W. W. Sands, the liberal candidate, will retire from the contest and allow the fight to go between the two independents—Rogers, patron, and Calvin, conservative. Owing to the short time between now and election day, the doctor is of the opinion that he could not properly canvass the county.

WHY SHOULD YOU CHANGE?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Asks and Answers the Question.

Why should you change governments? I ask it of the conservatives here. Naturally they have heard much said against my government. I have been obliged to bear the sins of Israel, but I maintain that there are no sins in Israel. Is it not true I appeal to the sense of justice of the conservatives here present—is it not true that there has never been a time in the life of any one of you when you were as prosperous as you are now? Do you not sell your goods at better prices than ever? Do your cattle fetch better prices? In every house there is bread in the cupboard and meat in the larder, and money in the purse, is there not? The conservative leaders who hear us say that this is the work of Providence. Well, Providence has done much, no doubt; in fact, Providence has done all; but Providence has chosen us as its instruments, and if Providence has chosen us, should you reject us? God helps those who help themselves. He has helped us and we have not been idle. When we came to power I selected the right man to aid in the development of the agricultural resources of the country—a practical farmer like yourselves, Sydney Fisher—instead of placing at the head of the department a brewer, or a lawyer, or a doctor, as our opponents were accustomed to do. It was under Mr. Fisher's supervision that the cold storage system was put into operation. And this, under Providence, was the cause of much of the prosperity that our farmers now enjoy.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Schools And Cigarettes.

The anti-cigarette league of Chicago, is endeavoring to enlist the co-operation of the pupils of the public schools in its crusade against the cigarette habit among boys, and The Times-Herald urges that the movement should have the hearty support and encouragement of the board of education officially and individually.

The havoc wrought among boys by the cigarette evil is so great and so generally recognized that the request that half an hour be given each month in the schools for the formation of anti-cigarette leagues among the pupils and for giving instruction regarding the baneful effects of the cigarette would seem to be a reasonable one. The pledge which pupils are asked to sign is a promise to abstain from smoking cigarettes until the age of twenty-one years is reached. It is a fight for the protection of the minds and bodies of the youth of our land and is entitled to public sympathy and support.

Women-Haters' Sayings.

Franklin: He that takes a wife takes care. La Fontaine: Foes are all tail, and women are all tongue. Boucicault: I wish that Adam had died with all his ribs in his body. Victor Hugo: Women detest the serpent through professional jealousy. Fielding: In the forming of a female friendship, beauty seldom recommends one woman to another. Socrates: Trust not a woman when she weeps, for it is her nature to weep when she wants her will. Ben Jonson: A woman, the more curious she is about her face, is commonly the more careless about her house. Southey: There are three things a wise man will not trust—the wind, the sunshine of an April day, and a woman's plighted faith.

Night Work And School Children.

Dr. George Wilson of Pittsburg, characterizes the imposition of night work upon primary grade pupils in the public schools as inhuman. The Dispatch declares that he is putting the matter strongly, but that if he errs, it is in the right direction.

Night work may be necessary in the highest grades and may be tolerated by pupils of advanced age. But the idea of more than six hours a day of work for the tots in kilts is repellant. Happily, at the Pittsburg schools have sinned in this respect, there is a tendency now to confine school work to school hours and to relieve even the six hours of confinement by relaxing exercises.

Rebels Are Active.

New York, Oct. 19.—The Chinese rebels are strongly established with headquarters at Wuchu, says a Hong Kong despatch to the Herald. Their leaders who are apparently disciples of Kang Yu Wei, have issued a manifesto proclaiming that China is completely at the mercy of her foes, for which the mandarins are entirely responsible. Everything is quite on the British frontier. The rebels have gone northward toward Canton.

Next Census.

The next census for the united kingdom is to be made on the Sabbath, March 31st, 1901. Sunday has been chosen because most people are at home then. The people of Great Britain will be counted simultaneously with those of Ireland. In both cases the arrangements are on identical lines, except that Ireland will have a religious census, and the rest of the kingdom will not.

The Sting That Galls.

"As to Sir Charles Tupper's policy of a preference from England, they might as well expect a slice of the cheese of which the moon is made as to expect that the English consumer under present conditions was going to grant anything of the kind. The sting that galled Sir Charles and his followers lay in the fact that the disloyal grits in four years had done more to cement the unity of the empire and bring about a right understanding of the British people than the conservatives did in eighteen years."—Lieut. Col. O'Brien, at the North Simcoe, independent convention.

Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

The Royal is made from the most highly refined and wholesome ingredients, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is cheaper at its price than any similar article.

Samples of mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food, and, in many cities their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a corrosive poison, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.
