A NEW CEMENT DAM ACROSS THE RIVER.

Its Length is 130 Feet—To Keep Some Fast Horses—Marriage of James A. Ferguson and Miss Etta Bowen.

Napanee, Oct. 20.—Thanksgiving day was observed very quietly in town. A number of nimrods went out in the country to spend the day duck shooting, and returned with well-filled bags. W. N. Gordanier, attending Queen's college, is spending Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gordanier, John street. Miss Beatrice Kouber is visiting relatives in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Huff, Campbellford, spent Thanksgiving day with friends in Napanee. A. W. Grange and Hamilton Armstrong arrived yesterday from New York. The collegiate football team ran an excursion to Picton to-day, where they play the Picton team.

V. Kouber spent Thanksgiving day in Montreal, visiting his son, V. A. Kouber, who is teaching near Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Perry spent Thanksgiving day in Toronto. F. B. Carscallen and bride arrived home on Wednesday from their honeymoon spent in Toronto, Dresden, Petrolea and other western towns.

Mrs. R. D. Martin and family left this week for Montreal where they will reside, Montreal being more central for Mr. Martin's business. Mrs. Martin made many warm friends during her stay in Napanee. Miss McCrigley is slowly recovering from serious illness. Mrs. John S. Ham was "At Home," to a number of friends on Wednesday last. Miss Lilean Allen left this week for Toronto, where she resumes her studies in elocution.

On Tuesday James A., son of W. Ferguson, was united in marriage to Miss Etta Bower, Odessa. Rev. T. S. McKee performed the ceremony. Miss Nellie Madden acted as bridesmaid, while the groomsman was Walter E. Boyes. The young couple will reside in Napanee. Clayton Maybee, with the Rose Findlay importing company, is spending a few days in town with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Maybee. Miss Emma Scott has returned from a month's visit with friends in Brockville. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sherwood and Miss Bessie have returned from a few days visit in Toronto.

A new cement dam has been built across the river above the falls. It is 130 feet in length and is absolutely waterproof. This will be a great benefit to the factories on the canal. The Napanee curling club has purchased the skating rink from John Pollard. They intend to fit it up in first class shape for skating and curling. Fred. Miller has started to erect a new stable on his lot on Dundas street, and will keep a string of flyers when he has it completed. He has In-Bond, half brother of Frog-Bond, Furioso, Lady Watson and Golden Prince. J. H. Mowers, will be associated with him in the business.

An Old Veteran Dead.

Charles Aggar, York street, an aged veteran, widely known in the city, has gone over to the silent majority. He came out to Canada shortly after the Crimean war. A German by birth, trained in the army of the fatherland, he had risen till he became a member of the Legion of Honor. He has always been an industrious citizen, and has filled many positions in the city. For a long time he was engineer on the steamers Bay of Quinte and Hero, and on the ferries running out of Kingston. He afterwards worked at the shoemaking trade with J. Dillon and William Allen doing his last work in the latter's shop on Brock street. For some time he had been suffering with cancer of the tongue, and his death occurred in the general hospital. The deceased served in the Fenian raid, having been stationed at Cornwall, and was the recipient lately of a Fenian raid medal. He was over sixty years of age, and twice married. Surviving him are his second wife and a daughter, Mrs. R. Lake, Ottawa, by his first wife.

The Military Vote.

Here is the view of a military man, one who has been identified with the militia for many a year. It is worth something. He said to a Whig reporter on Saturday:

"When the conservative government went out of power four years ago the militia department was rotten. We didn't have any sort of decent equipment or anything else. The liberal government has looked after us. It has expended money more freely in this necessary branch of public affairs. In consequence the militia is now better armed, better equipped and better maintained. That means a great deal to the officers and men. They appreciate work on their and their country's behalf. Let me tell you that the military vote of Canada will be cast for Laurier—for the government that has endeavored, and succeeded too, to put the militia department upon an effective basis.

Engagements Announced.

The engagement of Lieut. Hugh Fleming and Miss Ethel Gormully, of Ottawa, has been announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Antoinette Boyer, daughter of L. A. Boyer, Montreal, to Edward Shackell, son of H. Shackell, Milwaukee.

An engagement recently announced and of much interest to Montrealers, is that of James Keator, of the bank of Montreal, Chicago, to Miss Edwards, Chicago.

Badges And Certificates Here.

This morning Sergt. William Baker received from Toronto a number of army and navy veterans' badges and certificates for members of the local branch of army and navy veterans. The branch here is prospering and growing in numbers. The objects are worthy ones which appeal to all who have served their queen and country. The government semi-officially recognizes the association, giving it a sound basis.

A FORECAST OF ELECTION.

Liberals to Have a Majority of Eight in Ontario.

In writing to a friend in Kingston a Toronto gentleman, who, during the past four weeks has travelled from one end of Ontario to the other, has something to say concerning the political outlook. There are few men in the province more qualified to give a correct opinion on this subject than he. Here are his words:

"As to elections things look better every day for the liberals. A few weeks ago I feared they would lose heavily in this province, but I don't think so now. I think if things continue to improve they will, on the whole, gain seats.

"Tupper's tour, with Hugh John was a distinct failure,—admitted so by conservatives.

"Laurier's so far, is an immense success. You would hardly believe how strongly Laurier feeling had developed right here in Toronto. The demonstration at Laurier's reception was an astonishment to liberals. You would imagine the whole place had turned grit.

"There is no doubt Hugh John Macdonald's statement that he would wipe out wholly the duty on agricultural implements has staggered the owners and employees in factories and is effecting their votes. The tory leaders are busy saying that when it was claimed Hugh John was a 'man who keeps his word,' they did not mean it. Then the assertion of Tupper that 'Laurier is too English for me,' has driven lots of votes to the liberal side.

"I have as good facilities for hearing how matters are in the constituency as any one in the province, and my belief is that the liberals willl gain more than they will lose, and have a balance to the good. From present appearances I put the liberals down to carry the following tory seats: Bothwell, Halton, Welland, South Wellington, East York, Muskoka, East Simcoe, West Northumberland and Lennox. I think also they have good prospects of carrying Haldimand, East Northumberland, North Perth and West York. I think the chances of carrying the latter are as good as carrying the East, if not better; but, lest you think me oversanguine, I put it doubtful. The conservatives are more afraid of losing it to day than they are the East. All the indictions point to Archie Campbell's election. The Massey-Harris concern, the Wilkinson plough works and other large concerns with hundreds of employees living in West York are with Campbell, and he is getting such an active support all around the constituency that in an ordinary contest would appear to ensure success. Clark Wallace's support is in 'the lodges,' but support from that source is not as effective as it used to be.

"There may be some surprises on each side, but I put liberals to hold the province with a majority of eight at least."

A Fine Reception.

Caintown, Oct. 18.—Perhaps the grandest wedding reception in the history of this town was given here on the 8th, at the residence of S. L. Hogeboom, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hogeboom. The marriage took place in Ontario, N.Y., on the 3rd inst., and they arrived here on the 8th and were met by a host of friends, all anxious to welcome them home. The lawn was prettily decorated with colored lanterns, and inside everything seemed to be a blaze of glory. About 150 guests sat down to a gorgeous repast. The presents were very numerous.

Granites are well pleased with the treatment accorded them at Ottawa Saturday. The match was a friendly one from start to finish, not a single player being ruled off. In the evening the Rough Riders took the Granites to the Russell theatre.

A team of ten men, representing the Queen's own rifles, Toronto, competed on Saturday in the fifth imperial challenge rifle match arranged for by the Rajunyun rifle club of Victoria, Australia, and made the very creditable score of 933 points out of a possible 1,050.

The workmen are not distressed even if the fair wages and limitation of hours' clauses in government contracts were made legal on the eve of an election. It is better to get them then than never. The conservative government never did such a thing for labor.

Hon. W. S. Fielding at the city hall—"In the eighteen years of conservative rule the trade of the country, which shows its prosperity and growth, increased sixty-six millions of dollars. Under four years of liberal rule it increased one hundred and forty-two millions."

Dr. Ryan was last week on a political tour in Eastern Ontario, and at one place was reported to have held the audience "spell bound." Wonder if he rehearsed that old story of his about the Laurier government being responsible for the increase in the price of coal?

Hon. W. S. Fielding: "Sir Charles Tupper said the tariff had been reduced in a manner that would be injurious to the Canadian manufacturer, and at the same time he blamed the administration for not accepting the alleged offer of Joseph Chamberlain for absolute free trade."

Four conservatives were arguing with one liberal over election matters, and to test their sincerity the liberal offered to bet a barrel of coal oil against each of the four, that the Laurier government would have a stronger majority in its next term of office. The conservatives flunked and would not accept the bet.

Removed To Kingston.

Chaffey's Locks, Oct. 19.—Peter Murphy has returned home much improved. George Fleming and family, Kingston, are spending a couple of weeks here with relatives. Mrs. P. J. Burns is convalescent. Capt. Noonan and family have moved to Kingston for the winter. Mrs. Lennox, Master Seymour and Mrs. Howard are spending this week at Belleville. The sudden death of Isaac Russell has cast a gloom over this locality. His remains were taken to Elgin to-day for interment. Mr. Rafferty, Pittsburg, Penn., with a large party, are spending a few weeks at Benson Point, hunting and fishing. Miss Landon, and Miss E. Kennedy, Mcleonds, spent last Saturday on the lake here; they captured a number of pike, some of them being so large it was about all they could do to pull them into their boat. Miss Clara Simmons has returned from Newboro. Miss Anna Kennedy, Charleston, spent Saturday with Mrs. W. H. Fleming. Steamer Shanley is clearing the channel between here and Foster's Locks.

Should Have Watched Them.

The chairman of the board of works should keep his eye on the gang of men erecting telegraph poles in the city. Brock street, between Division street and University avenue is very narrow and at night is so dark that a pedestrian can scarcely keep from running into the trees that grow close to the walk. Now on the outer side of the walk poles are being placed even inside the board walk, leaving the walk in some places only about three or four feet wide. This should certainly not have been allowed.

THE FUN FOUNDRY.

The Hen's Reason.

The stub tailed hen she laid an egg
And straightway made a mighty stir.
(She laid it in an old boot leg
The farmer had prepared for her.)

The ducks and geese and turkeys, they
All gathered round that they might see
What made that hen so blithe and gay;
They did not quite approve her glee.

One fowl said sneeringly: "There's no cause
For this indecorous outcry.
You simply follow nature's laws
And cannot tell the reason why

"You came to lay that egg down there."
The hen retorted, with a frown,
"I could not stand it anywhere,
And that is why I laid it down."

Etiquette of Courting.

A Glasgow servant girl went home a few evenings ago with her head wrapped up in a shawl.

Her young mistress asked her what ailed her and was told that she was suffering from a bad attack of toothache brought on by sitting in the park.

"But you ought not to sit on such a cold, chilly night as this," said the mistress. "You should walk at a smart pace."

The girl looked at her a minute, as though pitying her ignorance and then answered:

"You canna court right walking. You must sit doon!"—Answers.

An Explanation.

"All the world loves a lover," they say,
But I prove that untrue every day;
Whenever I try
For a kiss on the sly
The world seems to get in the way.

And when Mabel goes walking with me
The world says, "Ahem!" and "Ts-tse!"
It gives a sly wink,
And I certainly think
It's as horrid as horrid can be.

So that proverb is lacking in force;
I wonder what gave it its source;
But, stay; oh, I see!
Why, Mabel loves me!
And she's all the world to me, of course!

Pa in a Small Corner.

"Say, pa?"

"What is it?"

"It says in the paper that when the Boers went away from Pretoria they left their wives behind."

"Yes."

"Why did they do that, pa?"

"Well, it might have been because it was the first chance they ever had to—Hello, ma! When did you come in? I don't know why they left them. Perhaps there was no way the ladies could get their trunks taken to the depot. Now don't bother me any more. I want to read about the war in China."

The Yellow Prince of Lies.

Of all the liars of the east
Prince Shang
Is easily the great high priest,
Is Shang.
The bones of liars dead are stirred
When his masterpieces rare are heard;
In falsifying he's a bird,
Is Shang.

He has a style that's rather neat,
Has Shang;
Each lie is rounded and complete,
Per Shang;
But fate will catch this yellow hicks;
His gods in vain to will invoke;
A bunch of lies the throat will choke
Of Shang.

Peach, Prune or Green Apple?

"If it be true," says the Providence Journal, "that New Englanders have deteriorated physically, the primal cause is pie." Conversely, then, if it be true that they have improved physically, the primal cause is pie. It will not require much investigation to show that the New Englanders of the last quarter of a century are better physically than were the New Englanders of the first quarter. Please pass the pie.

Mind Over Matter.

"Is there any way of getting a little relief from the hot weather?" inquired the panting citizen. "Of course, I know it's all for the best, but I can't keep myself reminded of it."

"Well," answered Mr. Dogwin Stax, "I have managed to get a little comfort out of the situation."

"How?"

"I went and bought a lot of stock in an ice company."
