ENTHUSIASTIC CONVERTS.

There Are Thousands of Them Who Believe As This Woman Does.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton, of Butte, Montana, is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: "I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It now seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, to have a good natural appetite.

I was troubled with gas in stomach causing pressure on the heart with palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach, sometimes I had cramps in the stomach which almost resembled spasms.

Doctors told me I had catarrh of the stomach, but their medicines would not reach it and I would still be a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

I knew they were an advertised remedy and I didn't believe anything I read about them as I had no confidence in advertised remedies, but my sister living in Pittsburg wrote me last spring telling me how Stuart's Tablets had cured her and her little daughters of indigestion and loss of flesh and appetite and I hesitated no longer.

I bought a fifty cent box at my drug store and took two of the large tablets after each meal and found them delightful to take being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy. Whenever during the day or night I felt any pain or uneasiness in the stomach or about the heart I took one of the small tablets and in three weeks it seemed to me as if I had never known what stomach trouble was.

I keep Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the house and every member of our family uses them occasionally after a hearty meal or when any of us have a pain or ache in the digestive organs."

E. H. Davis, of Hampton, Va., says: "I doctored for five years for dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctors treatment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, bloating after meals, sympathetic heart trouble.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a cheap cathartic but an active digestive remedy containing the pepsin and diastase which every weak stomach lacks and and they cure stomach troubles because they digest the food eaten and give the weak, abused overworked stomach a chance to rest and recuperate.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold in every drug store in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

WHAT THE DOCTORS CALLED IT!

Upper Stewiacke, March 20th.
To the Egyptian Rheumatic Oil Co., Ltd., Halifax, N.S.:

My wife has been suffering with what the doctors called Rheumatism of the lungs, and by the free use of Egyptian Rheumatic Oil the pain has entirely left her, and all evidence of rheumatism in these parts has disappeared.

I also wish to say that I sprained my ankle so badly I could scarcely walk, but the pain and swelling were speedily removed by a few applications of your oil. I need not tell you that I shall ever continue to recommend this invaluable remedy.

Yours truly,
SAMUEL P. CREELMAN.

HAS THE SAME OLD POLICY

WHAT THE CONSERVATIVES OFFER THE PEOPLE.

A Programme That Was Turned Down in 1896 And a Crowd That Has No Love For Each Other—Canada Has No Use For the Gang.

Would Tupper's policy prevent strikes? The Black Watch has no faith in Tupper.

No more dog biscuit days like those before 1896.

Ben. Folger has always been a good prophet. He says Britton will win.

How can stagnant pools be cleansed by a stagnant conservative party? News please answer.

Say, a conservative government is in power in Britain, and yet big strikes are occurring there.

A Toronto man says the liberals will secure two seats there and will win East and West York.

Victory is in the air for the liberals.

Now citizens are figuring on the majority Britton will have.

The News admits being now in an "election fever." The Whig has no such symptoms. It is quite normal.

Dry-goods men, grocers, booksellers, etc., etc., all testify that their trade was never as large as it is now.

"The government will be sustained, but we must show fight," is the confession which candid conservatives make.

Laurier is against combines. Does the News not see now he is giving good weather so as to save the poor man buying coal?

George Taylor's threat to raise the duties on agricultural implements is making many votes for W. A. Lewis in South Leeds.

No prosperity in this district? Bosh! The K. & P. railway company has not cars enough to carry nearly all the freight offered.

Kingston not prosperous? Why look at the big amounts being raised by the city churches for the century fund. And everybody is contributing too.

Whether I ever used the expression, "The nest of traitors" or not is immaterial, for I certainly should have used it.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell at Carleton Place.

Why had Sir Mackenzie singled him out for his abuse? Why not go after Mr. Foster, Sir Hibbert Tupper and the others?—Hon. John Haggart at Carleton Place.

So long as I have a voice left Hon. John Haggart and some others shall never occupy a seat in a cabinet in this country.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell at Carleton Place.

The Liberal government has looked after the farmers far better than any other government ever in power. And what is good for the farmer is good for everybody else.

Kingston not prosperous? How ridiculous. In four months bonuses of over $100,000 passed by the people, who by their votes show that they are able to pay more taxes.

At Carleton Place, Sir Mackenzie Bowell pitched into Sir Charles Tupper's candidate, asserting that Haggart's name "stank from one end of the country to the other."

There are very few conservatives that hope for victory in the dominion; they concede the return of the liberals. If this is so why not put Britton back with a large majority.

If anyone cares to see that bogus Globe the tories are so base as to circulate, they can do so by dropping into the reform committee rooms. Secretary Dean has one in his possession.

Politicians who raise issues have less to do with the prosperity of this country than the farmers who raise hogs. Vide Edwards, Walkem, Gibson, et al. They can talk but don't raise hogs.

There is greater prosperity in Kingston than there was ten years ago, during tory rule. The poor relief and other charitable societies last year gave less aid than ever before. What does that show?

Who are the liberals proving false to their colors? None but sore heads who desire to vent a personal spite. It is not on the issues of the day that they oppose the government. And they will tell you that, plainly, too.

A vote for Britton means a vote for Laurier and honest government; it means surpluses, not deficits; prosperity, not stagnation; development, not retrogression. Is it not worth while to vote for such a man, such a leader and such a government?

In the Whig sanctum hangs a picture of Sir Charles Tupper and Hugh John Macdonald. It bears silent testimony to the double-faced practices of the conservative leaders. On the night of Nov. 7th we will have it suitably draped in black.

What methods do the conservatives propose to use in order to open up the Kingston locomotive works, should they get into power. A thousand contracts would not do it. There must be capital, and no local conservative has yet come forth with it.

Under conservative rule you could buy only thirty-three postage stamps for a dollar; under liberal rule you can buy fifty for a dollar. The postal facilities have been greatly extended, and the old tory deficit has been greatly reduced and in a year or so will be wiped out altogether.

Who made the Royal military college a popular institution? The liberals. Who gave Kingston the splendidly-equipped drill hall? The liberals. Who saw that Kingston's harbor was properly dredged? The liberals. All this in four years, while the tory gang gave Kingston the cold shoulder for eighteen years.

The News accuses the liberal government of giving preference to Yankees. Listen to this: On October 10th, nine United States fresco painters, working on the new residence of Mrs. Massey, Sherbourne street, Toronto, were dismissed as a result of the government authorities putting the alien labor act in force.

J. L. Haycock, at Melrose: We hear a great deal about the loyalty of the liberals and the conservatives. We hear a lot about Mr. Tarte. It would be a good idea to look carefully at the other side. What about Sol. White, who is the conservative candidate for North Essex? He advocated annexation to the United States.

The Canadian public well understand that the men who produced and circulated the forged Globe will not hesitate to forge the speeches, etc., which they now credit to Hon. J. I. Tarte. Men who resort to forgery, and those who are content to use the forgeries to their own profit, are not the men to whose care the decent people of Canada care to trust her destinies.

Sir Charles Tupper would have had the country involved in a religious war had he forced the separate schools in Manitoba in 1896. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said if he was returned to power he would settle this question in six months. Did he do it? Of course he did, and that was the greatest question that ever came before the people of Canada. That is one pledge that was not broken.

The conservatives allowed distillers to bring corn in free for making whiskey, but made the farmer pay seven and a half cents a bushel on it because they wanted to fatten their cattle. The liberal government said the farmer was as good as the distiller and put corn on the free list. Sir Charles Tupper and his crowd are now saying that free corn is a bad thing for the farmer.

Four years ago Sir Charles Tupper appealed to the people of Canada to retain him in power. His platform and actions the people did not endorse, and so they turned him out. Now he comes back with the same policy and asks to be elevated to power! Will the people accept now what they so unmistakably repudiated four years ago? Will they go back on their own decision? Tupper offers no more than he did in 1896. The people turned him down then; they will do it again on Nov. 7th.

THE PRESIDENT DISTURBED.

Warned Lieut.-Col. Fages About Action of His Officers.

Saturday morning, Richard T. Walkem, president of the Kingston conservative association, wrote Lieut.-Col. Fages, commanding "A" battery, warning him against the action of two officers of his battery, Capt. Caines, of Kingston field battery, attached for instruction, and veterinary Lieut. Morgan, fully attached. These officers are reformers and have been spotted by Mr. Walkem presumably on that account, for they have not interfered with the men. They would be fully warranted in doing so now, in view of the public action of one clothed with a little brief authority. Lieut.-Col. Fages is a conservative and the intent of the interference is clear. It makes a great difference whose ox is gored. When Mr. Walkem's brother-in-law was commandant at the battery at the last election and preceding elections, nothing was too conservative in that quarter. Congratulatory telegrams of conservative successes were posted in the officers' rooms and every person in Kingston remembers the battery being marched up to vote by conservative officers.

Conservatives are very sensitive about office-holders now. In 1896 men holding office were told that they had to do their best for the government or they would be remembered. Even on the day of the election they were around doing their very best and only the desire of liberals to avoid giving personal information enabled some of them to hold office to this day. They could not have defended themselves successfully.

The other day it was boasted by conservatives that the battery were all going to vote for McIntyre. The majority will vote for Britton, and the threatening action of the president of the conservative association shows that he is disturbed over the prospect.

MARRIED IN TORONTO.

A Graduate Nurse Weds a New York Gentleman.

A very interesting ceremony was performed in the Sherbourne street Methodist church, Toronto, on Oct. 25th, when Rev. Mr. Allen united in holy matrimony Henry S. Williams, New York city, and Miss Mary A. Dunne, graduate nurse of the Kingston general hospital. The bride wore a dress of heliotrope silk, with tucked chiffon trimmings. The bridesmaid, who was Miss Minnie Street, cousin of the bride, was dressed in white silk mouseline de soie. The wedding reception was held at the residence of William Street, 124 Shuter street, who is a cousin of the bride.

The farewell dinner was given at the Hotel Iroquois, after which the happy couple left on a three months' tour to Chicago, Ill., and California. On their return they will reside in New York city. The bride's going-away gown was steel grey broadcloth, with which she wore a large black hat trimmed with ostrich feathers. The guests from Kingston were the bride's aunt, Mrs. Peel, and Miss Agnes Cunningham.

Married on Thursday.

A pretty wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's father, John Hett, Queen street, on Thursday evening last, when his only daughter, Miss Millicant Beatrice, was united to Uriah J. Marsh, Cleveland, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. C. Brown, only the friends of the contracting parties being present. The bride was attended by Miss Florence Marsh, Collins Bay, while Mr. Rankin assisted the groom. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents and carries with her the sincere congratulations of her many friends who wish her much happiness in her new home. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh left at midnight for Cleveland, Ohio, their future residence.

CONSUMPTION

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is, thought to be—in the beginning.

The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself, and at home.

Could Not Find Takers.

Spoke At Trenton.

President Robert Elliott, of the reform association, spoke at a public meeting in the opera house at Trenton on Saturday night, in the interest of the reform candidate for West Hastings, Mr. Young. G. H. Allen, formerly of Kingston, was in the chair. Mr. Elliott thinks that Mr. Young will give Harry Corby a hot run this time.

Doing Good Work.

R. Boyd, jr., writing from Denver, Col., states that he has met several Kingstonians out there, among the number being Ralph Spencer, W. Newman and W. Spriggs. Electricians there get $3 and $4 a day and there are eight electrical shops in the place. The Kingston boys are all well situated. W. Newman has a good position on the staff of one of the newspapers there.

Help Him Along.

Capt. Patenaude, of the steamer Arabian, in port, says he passed the sunken Fabiola. She had all sails set and was lying in about fifty feet of water east southeast, of the Main Dicks. He would have taken proper bearings had there not been a slight fog. Capt. Dan Bates, owner of Fabiola, is left practically penniless, and is entitled to public sympathy.

Shot In The Hand.

While fooling with a revolver yesterday afternoon, and not knowing that it was loaded, Fred. Salisbury, fifteen years of age was shot in the little finger of the left hand. He was taken to the general hospital and the X rays turned on. The injury is not a serious one, but the affair should serve as another warning to boys who are careless with firearms.

A Wealthy Man Dead.

The Elliott brothers received word today that their cousin, A. R. Fawcett, of Vallambrosa, Georgia, had died very suddenly. He was forty-two years of age and was very wealthy, having one of the best plantations in the district. He had other large interests and carried $40,000 life insurance. His illness began with malaria fever and developed into something more serious.

Thirty-seven new pupils have been admitted to the public schools during October. Of these twenty-nine are outsiders. One is from Lansdowne, five from Belleville, two from Peterboro, three from Olympia, Washington territory, one from Sackett's Harbor, N.Y., one from Chicago, and the rest from the county. The city must be growing some when nearly forty families move here in twenty-nine days.

Surprised at New Home.

On the evening of Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott were taken by surprise at their new home on the 8th concession, Wolfe Island. A large number of their friends assembled to spend the evening. The house was given over and everyone made to feel at home by this genial couple, whose hospitality is well-known. Cards and other games were enjoyed by many, yet dancing was the principal amusement. The music was furnished by Harry Davis and Richard Henderson; James McGlynn did the prompting. About midnight the cravings of the inner man were satisfied by a bountiful repast prepared by the ladies. The party was arranged by Messrs. W. Pyke and W. Whitmarsh. The assemblage dispersed in the "wee sma' hours," after a delightful evening.

Killed at Keewatin.

A telegram was received here yesterday conveying the sad intelligence of the death of Nelson Craig at Keewatin. The despatch stated that he was killed on Saturday morning, but no further particulars were given. The deceased, about twenty years of age, was a son of William Craig, Glenburnie. He left last August for Keewatin, where his brother is overseer in a mine. It is supposed that he was working in the mine when he met an accidental death. Previous to going west the young man had been employed near Ottawa for some time. A couple of Kingstonians drove out to Glenburnie yesterday and broke the sad news to the family. W. G. Craig and James Craig, this city, are uncles of the deceased. The remains will be sent home for interment.

Could arrangements be made by which the nominations could be formally made on Wednesday at eleven o'clock and the speeches delivered in the evening. The busy citizens would like such an arrangement.

ORPHAN'S HOME MEETING

ANNUAL STATEMENT MADE ON SATURDAY.

A Good Surplus on Hand—Cost of Clothing Very Small—Outings For the Children During The Summer.

The annual meeting of the directors of the orphans' home took place on Saturday afternoon. It was quite largely attended. Brief addresses were made by Revs. J. Mackie, J. K. Macmorine and M. Macgillivray and mayor Minnes.

Miss E. Muckleston, corresponding secretary, read the annual report. In it thanks were returned to God for the mercies bestowed upon the home since its inception forty-two years ago. The cost of attending the typhoid fever cases—about thirty in all—which developed in the latter part of 1899, was nearly $150. During the epidemic Mr. and Mrs. Smeaton, the superintendent and matron, and Dr. Duff performed good service. The children have had a very happy summer, and, thanks to kind friends, a number of outings. June brought a letter from Mr. Dunelt, Toronto, enclosing $25, wishing the orphans to celebrate his silver wedding. They did so by spending the day, June 23rd, at Lake Ontario park. Seventy-three children have passed through the home besides five over twelve years of age. Forty-five, with still two seniors, remain. Twenty-seven have been sent to homes or taken by relatives. Of the big girls, two have gone to work for themselves. The numbers are smaller than usual, owing to the epidemic which prevented the admission of children for three months. The children continue to make good progress at school under Miss Wilder. The garden has been well worked, the boys assisting. The report shows an average of $3 spent on clothing for each child, and yet the comfort is real. Mrs. Fraser, directress for so long, resigned and was made an honorary member. The committee expressed gratefulness for the annual grant of $600 from the Midland district school society. They also thank the many friends and visitors who have made gifts to the home, and to Drs. Duff and Anglin for medical attendance.

The treasurer's report showed receipts amounting to $3,061.83 and expenditures $2,929.81, leaving a balance on hand of $132.02.

A GAS EXPLOSION.

It Did Considerable Damage in Uglow's Bookstore.

There was a very serious gas explosion in Uglow's book store, Princess street, about nine o'clock this morning. For the past couple of days Mr. Uglow and the clerks have been bothered with the smell of gas and they could not make out where it came from. This morning William Brough, about sixteen years of age, who works in the store, went down in the cellar to see if he could locate the leak. At the front end of the cellar there was a pool of water and the lad took hold of the gas pipe to pull himself over this water. The sudden strain broke the pipe, and in a few seconds the place was full of gas. Very foolishly William lighted a match to see where the break was and the result can be imagined. "Piff," and it was all over in a second. The boy had presence of mind to get out of the cellar and hurried to the trap-door. Although in a dazed condition, he managed to climb the steps. When he reached the floor all was excitement.

The explosion in the cellar had been carried to the window above and thus the large plate glass on both sides of the lower window was blown out. Although in a dazed condition the boy managed to get to the street. Mr. Uglow saw that he was in a bad state and hurried him into Campbell's hat store. Dr. Connell happened to be passing and the lad was cared for. He was pretty badly burnt about the face and hands, while his hair was singed. He received no serious injury, however. He was taken to his home. In the explosion the ceiling of the window was blown partly up. The shock upset pictures, etc. in the shop and the lady clerks got quite a scare, but Mr. Uglow is thankful that no one was seriously hurt. The falling of the glass did slight damage to books, etc., on display in the window.

A large mirror located in the lower end of the window was also smashed to atoms. Mr. Uglow's loss will be no small item.

MADE MILITARY ATTACHE.

Lieut.-Col. Kitson To Leave Kingston This Week.

Lieut.-Col. Kitson, commandant at the Royal military college, has resigned to accept the position of military attache to the British legation at Washington, D.C., in succession to Lieut.-Col. Lee, R.A., who recently returned to England and was elected member of parliament for Hants.

Col. Kitson on Saturday made the announcement to the cadets while they were on parade. He told them to behave as well in the future as they had in the past. Col. Kitson has cabled the war office and awaits an answer as to his future movements. He expects, however, to leave for England on Wednesday, though he may be detained a few days longer. He will spend a short time in England before taking up his new duties.

Lieut.-Col. Gerald Charles Kitson, son of the Rev. J. B. Kitson, was born in 1856. After graduation at Winchester college he entered the Royal Scots in 1875, was transferred to King's Royal rifle corps and was raised grade by grade to the position of lieutenant-colonel. He passed the staff college, served in India as A.A.G.; and in 1891 was mentioned in despatches and received a medal. He was appointed commandant of the Royal military college in 1896. His wife is a daughter of H. D'Oyley Moule, C.S. commissioner of Bareilly. Col. Kitson is an energetic and experienced officer, one of the new and better school of military men.

News For Kingstonians.

Howard Palladium.

The municipality of Kingston has within two weeks taken over the city gas and electric lighting plant from a private corporation and is considering a plan for obtaining power from High Falls, on the Mississippi river, about fifty-five miles back of the city, where from 9,000 to 10,000 horse power can be readily produced.

Those who have used Laxa-Liver Pills say they have no equal for relieving and curing Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Coated Tongue, Foul Breath, Heart Burn, Water Brash or any disease or disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels.

Mrs. George Williams, Fairfield Plain, Ont., writes as follows: "As there are many other medicines offered for sale I feel the substitution for Laxa-Liver Pills I am particular to get the genuine, as they fail to pass anything else for regulating the bowels and correcting stomach disorders."

Laxa-Liver Pills are purely vegetable, neither gripe, weaken nor sicken, are easy to take and prompt to act.
