THE QUEEN of FLOWERS.

Our roses are now in their most perfect state. No other gifts can compare with a bouquet of these beauties. The Queen of Flowers holds her own in the affection of all, and we cut them fresh every day all the year round. Whenever you want plants or cut flowers if your memory serves you well you will recall the fact that we have the largest stock and the best of everything in the florist line in this city. Don't forget to see our lovely Chrysanthemums and carnations. By planting your bulbs during the next two weeks in the garden you will ensure a lovely display of blooms next spring. A visit to the Floratum Market Square, will be sure to please you.

O. G. Johnson, Florist.

NEWS FROM OUR NEIGHBORS

WHAT OUR CORRESPONDENTS HAVE TO TELL US.

The Tidings From Various Points In Eastern Ontario—What People Are Doing and What They Are Saying.

Bound To Go Ahead.

Smith's Falls, Oct. 30.—On the 25th Sir Charles Tupper spoke here to a large crowd. Mr. Gray, who runs a vegetable garden, had two acres of cabbage this year. The W.C.T.U. held their convention here this week. The Perrin plough company are enlarging their works. Frost & Wood's are building, so as to have more room and more men. The town is bound to go ahead.

He Returned Ill.

Outlet, Oct. 29.—Those who attended the social at N. R. Johnston's, Sand Bay, on Wednesday evening, report a pleasant time. Mrs. Weldon Bradley is quite ill. Miss Ida Bradley continues very ill. George Taylor, M.P., paid a short visit to friends in this place on Thursday. Herbie Vanderburgh returned home from Manitoba on Friday; he is ill with typhoid fever. His aunt, Mrs. N. Botsford, Athens, came on Monday to assist in nursing him. Mr. and Mrs. H. Lacock, Dulcemaine, called on friends here quite recently.

Godfrey Jottings.

Godfrey, Oct. 29.—Farmers are about finished ploughing and threshing. Mrs. J. C. Craig and sister, Miss Maitland, have returned from Kingston. Rev. B. C. Freeman has left for his home at Skidgate, B.C. Miss Ann Freeman, who has been sick, is improving. A number of men left this morning on a hunting expedition in the north. J. Graham, of Verona, is relieving Mr. Craig. Visitors: Miss Lou Barr at Mrs. Coleman Godfrey's; Miss Griffith and Franklin Howes, of Parham, with relatives.

Desert Lake News.

Desert Lake, Oct. 30.—Rev. Mr. Perley preached an interesting missionary sermon last Sabbath. Mrs. H. Campbell, very ill for some time, is slowly recovering. Gowdy's steam thresher is moving through here and giving general satisfaction. The recent showers have started the grass and cows have increased the supply of milk. G. Geffery has moved to the Frawley farm. The sad news of the death of Mrs. James Orser cast a gloom over this neighborhood, as she was a former resident here. Her remains were brought here for burial. The family have the sympathy of the whole community. D. Abrams is very much improved in health. Visitors are at the homes of B. Freeman and W. Smith. Farmers are well satisfied the way their grain is turning out.

Glenvale Happenings.

Glenvale, Oct. 30.—Rev. Mr. Johnston preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. The women's sewing circle will meet at Mrs. J. Creamer's on Thursday. J. Carruthers, after spending a couple of weeks at Wilmur, returned home on Saturday. Michael Maloney, who some time ago received a severe kick from a horse, is able to be around again. George McBurnie, after spending the summer at Wolfe Island, has returned and is engaged to work for Mrs. G. K. Bennington for the winter. Francis Stanton, who was burned out some time ago, has moved into J. Gordon's house, Highland Road. Miss Ethel Gibson and Harold Orser, Kingston, spent Sunday at their homes here. Miss Foster is spending a few weeks at J. Wartman's. Mr. and Mrs. C. Corbett, Kingston, are visiting at J. Ellerbeck's.

Dr. Meacham's Thunder.

Newburgh, Oct. 30.—Dr. Meacham's address here on the 29th was a success from the conservative point of view. His discourse was confined mainly to broken promises, railway contracts, French rule and free trade with an interfining of fictitious reasoning. Mr. Tarte was terribly scored and would have been horrified to see himself as he was pictured—a thorough Frenchman, who, upon a recent visit to Paris, gave the French people an invitation to re-colonize Canada, and that they would have their welcome honored by seeing the tri-colors floating above every flag-staff along the St. Lawrence; who gave his brethren to understand that our dominion was gradually growing a French colony and would in future time look to France as its motherland, etc., etc. The doctor dwelt on the Yukon "tramway," but completely forgot or slipped over a similar act in years gone by. He thought a certain amount of bribery was unavoidable or necessary. Laurier, he said, had broken all his promises. Compare the last four years with those which preceded. Tarte packed the balls and Laurier threw them. He made our friends to the south appear as cinchies ready to oppose any measure for our profit. The speaker's last remark was the usual invitation: "All men who are honest poll their vote for Bell."

One Hundred And One Years Old.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Mary Little reached her 101st birthday to-day, and her friends are making merry over the striking event. Notwithstanding her great age she assists in the household duties. She was born in county Antrim, and in 1820 came with her husband to America, landing in this city on July 4th. She remembers with great distinctness the war of 1812, and narrates with great delight many interesting reminiscences of it.

Few Women Vote.

Denver, Col., Oct. 31.—The women of Colorado, Utah and Wyoming have already voted in one presidential election. The women of Idaho will, for the first time exercise this privilege at the election on Tuesday next. Very few of these western women take much interest in politics, and not more than fifty per cent. of the female vote of these four states will go to the polls this year. The novelty has worn off and they care no more about it.

When your business becomes irksome and distasteful, you are not well. Miller's Compound Iron Pills will make it a pleasure to attend to business. Sold by E. C. Mitchell.

Several cases of scarlet fever have existed of late in Barriefield, but are now being pretty well stamped out. There are few cases of it in the city at present.

PRODUCE AND PRICES.

The Standard Rates Governing the Local Markets.

Kingston, Oct. 31.—The closing week in October sees trade very quiet in the city, elections probably having something to do in the matter. All lines of flour and feed are a little easier. It is expected that the hide market will show increased activity in a week or so, or as soon as the cold weather begins. Already the three classes of beef hides have been advanced. Considerable grain is moving, but there is no change in the quotations. The following prices prevail:

Flour and feed—Bran, $16 to $18 a ton; shorts, $18 to $20 a ton; cornmeal, $1.10 to $1.20 a cwt.; oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.45 to $3.60 a bbl.; family flour, $4.20 a bbl.; Hungarian patent, $4.70 a bbl.; bakers' strong, $4.40 to $4.50 a bbl.; timothy seed, $2.75 to $3 a bushel; clover seed, $6.50 to $8.25 a bushel.

A Great Paper.

Thursday's issue of the Whig will be well worth perusal and preservation. Besides the regular portion containing full reports of the consecration ceremonies there will be an illustrated supplement with upwards of thirty-five fine photogravures of the bishops, clergymen, officials of synod, churches, etc. Such a demand is anticipated that double the usual issue will be printed.

Now Will You Believe That Catarrh Can Be Cured?

Japanese Catarrh Cure Cures After Fifteen Years' Suffering.

Catarrh is more difficult to cure on the Pacific Coast than in any other part of the world, owing to the extreme dampness of the climate and the sudden changes of temperature towards evening. But Japanese Catarrh Cure will cure catarrh in any climate for any person.

J. H. Crow, 421 Keefer street, Vancouver, the well-known contractor, writes: "I had been a great sufferer from catarrh for over fifteen years, during which time I tried a score of doctors and every remedy I thought would relieve me, but the result was only temporary relief, in each case the catarrh returned. About a year ago I used six boxes of Japanese Catarrh Cure, and since completing this treatment have been entirely free from catarrh. I can recommend it with every confidence."

Japanese Catarrh Cure is the only permanent and guaranteed cure for catarrh. Price, 50 cents, by all druggists.

POETRY AND RUMOR.

Chorus of Gentlemen.

[Of course no gentleman wears the same collar two days running.—Gem.]

We trace our devious ways through life by many varied courses,
For some of us exist by cards and some by means of horses,
And some of us have figured in illustrious divorces
And never pay our bills; but, then,
Though tradesmen grow importunate, though vulgar duns be dunning,
Though Scotland Yard be watching us with all its wicked cunning,
We'd never dream of putting on a collar two days running;
All of us are gentlemen.

The pious prudes may prate to us of virtue and of morals,
As if we were mere infants who were chewing at our corals,
And talk about the wickedness of matrimonial quarrels,
Gambling, debts and such; but when
You look into their linen you will find that, while they're shunning,
According to their own accounts, all kinds of crime and cunning,
They wear their collars regularly two or three days running;
None of them are gentlemen. —Punch

Destiny.

"But," I faltered, "is there no way in which I can make myself famous?"

The hag peered again into my palm, this time more intently.

"No," she croaked, "but you can make your village famous."

From this I shrewdly gathered that I was destined to be a great brewer rather than a great poet.

Of course I was much mortified, being of an artistic temperament.

A Gentleman of Color.

"You look wretched," remarked the guinea fowl.

"I am wretched," replied the fat pullet. "I didn't dare sleep last night."

"Was it on account of anything the owl told you when you went to him to have your fortune told yesterday evening?"

"Yes. He told me a dark man would soon cross my path and speedily wip me."

The Man Behind the Button

We have heard the thrilling story
Of the man behind the gun;
We've applauded him and marveled
At the wonders he has done,
But the fearless hero's glory
Is forgotten—put away—
And the man behind the button
Is in evidence today.

Let us candidly acknowledge
The enormous debt we owe
To that patient, plodding toiler,
The good man behind the hoe;
Let us give due praise and credit
To the man behind the plow,
But the man behind the button
Comes to save the nation now.

Oh, the hero's help is needed
When the clouds of war descend
And upon the sturdy toiler
Weighty matters still depend,
But how long, O friend and brother,
Could our institutions stand
If the man behind the button
Were not empant in the land?

Failed to Keep His Word.

"I don't believe Dick Ramage ever had any religious training."

"What makes you thiuk so?"

"Why, he solemnly promised to come out to the links on Sunday and didn't keep his word."

Of Personal Climate.

"Stickney Jones never seems to want any but cold commercial relations with me."

"Is that so? Well, I owe him money and he keeps our commercial relations hot."

Not a Candidate.

I'm glad I ain't a candidate
To worry day by day
A-watchin voters, small an great,
For fear they'll git away
An shakin hands with every one
You're happenin to meet
An never havin any fun
Excep' to talk an eat!

When 'Mandy scolds me now an then,
I murmur: "What's the use?
'Tain't much compared to what those men
Receive in round abuse."
If they should print such things of me
Before the public eye,
I'd git so mad I couldn't see
An go somewhere an die!

I love my country strong an true,
But I am blest if I
Could ever see a rampaign through,
No matter how I'd try,
An when their eager work I scan
I say, an mean it straight,
It takes a mighty nervy man
To be a candidate!

Benefits of the Season.

"Hot weather is a great help after all."

"What do you mean?"

"When it is hot we feel justified in putting off unpleasant work till it grows cooler."

You Bet!

They used to sing some time ago
A rather plaintive song,
"Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long."
But nowadays the song is set
With music to the rhyme,
"Man wants as much as he can get
And wants it all the time."
—Tit-Bits.

Too Ready.

"I wonder why the Swellers have quit inviting us to their parties?"

"I suppose it was because we always went."

At the Patient's Expense.

Quoth the dentist, as forceps he seized with aplomb,
"I am what the public would call a phenom."
Then added, as molar he started to stir,
"For I can do tooth things at once, as it were."

Jealousy.

"He's so jealous of her!"

"Yes; he won't even let her hold a hymnbook."

The Untried Ways.

The man who fears to take the way
No other took before
Sits mourning, at the close of day,
The chance that comes no more.

An Irritating Retort.

"Can you tell a dog that's mad?"

"Tell him what?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Pessimistic Version.

Lives of great men all remind us
That there isn't any doubt
Footprints that we leave behind us
Will be very soon washed out.

Clothing To Suit All Occasions.

When choosing your clothing it's important to have some guarantee of worth beyond what meets your eye. Everyone is not a judge of materials or finish and can hardly tell in advance what kind of service a certain suit may give. In this store you have our word for it every time. We don't pretend that a $5 suit will give as big value as a $10 one, but we tell you exactly just what you may expect for the prices asked. It's a satisfactory way of buying—doubly so because our prices are always rock bottom, value considered.
