A COMPROMISE EFFECTED

TOUCHING WINDING UP OF THE SELECT KNIGHTS.

An Arrangement That Only Affects Members Who Dropped Out Since July 1st, 1896—The Departmental Stores Under Review.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—The litigation over the winding up of Select Knights was closed by a compromise ratified to-day by the divisional court. Originally 4,000 members were involved, but only about 1,000 are affected by the consent judgment which holds them liable for one half of their assessments, amounting in all to probably $5,000 which when collected will give the liquidator assets of $18,000 to meet liabilities of nearly $30,000. The action, which was begun in 1898, by the receivers was for the payment of six months dues from all members who had dropped out in the previous six years. The final decision is that all who dropped out since July 1st, 1896, are liable for one-half of the amount claimed originally, in some cases three and in others six months dues.

The departmental stores were under fire before the assessment commission this morning. H. H. Fudger, head of one of the big Toronto stores, defended the principle on which they did business, saying that they were of great benefit to the consumer in giving a wider range of choice goods than could be obtained elsewhere. W. B. Rogers, for the retail merchants of the province, asked that a provision be inserted in the new assessment law, allowing municipalities bringing into force the Prussian law under which graded taxation is levied on stores, increasing according to the number of departments of business embraced in their operations.

DEATH OF GEORGE WILSON.

The Well-Known Contractor Died This Afternoon.

George Wilson, Stuart street, well-known contractor, died at the general hospital at a quarter to two o'clock this afternoon. For the past week he was seriously ill, suffering from acute inflammation, and two days ago was removed to the hospital. To-day his death was hourly expected, and his family and two brothers, David and Richard, of Gananoque, were at the bedside when the spark of life fled.

The late Mr. Wilson was born in Kingston, fifty years ago. For many years he resided in British Columbia, and then removed to Gananoque. About ten years ago, he came back to his native city, and was successful in his work as building contractor. His last contract was the building of the Cardinal starch works, now under construction. Deceased was a member of the masonic lodge and of the I.O.F. In religion he was an Anglican, and a member of St. James church, and in politics a conservative. Mr. Wilson was also manager of the Sovereign gold mining company.

Only a few months ago, Mr. Wilson was called upon to bear a heavy burden by the death of his wife. Two boys and two girls are left to mourn the loss of father and mother, and for them the sincerest sympathy is felt.

RESCUERS LED BY WOMAN.

Mississippi Girl Assists in Releasing Her Brother.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 16.—Miss Carrie Bowling, aged sixteen, of Quitman county, Mississippi, is under arrest in Clarksdale, the county seat of Coahoma county, charged with being the leader in holding up sheriff Shaw. Miss Bowling's brother, Bonnie, was a prisoner in the Coahoma jail, convicted of highway robbery and awaiting transportation to the penitentiary. Carrie Bowling called at the jail and asked permission to bid her brother good-bye, as she was leaving to attend her sick mother in Arkansas. As the sheriff was showing her to Bonnie's cell two men suddenly appeared behind him, and, covering him with their revolvers, demanded Bowling's release. The two men, Bonnie, and the girl walked out together. The girl was subsequently captured and it developed that the men who held up the sheriff were her father and brother. All three of the men escaped to Arkansas, but the girl was held by the sheriff.

FIGHT TO DEATH AT CHURCH.

Two Boys Kill Each Other in a Quarrel Over a Girl.

Columbia, S.C., Nov. 16.—A double tragedy was enacted in a church near Spartansburg last night. Plasco Bradley and Thomas Gibson, both under age, the latter a son of a large mill contractor, were the principals. They had quarreled about a girl.

In coming out of the church, where a meeting was in progress, Gibson jolted against Bradley. The latter made some angry comment, and Gibson told him to get out of the way.

Bradley whipped out a pocket knife and made a furious assault, laying open Gibson's face and chest. Gibson drew a pistol and then fell backward, Bradley jumped forward and buried the knife in his opponent's body. At that moment Gibson fired, the bullet passing through Bradley's heart.

Dwight L. Moody, A. E. Pitt, who married Mr. Moody's daughter, said to-day: "Erroneous reports have been circulated. There is to be no change whatever in the management of the schools, Will R. Moody remaining at the head of the Moody work in every particular.

FROM SIANFU PROVINCE.

MISSIONARIES SAVED BY THE GOVERNOR.

Relative of the Notorious Prince Tuan Treated the Foreigners With Kindness—Advance of the Allies.

London, Nov. 16.—The Rev. Evan Morgan, the last foreigner to leave Sianfu, has arrived here. His life and the lives of the other missionaries in Shensi province were saved by governor Tuan, a kinsman of the notorious prince Tuan. Governor Tuan, when he received a decree from Pekin to kill all foreigners, warned Mr. Morgan and his colleagues, and gave them an escort. Mr. Morgan describes the governor as "a brave, friendly and noble man, who, at the risk of his life, saved us. The only foreigners left in Shensi are twenty priests, mostly Italians, and twelve nuns, who are occupying a sort of fort near Sianfu, defended by machine guns."

It is thought probable that Fr. Hugh, London, is in the fort, and possibly it is to relieve this party that field marshal count Von Waldersee's expedition, under Col. Von Wartenberg, has gone from Pekin. The German move towards Kalgan and the combined march down the Grand canal indicate, the Rev. Mr. Morgan says, a movement of the allied troops on Sianfu.

The Tartar-general, commanding in the province of Sze Chuan, has been nominated governor-general of Manchuria in deference to Russia's invitation to China to resume the government of that territory under Russian protection.

A CRITICAL STAGE.

Has Been Reached in the Case of the Czar.

London, Nov. 16.—The czar's illness is much more serious than was indicated in the first despatch received from St. Petersburg. It is now known that the attack of influenza from which his majesty was suffering at Lividia has developed into malignant typhoid fever. Grave doubts are expressed as to his recovery.

The fever has reached a critical stage, the outcome of which is all the more anxiously awaited owing to the fact that the czar's vitality has been weakened by other severe illnesses through which he has passed.

Should the czar die and his posthumous child be a girl, the throne would descend to his only brother, the grand duke Michael, who lately attained his majority. The relations between the czar and Michael are at present strained to the breaking point. Michael is in love with his first cousin, Helen, daughter of the grand duke Vladimir, brother of the late czar and his infatuation has led to strife between the brothers.

All Russia, to-day, is not only praying for the recovery of the czar, but even more earnestly for male heir to be born.

It is reported in Paris that the czarina is seriously ill with the same symptoms as the czar.

ATTEMPT ON HIS LIFE.

A Woman Threw a Chopper At Emperor William.

Breslau, Nov. 16.—Emperor William was the object of an attempted outrage this morning, which, however, failed. As he was driving in an open carriage to the Cuirassier barracks, accompanied by the hereditary prince of Saxe-Meiningen, a woman in the crowd hurled an axe at the carriage. The rapidity with which the vehicle was passing saved its occupants. The axe, or hatchet, fell just behind. The woman was arrested.

The missile, is developed later, was a short-handled chopper. The woman is believed to be insane. Her name is Selma Schnapke. She occupied a place in the front rank of the spectators on the side farthest from the emperor. The chopper was so well aimed, it was afterwards said, that it actually struck the carriage. A crowd of people who witnessed the outrage throw themselves on his majesty's assailant, but the prompt intervention of the police saved the woman from injury.

WILL NOT FALL BEHIND.

So Mr. Choate Says, Speaking of National Supremacy.

London, Nov. 16.—Mr. Choate, the United States ambassador, last evening distributed prizes to students of the mechanics' institute at Burnley. Replying to an address from the mayor and corporation of Burnley, he reciprocated the wish that Anglo-American friendship might never be disturbed.

"I venture to express the belief," he said, "that future national conflicts will be in the fields of industry and commerce rather than the field of battle, and that any nation that overindulges in the destructive luxury of war will fail sadly in the peaceful arts."

Mr. Choate added that it would not do to rely too much upon Anglo-Saxon supremacy, as Germany was making a bold bid. The United States, however, had no intention, he declared, of being left behind.

Cattle For Shipment.

Messrs. Blakely and McGuire, of the city, to-day brought over from Wolfe Island, where they purchased them, forty-six head of cattle, which were at once loaded on cars for shipment to Buffalo, N.Y., where they will be used for stocking purposes. At the wharf they were inspected by George W. Bell, V.S., who found them perfectly sound and free from all disease. The duty on cattle going into the United States is twenty-five per cent.
