The Newmarket Era

FRIDAY, APRIL 11, 1884

Our Toronto Despatch

(Special to the Newmarket Era.)

TORONTO, April 10th, 1884.

John Hackett, who was shot on Jarvis St. last week, through the jealousy of Allkins, died at the hospital on Tuesday.

The Police Magistrate rendered his decision on Tuesday, in the conspiracy case. He thought sufficient evidence had been adduced to warrant him in sending all four of the defendants, viz: Wilkinson, Kirkland, Meek and Bunting, for trial at the Assizes.

The Assizes open at the Court House on the 22nd inst.

Preparations on an extended scale are being made for Toronto's semi-centennial next June. Thousands of dollars are being appropriated to the display.

The Toronto Conference of the Canada Methodist Church will meet here during the first week in June, and the Conference of the United Church the following week.

A deputation from the United Workmen Association, including the members for North and East York, interviewed Sir Tilley on the working of his Insurance Bill, and were informed that it was not designed to interfere with mutual benefit societies.

Municipal Legislation.

By the Municipal Amendment Act, passed at the recent session of the Local Legislature, power is given to city, town, incorporated village, and township councils, to pass By-Laws for the following purposes:

1st. For establishing, protecting, regulating and cleansing public and private wells, reservoirs and other public and private conveniences for the supply of water, and for closing public and private wells; also, for preventing the fouling of the same, or procuring an analysis of any such water and paying the expense thereof.

2nd. For seizing and destroying all tainted and unwholesome meat, poultry, fish, or other articles of food.

3rd. For preventing and abating public nuisances of any kind.

4th. For compelling owners, lessees and occupants of real property within any defined area to fill up or close any wells, water-closets, privies, privy-vaults, or cesspools the continuance of which may, in the judgment of the Council, be dangerous to health.—[This clause removes a doubt under which Councils and Boards of Health heretofore labored.]

5th. For preventing or regulating the erection or continuance of slaughter-houses, gas works, tanneries, distilleries, and other manufactories or trades which may prove to be nuisances.

6th. For preventing or regulating the keeping of cows, goats, pigs, and other animals, and defining limits within which the same may be kept.

7th. For regulating the construction of cellars, sinks, cesspools, water-closets, privies, and privy-vaults, and for compelling and regulating the manner of draining, cleaning, clearing, and disposing of the contents of the same.

8th. For compelling or regulating the filling up, draining, cleaning, clearing, altering, relaying or repairing of any grounds, yards, vacant lots and private drains.

9th. For making any other regulations for sewerage or drainage that may be deemed necessary for sanitary purposes.

10th. For appointing Inspectors and for providing for the inspection of milk, meat, poultry, fish and other natural products offered for sale for human food or drink, whether on the streets or in public places, or in shops, and for licensing and regulating milk vendors, and for fixing the fee to be paid for such license at a sum not to exceed $1.00 per year.

11th. For making provision for supplying blanks for the notification and recording of cases of contagious disease; of giving public notice of houses wherein such cases exist, and for taking such measures as by any Act respecting the Public Health or any other Act, are required to be taken in that behalf, and such other measures as may be necessary for preventing the spread of such disease. [This clause is wide and comprehensive enough to allow the Council to take all necessary precautions and removes all doubt as to their powers.]

12th. For regulating or preventing the ringing of bells, blowing of horns, shouting, and other unusual noise or noises, calculated to disturb the inhabitants. [This clause gives unquestionable power to prevent fife and drum parades on the streets, or such other noises as may be calculated to disturb the quiet of sick or nervous inhabitants.]

This Act also gives power to Councils of cities, towns, and incorporated villages to regulate the conveyance of traffic in the public streets and the width of the tires and wheels of all vehicles used for the conveyance of articles of burden, goods, wares or merchandise, and for prohibiting heavy traffic, and the driving of cattle, sheep, pigs and other animals in certain public streets and places to be named in the By-law.

[Another amendment provides that the powers now given to cities, towns and incorporated villages with respect to preventing the use of deleterious materials in making bread, and for providing for the seizure and forfeiture of bread made contrary to the by-law, or light in weight, may also be exercised by township councils.

Another amendment extends the powers of councils in Cities, Towns and Incorporated Villages with respect to the erection of buildings and preventing the erection of wooden buildings, or additions thereto, and wooden fences in specified districts; also for prohibiting the erection or placing of buildings, other than with main walls of brick, iron or stone, and roofing of incombustible material within defined areas, and for regulating repairs in said districts, and for establishing fire limits. Any erection contrary to such regulations may be pulled down at the expense of the owner thereof.

A further amendment relates to such municipalities as border along, or have toll roads passing through the same. Power is given to erect necessary crossings, culverts, sewers, approaches, grades, sidewalks, &c.; but such local municipality is made responsible for keeping such works in repair and for damage arising for neglect or otherwise.

Several amendments are made relating to the construction of drains and sewers in townships, and for assessing the cost of the work on the properties benefitted.

Power is also given to councils of counties and townships to appoint constables, the same as cities and towns now have, and for paying them a salary.

The Political Conspiracy.

On the first page of to-day's paper we give a brief summary of the arguments of counsel in this case, when proceedings were adjourned till Tuesday last, for the Police Magistrate's decision. On that day he delivered a very elaborate judgment, and stated that owing to the unique nature of the case he had been careful to give all the points raised very anxious consideration. He concluded by holding there was sufficient evidence to place the parties charged with conspiracy on trial, viz: Wilkinson, Kirkland, Meek and Bunting. The defendants were admitted to bail to appear at the Assizes which open on the 22nd. Kirkland fainted away during the reading of the Magistrate's lengthy paper.

Law Relating to Rivers and Streams.

Cable despatches received during the week state that the long-pending lawsuit between Caldwell and McLaren, over the right to control the Mississippi river, has been finally settled by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in favor of the plaintiff, with full costs against McLaren amounting to not less than $30,000. The decision turned upon the interpretation of an old statute, chapter 48 of the "Consolidated Statutes of Upper Canada," passed in the year 1859. By that law it is provided that riparian owners building dams across streams "down which timber is usually brought," must construct an "apron" or "slide" of sufficient dimensions to enable logs to be floated down said streams. The same statute also provides that "all persons may float saw logs and other timber, rafts and craft down all streams in Upper Canada during the spring, summer and autumn freshets." The real issue, therefore, between Caldwell and McLaren was the kind of stream contemplated by the statute, and turned upon the construction of the term "floatable" stream.

This decision of the Privy Council Committee, although not directly affecting the Ontario Rivers and Streams Bill, cannot be regarded as otherwise than a triumph favorable to the contention of the Ontario Government; and now that the Bill which recently passed the Assembly removes the power of appointing arbitrators from the Local Government and gives it to the parties interested, the same as in other arbitrations, we are pleased at the result of the appeal. This change in the arbitration forum we contended for more than a year ago; and an article which then appeared in these columns was approvingly copied in the Globe at the time. But while thus expressing satisfaction at the termination of this appeal to the Privy Council, we have no sympathy with the notion that this decision in any way effects the position taken by the Dominion Government; and the Globe is all wrong when it tries to make the readers of that journal believe that the Ontario Streams Bill was disallowed because the Dominion Premier held the legal opinion that its provisions were of such a nature as to do violence to the constitution: no such thing. Sir John recommended that the Bill be disallowed because the question involved, and directly affected by that Bill was then before the courts for legal decision, and because he considered it wrong to prejudice McLaren's conceived rights by legislation while the case was in litigation. In other words he did not believe in legislating him out of court. This, we understand, is the assigned reason for disallowing the Bill on previous occasions.

Now, however, that the case has been decided, and now that the Ontario Streams Bill contains a provision which will enable the parties interested to appoint their own arbitrators to settle disputes, and value the improvements made on floatable streams, we trust the Dominion Government will not recommend the Governor-General to disallow the amended Rivers and Streams Bill which recently passed the Local House. To disallow under present circumstances would be to display a feeling of partizanship not desirable to see encouraged.

"Bystander" on the Conspiracy Scandal.

In making allusion to the "conspiracy scandal" recently developed at Toronto, Bystander, (Prof. Goldwin Smith,) takes occasion to allude to the extremes to which political partizans are carried under our present system of government by party. The quiet allusion to the limited number who manifested "silent grief" at "the funeral of public honor," conveys a whole column of food for thought to every true hearted Canadian. The whole paragraph of Bystander, in this connection, presents so true and faithful a picture of the exact situation that we append it here, in order to enable those who do not see "The Week" to have an idea of the Professor's views in this regard. He says:—

"In this affair of the Conspiracy Scandal we have seen what a bold party politics have got upon the minds, or, as it would be nearer the truth to say, on the passions of the people. What horse-racing and betting on horse-racing are to the Englishman, party politics are to the Canadian. It is understood that on the morning after the disclosure 45,000 copies of the Globe were sold. The air resounded with the exultation of the Grits, into whose clutches so inestimable a piece of political capital had fallen, and with the yells of anguish uttered by their discomfited opponents. Small was the number of those who followed in silent grief the funeral of public honor. A tornado ensued in which moral bearings were entirely lost. All regard or semblance of regard for justice gave way. Accused persons, one of them a foreigner and a stranger, before they had been committed for trial, before even the prima facie evidence against them had been formally taken, before anything had appeared except the statement of the head of the party interested in establishing their guilt, were held up to public execration as convicted criminals. On the other side the witnesses were vilified with not less fury. Where evidence failed suspicion took its place, and no suspicion was too extravagant for the credulity of party hatred. The party division which excites the people to such frenzy is itself absolutely baseless, and senseless; as baseless and as senseless as anything in the history of factions, as the feuds of the Blues and Greens at Constantinople, or that of the Blacks and Whites at Florence. No Grit or Tory of Ontario can give any intelligible account of his political faith; he can only assert that his party is the party of purity and that the opposite party is the party of corruption; meaning by purity the appropriation of the spoils to himself and by corruption their appropriation to some one else. Provincial independence, of which the Grits just at present make a cry, is merely the accidental tendency, or rather the strategy, of the party which happens to be out of power at Ottawa. Yet the people are perfectly crazed with the excitement of this unwholesome game, nor does there seem to be any hope of weaning them from their master passion. Reason has no access to their minds upon the subject. They will not look at anything which is not narrowly and bitterly partisan. In point of fact they read very little but falsehood."

Editorial Notes.

LAKE Scugog has been set apart, by an Order-in-Council, for the propagation of fish.

IT is stated that the British Government has placed Colonel Butler at the disposal of the Canadian authorities to inspect the defences of the Dominion.

THE Telegram of Friday says that some of the local magistrates are considerably annoyed at the reference made to them by Judge Cameron in his address to the Grand Jury.

THE Ottawa Free Press and Brantford Telegram have each had a libel suit to defend recently, and in both cases the Fourth Estate came out ahead—the verdict sustained honest criticism in both instances.

JUDGING from a return recently brought down to the Senate, showing the quantity of liquor sold in the County of Halton, where the Scott Act is in force, three druggist, who make returns, sold to invalids of that county, in one year, 6,720 bottles of liquor—or sixteen-and-a-half barrels of sixty gallons each. Whiskey appears to be a favorite medicine in Halton.

SPEAKING of the active bidding, by leaders of the Opposition for the French Tory vote at Ottawa, a cotemporary observes that "the result of this anxiety on both sides to secure the French Tory vote will be that the latter will take advantage of the situation to plunder the country and carry off the spoils." This sounds something like the way things were managed before Confederation,—an evil which it was thought would be remedied by that political change.

WHAT promised to be an interesting suit at Osgoode Hall last week was brought to a summary close by a compromise. A purchaser of a temperance colonization company's lands sued the company for $10,000 damages on account of false representations made to induce him to purchase. Senator MacPherson's evidence taken at Ottawa, was put in and that of Mr. Burgess, his deputy, was given in court. The company compromised on $3,500, on the charges of fraud being withdrawn.

IN the Commons on Thursday evening of last week, Sir Hector Langevin, contradicted a statement which appeared in the Globe recently to the effect that the C. P. R. had applied to the Government for a further loan of $5,000,000. He added that there had been no applications either by the Company, or any member or director, for any such loan. Newspaper readers are continually being misled by the "rumor mongers" of Ottawa who write for the western press.

LEGAL decisions relating to landed rights are always of interest to the general public. One with reference to the effect of marriage with deceased wife's sister, on the rights of property, was recently delivered by Chancellor Boyd, at Osgoode Hall. Briefly, the decision was that after the death of the wife, the husband is entitled to a life interest in the property as tenant by courtesy; and further, that to entitle a husband to tenancy by courtesy a legal marriage only is necessary. It need not be canonical. Marriage with a deceased wife's sister is therefore legal in this respect.

SINCE our last issue, in which reference was made to the proposition of the Dominion Government to increase the subsidies to the several Provinces of the Confederacy, an amendment has been made. The original resolution we gave last week; but it has been altered, says the Ottawa Free Press, so "that the three new provinces, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, and British Columbia, will receive, counting by the census of 1881, exactly the same as the older provinces. In other words, if Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick receive by this calculation $1.50 per head, then the newer provinces will get the same figure. This system, however, will operate a little unfairly to Manitoba, in so far as the influx to that Province since 1881 has been considerable, and the Provinces from which these people came will be paid instead of the place where they are now located."

THE Mess Letter is the title of a new independent eight-page paper, published in Orillia by Messrs. John Curran & Sons. Its general make-up betokens enterprise and a practical knowledge of the art. This makes the third paper in that Town.

THE news of the demise of Mrs. Mackenzie Bowell, wife of the Hon. Minister of Customs, has occasioned much sorrow in Belleville, where the deceased was born and most widely known. We join with members of the Fourth Estate in extending our condolence to Hon. Mr. Bowell and other relatives. It is some years since the deceased joined in the annual excursions of the Press Association; but all who had the pleasure of her company on those occasions entertain very kindly recollections of her.

REFERRING to a return of the mining lands sold in North Hastings, brought down to the Assembly just before the close of the late session, the Belleville Intelligencer presents a case from which the inference may be drawn that Mr. W. Coe, who opposed the Minister of Customs at the general elections in 1882, has been recouped by the Ontario authorities giving him an advantage over other purchasers to the extent of $125,000. This is a serious charge, but we do not remember seeing any allusion to the transaction in the House.

ALLUDING to the low price of wheat and the high price of bread the Toronto World rises to remark in connection with this commercial wonder, that "there are two niggers in the fence at once—the flour dealers and the bakers." The frugal house-keeper entertains opinions quite in harmony with the World on this "two niggers in the fence" business, and considers it about time both "African gentlemen" discovered themselves to the advantage of the general community by lowering prices.

IT may not be generally known that the Creditors Relief Act, passed by the Provincial Legislature in 1880 is now in force. It provides that in the issue of writs no priority shall be given. A sheriff may seize on one writ, but all others filed within a month from such seizure shall have an equal claim. At the end of the month the assets are distributed, and everything left over is held for creditors filing writs during the second calendar month. Hitherto, the first creditor who had a seizure made got everything, or enough to satisfy his claims, and the remainder had to go without or take what was left.

THE Methodist Union Bill has now passed both the Dominion Parliament and Local Legislature. The only change of importance made in both Bills was to alter the date on which the Union takes effect from July 1st to June 1st. This was done so as to render legal the meetings of the first annual conferences of the United body, which, according to the constitution will meet in June. The Mail says—"It is proposed to celebrate the consummation of Methodist Union by appropriate religious services in all the churches in Canada, and already steps have been taken by Rev. Dr. Rice toward that end."

THE leading liberal organ at Ottawa, referring to the efforts being made to detach the Quebec Blues from Sir John and secure their adhesion to the following of Hon. Mr. Blake, concludes a lengthy article on this wise—"The decks are now clear for action, and nobody who takes a survey of the situation can doubt the final result—a result which may be reached any moment,—and then good-bye to Macdonaldism forever." This is prophecy but newspaper readers have had so much of this kind of thing ever since confederation about Sir John, that a good deal of skepticism prevails in regard to predictions of this character.

By the new Provincial subsidy scheme four millions of dollars will be added to the Dominion debt. This sum is to be divided among the several provinces according to population; but as Ontario pays the bulk of the revenue, it follows that she will contribute to the total more than will be received back. Ontario's proportion of the four millions is estimated to be about $2,470,000; and Quebec will receive sufficient to pay the amount now owing to the Dominion of $390,000 and still have $457,000 left for other purposes. Ontario will now have a cash surplus for the Legislature to squabble over. Mr. Mowat ought to invest it and appropriate the interest toward reducing the cost of Administration of Justice in the Province.

SPEAKING of the return to the Senate of the liquor consumed in Halton under the Scott Act, the Free Press says—"A great many of the Haltonites seem to have taken their medicine pretty regularly. One in particular—John Shaughnessy by name—seems to have been very sick indeed, judging from the quantity of medicine it took to cure him. The returns show that he got away with a bottle of whiskey a day from May 3, to July 12. Sometimes he would miss a day, but he always made up for this by getting a couple of bottles the next day. After July 12 John disappears from the scene for a time. Whether temporarily cured, or sent to gaol for over indulgence in medicine, or what the cause of this was is not explained in the report. But about six weeks later he again turns up smiling for another bottle of rye. This time he does not seem to have the disease in such a bad form as before, for he managed to keep alive until the end of the year on an average of two bottles of whiskey a week.

AT the opening of the late sessions of the County Court Judge Boyd made the following observations to the Grand Jury, with respect to the Dominion License Act. A city paper reports says—"His Honor referred at considerable length to the temperance question. He said the McCarthy Act had now become the law here. It allowed only 254 hotel, saloon, and shop licenses to be issued in the city, and it was a cause for congratulation that there were only 244 applicants. Under the Crooks Act the total number of licenses issued was 311. He was sorry that the two Acts were in force, and thought that it was a pity the two Governments could not be more amiable over the matter. At any rate it would soon be settled by the Privy Council. Speaking of the by-law which had recently been passed, he said that the convalescents were in some difficulty, as there was nothing in the McCarthy Act to deal with the case. He did not believe in the way the temperance people were going about their work. They should strike higher and do away with the manufacturing of liquor instead of striking at men who are endeavoring to earn an honest living—for being a legal way of making a living, it is an honest one. After all that has been done, he said that there was more liquor consumed than there was last year, and there are more convictions than before. In concluding, he said he thought the McCarty Act was very much better than any that has yet been passed."

Society at Ballantrae last Monday, when a proposition was made to unite with the County Society in a Union Fair here this Fall. Owing to the lack of interest last year the North York Society had decided not to hold a Spring Fair this year.

NO QUORUM.—Only three members of the Public School Board put in appearance on Tuesday evening, viz: The chairman—J. A. Bastedo, Esq., and Messrs. R. J. Davison and Jno. Montgomery. Match Com...J. Hutchcroft, E. Belfry, and F. Forrest.

POLICE WANTED.—No use talking any longer, something has got to be done. For two or three nights lately a crowd of boys have paraded Main Street about 11 o'clock waking residents with their shouts and Army hymns sung in ridicule. Not only that, but on Wednesday night Mr. Bailey's shutters were taken from the shutter-box and built across the street in the shape of a fence. The danger resulting from this "smartness" might have been something serious, especially if some person was driving in a great hurry for medical assistance, which is a very common occurrence.

NEW HARROW.—Mr. M. N. Dafoe of Zephyr was in Town yesterday exhibiting a new article in the shape of an iron harrow, for which he is agent in the counties of York and Ontario. Its points of excellence consist in being diamond shaped, and the teeth are locked in the corners by an ingenious device which strengthens the harrow instead of the iron being weakened by holes to insert the teeth, and consequently, although very light, are extremely durable. The farmers and blacksmiths who saw it say it is the best ever invented. The section only weighs 32 lbs. and Mr. Dafoe has first-class testimonials as to its work.

SHIPMENTS.—Mr. Gascoigne shipped on Tuesday to Toronto dealers, 19 fine sheep, 5 lambs and 4 calves—3 extra good. On the same day Messrs. Widdis & Kelty shipped a carload of peas direct to Liverpool, Eng., via Portland, and Messrs. Cane & Sons a car filled with pails, tubs and washboards for Toronto. On the day previous Mr. Willson of Toronto shipped a car load of fine cattle, the choicest being a two-year-old bull weighing 1,300 lbs., raised by Mr. John W. Bogart of Yonge St., and the heaviest was a three-year-old bull weighing nearly 2,000 lbs., bought from Mr. Isaac Armitage of Yonge St. Two steers, three years old, weighing 2,100 lbs., were bought from Mr. Thos. Lewis of Yonge St.

SPECIAL MEETING.—At the regular meeting of our Town Fathers last Monday evening; the question of extending the time for liquor dealers to dispose of their groceries was introduced by Mr. Robertson, at the request of one of the licensees, on the strength of a clause in the amendments to the License Act. The Council seemed favorable to an extension of two or three months and adjourned till next Monday evening, as the alteration must be made before the 15th inst. The Reeve, who was in the chair, suggested a motion for a very important return in regard to the new Market and Town Hall. The Road and Bridge Committee was informed of several bad places in the roads and sidewalks, which were promised immediate attention.

OBITUARY.—Another of the early settlers of this locality has been called to pass that bourn from whence no traveller returns, in the person of Mrs. Mary Winn, widow of the late Joshua Winn and sister of the late T. B. Wakefield, which sad event occurred on the 12th of last month, in the 88th year of her age. Deceased was a native of Vermont and emigrated to this county in 1817, residing with her brothers on Yonge Street, just above the Toll Gate. In 1822 she married Joshua Winn, who owned the property now occupied by Mr. Andrew Dickson. In 1834 he purchased an uncultivated farm in the Township of King, near Schomberg, where they resided for about 16 years. Mr. Winn then decided to take up land in the Queen's bush where they again underwent the hardships of pioneer life, Mrs. Winn residing there 36 years. Since the death of her husband, some 10 years ago, she has lived with her son, Mr. Stephen Winn, on the homestead farm.

BADLY FOOLED.—Tuesday of last week was "All Fool's Day," and although very quiet in Town one poor farmer hailing from Orillia was badly fooled on the noon train that day. He had been down to the City to pay off some indebtedness and was on his way home when he made the acquaintance of a chap at the Union Station who represented himself as a shoe dealer from Barrie, having just secured his summer stock in Montreal, and he now had been informed that the cost of carriage must be paid previous to shipping. As he had run short, $40 would be a great accommodation to him. Greeny only had $39 left, which he handed over, and the two boarded the train. After leaving Brock St. station the shoe merchant informed Greeny that he wanted to see a man in the other car. All at once he disappeared, when Greeny commenced to feel uneasy and acquainted the Conductor. He told him he had been "taken in" and despatched him back to the City in company with a detective who happened to be on the cars, but without any success.

LICENSES FOR 1884-5.—Under the Crooks' Act there are 36 applications for tavern licenses and 4 for shops, making a total of 40 in the North Riding of York. Last year there were 50 licenses issued. The Commissioners meet in Newmarket a week from Monday to consider the applications. The fees payable in the respective municipalities are as follows:—

Township of King	$112 00
Other Townships	72 00
Town of Newmarket	110 00

Village of Aurora	105 00

Municipal Councils have till the 15th of April to make any alterations in their by-laws affecting the number of licenses to be granted and also the fee above the statutory duty.

HERE WE ARE.—This is the day that the young man, gun in hand, and a small store of ammunition, wanders off to the adjacent woods, shoots a few gray birds, woodpeckers and red squirrels because there is nothing else that hath life at which to try his aim, has a few drinks of sweetened water called sap—if he has not the good fortune to strike a camp, and returns about supper time, being completely "broke up," saying he has had a "splendid day." To-morrow will tell!

THE MARKET.—Considering the very cold morning and rough roads, the market last Saturday was something extraordinary. The public can form a more accurate idea of the quantity of produce exchanging hands by the actual purchases of the several hucksters which we collected shortly before 12 o'clock and therefore does not include two or three loads of potatoes, etc., still unsold: Mr. Rutherford—120 dozen eggs, 130 lbs butter, and 14 bags of potatoes bought at 60c. and 65c.; Mr. Smith—350 dozen eggs and 450 lbs of butter; Mr. Ludford—250 dozen eggs, 200 lbs. butter, and 15 pairs of chickens at 50c. and 60c. per pair; Mr. Webster—150 dozen eggs, 12 hogs at $7 per cwt. and 8 carcasses of beef also at $7; Mr. S. Wallace—120 dozen eggs and 200 lbs. butter; Mr. Scott—100 dozen eggs, 100 lbs of butter and some chickens at 60c. per pair; Mr. D. Prior—240 dozen eggs, 50 lbs. butter, and 20 lbs. lard at 11c.; Messrs. Perrin Bros—250 dozen eggs; Mr. A. Hodgins—100 dozen eggs and 120 lbs. butter; Mr. J. Brown—120 dozen eggs, 7 bags of apples at $1.60, and a couple of gallons of maple syrup at $1.25. This shows 1800 dozen eggs and 1880 lbs. of butter, to which must be added about one-fifth—the quantity carried off by townspeople—and we find over 2000 dozen eggs and nearly 15 cwt. of butter must have changed hands on the Market Saturday—eggs running from 13c. to 14c. and butter from 22c. to 25c. We look for a larger market to-morrow. Everything is cash—that's what brings the crowd.

Mount Albert Items.

(Special to the Newmarket Era.)

"Little Johnny," of the Salvation Army, bombarded Mount Albert on Saturday evening and all day Sunday—holding three services during the day, and kept up a general fire until Wednesday evening, with (it is generally admitted) some good results. He has captured some seven prisoners, which it is to be hoped may stand fast and not desert the Army. We understand it is their intention to keep steady on "Sin and the Devil" until the whole village is captured.

We would remind your many readers in this section of the parlor social to be held at the C. M. Parsonage this (Friday) evening.

We had about three inches of snow on Tuesday night, which will be good for the fall wheat, the weather of late having been very hard on it, although farmers around here report prospects very good so far.

There has been a very fair market here for the past week, a good deal of wheat having been purchased by Messrs. James Shields and Robinson Long at fair prices.

News from Springhill.

(Special to the Era.)

Our village has experienced a few business changes the past two weeks. Mr. Turkington recently sold his place to Mr. William Fisher of Eversley, who intends converting the shop into a general store—making four stores here.

Mr. C. Norman has material on the R. R. grounds for building a store-house, where he intends to keep for sale such articles as seed grain, bran, shorts, plaster, salt, coal, etc. this supplying a long felt want at this place.

Mr. James Gould and partner, drovers, are starting a stock-yard for the purpose of keeping animals for private sale. These gentlemen are said to be proficient in their business and no doubt the farmers in this locality will be somewhat benefited through their competition.

A party of about forty, composed chiefly of boys, stormed the residence of Mr. William Wells last Thursday evening with an outfit of guns, tin-horns, cow-bells and mouth-organs, for the purpose of serenading Mr. John A. Smelser, who has quite recently taken unto himself a better-half. The boys kept up a continual jamboree, quite eclipsing that of a Salvation Army for noise, until order was restored by the groom dishing over to the Captain enough "spondulicks" to treat the crowd. The Captain afterwards made a speech in which he remarked that this was the third occasion at which he acted in that capacity. Rumor has it that he will be the next happy man to be serenaded.

On the occasion of Mr. Andrew Davis, of Kinghorn Tannery, retiring from business, his employees presented him with a valuable gold-headed cane. Mr. Davis talks of leaving these parts and taking up his abode in Waterdown.

Mr. Joseph Breckon and family intend removing to the North-West about the 20th inst. Mr. Breckon was there last year and is well pleased with his homestead.

The friends of Rev. Mr. Rankin of the M. E. Church here, met at the Parsonage the other night as a Surprise Party, and after spending a few hours in amusements, partook of a sumptuous spread provided by the guests. During the evening an address was read by Mr. B. Lloyd, accompanied with a well-filled purse, as a token of their appreciation of their minister.

The last two items to be charged to the respective lots. Also that the account of Walter Page for extras at the new Market, amounting to $59.83 be referred to the Building Committee of last year.

Report received and adopted.

The Finance Committee reported on the Town Accounts, recommending that they be finally audited and allowed; also that $2000 of the funds be invested by the Mayor and Treasurer as soon as convenient.

Mr. Robertson moved that the Treasurer be and is hereby instructed to prepare a return for next meeting of this Council showing the total cost of the new Market House and Town Hall, with its furnishings, the return to specify in separate items:

1st. Entire cost of construction.
2nd. Total cost of Furnishing.
3rd. To whom said moneys were paid.
4th. Balance (if any) yet due, either on contract or for furnishings.
5th. Amount of Insurance effected on said Market—in what Companies—and when the policies expire.—Carried.

Mr. Lloyd gave notice that he will, at next meeting of the Council, move the same into Committee to consider the advisability of re-naming certain streets in the Town.

Mr. Robertson gave notice that he will, at the next meeting of Council, introduce a By-Law to postpone the coming into force of the By-Law pertaining to the separation of groceries from liquors. He referred to the provision in the last Municipal Act and was in favor of an extension of two or three months.

Mr. Lloyd moved that the Chairman of the Road and Bridge Committee be instructed to have all the Corporation Tools placed in the basement of the Market and furnish the Council with a list of the same. Carried.

Council then adjourned till Monday evening next.

New Court-House Project.

A meeting of the Court-House Committee of the City Council was held yesterday forenoon at the Mayor's office, his Worship the Mayor presiding. There were present Ald. Turner, Carlyle, Love, Irwin, and Defoe.

The MAYOR represented that the Act passed at the last session of the Legislature did not make it compulsory for the city to erect a court house, although Mr. Kerr, solicitor for the County Council, had threatened an indictment. The city had however, power to issue debentures for $300,000 for the purpose. He had, at the request of Mr. Kerr, appeared before the Court-house Committee of the County Council and stated the feeling of the City Council with regard to the project. He read the last report of the committee recommending that the County Council be granted the use of part of the new court house for a term of five years, to be renewable, and also the section in the Act empowering the city to expropriate a site. He advised that the Judges and members of the Law Society be consulted with as to the site, as they were specially interested.

Ald. Turner suggested that the corporation block bounded by King, Front, Church, and West Market streets would form a very desirable site. He thought that the question should be submitted to the citizens. He moved that the Mayor and Ald. Allen, Defoe, Carlyle and himself be a sub committee to ascertain the cost of the various proposed sites and report at next meeting.

The Mayor said the county had agreed to the erection of a suitable Court-house, the cost to be borne by the city, and the county to pay for the use of it. Mr. Kerr had been instructed to draw up an agreement to that effect.

Ald. Turner's motion was carried with the addition of Ald. Irwin's name to the committee.

It was decided to communicate with the judges and members of the Law Society to ascertain their views. —Mail

PASSENGERS AND CREW SWEPT OVERBOARD.

ONLY 9 SAVED OUT OF 129.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 5th.—About 8 o'clock yesterday morning a pilot boat managed to touch Sambro Island and brought information of the wreck of the steamer Steinmann.

The captain's statement is as follows,—"On the 3rd of April, after a voyage of 13½ days from Antwerp, at 7 p. m., the bearing of Chebucto, by dead reckoning and the soundings, was by compass distance 25 miles. Owing to the fog and heavy rain we steamed dead slow, sounding every hour. About 9.15 I saw through the mist a faint light about two points on the starboard bow, disappearing out of sight at times for four or five minutes. Taking it for Chebucto I steered for it, sounding thirty fathoms and ten inches. Twenty minutes later I saw that it was the fixed light of Sambro appearing clear and at the same time seeing a faint show of what I took to be Chebucto light. I sounded 26 fathoms. I then put the helm hard aport, but it was too late. Just before the ship struck on the rock. The first shock was light, the second heavy, carrying away the steering gear. After this we could not get the engines to work. A monstrous sea broke over the poop, washing overboard every passenger, children and women, who stood on deck. This was immediately followed by an awful crash, and the ship went down as quick as lightning, first carrying everyone down who was on deck and those who ran up the fore rigging. I succeeded in catching the topsail yards, which stood just above the water. A moment after a passenger was able to join me. The night was foggy and rainy and we saw nothing more. The next morning we were gallantly rescued by three men upon Sambro island about five o'clock. The number of passengers drowned was ninety; the number of crew drowned thirty-three. The saved passengers were three, and the crew six. We had a full general cargo of about 1,400 tons."
