Arsenic Law Takes Effect.

Boston, Jan. 1.—The arsenic law went into effect to-day. It will be enforced by the state board of health. Its passage was a complete surprise to many manufacturers and dealers. It is practically prohibitory to some classes of goods. No woven fabric, paper, or article of dress or of household use containing arsenic in any form can be sold under severe penalties. The state board of health worked fourteen years to secure this law.

Palatial Hospital.

New York, Jan. 1.—The new Gouverneur hospital has been opened for business. It is fitted up in a palatial manner, with Turkish and Smyrna rugs, solid silver service and $1,000 grand piano. It has all modern appliances. The building cost $200,000. There is a kitchen in every ward. The children's ward has a swinging metallic cradle.

NAPANEE GOES UNDER TO THE FRONTENACS.

Score Two to One—Lively Nomination Speeches—Watchnight Services—Where People Spent New Year's Day.

Napanee, Jan. 2.—The nominations were held in the town hall on New Year's eve, when the following candidates were nominated:

For mayor—T. G. Carscallen, Thomas Symington and M. S. Madole.

For councillors—S. R. Miller, M. C. Bogart, E. S. Lapum, John Carson, W. A. Steacy, John Lowry, G. F. Ruttan, W. S. Herrington, R. A. Leonard, Thomas Symington, F. F. Miller, G. H. Williams, A. Alexander, M. S. Madole, G. H. Cowan, T. W. Simpson, W. T. Waller and J. Aylesworth.

School trustees (by acclamation)—H. M. Deroche, W. Templeton and S. Gibson.

After the nominations a general discussion over the water works by-law took place, when every one had a chance, and quite a number availed themselves of the opportunity, to elucidate the water works question. The contestants, for and against the proposed taking over of the water works by the town, had quite a wordy time. W. C. Scott, W. S. Herrington, Thomas Symington, G. F. Ruttan and others, all participated in a very animated discussion on the vexed question. The meeting did not break up until after twelve o'clock, and then it is said they were just in the right trim for genuine speech-making. It is quite a while since the speeches at the nominations were so interesting as this year.

Watch-night was observed by the English and Methodist churches, and services were held appropriate to the ushering in of a new year and a new century. The congregations of the Western Methodist and Presbyterian churches met together in the Eastern Methodist church and addresses and appropriate music and prayers were offered.

New Year's day was observed as a holiday with most of the business places, and a holiday air pervaded the town. The atmosphere was crisp and clear and a number of the young folks spent the afternoon skating on the river. In the evening a hockey match was played in the rink, the first of the season, between the Frontenacs, of Kingston, and a Napanee team. The game was a very interesting one and resulted in a score of two to one in favor of the Frontenacs.

Very pleasant evenings were spent on New Year's night with the following hostesses: Mrs. George Cleall, John street, who entertained about thirty of her friends. Games, music and cards were enjoyed until midnight. The Misses Preston also entertained a number of their young friends, Miss Lillian M. Hall entertained her friends to a progressive euchre party.

Miss Sara Allen spent New Year's with Mrs. E. Huff, Campbellford. Mrs. L. McGowan spent New Year's with her son in Belleville. William Garrett and Harry Jamieson arrived home on Monday from Seattle, Wash., where they have been for the past year. Harry Jamieson left New Year's day to spend a few weeks with his mother, near Ottawa.

Miss Madge Clapp is visiting friends in Toronto this week. Miss Adda Reid and Miss Emma Scott spent Sunday with friends in Camden East. Georgie Milligan, the little grandson of Walter Exley, arrived yesterday from Oxbow, Assa., to spend the winter.

A Little Prayer—Jan. 1st, 1901.

Very Rev., Archdeacon Bedford-Jones, Brockville.

Nineteen hundred and one!
Another New Year has begun!
Lord, grant me Thy Grace (1)
So to run this year's race, (2)
Thy Blessing and Peace may be won.

Nineteen hundred and one!
As by Grace I have seen it begun,
So continued and ended,
Prevented, (3) defended, (4)
Life's Crown, (5) should I die, may be won.

Nineteen hundred and one!
Century XX begun!
Grant, Lord, at its close
I with Thee shall repose, (6)
Thy Prize for Eternity won. (7) Amen.

1. "My grace is sufficient for thee."—2-Cor. xii, 9.
2. "So run that ye may attain."—1 Cor. ix, 22.
3. Collect P. Book. "Prevent us, O Lord."
4. Confirmation Office. "Defend * * * with Thy Heavenly grace."
5. "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the Crown of Life."—Rev. ii, 10.
6. "There remaineth a Sabbath-rest for the people of God. * * * Let us give diligence to enter into that Rest."—Heb. iv, 9-11.
7. "I press on toward the goal unto the Prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."—Phil. iii, 14.

Liquor Dealers' Agreement.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 1.—The agreement of the state liquor dealers' association and certain labor organizations goes into effect to-day. It provides that union patronage shall be given exclusively to saloons under the jurisdiction of the liquor dealers' state association, the liquor dealers to employ only union waiters and sell union cigars.

Doubly Happy Now.

New York, Jan. 1.—The authoress of "Two Bad Brown Eyes," "A Little Game of Destiny," and "Patricia," was happy before to-day, as her name was Marie St. Felix, but to-day she is happier even though she is lynched, for she and Dr. J. M. Lynch were married. Dr. Lynch is a nephew of the famous London surgeon of the same name.

Brooklyn's Huge Hotel.

Brooklyn, Jan. 1.—Ground was broken to-day on the biggest hotel in the world, at the corner of Clark and Willow streets. It will cost $2,500,000, be 23 storeys high and contain 250 families. James Breslin will be manager. It will front 100 feet on Clark street and 200 feet on Willow street.

Gives Up The Reaumur.

Berlin, Jan. 1.—The German nation to-day gives up the Reaumur thermometer, and will hereafter use only the centigrade. In the Reaumur the division between the freezing and the boiling point is into 80 degrees; in the centigrade it is into 100 degrees.

Councillor Battersby, noting that forty-five per cent. of children under five years of age died last month in Glasgow, deplores the slaughter.

CENTRETON NEWS.

Marriages, Entertainments and Interesting Gossip.

Centreton, Dec. 31.—On Monday, Dec. 17th, Rev. M. E. Wilson, M.A., of Prince Albert, agent of the bible society, addressed a meeting in the Methodist church. A branch was organized with Ira Merriam as president, J. J. Brewster as secretary-treasurer, and the following as a committee: Mrs. (Rev.) Moran, Mrs. Benjamin Holland and Thomas Wilton, Orland Moran, of Norwood, is visiting his mother, Mrs. (Rev.) Moran. A very pleasing event took place at the public school on the Thursday afternoon before Christmas. The teacher, M. Davey, is about severing his connection with the school, having been engaged by the Feuella trustee board. Miss Jessie Sargent, on behalf of the pupils, read an address expressing the appreciation of the school for his services as teacher during the past five years. Ella Moran presented Mr. Davy with a half dozen silver knives, forks and spoons with butter knife and sugar spoon. Mr. Davey, though taken so completely by surprise, replied in a few well-chosen words.

Quite a number from this vicinity attended the Roseneath Sunday school entertainment on Christmas night. The anniversary services held on the 23rd inst., in the Methodist church, were very successful, numerically and financially. Rev. Thomas Snowdon, of Roseneath, preached morning and evening. In the afternoon the same day, in connection with the re-opening exercises of the new Sunday school hall, the same minister addressed the children. On the Monday evening following a very successful Sunday school entertainment was held. On Christmas day divine service held in St. John's Anglican church. The first oyster supper of the season will be held New Year's night at the home of Benjamin Holland. Proceeds in aid of St. John's church.

On Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of the bride's father, Charles Hoyt, Rev. Wesley Elliott, of Baltimore, united in matrimony Miss Pearl Hoyt and Marsena Davey. The wedding was performed in the presence of only a few of the immediate friends. Many beautiful gifts were presented expressive of the esteem in which the young people are held. The happy couple left for Toronto, where a few days will be spent, after which they will take up their residence in Feuella. Mrs. (Rev.) Moran with her daughter Muriel, are spending a couple of weeks visiting friends in Marlbank and vicinity. W. A. M. Young supplied the Sunday work at Roseneath, Dec. 23rd, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Snowdon. A new school-house is a topic under consideration among the ratepayers of this section. Two of Centreton's young people, David Orrick and Miss Ada Davey were married Wednesday evening December 26th, in the Methodist parsonage, Baltimore, by the Rev. W. Elliott.

The fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sherwin was celebrated last Tuesday evening in the presence of about forty guests. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stewart spent Christmas with her father, Rev. R. L. Edwards of Pontypool. Miss M. J. Barton spent a few days visiting friends in Norwood. Miss Bertha Moran visited friends in Roseneath on Christmas day.

Must Wear Union Clothes.

Brooklyn, Jan. 1.—To-day the order of the Brooklyn central labor union goes into effect that delegates must begin the year by wearing no clothes except those bearing the union label. A committee will make an inspection of delegates' clothes on Sunday next.

Methodist Revival.

Brooklyn, Jan. 1.—The Methodists of Brooklyn and vicinity began a general revival to-day, in which the ministers and all the official members will be heartily enlisted, and all the members will be asked to participate.

UNIONISM MADE PROGRESS.

Machinery a Benefit Rather Than a Disadvantage.

The century just closed leaves the workingmen of civilized countries in a better condition than it found them in. With all the talk about trusts, monopoly and the grinding oppression of capital; with all the new inventions, and the multiplication of labor saving machinery; with the increased and increasing competition for bread, the workingman to-day is a capitalist and changed places with his brother of a hundred, or even half a hundred years ago—were such a thing possible. The workingman to-day is a capitalist and free man compared with his brother of a century ago. To-day he gets better compensation for the labor performed and has a right to a voice in the government of the state. The great principles of democracy grow apace, and with the growth the workingman is bound to rise in the social, industrial and political scale. It is the natural tenency of the democracy; as natural as it is for water to flow down hill.

The workingman may not yet have gained a position where he is on proportionately equal terms with the capitalist, but he is getting there, and the incoming century will be prolific of big things.

While much has been written and said about the miseries suffered by the laboring classes on account of the multiplication of labor-saving machinery, the testimony of intelligent workingmen must inevitably say that the machinery has added to the comforts and blessings of the world and improved the status of the toiler. The objection to the machinery has been generally made at its introduction, when large numbers were thrown out of employment, but the conditions have always righted themselves, and the facilities for increased production have inevitably cheapened cost, and increased consumption, consequently increasing the demand for labor. A careful research of the economic history of the century reveals more benefit than harm to the toiler as a result of invention. Surely no toiler would want the world to stand still and keep pace to the stage coach progress of a century ago. It would be most unnatural, and any friend of the toiler making such claims would be a friend that the toiler could very well do without.

Looking back over the century the toiler can well afford to take an optimistic view of the present, and peer through the portals of the dawning century with a heart filled with hope. Reforms were never wrought in a day. Years of patient toil and earnest educational effort were always necessary to bring about reform, and no one seeking the betterment of his fellows has any justification of becoming disheartened or pessimistic early in the day.

The toiling masses, with all the alleged inequalities and oppression, stand to-day in a position where they can reform economic wrongs, if only political and religious differences could be relegated to the background and a united front be presented to the political masters.

What was unionism a century ago? A thought only, and a thought that almost frightened the mind that evolved it. What was unionism half a century ago? A poor, weak, struggling child, tossed on a turbulent sea. Unionism to-day compared with the former days is as a giant to a pigmy, a sturdy oak tree to a sapling, a great granite rock to a pebble.

Surely the rise and progress of unionism in the nineteenth century is a record of progress of which workingmen will be proud. Had workingmen achieved nothing else, the progress of unionism would have been a record sufficient in itself. With a closing up of the ranks, union labor faces the new century with golden opportunities.

Why a Cold "Hangs On."

Stop and think a minute. The tickling in the throat, the tight feeling in the chest and that racking cough are only the results of the cold, not the cold itself. To apply a soothing medicine to the irritated membrane does not cure the cold. The lungs, throat and nose are nature's exits for the poison, but the cold is in the system.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure will Cure a Cold.

It will cure a cold when it has developed so far as to be Consumption. "Shiloh's" supplies the blood with the vitality necessary to kill the germs and drive the dread disease out of the system.

Why keep on treating the results of the disease. Take "Shiloh" and you will cure the disease itself, and leave the system strong to resist future attacks. "Shiloh" is guaranteed to cure. If you are dissatisfied after using two thirds of the bottle take the remainder back to your druggist, and he will refund the whole of the purchase money.

James South of Vancouver, writes:

"S. J. Wells & Co., Toronto—I suffered for years from a cough and tried scores of remedies. Occasionally it would disappear for a few days, but would inevitably return—worse than before—I tried Shiloh's Consumption Cure and from the first day my cough was relieved and finally it left me. For over eleven months I have been quite well and I never tire of praising your grand medicine."
