MR. LAURIER WAS SENT FOR.

EXPECTED TO REACH OTTAWA SOME TIME TO-DAY.

Sir Charles Tupper Won't Talk About the Orders-in-Council That Were Not Signed—It is Said That Four Senatorial Appointments Were Rejected.

OTTAWA, July 9.—Mr. Laurier is expected here to-day to accept the responsibilities of office, but how he was sent for will not be given out at Rideau hall.

In regard to the governor-general having refused to sign certain orders-in-council, making appointments, Sir Charles Tupper will not say anything. He says he has not the authority of his excellency to speak on the matter.

There is, however, a well founded opinion that a number of appointments have been rejected, including four new senators to fill the four vacancies in the upper chamber. These are: One vacancy in Ontario, one in Nova Scotia and two in Quebec. This will give Laurier four liberals for the senate.

Recounts Favor Liberals.

The recount in East Lambton, yesterday, increased the majority of Mr. Fraser, liberal, from fourteen to forty.

The result of the recount in Hamilton was to confirm T. H. Macpherson, liberal, in his seat by a majority of twenty-four over Mr. Boville.

R. R. Dobell, the newly elected member for Quebec West, has announced that he will support the liberal government.

The ballots case in the North Leeds and Grenville election, which has been returned to the clerk of the crown in chancery before the time for demanding a recount had expired, were not produced before Judge McDonald at Brockville yesterday, and the recount was not proceeded with. The judge is considering an application for an adjournment.

Lord Aberdeen was asked to sanction no fewer than about 400 orders-in-council passed since June 23rd. He declined about 350 of them.

The Winnipeg Free Press urges the Manitoba government to settle the school question and take it out of the federal arena.

In the recount in Two Mountains, Que., Mr. Ethier, liberal, was declared elected by seventeen of a majority, an increase of three votes.

The liberals will protest the election of W. McCleary, conservative, Welland.

The result of the recount at Milton was that the majority for Mr. Henderson, conservative, was reduced from 109, as declared by the returning officer, to eighty-four.

THE LEANDERS WON IT.

The Final Heat for the Grand Challenge Cup.

HENLEY, July 9.—The fifth heat for the Thames challenge cup was won by Emmanuel college, Cambridge, which beat the Kensington rowing club easily. The sixth heat was won by the crew of Emmanuel college, Cambridge, which beat Trinity hall, Cambridge, by two and a quarter lengths. In the seventh heat the crew of the Societe D'Encouragement Du Sport Nautique, of Paris, beat the Mosleley boat club by a length and a quarter. It was a good race, and the Paris crew were heartily cheered.

The final heat in the race for the grand challenge cup between the Thames rowing club and the Leander rowing club, was won by the Leander. A strong adverse breeze was blowing over the course which slightly favored the Bucks station. Leander had the Bucks side and was a strong favorite. Colonel Willan, the starter of the races, invited captain Treadway, of the Yale crew, on board the umpire's launch, from which he witnessed the final grand challenge heat.

Leander won by two and a quarter lengths in 7:43. Both boats got off at the same instant, striking the water at a stroke of forty to the minute. Thames led after half a dozen strokes, and then Leander drew up level. At the end of the island Leander led by a third of a length, by two-thirds of a length at the rectory, and at the half mile post was a clear length in the lead. Leander kept in front and reached Fawley Court in 3:35. Her head was somewhat shortened after passing Fawley Court, but from the Isthmian to the finish Leander drew rapidly away from the Thames boat.

The final heat in the race for the Wyfold challenge cup was won by Trinity college, Oxford, which beat the London rowing club four by a third of a length.

The final heat for the visitors' challenge cup was won by the Caius college, Cambridge, which beat the Magdalen college, Oxford, four, by one length.

In the first heat for the stewards' challenge cup, four oars, the London rowing club beat the Thames rowing club by a length.

The final heat for the ladies' plate, eight oars, was won by Eton college, which beat Balliol college, Oxford, by three lengths.

The final heat for the diamond sculls was won by the Hon. Rupert Guinness, of the Leander boat club, the present holder of the trophy, who beat R. K. Beaumont, of the Burton-on-Thames Trent club, by two lengths.

The final heat for the Nickalls challenge cup (silver goblets) was won by the London rowing clubs pair, Guy and Vivian Nickalls, who beat the New College, Oxford, pair, W. E. Crum and C. M. Pitman, easily.

The final heat for the Thames challenge cup was won by the Emmanuel college, Cambridge, eight who beat the crew of the Societe D'Encouragement Du Sport Natutique of Paris by four lengths.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

A Big Tent Collapsed—The Hymns and Addresses of Welcome.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The collapse of the big white tent "Williston," at one o'clock this morning, due to the heavy fall of rain last night and the severe wind storm that followed, somewhat disconcerted the committee of arrangements with regard to the formal opening of the fifteenth annual international christian endeavor convention, which occurred at 9:30 o'clock to-day. The other tents, "Washington" and "Endeavor," were packed long before the hour of opening.

Promptly at the appointed hour the exercises began in each tent with song and prayer, the great chorus of a thousand voices leading. Then came the hymn of welcome, written for the occasion by Col. John Hay, the addresses of welcome by chairman W. H. H. Smith, Rev. S. H. Green and commissioner John W. Ross, of Washington, followed, and the responses to these by Dr. R. J. Service, of Detroit, bishop Walters, of New Jersey, and Prof. W. Andrews, of New Brunswick. The addresses of president Clark and secretary Baer were then read simultaneously in each tent. [See page two.]

Saved From Death.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 9.—Just as the stevedores and laborers at work unloading the schooner H. B. Holman, at Boakes' wharf, were about to haul a puncheon of molasses out of the hold this morning, it was discovered that one of the ropes of the hoisting gear had been almost completely severed during the night, only one strand remaining uncut. Had the weight of puncheon been placed on it, it would certainly have given way and some of the half dozen men at work underneath would have been severely injured if not killed. There had been trouble with another stevedore, out of whose hands the work of unloading had been taken. Suspicion has fallen on a laborer and the police are looking into the matter.

Played Shooting Tramps—A Tragedy.

BERLIN, Ont., July 9.—What may prove a tragedy occurred here last evening. Two young lads named Powley and McCullough, aged respectively twelve and seven years, were playing in the yard of the former, on Young street, when young Powley asked McCullough to get up into a tree and he would show him how they shot tramps. McCullough climbed the tree and young Powley went into the house and upstairs, and securing an old shot gun, fired out of an open window at his companion. The charge took effect in the latter's left lung, piercing it within an inch of the heart. He lies in a critical condition.

SHOT THREE, KILLED HIMSELF.

A Chicago Man Crazed With Jealousy Does Some Reckless Shooting.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Crazed with hatred and jealousy, William Johnson, thirty years old, a resident of Chicago, Wednesday afternoon, shot and fatally wounded William H. Sutton, twenty-five years old, living at No. 43 Greenwich avenue; fired another shot at Sutton's wife, Helma, twenty-three years old, seriously wounded a Greek flower peddler named Basilius Kenakas, forty-five years old, and finally, when run down and almost captured by a policeman, shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Johnson and the woman were formerly intimate friends in Chicago and among a number of presents which he gave her was a gold watch. They finally quarreled and Mrs. Sutton says she left him and came to New York. Here, she says, she met her husband and went to live with him at the Greenwich avenue house. Mrs. Sutton told the police that Johnson had only arrived in this city from Chicago on Tuesday.

Sutton and his wife were walking on Twentieth street, near Broadway, when they chanced to meet Johnson, who at once accosted them and angrily demanded from the woman the watch that he had given her in Chicago. She refused to give it to him, and then Johnson drew a revolver and the tragedy followed.

ONE OF THE FINEST.

Review at Aldershot—Chatting With the Queen's Daughter-in-Law.

LONDON, July 9.—The review of the troop at the Aldershot camp, given in honor of the ancient and honorable artillery company of Boston, began soon after the arrival of the visitors at Aldershot. Upwards of 8,000 cavalry, artillery and infantry marched past.

The visitors expressed themselves as highly pleased with their visit and pronounced the spectacle of the review about the finest that they had ever seen. Lieut. Colter said that the movements were admirably executed, the men and horses alike being thoroughly well trained.

Rev. Moses Hoge, Richmond, Va., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bayard to Aldershot. Upon the reviewing field the Duchess of Connaught's carriage stood next to that of Bayard's and the occupants of the vehicles had a protracted conversation. The Boston artillerymen arrived at Aldershot in time to see part of the sham fight.

FIFTY THOUSAND DROWNED.

The Japanese Tidal Wave the Most Fearful of Modern Times.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 9.—Additional details of the Japanese tidal wave of last month were received by the United Press, to-day, on the arrival of the steamer Braemer from Yokohama. The advices are to June 22nd, and show that the disaster was probably the most fearful of modern times. The death list has been greatly augmented since last advices and will undoubtedly go far beyond 50,000. The distress among the survivors of the terrible visitation is appalling. Thousands of injured are dying from lack of medical assistance, and many are upon the verge of starvation, subsisting on fish washed ashore by the waves and eating them raw, having no cooking appurtenances. The wave originated not far from the Japanese coast and appears to have visited an extent of over 300 miles of coast line.

Got Over The Course First.

GLASGOW, July 9.—The German emperor's new racing cutter, Meteor, made her first appearance in a race in the Clyde to-day, sailing over the course from Larg's round flag boats off Wemyss Bay, Bogany point and Mount Stuart and back, twice round, with a distance to Mount Stuart and back of forty-eight miles, under the auspices of the Royal Largs yacht club. The Meteor finished first but the race was won by the Britannia on time allowance of five minutes and eighteen seconds. The Ailsa, Satanita and Caress also started, but gave up the race owing to their having become becalmed.

In the race for twenty raters the Penitent beat the Niagara.

Urging the Acceptance of Terms.

LONDON, July 9.—The Westminster Gazette publishes a special despatch from Athens saying that Russia is prompting France to occupy Crete and hold the island against Great Britain's tenure of Cyprus and Egypt. The Greek government has become alarmed at this and is endeavoring to induce the Cretans to accept the terms of the porte. The British fleet has been so strengthened in Cretan waters to almost blockade the island.

Confined For Months.

SALISBURY, Matabeleland, July 9.—Beals' column has arrived at Engeldoorn, 105 miles from here, and found 250 Boers in a laager with sixty-four men and forty-eight women, 114 children and forty-five rifles among them. They had been besieged and cut off from the outside world for months. They recently sallied from the laagar, burned three kraals and killed 100 insurgent natives.

TRINITY COLLEGE MEETING.

F. Barlow Cumberland Spoke in St. Georc's Hall Last Night.

A meeting in the interest of Trinity university was held last night in the synod hall. The chair was taken by the venerable the archbishop of Kingston, who opened the meeting with a short address, and then called upon Rev. Mr. Emery, who, a St. Augustine's man, spoke in high terms of Trinity and her new provost.

The chairman then introduced F. Barlow Cumberland, of Toronto, an old graduate of Trinity. Mr. Cumberland began by saying he hoped the older men of Trinity would not suffer in comparison with the more recent graduates. He referred to the fact that the university of Trinity was being managed not by a few men nominated by a synod or other body, but by those who practically represent the whole church of Canada. The university is not controlled by the government. It is independent in every way. The dioceses have their representatives on the corporation. He referred to the offers made to Trinity, to Wycliffe and to the breadth of Trinity's teaching. Trinity does not seek to destroy individuality of character or mould all its students in one line of thought. This was shown by the personnel of her graduates, among whom were men of all views, such, for example, as the bishop of Huron, Rev. H. Wilson and Rev. H. Waters. He also spoke of the new bishop of Alaska, who, although a Canadian and a graduate of Trinity, was unanimously elected by the United States church. He emphasized the position of Trinity as an arts university for the education of laymen as well as clergymen. This day of options in education matters was in every way recognized except only in the matter of instruction in religion, which was obligatory. At the same time the general educational standard was in every way equal to the highest. Other features of the university, such as residence of her students within the college, the woman's department of St. Hilda's, scholarships, etc., were clearly explained.

Rev. H. Bedford-Jones, lecturer in divinity at Trinity, made a short and vigorous address, after which, on motion of Mr. Worrell, a vote of thanks was passed, amid much enthusiasm, for Mr. Cumberland's able, entertaining and instructive address.

The Spoiled Ballots.

In the late election the spoiling of ballots was done designedly, hence it is a question that judges cannot determine as to what was the intention of voters. Some voters went to the polls because they had to file an appearance and spoiled their ballots rather than vote. Some marked the cross in the oblong, knowing the disc was the proper place. What judge could fairly count a ballot so marked for a candidate, on the ground of the intent of the elector? We know of such cases.

KEEP STEADFAST SILENCE.

THIS IS WHAT GOLD STATES THINK OF DOING.

And If They Do Bland is Looked Upon as the Most Likely Man to Get the Nomination—Bland's Reply to Those Who Wanted to Know About His Religion.

CHICAGO, July 9.—A morning paper says it is now probable that the gold men will cut a large figure in the nomination, and yet take no part. The New York leaders, with William C. Whitney as a mouthpiece, said, last night, that they would refrain from voting on the nominee, and it is the general impression that most of the gold states will follow in the lead of New York, and keep a steadfast silence while the roll is called. This decision puts Bland in a long lead ahead of the other candidates and makes him much closer to the desired two-thirds vote than if the entire convention should record its vote for the nomination. Recognizing this, the Boies, Matthews and Teller forces are straining every energy to get gold men to participate in the nomination. The Bland men look upon John R. McLean as the most probable running mate for the Missourian in case he is named.

The fact that Hon. Richard P. Bland, of Missouri, the probable nominee of the present democratic convention, is himself a Methodist and has a Catholic wife, has aroused some opposition to him in certain circles. It was rumored that Bland had turned Catholic, and to gain some definite knowledge on the subject a message was sent to Bland asking him as to its truth. This is Mr. Bland's answer:

"Religion is not the issue. I am a Methodist. Have always been one. Always will be. If I was half as good as my Catholic wife I would not worry about getting into heaven. This is the sentiment I expressed in a previous emergency when her religion was criticized. I stand by it now."

To Add Another Plank.

CHICAGO, July 9.—It developed last night that the principal reason for the reassembling of the committee on resolutions to-day is to hear ex-senator Walsh, of Georgia, and J. J. Dwyer, of California, on the question of inserting an anti-A.P.A. plank in the platform.

They Carried Everything.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The silver men had complete control of the democratic convention in Chicago yesterday and adopted the platform declaring for free and unlimited silver coinage and taxation for revenue.

At the evening session the committee further reported in favor of seating four silver contestants from Michigan. A minority report was presented, and after a prolonged debate it was defeated, and the gold men were unseated. After the permanent organization was effected by the election of senator White, of California, as permanent chairman, the convention adjourned.

REAL AIM OF THE REVOLUTION.

What Cuba Desires is the Independence of the Island.

MADRID, July 9.—In the chamber of deputies yesterday prime minister Canovas, replying to a criticism of the government's policy made by Senor Silvela, the leader of the dissentient conservatives, declared that the real aim of the Cuban revolution was the independence of the island and not autonomy. Spain, he said, would know how to overcome all the obstacles in her way. Cuba did not possess the elements necessary to maintain her independence, and if separated from Spain would fall a prey to another nation.

The chamber rejected the Carlist amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, urging that Spain join the Franco-Russian alliance in conformity to the exigencies of the government's colonial interests, and with a view to resisting the perfidy of the United States government.

Senor Mella, Carlist, speaking in the chamber of deputies to-day, declared that the government ought to be energetic in preparing for the inevitable conflict between the United States and Spain, in which Spain would prove her virility and her greatness.

Imitations in Plenty

There are imitations of Columbia Bicycles everywhere—all said to be "just as good" as the famous American machine. But imitations are not

Columbia Bicycles

STANDARD OF THE WORLD.

The imitation may look like a Columbia, may even have some of the equipment the same, but it will not give the enduring, satisfactory service a Columbia will. The accumulated experience of 18 years is lacking with the imitators.

SAVED BY A GLOVE BUTTON.

How much may depend upon a glove fastening was illustrated, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, at one of the Monson slate quarries in an adventure which the person concerned would not care to repeat. He was a derrick man who stood on the brink of one of the great chasms from which the slate rock is hoisted. His duty was to catch hold of a big hook depending from the end of the boom as it swung over the bank and attach it to the crate to be sent back into the pit. Standing upon the very edge, he reached out to catch the hook which dangled near him. It was winter, and he wore thick buckskin gloves.

The hook slipped from him as he leaned out, but caught into the fastening of the glove. The swing of the great boom took him off his feet in an instant and carried him out into giddy space, with his life depending on the glove's holding fast. His whole weight was hung on that button, and there was a clear 175 feet of space between him and the floor of rock below. The moments that passed before the boom could be swung over the bank seemed like hours to him, but he got there at last safe and sound. He explained that he did not dare move his hand in the glove to attempt to catch the hook with his fingers for fear the change of position would loosen the button so it would give way. His presence of mind in keeping as still as possible may have helped to keep the slender thread from breaking.

They Drink Kerosene.

Kerosene oil would hardly be deemed a desirable beverage by an epicure, but it is used in large quantities as a stimulant by Russian immigrants in this country. The habit is one that they acquire in the native land, and, strange as it may seem, they adhere to this form of intoxication even when other liquors are within the reach of their purses. An "oil drunk" produces intense drowsiness, and the tippler of this odd drink goes to sleep as soon as he has become saturated with the liquid. Baron Schroeder, who owns a mine in California, has found among his employees men who drink pure alcohol, vinegar, worcestershire sauce and coal oil. The coil oil drunkard prefers his beverage to any other.
