Effect Your Insurances

WITH THE

LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE FIRE AND LIFE

Insurance Company

SECOND TO NO INSURANCE OFFICE IN THE WORLD.

IT HAS OVER $25,000,000 actual assets, with about $7,000,000 guaranteed uncalled in Capital. In addition to this large fund the public have the undoubted security of a large and wealthy proprietary.

Rates of Insurance as low as any safe office. This Company has paid over $48,000,000 for losses and claims.

Losses paid promptly; witness at the great fire in Chicago, scarcely had the fire been extinguished before instructions were given to draw on the Head Office for the whole amount of its loss, over Three Millions of Dollars, and in addition gave $10,000 to the sufferers. The same promptness has followed the late great Fire at St. John's, N.B.; orders were immediately given to draw for the full amount of loss, and in addition gave to the sufferers five hundred pounds sterling.

DIFFIDENCE.

I'm after axin,' Biddy dear—
And here he paused awhile
To fringe his words the merest mite
With something of a smile,
A smile that found its image
In a face of beauteous mold,
Whose liquid eyes were peeping
From a broidery of gold.

I've come to ax ye, Biddy dear,
If—then he stopped again,
As if his heart had bubbled o'er
And overflowed his brain;
His lips were twitching nervously
O'er what they had to tell,
And timed their quivers with the eyes
That gently rose and fell.

I've come—and then he took her hands
And held them in his own,
To ax—and then he watched the buds
That on her cheeks had blown,
Me purty dear—and then he heard
The throbbing of her heart,
That told how love had entered in
And claimed its every part.

Och! don't be taxin' me, said she,
With just the faintest sigh,
I've sinse enough to see you've come,
But what's the rayson why?
To ax—and once again the tongue
Forebore its sweets to tell,
To ax—if Mrs. Mulligan
Has any pigs to sell.

A Warning Letter.

The following anonymous letter has been received by the Witness. The chirography is not very good. Doubts may justly be entertained whether it is not a hoax, but no harm can come of giving it to the public:

Montreal, July 17, 1877.

MR. EDITOR,—Sir: I want you to please insert these few lines in your paper as a warning to the disgraceful union, of which I feel bad to belong, that is the Irish Catholic Union, that if they do not stop their evil designs in sending members out to do such and such bloody deeds, I shall make a clean breast of everything. I do not want to do it, as I am sworen, and I know that the penelty is death if I do tell, but I cannot stand it any longer, for my heart bleeds along with thousands of other Christian people that have had good Christian mothers to teach them that to commit murder is a sin; so I wish you every one not to attempt it any, for if you do it will bring disgrace upon our spiratual advisers, as well as the members. My next letter will startle the whole of Montreal and the world, even to the children. If I have occasion to do so you plans is at an end. What you have already planed for as sure as I live I shall not alow you to execute them, as my blood runs cold when I think about them. I can neather sleep nor eat, so do not give me cause to have to come out with names, as it would ruen many in this city.

Yours respectfully,

MEMBER OF IRISH CATHOLIC UNION.

SIR,—I write this in pencel, as I have no pen and ink, but you can make it out. In my next letter my name shall come with it.

The Elliott Shooting Case.

At 10.30 a.m. yesterday the prisoners, Patrick McAlister, and Michael and John Ryan, aged respectively 18 and 14, arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the murderous attack on Mr. Wm. Elliott, on the 16th instant, were escorted by Sergeants Holbrook and Richardson to the General Hospital, where they were seen by the sufferer. An eye witness of the interview gives the following account:—"McAlister turned red in the face, and evinced considerable nervous agitation. He avoided looking at Elliott. The Ryans, though uneasy, took the matter more coolly. Elliott being asked whether he could identify the three or any one of them as his assailants on the night of the 16th, paused for about five minutes before making a reply, evidently being desirous of thoroughly studying the faces of those before him. He scrutinized their features carefully, and at last said: "To the best of my belief, he (pointing to McAlister) is the man who put me into the cab, and the man that put me in the cab is the man that shot me." He then turned his attention to the Ryan brothers, and said, to the best of his belief, the elder Ryan was the one who took the Orange regalia out of his breast, and which has been missing ever since. It seems when passing through Griffintown, Elliott had taken it off and put it in between his vest and shirt until he should get to his stopping place." He thought that the younger Ryan was one of the brutal crowd which kicked him after he was down, and cut his head with a stone.

To day an official statement of the affair will be taken by Mr. Desnoyers, P. M., from the wounded man.

A woman, who gave the sufferer a drink immediately after he was wounded, is of opinion that she can identify McAlister as the person who fired at Elliott, and that Ryan was in the crowd.

Mr. Elliott was reported to be improving if anything.—Herald.

RECEPTION.—A reception was given at St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, to Rev. D. J. McDonnell, on his return from Halifax. The church was crowded, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The Reverend gentleman was presented with a handsome silk gown, and Mrs. McDonnell with a costly ermine cloak, and two side pieces.

A Beautiful Horse.—There is nothing that can attribute so much to render the horse beautiful and elegant, to improve his condition and make him all that is desirable, as "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," it has been used by many persons who own valuable carriage and other horses with decided success, and so well pleased are they with it that they always keep it on hand in case of emergency; it may be given at all times with perfect safety. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Health is Strength.—To prevent or conquer disease is one of the grandest at ainments ever aimed at by man, and Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers will as sure cure coughs, colds, tickling in the throat and pulmonary complaints, as war and pestilence will destroy. Severe colds if not attended to sooner or later lead to incurable consumption, and the strength of the strongest soon fails if neglected. The readiest and best means known for the cure of those complaints is Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers which have been thoroughly tried for the last twenty years, and have never been known to fail. Ringers and public speakers will also derive great benefit by the use of them. Sold by all medicine dealers at 25c per box.
