CITY AND VICINITY

CRICKET.—To-morrow afternoon a match will be played on the Cricket Ground between the K. C. C. and the Cadets of the Military College.

GETTING BETTER.—The boy medical investigator, who tried inward application of a liniment, is getting better slowly, and his stomach will feel much disorganized for a while.

W. W. RIDEOUT is opening the Fall and Winter campaign in oysters and fish, and promises a better variety than ever before. He has received to-day a fine lot of Fair Haven oysters in bulk.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.—Willie, youngest son of Mr. Wm. Gordon, Odessa, while out shooting yesterday, shot and killed a valuable horse belonging to his father by the accidental discharge of his gun.

PROBABILITIES for the next 24 hours: For the lower lake region moderate to fresh north to east winds, clear to fair weather. For the St. Lawrence fresh to brisk north-west to north-east winds, cloudy to fair weather, with rain.

KINGSTON PRESBYTERY.—To-day a pro re nata meeting of the Presbytery of Kingston was to have been held to-day in St. Andrew's Hall, for the purpose of granting a Presbyterial certificate to Rev. Dr. Snodgrass.

CLAYTON BAND.—The Clayton brass band accompanied an excursion party which visited Kingston yesterday by the steamer Faxton. During the afternoon it serenaded several citizens, and received many compliments for its excellent and well timed music.

POLICE.—Edmond Williams, drunk, discharged. George Houston, drunk, do. It is just a little interesting to note the judgments of this Court. For drunkenness the punishment ranges from a discharge up to six months' imprisonment.

MACE VS. FRONTENAC.—Mr. Mace's application to quash the Dunkin By-law in Frontenac has been unsuccessful, although the Warden had intimated that the County Council would not oppose the rule.

IN THE CITY.—Our member, Sir John Macdonald, arrived last night from the west. He was to speak at the opening of the Smelting Works this afternoon, and to-morrow morning he leaves by the str. Maud for the Brockville Conservative demonstration.

STRUCK BY A SQUALL.—The bark 'Mary Merritt,' while working out of Collinsby last Monday evening, was struck by a squall and driven ashore—broadside on—near Stella Point, Amherst Island. By running an anchor she got off without help from a tug.

Y.M.C.A.—A very interesting Bible meeting was held last night, Rev. Mr. McQuaig in the chair. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Peacock, the lesson, "Paul's Farewell Sermon," was studied and commented upon. The meeting closed with prayer by Mr. Meadows. There was a good attendance.

A RUNAWAY.—The smash up of one of Mr. Duff's buggies occurred through the breaking of a rein when the horse was going at full speed, and depending on a check. Masters Duff, Hooper and Rose were thrown out and escaped with several bruises and flesh wounds. The pot on which they landed was soft.

THE AMERICAN CONVENTION.—Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick is among the gentlemen selected to accompany the Bishops of Niagara and Huron on the delegation from the Upper House to the American Convention of the Episcopal Church to be held in Boston, in October next, on behalf of Canadian Synod.

EXCURSION.—The "Maud" leaves at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning for Brockville, to convey those who wish to attend the Conservative Demonstration at the latter place. A good many will likely go on the trip, and see what is going on around them as well as take advantage of the sail.

NOT THE LAST.—It was given out that the Brockville Tory demonstration was to be the grand wind-up or finale of the pic-nic campaign, but in reply to a deputation's invitation from Hamilton, Sir John expressed gratification, and would be glad to meet the people of Wentworth at an early day. Dr. Tupper accepted the invitation for the same occasion.

MATCH AT BROCKVILLE.—In the annual rifle match at Brockville yesterday at 200 and 500 yards, Sergt. Kincaid of the 47th Battalion, with a score of 40 points, won the first prize, $12. At 500 and 600 yards, G. Lafayette, Brockville, won the first prize, $10; W. B. White, Prescott, the second, $8; and Sergt. Kincaid, Brockville, the third, $6.

A LIVELY NIGHT.—The streets were astir until a very late hour last night. There was evidence apparent on every hand that some had imbibed more than enthusiasm, for their equilibrium had been somewhat shaken. We cannot understand it, but it is nevertheless a fact, that there are certain men who cannot indulge in the smallest measure of pleasure, unless pretty well oiled with liquor.

RINE MOVEMENT.—Mr. D. I. K. Rine, the most successful temperance revivalist that has ever visited this Province, will be here on Monday. It may not be our duty to suggest it, but to our mind it is time those who signed his pledge and collectively, if not individually, invited him to return, should arrange the preliminaries for the campaign which he proposes to inaugurate. One is waiting on another to act, and it looks as if nobody feels inclined to move.

WINDWAFTS.

—The fair has broken up.

—"Wipe off your specs" is the latest.

—The leaves are turning red very fast.

—Chicago charters to Kingston: Prop Cleveland, wheat at 11c; schr Shandon, wheat, 8½c.

—Belleville is importing ice from Picton. That comes of the Rine movement.

—The adverse wind last night kept back the fleet of vessels bound for Kingston.

—The WHIG office has been awarded the first prize of the Midland Fair for fancy printing.

—Cape Vincent is now going to manufacture lager. Scobell & Kinghorn can get a good pattern from Bajus. Pronounce "Waldschloesschen."

—It is not "tony" to raise your hat to a lady till after she has passed, and as she can't then know that you have or not done so, you might just as well leave it alone.

—The planet Venus can now be seen in the west for an hour after sunset, and will grow brighter and remain longer above the horizon during the remainder of the year.

—Watertown Times:—"James Brown, M.P., of Kingston, fell into his own cistern last week and would have been drowned had not his cries been heard." Mr. Brown lives in Belleville. Kingston would like him, but Belleville likes him better or he wouldn't be an M.P.

—The Kingston Tory scalper, which inaugurated the high minded critical style of counting the buggies at political demonstrations, can at his leizure compare the forty vehicles at Napanee with the procession a mile long at Orangeville in honor of Premier Mackenzie.

—The Newburg Reporter learns that Mr. Parrott, of Ernesttown, is to be a candidate for parliamentary honors at the coming election, in the Conservative interest. A parrot would be just the thing to echo the Great Statesman's campaign cries.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The next meeting of the Teachers' Association of the County of Frontenac and City of Kingston, will be held in the Court House on Thursday and Friday next, commencing at 1:30 p.m. on the 27th. J. George Hodgins, Esq., L.L.D. Deputy Minister of Education, will address the Teachers on the 27th, and will deliver a lecture in the City Hall in the evening. Subject, "The Educational Features of the Centennial." Papers on Educational Subjects will be prepared and read by Mr. G. W. Kidd, City Inspector of Public Schools, Mr. A. P. Knight, M. A., Rector Kingston Collegiate Institute, Mr. S. Woods, late Rector K. C. Institute, Mr. Wm Summerby, Principal County Model School, and Mr. Henstridge. The President, Prof. N. F. Dupuis, M.A., F.B.S.E., will deliver a lecture on "Education," on the morning of the 28th inst.

The Death of Canon Preston.

Gentlemen who returned yesterday afternoon from the Provincial Synod brought the sad news of the death of Canon Preston upon the train which brought them. The occurrence was as startling to them as it was unexpected by everybody. The reverend gentleman has been of late in poor health, denoting a serious affection of his system, but no fatal effect was felt to be near. He filled his appointed place in the Synod at Montreal steadily, and took an active part in the proceedings—a part which, no doubt, carried the weight which his thoughtful and liberal expressions have carried in Ontario Synod in Kingston. He left Montreal yesterday morning to return home in not very good health, and on the way fell dead on his seat in the Pullman car, it is said, of heart disease. He was surrounded by friends, who did all that was loving and respectful in taking care of the remains until Cornwall was reached, and they were taken to the home where his coming was awaited with a joy, to which the cruel news must have given a dreadful revulsion. His obsequies will probably be largely attended, as he had warm friends in all parts of the diocese. The clerical body can ill spare one of its few most prominent and sound members, and Cornwall parish will have to look far for a worthy successor.

Canon Preston was born at Toronto, and graduated at King's and Trinity Colleges. He was ordained deacon in 1855, and priest in 1856, by the Bishop of Toronto. He was appointed to the charge of Cornwall in 1871, and Canon of St. George's Cathedral in 1875.

USING FIRE ARMS.—Last night the citizens of Clergy Street were startled by the firing of a number of pistol shots. One of the police force heard them—and so did the detective—and the offenders were followed into the Odessa House, where they were asked for the revolver, but denied having it. Haggerty, however, detected one of the strangers in the act of transferring it to the possession of another, and confiscated it. Then one of the other peace officers called the attention of the roomfull of people, to whom he expounded the law, i.e., that any one found carrying a shooting iron was subject to a fine of $50. Then he demonstrated the law by marching out of the room and leaving the lawbreaker behind him. That's the kind of police we have in Kingston.

POOR THINGS.—Our contemporary, in noticing the recent instructions of the Educational Department, expresses itself in this affecting and motherly manner: "There are eleven or twelve teachers in the city who are thus deprived of their natural protector, the City Inspector." The poor things! Mr. Kidd is a nice man, quite a pleasant parent, too, we may assume; but we pity him if he has undertaken to act as the "natural protector" of the teachers of the city beside his own little family circle.

MARINE.—The following vessels passed through the Welland Canal for Kingston yesterday: Schrs. Jennie Graham, from Detroit, wheat; J. M. Scott, Camanche, Star, John T. Mott and C. J. Mixer, from Chicago, wheat; J. S. Richardson, from Chicago, corn; E. M. Davidson, from Milwaukee, wheat; barge Clyde and steambarge Clinton, from Milwaukee, wheat.

OUR LIBRARY.

Messrs. H. Hallett & Co., publishers of the New Centenary, Portland, Me., and Montreal, contributes three handsome and valuable books to our library, being memoirs of three distinguished men, George Peabody, Charles Dickens and David Livingstone.

It is truly said that

"Among the few, the immortal names
That were not born to die."

is to be read in glowing characters the name of George Peabody. A wide interest attaches to the events of his life and the record of his noble deeds, because he showed us that he valued wealth on account of the power it gave him to do good, and benefit others than himself and his immediate family or nearest relatives. The volume is from the pen of that gifted literateur, Phoeba A. Hanford, and the writer, as a member of the Essex Institute, expresses gratitude to one who manifested so much interest in the objects of the Association, and whose munificence so enhanced its means of prosecuting historical and scientific research as to make his name illustrious and his memory fragrant among them forever.

Few English speaking people but have read something of the life and works of Charles Dickens. It is well said of him that his genius was evident to all classes of readers, and editions of his attractive novels have been so multiplied and so varied that they are found in the houses of the lofty and the lowly. This volume is one of many biographical sketches written of him. It is not intended to be exhaustive. Among his own immediate friends may be found a biographer, wholly prepared to do full justice to the man and the author. Meanwhile his admirers this side the Atlantic will render loving tribute to his genius by publishing volumes in his memory, briefly sketching his life, and pointing out some of the most beautiful and excellent passages in his numerous books. This is what is attempted here. Women have enjoyed his writings. They have wept over little Nell and Paul Dombey, and poor Joe, and they have laughed over the pages of Pickwick, and it is right they should have these memorial works, and this is one. The author is Phœbe A. Hanford, one of the pleasantest and most prolific authors of the day.

Of David Livingston it is remarked that his life, from childhood to its close, is a living lesson which the youth of the country cannot take too closely to heart. In presenting this new edition to the public the author incorporates all the essential results of Dr. Livingston's lost journals of his third attempt to open Central Africa more fully to the civilized world—an object for which he seemed so ardently to live, and for which he certainly was so ready to die—always bearing in mind what he never lost sight of, viz., the discovery of the real source of the Nile, and Africa's redemption from the vile curse of the slave trade. Rev. E.A. Manning is the author.

Reception and Religious Profession.

The very interesting ceremony of Reception of the Holy Habit and Religious Profession took place in the chapel of the Hotel Dieu yesterday morning. The young lady who received the white veil was Miss Kate Leahy, cousin of the Rev. Mother, and she who made her final vows was Miss O'Gorman, of Enniskmore. They have now consecrated themselves to Almighty God, whom they promised to faithfully serve the remainder of their lives in the person of the poor and afflicted. They are now dead to the world, and as their community is cloistered they will never more leave the convent walls unless in case of absolute necessity. A very appropriate and touching sermon was given by His Lordship Bishop O'Brien. He spoke of the various callings which go to make up the web-work of the world, one dependent on the other. No matter what may be our calling all must end by our being placed on the right hand or the left, which will depend on how he acted towards God in his suffering members. Because you have done to the least of my little ones you have done it to me; or because you have done it not to the least of my little ones you have done it to me. These young ladies, who are now to be consecrated to Almighty God, are leaving the world and its false pleasures to administer to these suffering members of Jesus Christ. After the sermon mass was begun. Very Rev. J. Farrelly, V. G., was invited by his Lordship to perform the ceremony, as he, (Father Farrelly) named the parents of one of the young ladies, as well as baptized herself. After the "Gradure," the the "Veni Creator" was sung, and the celebrant took his place near the grate of the cloister and interrogated both postulant and novice as to the motives that induce them to enter the religious life and as to their knowledge of the responsibilities attending it. He then blessed the various articles of dress and presented them to the postulant and placed a crown of flowers on her head to remind her that she should, by a virtuous life, earn for herself a crown of glory. The mass was then continued to the communion, when the novice read her vows and made her profession. At the end of mass the "Te Deum" was sung. The following priests also took part in the ceremony: Fathers Donohue, of Brinsville; McWilliams, of Loboro, and Twohey, of Kingston.

A MEDICAL POLITICIAN.—Dr. Evans belongs to that political class of which Sir John is the consulting physician. He has been writing to the Frontenac Gazette anent the presentation to the Chieftain of a piece of silver bearing the Connecticut trade mark, and he has had his fling at that independent journal, and our contemporary has taken a dab at him. Dr. Evans may be a good surgeon, but in newspaper controversy he invariably sticks his lancet in the wrong place—in other words he cuts himself.

CANADA'S GOVERNOR.—A rumor from England is to the effect that our present popular Governor-General, whose term shortly expires, will be succeeded by the Marquis of Lorne, the husband of Princess Louise. This may have been given rise to by the statement of the Marquis' intended visit to Nova Scotia on a sporting expedition. Another rumor states that Prince Leopold is about to take holy orders in the Church of England.—Free Press.

MANHOOD RESTORED.

Victims of youthful imprudence, who have tried in vain every known remedy, will learn of a simple prescription, FREE, for the speedy cure of nervous debility, premature decay, lost manhood, and all disorders brought on by excesses. Any druggist has the ingredients. Address DAVIDSON & CO., 86 Nassau St., N.Y.

THE MODEL ISLE.

What Forty Years of Prohibition Shows.

Messrs. Calvin and Breck, of Garden Island, were addressed by Capt. George Wright, of Port Hope, as their opinion of enforced prohibition. And they replied:

"We have done business here for the past 40 years, and during this period have never allowed a glass of liquor to be sold here. This is an incorporated village—population a little over 1,000; and we flatter ourselves that our people are in as comfortable circumstances as any village in Canada. We have never yet had to send anybody to the Poor House, Jail nor Penitentiary, and we attribute our good luck, in this respect, entirely to our enforcing of the temperance or prohibition law, which our Mr. Calvin inaugurated on his first commencing business here. We have no policemen, not even a constable—their service not being required. There are some 65 vessels trading here, besides several steamers, and notwithstanding this, we have had very few accidents, and the few we have had happened principally by drowning when poor fellows were on the way from Kingston or Wolfe Island, where grog could be obtained."

—It is reported by the papers that at the Whitby picnic 'a storm of wind arose which nearly demolished the platform.' Immediately following this bit of news is the announcement that 'Hon. Mr. McDougall was then called on to speak.' It looks queer.—Telegram.

—The Chieftain has declared from the pic nic platform that 'there was no greater mistake than to suppose that a politician could gain anything by a corrupt support of his own party.' It was the Chieftain who took money from a railway corporation in order to bribe the electors into sending "poor young men" to Partiament to support Sir John Macdonald.

MR. RINE.

An Interesting Scene.

Mr. D. I. K. Rine's proposed visit to Ottawa causes a good deal of interest among the temperance advocates there. Preparations on a large scale are being made to assist him in his work, to carry on which he is pre-eminently fitted. He has a commanding appearance, a wonderful voice, an evident love for his work, and consideration for those whom he influences for good that makes his success wherever he goes almost a foregone conclusion. The following incident illustrates his way of encouraging those who had fallen low and were trying to keep their newly made pledges. At the Grimsby camp meeting, one who said that he had been plunged to the depths in wretchedness, was telling his pitiful story in a low tone when the cry 'louder' came from different parts of the assembly. Mr. Rine jumped up for a moment, and shouted so as to be heard almost a quarter of a mile away, "If you had been "brought as low as this man has, if you "had been so wretched as to be ashamed "of your very existence; if you had strug-"gled and struggled against the tempta-"tion, only to fall again; and then if by "the grace of God you had been raised, "and were to attempt to tell your story "timidly before an audience, and some-"body were to cry out 'louder, louder, "louder,' how would you like it?" Then turning to the interrupted speaker he said, 'Go on, I'm here with you.' It is such a spirit as this which makes every man freed from drink's trammels though the instrumentality of the 'Gospel Temperance Movement' an enthusiast in the work and a great power to make others as they are.

THE BAND QUESTION.—The criticism of the band competition yesterday is made by our musical reporter. His judgment must not be questioned; indeed if it is we shall imitate the bandsmen in some respects, and to-morrow it may be said of us, as it is now said of the Battery Band, that "the attack was good, and the lead well sustained."

THE ICE PITCHER.—The editor of the Frontenac Gazette went to the Napanee Demonstration and became mad because the Picton people presented Sir John with an ice pitcher instead of him. The thing was a mistake, but that does not prevent our young friend from kicking back in this style: Why, towards the beginning of autum, put up an ice pitcher for competition? Better have put up a silver bugle, and let each of the candidates toot his horn; they are long winded enough, if not musical, elsewhere.
