Spirits in a Chapel.

British Columbia papers of October 22nd contain an account of a singular apparition at Metlakatlah. Fourteen yeart ago a mission was started there amoug the Tsimshean Indians by Mr. William Duncan, under the auspices of the Church Missionary Society of England. Mr. Duncan is assisted by the Rev. Mr. Collinson and Rev. Mr. Hall, also Church of England missionaries. Metlakatlah is an inhospitable spot. But to the apparition story: The Hudson Bay Company's steamer, Otter, which arrived on the 21st ult., at Victoria, reported on the authority of Rev. Mr. Hall, that while the Indians were at prayer in the mission house on the night of Sunday, the 14th, five figures robed in white suddenly appeared near the communion table, and remained there in a kneeling position some time. The Indians rushed into Mr. Hall's house, and begged him to come with them. He did so, and distinctly saw the figures, and, with Mr. Collinson, watched them until they mysteriously faded away. Mr. Hall is willing to make oath to these facts, but refrains from expressing an opinion on the matter. It is said that some of the officers of the United States revenue cutter Wolcott, also saw the apparition. Mr. Duncan and Mr. Collinson were away at the time.

A ONE-CENT RESTAURANT.—Says the New York Express:—Somebody has been starting a one cent restaurant, where the gamin of the street and the humble workingman may satisfy his hunger for less than five cents, and absolutely gorge himself at an expenditure of eight. At this modern Utopia for the poor man a cup of tea or coffee, with sugar and milk, can be had for one cent, bread and butter one cent, soup one cent, a slice of corn beef one cent, and so on throughout the bill of fare, the highest price being for a quarter of pie, which is three cents. The most curious part of the whole thing is that the proprietors say they are making money. The question that naturally arises is: If there is profit with such prices as these, what must be the profit of the more ambitious restaurants?

TO BE HANGED WITHOUT TRIAL.—It is a rare thing for a man to be sentenced to death in England without a long preliminary trial before a Judge and jury, yet such a case occurred the other day at Exeter. Among the prisoners for trial was a Barnstaple butcher, named Hussell, who five weeks ago went home drunk and stabbed his wife to death. When arrested he pleaded guilty, and, acting against the advice of the Judge, he refused to withdraw his plea and accept the service of counsel. Under these circumstances, as there was nothing in the prisoner's mental condition to warrant the belief that he knew not what he was saying, the Judge had no option but to pass sentence of death.

IT DOES THEM GOOD.—A correspondent says the rich young men of New York city have really done a good thing in introducing a revival of the old English stage coach. New York girls of the higher classes are becoming remodeled under the new open air regime. Among them it is difficult now to find a specimen of the pallid, sickly, flat-chested girl of former times. Eyes and complexions are bright, forms are developed, and their intelligence is correspondingly more active.

The Machine was Worn Out.

Why? Not because it was not well built, but it was wrongly run. Thousands of men who have run down long before their threescore and ten years are accomplished, might have been renewed into sprightliness and vim if they had tried the well known PERUVIAN SYRUP, which contains among its compounds the Protoxide of Iron, so combined that it assimilates with the blood and invigorates the whole system. This syrup has proved efficacious in thousands of cases, and will do everybody good who uses it. All druggists keep it.

Opinions of the Press

"PROF. EGAN has earned for himself a high public reputation and has testimonials of the highest character to his scientific abilities.—Whitby Chronicle

The press of this Province speaks in the highest terms of his talents and capabilities. He is a practical man no mean order in his treatment of nervous complaints, having devoted considerable time to their study, and acquired great experience from the number and variety of his patients.—Orangeville Sun.

Parties consulting Prof. Egan, of Toronto, will find him perfectly reliable and trustworthy in every particular.—Brockville Recorder.

We candidly recommend the afflicted to apply to him for relief; he is strictly honorable and confidential in his transactions.—Napanee Beaver.

He is a gentleman deserving of all confidence and thoroughly reliable.—Arnprior Review.
