Public Meetings, Amusements and Sales This Day.

Grand Farewell Concert of the celebrated Violinist Mr. F. J. Prume this evening in the City Hall, commencing at a quarter to eight.

The City Council meets this evening at eight o'clock in the City Council Chamber.

JEHIN PRUME'S CONCERT.

This was an immense success. No European artist, not excepting Ole Bull, who has appeared before a Kingston audience, was ever greeted with the tumultuous applause which Mr. Jehin Prume's most admirable performance on the Violin brought forth from a large audience in the City Hall on Friday evening last. To say they were greatly pleased would be damning with faint praise. The audience was excited beyond measure, and again and again the Hall resounded with shouts of delight. To criticise this great artist's performance properly is beyond our power—all we can do is simply to praise him. In his Fantasia on 'God save the Emperor,' played most sweetly, he gave a pizzicato passage that positively electrified the hearers, it was so wonderful as well as so delightful. In a brilliant Fantasia of his own composing, he played some wonderful and delicious harmonics, which he was called upon to repeat. Nothing could possibly be more beautiful. He then played a Pastoral, so softly, so plaintively, and so admirably, that he was again called forth by the audience, whom he favored with another composition (his own) more charming still. And he finished his portion of the Concert with the far-famed 'Carnival of Venice,' which he introduced most appropriately with a Largo Cantabile of Paganini's. This 'Carnival of Venice' was a most extraordinary piece of execution, unlike anything that we ever heard before, the execution most difficult and intricate, at the same time sweetly melodious. After hearing that, who wanted to hear anything more? Altho' we cannot criticise artistically Mr. Jehin Prume's Violin playing, yet we can think that its chief merit lies in its delicious sweetness, which he owes to the judicious use and perfection of his harmonics, and to his most wonderful execution. He is a handsome young man of about twenty-five, and has the air and appearance of a gentleman.

Mr. C. G. St. Clair, the Pianist who has succeeded Mr. Staab in the affections of the Kingston public, played two Concertos on the Piano Forte. His first was the 'Miserere' from 'Il Trovatore,' which he gave grandly and with much feeling; and the other was a Galop, in which he exhibited his great execution, and showed his perfect mastery over the instrument he teaches. Upon being recalled, he played a Fantasia with the left hand, showing that what Mr. Wehli did so recently and so well, can also be done by another artist almost equally as well. But it was in the Accompaniments to Jehin Prume's Violin that Mr. C. G. St. Clair showed his taste and skill as a musician. He must have played these almost at sight, and yet he executed this difficult music as if he had known it from his youth. Mr. C. G. St. Clair has no reason to regret his first appearance before the Kingston public. Mr. John Parnell sang with much feeling and good taste, a delightful new Ballad, 'On Thee my thoughts are fondly dwelling,' the music and words being the composition of Mr. C. G. St. Clair.

This evening Mr. Jehin Prume gives a Farewell Concert, with an entirely different programme, at which we hope to witness the presence of all the wealth, beauty, youth and respectability of Kingston, satisfied that it will be long ere they be afforded another opportunity of hearing such another Artist.

THE ELECTORAL DIVISION SOCIETY.

The List of the Prizes is published in the News, but not the amount of the Premiums. It shall be our care to fill up the deficiency, and the public will see how much of the Public Money is given away for Flowers, Singing Birds and like trumpery. In to-day's issue will be seen a Card of Thanks to the Ladies for their attendance at the Show! How kind the Directors are. They not only bestow illegally nearly the whole funds of the Society on objects to please the ladies solely, but they advertise in three newspapers at an expense of $3 to thank the ladies for being pleased! These matters will be properly brought before the Court of Delegates at the Annual Meeting of the Provincial Association at London, and failing redress there, a petition will be laid before Parliament (when the Agricultural Act comes up for Amendment) to render it criminal for Directors to misappropriate public money.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

The Board of Common School Trustees met on Friday evening at half-past seven o'clock in the City Council Chamber, Wm. Ford, Esq., Jr., in the chair.

Present—Messrs. Carroll, Chown, McRossie, Smith, Wilkinson, Gibson, Sherlock, Cunningham, Phillips and Fenwick.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Miss Shenick, Head Female Teacher of Johnston Street School, offering her resignation at the end of three months, in terms of her agreement, and asking to be allowed to leave on the 1st of September.

Moved by Mr. Cunningham, seconded by Mr. Phillips, that the resignation of Miss Shenick be not accepted, but that her salary be advanced $40 per annum; and that the Chairman be requested to correspond with the Trustees of the Union School, Port Hope, intimating that this Board cannot dispense with her.

This motion being put was lost.

It was moved by Mr. McRossie, seconded by Mr. Chown, that Miss Shenick's resignation be accepted, and that her request be complied with in reference to time of leaving; and also that the Secretary furnish her with a suitable certificate.

The motion was adopted unanimously.

A communication from Miss Lucinda Thompson, asking for employment as a teacher, was read and filed.

A communication was received from the Local Superintendent, informing the Board that he had arranged the examination of the Common Schools so as to commence on the 25th inst.

A communication was also received from the Hon. Alex. Campbell and Thomas Kirkpatrick, Esq., inclosing a petition to the City Council and a draft of an Act of Parliament, to confirm to the Board a title to the Queen Street School lot.

BUDGET.

The Finance Committee brought in their estimate of expenses for 1865, which was read. The working expenses of the Board for the year being calculated at $7,275, a few hundred dollars less than last year, in addition to which the following items were added:—

Contract for building Gordon Street School	$1229 00
First payment on the lot	50 00
To pay Debenture No 1 due 1865, being one of the three Debentures issued by the City Council last year to make up the School Budget for building Queen Street School	1000 00
Interest on Debentures	180 00
Sundry charges	237 50
Making a total estimate of	$9971 50

The Budget was adopted.

A good part of the evening was spent in useless discussion, and the Board did not adjourn until ten o'clock.

We are happy to notice that Mr. Samuel Chown has been promoted to the office of Chaplain of the School Board, vacant by the resignation of Mr. Massie.

THE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF GREAT BRITAIN.

(From the London Times.)

In all seriousness, the retrospect of the past five years is startling from the prosperity it reveals. We talk glibly of millions, but the imagination of the best among us is feeble to estimate the benefits conferred on all classes of the community by the least of the items we have mentioned. Still less are we able to appreciate the abundant and uncessing energy of production which has made our past success possible, and which grows at an accelerating rate as the fetters of the erroneous legislation of the past are removed. As to the figures themselves, the short result of those we have already given understates the truth. The estimated expenditure of the year 1860-1 was no less than £73,691,000, while the estimates of the current year amount to no more than £66,149,000. It is true that in the former year a large sum was included on account of the China war, but if we put aside this disturbing cause, there remains a clear gain of £3,742,000 in the comparison of the ordinary expenditure of the two years. The reduction is important, though it still leaves the expenditure at a sum which would once have been thought tolerable only during a time of war, and it is not the least marvel connected with our financial prosperity that it should be able to withstand the pressure of our present inflated estimates. Our national income grows almost without a check. The sums received at the Exchequer last year actually exceeded the revenue of 1860-1, although in the interval taxes had been remitted to the extent of £10,600,000. The whole amount of taxes remitted in the years 1860 to 1865, has been £16,036,648; they extend to such simple luxuries, or rather necessaries, as tea, sugar, cheese, eggs and rice, and the enormous increase of trade in these articles following the reduction and abolition of duties, has shown that the benefit felt by the people has very much exceeded the actual sum of taxation given up by the Exchequer. It may seem a small matter, but we imported last year three hundred million egg, and the number is still increasing. A more important fact, which should always be remembered, is that, simultaneously with the reduction of our tariff we have secured access to a market which had previously been almost closed to us. An increase of imports must, of course, be accompanied by an increase of exports, since every purchase is also a sale; but the French treaty facilitated exchange by breaking down the French tariff as well as our own. Our manufacturers found new customers at the very moment that the great body of the nation were allowed to lay out their money to the best advantage, and we were thus enabled at a stroke to buy in the cheapest and sell in the dearest market.

It is possible that Mr. Gladstone himself would refer to the reduction in the total of the national debt as the best testimonial to his financial policy. This reduction is a measure which he has had very much heart, and though he has not always been fortunate in his methods of procedure, he deserves credit for appreciating the importance of the object. Between 1860 and 1865 the net decrease has been £10,789,912, but this does not adequately represent the success of his management. In the same period £3,490,000 was added to the debtor account of the fortification expenses, so that apart from this exceptional and temporary cause of increase, the reduction would have been £14,279,912. This result has been mainly due to the successful conversion of stock into terminable annuities, a process which will admit of indefinite extension with the further development of Post office Savings Banks, and the increase of the funds deposited in them.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

There is complaint in the New York journals of the tariff fixed upon by the Atlantic Telegraph Company. Determined to know no such word as "fail," they have accepted the successful laying of the cable as beyond a peradventure, and fixed their rates accordingly. There is to be no message of less than twenty five words, and the transmission of every word is to cost a pound sterling. The address and signature are to be counted in as well as the body of the despatch. This would make the cost of a short message—ten words say—about ten dollars a word. Certainly this looks a little exhorbitant, and it cannot long continue; for the overland telegraph company, which is now in a fair way of operation, purpose charging only $40 for a message of 25 words between New York and London, via Berlin and St. Petersburgh. The Atlantic Company seem to be somewhat ashamed of their tariff for they consider it necessary to offer an apology for it: they think the number of messages will be so great that unless a high rate is charged it will be impossible to do the work that is certain to arise. Perhaps this may be true of the early days of the telegraph, but the high rate cannot be long maintained on such a plea at this. The New York Times estimates that as one pound a word the income of the company would be $20,000,000 a year, or something like four times the amount of the principal. The high tariff will fall heavily upon the New York Press. A despatch of about twenty lines every morning, just to give a brief notice of the cotton and money markets—will cost some $900. But there is no help for it. The press cannot allow the speculators to get ahead of it.—Leader.

THE GREAT CONSPIRACY.

Harrold, Payne, Atzerot and Mrs. Surratt have suffered death for the crimes they have been guilty of; Dr. Mudd, Arnold and O'Laughlin are to be imprisoned for life; and Spangler is sentenced to 6 years' imprisonment at hard labor. The findings are, in some respects, singular. Payne deserved to be hanged if ever a man did. His attempt on the life of Mr. Seward was desperately obstinate and fierce. That he was the man who committed the murderous assault there is no doubt whatever. The evidence against him is conclusive. Atzerot was deep in the conspiracy. He it was who was deputed to despatch Vice President Johnson, but his courage failed him, and he closed the fatal evening in a drunken spree instead of carrying out his part of the conspiracy. Perhaps he deserved to be hanged. We had doubts about the execution of Mrs. Surratt. Her house certainly was made the rendezvous of some of the conspirators, but even were the evidence of conspiracy strong against her, it has not been shown that she was in favor of the assassination. Harrold committed no overtact beyond that of being found in the company of Booth, who acquitted him of all hand in the murder. His should have been a less punishment. The sentence against Spangler, the stage carpenter at Ford's theatre, is comparatively light, six years' imprisonment at hard labor—but it is by far too much. There was no evidence to convict him with the plot and he should have been discharged.—Leader.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

DISEASE AMONG CATTLE.—A disease has shown itself among cattle in the Township of Barton, below the mountain, which is proving very disastrous. During the last week or two some twenty or thirty cattle and horses have died. In hogs it first shows itself by a swelling of the throat and terminates fatally in about 12 hours. In cows and horses, they are sick only 10 or 12 hours, and in every case where they have been attacked the result has been fatal. It is feared that the disease, of whatever nature it is, is being spread by the improper negligence in burying the animals first affected, as it seems to have been communicated from the place where these animals have been insufficiently buried.—Spectator.

FOUND DROWNED.—A number of parties who were waiting for the arrival of a steamer at Brown's wharf yesterday, observed the body of a man floating in the water in the vicinity. On being taken from the water the body was identified as James Brass, a carpenter, who resided on Napier street. Dr. Macontosh, Coroner, empanneled a jury and held an inquest on the body. When last seen in life, which was on Monday last at noon, deceased was proceeding towards the Railway Station. From the fact that fishing tackle was found in his pocket, it is supposed that deceased had been fishing, and by some means fell into the water. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of 'found drowned.'—Hamilton Times.

ASSAULT ON ARMSTRONG, THE DETECTIVE.—The parties who have been brought to account for their misdeeds in Hamilton, and at Toronto, through the agency of Detective Armstrong, have evidently their friends abroad who are determined upon vengeance on that official by fair means or foul. Last evening the Detective was on board the train from Toronto bound west, and stepped off at this station during the delay, when he was set upon by a person named Hugh McMahon, who seemed to be accompanied by others, and for a moment the Detective was threatened with rough handling. Parties who noticed the state of affairs—including John White, Esq., the member for Halton—promptly interfered and rescued Armstrong from harm, McMahon having been taken off by one of the Railway police.—Times.

CANADIAN LABORERS IN NOVA SCOTIA.—The Canadian laborers who recently proceeded to Nova Scotia for the purpose of working on the Picton railway, were told on landing by the contractors that they would only receive 3s. to 3s. 6d., instead of the dollar a day promised them here. They very properly refused to take less than the amount stipulated, and were consequently thrown on the streets for a living. Much suffering ensued, when finally their case was brought under the notice of the government, and they immediately instructed Mr. Sanford Fleming, the Chief Engineer of the proposed road, to lay off a section and put the men at work at the price they had agreed upon in Canada. Impositions of this nature are so frequent that it would be advisable to reconsider the bill brought before the House last session to meet cases of this very description.

INDIAN DELEGATES.—Delegates to the number of 70 from 14 Indian tribes, who have been in hostility during the late rebellion, are now on their way to Washington, with the object of making treaties of perpetual peace, and of being reinstated in the rights and benefits which they forfeited by taking up arms in behalf of the insurgents.

THE SUICIDE ON BOARD THE LADY HEAD.—The name of the deck passenger who committed suicide by jumping overboard from the steamer Lady Head, on her last trip to Picton, was Morgan Mason. He belonged to Montreal, where he leaves a wife and family.

ILLNESS OF JUDGE SMART.—Wm. Smart, Esq., Judge of the County Court of Hastings, has been and is still dangerously ill. For some days his life was despaired of, but he is now somewhat better, though very low.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE.—Parties attending the Grand Lodge of Free Masons, which this year is to be held in Toronto, by shewing their certificates will be carried there and back by the Grand Trunk Railway for one fare. Tickets will be good from the 6th to the 25th instant.

RETURN OF CHURCH AUTHORITIES.—By the brigades of carts going to St. Paul this year, the two Archdeacons of the Diocese of Rupert's Land, following the steps of the Bishop, have left not to return—thus leaving vacant here the three principal offices of the church. Archdeacon Hunter goes to England, and Archdeacon Cochrane will probably spend some time in the States and Canada with his son before crossing the Atlantic. Rev. Mr. Stagg, of Fairford Mission, also left for England with the trains.—Nor'wester.

THE NEW ADJUTANT GENERAL.—Col. MacDougall, the new Adjutant General of the Canadian Militia and Volunteer force, arrived at Quebec on Tuesday, in the steamer Moravian.

THE ORANGE BODY.—There seems to be a probability of a split in this body in consequence of the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge. Before the meeting the Toronto Watchman, on behalf of the section of the Order that it represents, denounced the Hon. J. H. Cameron as a traitor to the cause, and demanded his deposition from the Grand Mastership. The Grand Lodge however took a different view of the matter, and re-elected Mr. Cameron the head of the Order, whereupon the Watchman has grown indignant and suggests that Bishop Lynch should be made a partner in the office with him. It concludes by calling on all Lodges which do not approve of the 'Cameron pro-popish party' to withold dues and take no annual from men whose very acts, if not motives, seem to be directed for the destruction of the Order. If this advice is accepted a serious split is inevitable.—Times.

The above paragraph we find going the rounds of such papers as are opposed to the Orange Institution. Our contemporary need not be alarmed. There will be no 'split,' much less a 'serious split.' And if it be any gratification we can inform him that the Watchman does not represent any section of the Orangemen, the Grand Lodge having, by unanimous vote, repudiated the paper and its malicious sentiments. It is such papers as the Watchman and its conductor, who do the Order more injury than all its open enemies combined. When the Grand Lodge elects a Grand Master, it and all subordinate lodges will sustain him and not be led from the path of duty by an outsider who has been repudiated.—Intelligencer.

THE DISASTER ON THE BANKS OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

Montreal, July 7.

Capt. Alton, of the steamship "Moravian," gives the following additional statement:—The Associated Press boat item at Cape Race reported that the steamer "Metor," belonging to D. & W. Stewart, arrived at St. John's, on Friday, with 40 of the passengers and crew of the ship "Wm. Nelson," taken from the burning wreck, on the banks of Newfoundland.

The 'Wm. Nelson' sailed from Flushing for New York with German emigrants on board. Before the 'Metoer' reached the burning vessel all the boats had put off full of passengers and crew, but none of the boats had been heard of. As far as Capt. Alton could learn, there were upwards of four hundred passengers on board when the vessel sailed. The fire originated from a red hot bolt being put into a tar pot between decks.

THE PRESCOTT RIFLE MATCH.

Prescott, July 7th.

FOURTH DAY'S COMPETITION.

The day opened fine for shooting, there being hardly any wind. The firing at 200 yards was very good, but at 400 yards it fell off considerably.

THE HABEAS CORPUS DESTROYED BY ORDER OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

New York, July 7.

The steamer Louisiana, from Liverpool on June 21st, has arrived. News anticipated.

Harrisburgh, Pa., July 7.

Governor Curtin has signed the death warrants of David Gregor and William Hopkins for murder. They are to be executed on the 11th August, in Philadelphia.

The Mexican news by the steamer 'Manhattan' is to the effect that Maximilian will soon issue a decree ceding Sinaiula, Durango, and Senora to the French as security for the war debt due France.

The Department of State has been officially informed that the Spanish Government proposes issuing orders to the Captain General of Cuba to deliver to the United States Government the insurgent ram Stonewall now at Havana.

Washington, July 7.

This morning Judge Wylie granted on application of the counsel of Mrs. Surratt, a writ of habeas corpus commanding Maj. Gen. Hancock to produce the body of Mrs. Surratt before the court. It was returnable at 10 o'clock, but nearly two hours after that time Gen. Hancock entered the court, accompanied by Attorney General Speed, who apologised for the apparent delay in making a return on the part of the general, as it was unavoidable. He then proceeded to read the return in which Gen. Hancock said the body of Mrs. Surratt was in his possession, under and by virtue of an order of President Johnson, for the purpose expressed, and which order is as follows:—

"Executive Office, July 7.—To Major Gen. M. S. Hancock, commanding, &c:—I Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby declare that the writ of habeas corpus has been heretofore suspended in such cases as this, and I do hereby specially suspend this writ and direct that you proceed to execute the order heretofore given upon the judgment of the military commission, and you will give this order in return to this writ.

(Signed) 'Andrew Johnson,
'President.

THE WASHINGTON CONSPIRATORS AND THEIR STATEMENTS.

New York, July 8.

The Times' account of the execution says Harold made a statement yesterday to the effect that in the original plot his part was to shut off the gas in the theatre, and he had once rehearsed his part with Booth. Afterwards, however, he was required only to be in waiting near the navy-yard bridge to assist Booth in his escape. Payne the night before the execution said, so far as he knew, Mrs. Surratt had nothing to do with the assassination plot.

New York, July 8.

The Post's Washington special says the bodies of Mrs. Surratt, Payne, Atzerott and Harold still remain in the graves to which they were consigned yesterday. The graves are guarded by sentinels. The military authorities had not decided this morning whether or not the remains should be delivered to their friends. Mudd, O'Laughlin, Arnold and Spangler will be taken to the penitentiary at Albany on Monday.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE CITY BUILDING.

We are happy to observe that a better feeling pervades the City Council. The public at large are so clamorous not to put up any Back Kitchen, that Mr. Alderman Allen has enlisted a majority of the Council in favor of his proposition, not to erect any Back Kitchen, but to rebuild in lieu an Octagon Tower where the ruins of the old square building stand, in which there shall be room for twenty Butchers' Shambles, and overhead a Music Hall and Cupola for the Clock and Alarm Bell. A proposition much better than building a Back Kitchen.

DELEGATES TO DETROIT.—Messrs. Ed. Chown, G. S. Hobart J. Shaw, R. M. Rose, G.M. Kinghorn, and John Fraser, six of the eight Delegates from this city to the Detroit Convention, left by Saturday afternoon's train, and will reach Detroit by Monday and be present at the opening of the Convention on Tuesday. The Delegates from Quebec, Montreal, Portland and the Lower Provinces passed up on Saturday morning's train. The Delegates were to remain at Sarnia yesterday.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE.—The Office of the Montreal Telegraph Company has been removed to the shop under the Burnett House, lately used as a Billiard Room. The new opposition line, the Provincial, are rapidly extending their lines eastward, and now looking for an office here. The Montreal Telegraph Company have extended their lines to Ayr, C.W., the office at which place is now ready for business.

FIRE BRIGADE.

Kingston, July 7th, 1865.

At a meeting of the Kingston Fire Brigade, held in their Hall this evening, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Whereas the Fire Department of Watertown, N.Y., kindly invited the Fire Brigade of this City to visit them and participate in the celebration of the Fourth of July, their National Birth Day; and whereas the Fire Brigade of this City did visit and participate in the festivities of that day, and were treated with every kindness and attention by their brother Firemen and citizens of Watertown, therefore be it

Resolved,—That the thanks of this Brigade are due and are hereby tendered to the Firemen and citizens of Watertown for the kindness, attention and liberality with which we were treated by them.

Resolved,—That this Brigade will ever remember their visit to Watertown with feelings of lively satisfaction, and they sincerely hope the good understanding at present existing between the two countries may never be disturbed.

Resolved,—That a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the Chief Engineer of the Watertown Fire Department, and the city papers be requested to publish the same.

WM. WATSON, Chief Engineer.
B. NELLIGAN, Secretary.

ROBBERY NEAR BROCKVILLE.—On Tuesday last, a quantity of valuable jewellery, and some wearing apparel, was stolen from the house of a person named Snider, living a short way east of Brockville. The thieves, a man and woman, were traced as far as ten miles this side of the town, making their way to Kingston, on the Railway track. The Chief of Police received a telegraph to arrest them, but they have not found their way up here yet. The thieves were disguised as travellers and got into the house while the person who was in charge of it was gone on a short visit to a neighbor's house.

POLICE COURT, Saturday.—Thos. Madole was sent to gaol for ten days for drunkenness, and George Hughes, a self-styled professional dentist, sixty days for drunkenness and vagrancy. Edward Gallagher was charged with stealing a coat from a person named Knapp, in the township of Storrington, on the 8th of June. The coat was stolen off a scow while the prosecutor was asleep.—The charge was fully proven and the prisoner was committed for trial.

ROBBER CAUGHT.—On Wednesday last, we noticed the receiving of a telegram by the Chief of Police from the Police authorities of Montreal to arrest a girl named Esther Lee, who stole $60 from the house of her mistress, a Mrs. Mullegan, the previous Saturday, and her subsequent escape to the States, after remaining here for a day and a half.—On Friday, however, she thought proper to return to Kingston, and was arrested in the evening in the City Park, by Policeman Bennett, while in the company of a young man, an accomplice, who managed to escape from the Police. The girl had remained at the Union Hotel at the Cape from Monday till Friday, the day she left, and had exhausted her money in her board bill and new dresses, &c. Only two dollars was in her possession. Her arrest had been telegraphed to Montreal. The Kingston Police seem to have a streak of luck in arresting escaped criminals.

A CHIMP.—The Police arrested a man named John Teeples, of the township of Loughborough, on Sajurday, on a magistrate's warrant, for crimping in March last. The case will likely come on this morning in the Police Court.

MAD DOGS.—The High Bailiff has issued a notice to owners of dogs to have them muzzled between the first of the present month and the last day of September, or otherwise they are liable to be poisoned. A notice is also issued reminding parties of the penalty for bathing near any of the wharves between six in the morning and eight at night.

OXFORD COMMEMORATION.—At the last commemoration at Oxford, three cheers, "loud and prolonged," were given for Jefferson Davis, and a storm of groans for President Johnson, and "tremendous cheering" for Gen. Lee. The honorary degrees of D. C. L. were conferred on Lord Lyons, M. A., Christ Church, G. C. B., late British Minister at Washington; Lieutenant-General Sir Hugh Rose, G. C. B., K. S. I., who has lately returned from the Command-in-Chief in India; Count de Vogue, a distinguished biblical antiquary and explorer of the Holy Land, H. I. Sumner Maine, L. L. D., Trinity Hall, Cambridge, author of a profound treatise on Ancient Law, and now Legislative Member of the Council of India; the Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Attorney General of Upper Canada, and senior member of the Canadian deputation; Dr. Robert Christison, of Edinburgh, the renowned toxicologist, and Dr. William Stokes, of Dublin, eminent for his physiological researches.
