TO-MORROW.

SPECIAL MEETING of the Shareholders of the Commercial Bank to determine what steps to take in the suit of the Bank against the Great Western Railway.

RIFLE MATCH at Barriefield Common Butts.

THE ENGLISH MEDICAL WORLD.

There is a fierce war raging between the homepaths and the allopaths, both in Paris and London. In Paris the chief representative of the school of Hahnneman Tallien. A famous allopath meeting Dr. C. lately, said, with a look of meek sympathy, "Ah, dear Carrabus, your patients are all rushing to us." 'That is more,' replied Dr. C., than I can say for you. Your patients are all carried to us!' In London the prejudice among the old-school physicians against the homeopathic system is so strong that none of them have recommended its trial among the cattle—still dying by hundreds—although the Belgian authorities have published statistics showing that the homeopathic doses are the only ones which have any effect. The venerable physiologist, Dr. Crisp, hearing that home families regarded themselves as having been made ill by eating the meat of animals affected by the cattle plague, determined on making a corpus vile of himself to determine the matter. He ate beefsteaks cut from the most deceased animals he could find, and portions of the hearts of such animals, and experienced no evil results whatever! It is clear to me, who have suffered from such meat, that the doctor was so sustained and penetrated by a theory as to be plague proof. Dr. Spencer Hall, a very distinguished London physician, recently declined to obey the law which requires that all infants shall within a certain period after their birth (six months, I believe,) be vaccinated. When called upon by the authorities he responded in a very remarkable letter, which was read before the authorities of Marylebone parish, stating why he had determined to pay the fine rather than have the child vaccinated. He declares that he has never been able to find a cow with the disease, nor can he find in the whole of England a farmer who has ever seen one with it, consequently the virus which is now used in England is nearly or quite all taken from human subjects. On enquiry at the various hospitals he finds from the medical men employed in them, that it is impossible to get any real vaccine matter, i. e., from the cow. He also gives reasons for supposing that nearly all the virus in use has come through the blood of some 300 people, many of whom must be tainted with some disease. Dr. Hall prefers that his child should incur the risk of the small pox to these taints. The dying out of the disease among cows has been attended by a singular decrease in the virulence of small pox among human beings. The disease, from being the most formidable, has now almost lost its terrors. He thinks that for some reason or other—possibly because the whole community has become inoculated—the small pox may die out altogether. The Marylebone authorities were considerably staggered by the Dr.'s able letter and did not know whether to impose the fine or not—the fine being arranged for the negligent, not for the philosophical. They finally agreed to allow the doctor four months to hunt up original vaccine virus for his child. The most important medical event how ever, is that Dr. John Chapman has certainly succeeded in making an impression on the cholera with his ice cure. This is acknowledged by the medical fraternity of England, and now no person is attacked, but a bag filled with ice is at once trust upon the spine. The doctor published, some months ago, a phamphlet, in which he showed deeply he had studied the cholera in connection with the ice treatment, which he had tried upon diarrhea with such success. When the cholera appeared at Southampton, he hastened thither, and found the physicians quite willing to have him treat their cases. Though called to those patients some time after the disease had its way with them he saved six. Two died, but one was seventy-three years of age, and the other an habitual drunkard, living in a very filthy place. Since then the success has been most remarkable, and it may be almost assumed that this fierce visitor from the tropics has been mastered in the region of ice. Dr. Chapman is not only known as an eminent physician, but as a literary gentleman of fine attainments. He edited the Catholic Series, which brought out in England so many of the liberal religious productions of America and Germany. He has been for many years, and is now, the editor of the Westminster Review. He is, however, not an old man, but bids fair to live many years, assisting humanity to give the cold shoulder—or rather spine—to its various ills.

THE ILLNESS OF TOM SAYERS.

(From Sporting Life.)

As it no doubt will prove interesting to all those who have admired wonderful pluck and endurance of the greatest gladiator of modern times to know something of the progress of that insidious disease which gradually but surely did its work, we append a few particulars. Since the memorable battle of Farnborough, when Sayers appeared in the ring the picture of health, and the result proved that his physique could not have been improved upon, he now and again showed symptoms of the hectic flush which is the precursor of an affection of the lungs. This was brought on by the course of life he subsequently chose, or rather by the force of circumstances under which he was placed. Unable to fall back upon those pleasures of a cultivated mind, from his want of an education, he became the idol of his fellows; he cast off all those restraints which had secured for him health and victory, and plunged into excesses of living—late hours and dissipation. Nature's laws were not to be broken with impunity, and in the beginning of this year he fell into a very low condition, and betrayed symptoms of consumption, aggravated with diabetes, and Mr. Adams, F. R. C. S., attended him on February 19, at his sister's, Mrs. King, 16 Claremont square, Pentonville. Upon his robust and healthy frame, a great change had taken place for the worse, and the doctor then feared from his having wasted away so much, coughing frequently, and losing strength fast, that he was sinking into a decline. He was prone to acknowledge his physical weakness, but when told of the serious nature of thedisease then apprehended, he became as docile as a child, and obeyed the injunctions of his medical adviser. However, the dreaded enemy was stalled off by careful watching and nursing, and he recovered sufficiently to take a trip to Brighton about the middle of April. When there, he appeared strong and robust, and like his former self. This, however, was not to last long, for at the end of August he returned to his sister's, in Claremont square, and in a consultation held there between Dr. Adams and Mr. Brown, they came to the conclusion that actual and absolute disease of the lungs had set in, and that he could not survive many weeks. He took a fancy to go to his old friend's, Mr. Mensley, High street, Camden town, on October 16, and there he stayed until he died. For the satisfaction of Dr. Adams himself, that gentleman called in Dr. Gull to consult, but they agreed that nothing more could be done to save him. A reaction took place in his condition after being a fortnight at Mr. Mensley's; he seemed to get fresher and stronger, and for a week remained in a doubtful state, giving hopes to his friends that he would survive the illness. A relapse came on, and with it unconsciousness, and for the last two days he had only a few intervals of consciousness. Mr. Litteh, assistant chaplain to St. Pancras Workhouse, attended by desire of Sayers, and administered the consolations of religion. He passed away at 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening, in the presence of his father, with his two children at hand. During his three weeks of his bed-ridden illness he occasionally endured great agony. For upwards of four-and-twenty hours before his death he was in a state of semi-insensibility, and could only recognise his friends on being aroused and appealed to. But the great change came with comparative peace at last, and when nature compelled him to "throw up the sponge," he left the world, let us hope, without that pain which no man feared less when he stood up in defense of his reputation as the Emperor of British boxers. Many were the inquiries made for the health of poor Tom, and it is satisfactory to know that he was visited by some who had taken a part against him in the battle-field, and that he bade them, each and all, a peaceful farewell.

The Editor's Table.--No. 119.

Nothing but Magazines on 'Our Table' this week, except a couple of Blue Books.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for December. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. $4.

This Number is an especial welcome one, for not only is it interesting and rich in capital papers, but it contains an index (to the volume) giving what in Canada is greatly needed and necessary, the names of the authors who have been the writers of its several articles. One name (John Neal), forgotten by us for forty years, comes fresh to recollection. Years ago his 'Brother Jonathan,' published in London, treated, in us at least, much pleasing excitement. It was not a good novel, and soon died the death, but it was a strange incomprehensible book, and one that never faded from memory. In a paper on 'Wm. Blackwood,' he relates his London experiences, and tells some facts probably unknown to the literary world. His 'Brother Jonathan' made him known, but what he has done with himself since its publication we know not, unless indeed he be the writer of those 'Charcoal Sketches,' that twenty years ago were greatly admired for their humor. It is not a common occurrence for Magazine publishers to make known the names of their Contributors, if they be names of note, but we are happy to see the 'Atlantic Monthly,' the 'Blackwood' of America, do it.

HARPER'S MONTHLY for December. John Creighton, Kingston. $4.

Charles Dickens has finished his 'Mutual Friend' at last, after 19 monthly instalments. Although at times a disagreeable novel, yet it cannot be denied that it is a very clever one. The characters stand out boldly, and the incidents are not unnatural, tho' unnaturally told. Mr. Dickens winds up his story in the good old fashioned way, telling a little about everybody. But he fails in an essential particular—he does not explain his title. Who is the 'Mutual Friend?' Unless it be the writer and reader, for the soul of us we can't imagine. Mr. Dicken's style has become so crabbed and his humor so forced, that he has to write with all his talents to make his new works passably readable. The charming simplicity of the 'Pickwick Papers,' and that of 'Nicholas Nickleby,' where is it? His great name and his greater fame continue to make him popular; but no one now takes up a new novel of his and never lays it down until read, as was the common custom thirty years ago.

THE LADY'S FRIEND for Decemer. Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia. $2.50.

The December number of this favorite magazine is a superb one. The leading steel engraving, in illustration of the text,

"Children's children are the crown of old men.
And the glory of children are their fathers."

is one that will go home to many hearts.—The engraved title-page is truly beautiful—it is a gem of art. It represents The Past and The Future—while, around,

"The little birds sing East, and the little birds sing West."

to use a well-known line from Mrs Browning's beautiful 'Rhyme of the Duchess May.' The Double Colored Steel Fashion Plate for this number will be pronounced by the ladies 'superb,' or else we are very greatly mistaken. Then there are engravings of the new fashions in jackets, cloaks, embroidery, coiffures, bonnets, &c. The literary matter is excellent as usual.—

OUR YOUNG FOLKS for December. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. $2.

The present is the last number for the year. When 'Young Folks' appeared last January, we predicted for it a splendid career that has been fully realized. Not only with Youth, but with 'Children of a larger growth,' it has become immensely popular, and is now found in almost every family. And those families which have it not, would do well to supply themselves forthwith. Paterfamilias may order it for his children, but he'll be sure to get it for himself.

THE CANADA FARMER for November. G. Brown, Toronto; $1.

This number contains the correct and official Prize List of the Upper Canada Provincial Exhibition at London. In this official List, full justice has been done to Mr. D. Fowler of Amherst Island, to whom Six First Class Special Premiums have been awarded. The difficulty at the Show was whether Mr. D. Fowler could exhibit as an Artist or an Amateur. The Board decided in favor of the latter.

EXPORT OF THE PRISON INSPECTORS FOR 1864. A Blue Book. 8vo. pp. 176.

In the present state of the law the Prison Inspectors are an expensive nuisance. They go from Prison to Asylum, and from Asylum to Prison, suggesting necessary improvements and directing things to be done. But, as they have no power to enforce their orders the latter go for nothing. In England there is not a single jail that is not surrounded with a high wall, to enable prisoners to breathe the breath of Heaven some time in the day. In Canada, there is not (as far as we know), a single prison with a wall high enough to prevent a prisoner's escape—hence they are kept in close confinement. The Prison Inspectors direct walls to be raised, and County Councils laugh at their orders. Look at the disgraceful state of the jail in Kingston and the prisoners therein. Because the County Council will not obey their order and put up a proper wall, prisoners, many of them innocent, are immured in close cells, never allowed to come outside of them, unless to the common ward. And the case is the same with all the Prisons in Canada. Either dismiss the Prison Inspectors, or give them power to enforce their orders.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF CAPTAIN FORTIN, COMMANDER OF LA CANADIENNE, during the Season of 1864. A Blue Book. 8vo. pp. 80.

There is a great deal of very valuable information in this Blue Book. Capt. Fortin performs very important services to the Crown. Armed with Stipendiary Magistrate's powers, he in his little vessel visits all the ports of the Lower St. Lawrence and its Gulf, and sees that the Fishing Laws are obeyed. His report is highly interesting, giving as it does correct and reliable information of places known only by name to the general reader; and now that the Reciprocity Treaty is about to expire, not to be renewed, his services will be of a still more important nature.

THE TYPOGRAPHIC MESSENGER. No. 1. Vol. 1. James Connor's Sons, New York. 4to.

This is an advertising publication of one of the largest and best Type Founders in America. It contains some beautiful specimens of modern Typography.

CITIZENS' SKATING RINK.—The members of the Citizens' Skating Rink Committee met last evening in the Council Chamber for the purpose of electing new officers for the ensuing year. A large number of citizens were present. The President, Mr. John McKay, took the chair and called the meeting to order, when the Secretary, Mr. James Friel, read the report of the transactions of last year, which showed a small balance remaining in the funds out of the $389 collected.—This does not include the Carnival, which paid expenses and added a trifle to the general fund. The report thanked the citizens for their handsome subscriptions, as well as for the large attendance at the Carnival, which more than ensured success. The report was adopted; after which Mr. John McKay was re-elected President; James Friel, Vice President; Wm. King, Secretary, and Wm. Irving Jr., Treasurer; all unanimously. The following were appointed a committee of management, with power to add to their number: J. Skinner, H. Cunningham, T. Driver, R. White, J. Halligan, J.J. Linton, W.W. Mathews, S. Birch, A. M. Brown, Jas. Brown, R. Waldron, B. Gage, G. S. Holbart, W. Harty, Geo. Malo, W. Tossell, J. McCammon, E. H. Smith, J. MaCallister, R. McDonald, J. McKelvey, J. Hendry, Jas. Scott, A. Falconer, Hayter Read, and C. H. Hatch. After a unanimous vote of thanks was passed to the outgoing President and Secretary, for their services, the meeting broke up. Thursday evening of each week has been fixed for the meeting night of the committee.—News of Saturday.

The Belleville Chronicle mentions a melancholy case of hydrophobia as having occured in the Township of Thurlow on Monday last. It appears that about the middle of July, a young man named William Moorman, son of James Moorman, aged about 24 years, had been working on the farm, and coming home at night hot and tired, took off his boots and socks and sat down in the yard. His feet were slightly "galled" or abraided by his boots, and a favorite dog coming along licked the soles of his feet, no attention being paid to him at the time. The same night, or next day, the dog was discovered to be rabid, and having bitten a cow and two sheep, he was killed. These facts rendered young Moorman uneasy, and steps were taken to avert the frightful doom that awaited him. Drs. Hope and Dr. Ridley were called in consultation, and although every possible exertion was made to save the life of the patient, the disease had too strong a hold on him and he died, after lingering in horrible agony until Monday night at half past eleven o'clock.

ARREST OF THE FENIAN LEADER.—A depatch from Dublin, dated the 11th inst., and published in the London papers of that afternoon, announces the arrest of the reputable Fenian, and the reputed leader of the movement in Ireland, James Stephens. He was taken into custody that morning, along with three other Fenians named Kickham, Brophy and Dumphy, at Sandymount, near Dublin. The police went in force, and the Fenians offered no resistance; but in their bedrooms, ready for use, were found pistols and ball. Stephens himself opened the door for the police. Large sums of money in gold and bank cheques were found on the parties, and their home was amply furnished.

UNITED STATES ITEMS.

NEGROES WITH UNLAWFUL WEAPONS—IMPORTATION OF COOLIES TALKED OF.—New Orleans, Nov. 23rd.—Almost every negro that is arrested and taken before the City Recorder is found to be possessed of some unlawful weapon. An agent of commercial houses in France has arrived here. He announces to the planters of Lousiana that he is authorized to contract for the immigration of laborers from India and China.—Business here continues active, and is daily increasing. The State Legislature met today. Other than organizing, no business of importance was transacted.

ROBBERS AND MURDERERS—THE CITIZENS ORGANIZING FOR PROTECTION.—Nashville, Nov. 24.—A meeting has been called by the Mayor of the citizens of the county, to protect themselves against the bands of robbers and murderers who infest this city and the surrounding country.—Citizens from each ward were enrolled for patrol duty. The citizens of Davidson County assembled at the Court House today, and passed resolutions to organize a force for the suppression of robbers and lawlessness in the surrounding country.—Seventy five men to co-operate with this force, and effectually exterminate the desperadoes who are in our midst. A request was made on Judge Frazer, of the Criminal Court, for a special jury, for the assassins of Mr. Hoffman.

JOHN PAYNE.—The many friends and admirers of this violinist, will be glad to learn that the New York Tribune declares that his first concert in New York was very successful, and goes on to says "he has a grand and pure tone, brilliant execution, clear and decisive. We must rank him very high as a solo violinist, and are assured that he will make a marked success in this country."

A special to the New York World says that the Government of the United States have been for some time obtaining information with regard to the Reciprocity Treaty, and that negotiations with the British Ambassador will be opened as soon as possible for a discussion of the "propriety of making a new treaty."

MEXICO.

In a recent attack on a Juarez camp in the vicinity of Matamoras, three persons in full Federal uniform were captured by the Imperialists, and sentenced to be shot. There is no doubt of the fact that American sympathies are more or less openly assisting the Liberals, and that the partisan bands of the latter are allowed to take refuge in and rally from American territory. The Government of Juarez's headquarters on the American frontier. It is also stated that it has stopped the sale of Government stores and cattle in Texas, and countermanded its order directing Sheridan to disband a portion of his army, which is now said by the New Orleans papers to amount to at least 130,000 men. This does not wear a very pleasant aspect The French, on their side, are forwarding reinforcements to the Rio Grande, for the purpose of securing Matamoras, and putting a stop to the raids now continually occurring from the American frontier. A war of extermination has been declared; no prisoners being taken on either side, matters must soon come to a crisis.

The reward offered for the arrest of Jacob Thompson, Beverly Tucker, George N. Sanders, C. Cleary and John H. Surratt were revoked by a general order issued from the War Department on Friday last.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

INQUEST AT THE JAIL.—Dr. Barker held an Inquest on Monday morning on the body of a man named James Dogherty, who had been committed for Vagrancy. He had been an ordinary inmate of the Jail during the past four years. The man died of Inflammation of the Lungs, and the Jury returned a verdict of Natural Death. Lest some persons should imagine this to be an unnecessary Inquest, it is right to tell them, that Inquests are compulsory on the bodies of all persons who die in Jail.

DR. R. HUNTER.—The London papers contain the account of the holding to bail, in heavy amounts, of Dr. R. Hunter, an Advertising Inhaling Quack Doctor, on a charge of Rape on a married woman, one of his patients. There was an Inhaling Quack of the name of Hunter in New York and Toronto a short time ago. Any connexion?

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.—On Saturday night, a young man employed in the waggon factory of Mr. S. Westlake, Princess Street, quite a stranger in the city, was proceeding up Brock Street, almost in the rear of Ferguson's Buildings, when a short, thick set man came out of the vacant lot of the Messrs. Rourk, and struck him heavily across the head with a billet of wood, which stunned him so as to cause him to fall, and following the blow with two others across the face. The assailant then ran away, leaving the inoffensive party in an almost insensible position. There was no provocation for the assault, and the intentions of the assailant were most likely that of robbery, although he had not sufficient courage to carry out his role. Who the fellow was is unknown.

RIFLE MATCH.—The Return Match between Nos. 4 and 6 Companies of the 14th Volunteer Rifles comes off to-morrow at the Butts on Barriefield Common. Ten men will be selected from each company, ranges 200, 400 and 600 yards, 5 shots at each range. No. 4 intends to win back its good name and far fame, and a good deal of competition is anticipated.

MILITARY SCHOOL.—Mr. C. J. Filliter, of the township of Thurlow, yesterday passed a successful examination at the Military School, and is entitled to a first class certificate.

MUD AND SLUSH.—The entrance to the Drill Shed, owing to the late rains, is in a filthy state through the mud and slush which remain on the surface.—Seeing that the Militia Department won't lay down a walk, the City Fathers, for the sake of the volunteers, to whom the citizens look for protection in the time of need, ought to appropriate a small sum for the purchase of a few boards. A good portion of our Volunteers and cadets come from Waterloo, Portsmouth and Pittsburg to drill, from all of which places fine substantial walks lead into the city, and it must be exceedingly annoying to them to splash through mud just at the Drill Shed door, when they have walked all the rest of the way from home dry shod. If the City Fathers would make an excursion to this locality as they did to the Philipsville Road, they would not come away so favorably impressed with its condition as they did of that of the road.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.

We understand that the Committee of Council, at its sitting on Friday, in addition to some routine business, determined to answer, in reply to a communication from the Imperial Government, that Canada should be represented at the great "Paris Exhibition of the Industry of all nations," in 1867.

By last advices news has come of the death of Chief Justice Parker at St. John, N.B. Few men have been more highly or more deservedly respected. Many in Canada as well as New Brunswick will mourn his loss. But apart from the loss which the event will cause, we believe the ultimate political consequences will be of no little importance.

Prescott, Nov. 24.

After reading the evidence taken before the Magistrate in the Armstrong assault case the County Judge this evening ordered Halliday and the two others to be released on bail.

LATE FROM MONTREAL.

Montreal, Nov. 25.

The convict Brown, alluded to yesterday, while on his way to the Penitentiary escaped at Cornwall to-day, and was not recaptured.

A female in the cell of the police station for drunkenness, to-day attempted to strangle herself by means of a rope made out of clothing torn into strips. She was discovered in the act. Several wretched females have their hands secured behind their backs to prevent suicide.

Muller, the swindler, is known to have engaged to work for five different parties from whom he got money.

A man and his wife while intoxicated had a quarrel, when the latter received a cut in the head with a dangerous weapon; and her child was nearly smothered in blood. The savage was only fined $10.

A man leaving a vessel at midnight fell into the canal, but was rescued. Another fell from the steps to the wharf, and was seriously cut on the head.

The splendid steamer Quebec is nearly finished.

Rochon, of the St. Clet fatal affray, is bailed; $800 for himself and four securities at $200 each.

Boys are in every direction sweeping the crossings—some are making two dollars a day. Females are annoyed with their importunities.

Mr. Futvoye goes from the Attorney General's office to Quebec, and Wilfred Scotte takes his place.

Dry goods continue to sell briskly. The grocery market is dull and stocks light.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 25.

Cotton has been excited, but is slightly falling off to-day. The market is quiet, closing at 42½.

Memphis, Nov. 25.

A collision occurred last night between the Niagara and Postboy on the Mississippi, 1 mile from Helena. The Niagara sunk in 20 feet of water. 100 deck passengers, mostly discharged colored soldiers, were drowned. The cabin passengers and crew were all saved. The Niagara was valued at $1,300,000, and was not insured. She had 200 tons of freight on board. The Postboy was not insured.

New York, Nov. 25.

Pellicer, arrested for the murder of Otero, confessed yesterday and gave information which led to the discovery and arrest of Gonzales, the other murderer. The money was recovered, amounting to about $5,000.

New York, Nov. 26.

The Fenian flag was raised yesterday over the Fenian headquarters, Union Square, in honor of the celebration of the evacuation of the city by the British in 1783. The flagstaff is the highest in the city. The Fenian headquarters is now under full headway, and business is being transacted with all the regularity of an organized government. The bureaus of the Secretary of War, Secretary of Treasury and Navy and other departments are properly organized and at work. The building is one of the handsomest in the city. Its interior arrangements, furniture, carpeting, &c., are of an elegant description. The edifice is leased at one thousand dollars per month.

Louisville, Nov. 26.—The Memphis bulletin of to-day says: Last night, for the first time in ten years, telegraphic communication was held between New York and New Orleans. The first message transmitted from New York to New Orleans was as follows: Weather clear and pleasant; time, 8.55. The answer returned was: Weather clear and cool; time, 9.50. Another despatch from New York was received, and about thirty-one messages from New Orleans to New York, occupying about forty minutes, each message averaging twenty words. This length of line has been worked only once before and that was between San Francisco and New York a few months ago.

New York, Nov. 26.

The Herald's Washington special says General Grant and part of his staff will leave here on Monday to visit Richmond, Charleston, and internal cities.

Among those awaiting interviews at the White House on Saturday were Albert Pike, and Mr. Cummings, ex governor of Michigan. Mr. Pike is an applicant for pardon and the restoration of his law library.

Mrs. Clement C. Clay has been informed her husband cannot be paroled, but will be held for trial.

The Matamoras Ranchero of the 16th says: It appears to be the settled purpose of some men to bring about an active war between the United States and Mexico.

San Francisco, Nov. 25.

Fair trade for the season; the most important change in prices this week is the fall of petroleum to 86 to 87½, consequent upon receipts via Isthmus. Breadstuffs moderately active.

Private letters from commercial firms in Mazatlan and other Mexican ports were received by the steamer John L. Stevens, and report the feeling against the French as tending stronger and stronger every day.

New York, Nov. 27.

The Paris correspondent of the Herald says: One of the editors of the Dublin "Irish People," and one hundred other Irish refugees, have fled to that city. They assert that the first move of the Fenians is to capture Canada.

Cincinnati, Nov. 27.

The Adams Express Company, through their Superintendent at Cincinnati, offer a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of Randolph L. Dodge, who escaped from jail at Vicksburg, Miss., on the night of the 20th inst., where he was held on the charge of robbing the company.

Nashville, Nov. 27.

A court-martial assembled here yesterday for the trial of W. Hofferman, said adjourned. Yesterday Mr. Hofferman died at noon.

LARGE FIRE IN BROOKLYN.

ARRIVAL OF EMIGRANTS.

New York, Nov. 25.—Casey and McGowan's rosin factory and a large block of buildings on Atlantic Dock, Brooklyn, were destroyed by fire this p. m. Loss is heavy.

A man named W. H. Smith was arrested in Newark to-day charged with robbing the body of Mr. Gordon at the late railway massacre in that city.

Six thousand emigrants arrived here during the week.

Cincinnati, Nov. 25—The large Government building at Camp Nelson, Ky., occupied by the quartermaster's and commissary department, was burned yesterday morning. A large amount of Government property was destroyed. All the public funds and papers were saved.

New York, Nov. 25—The Commercial says that in monetary affairs there is a slight turn in favor of lenders. Less money is being expended, and the inquiry is rather more active. The rate is uniformly 7 per cent. to change-brokers, without the exceptions at 6 per cent. observable earlier in the week.

Some of the National Banks find it prudent to prepare themselves for calls from the Treasury department to provide for the redemption of 5 per cent notes maturing in December and it is possible that a partial stringency may be experienced temporarily in that quarter.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—Arrived, the steamer Golden City, from Panama.

Bedford, Pa., Nov. 25.—John P. Reed, Jr., indicted for the murder of Jacob Crouse, was acquitted to-day in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of this county.

The killing of Crouse was caused by political disagreements arising out of the late rebellion.

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—A Prussian named Powell, a manufacturer of gas ovens, committed suicide to-night at his office, in Walnut street, by shooting himself with a carbine.

A SPECIAL NOTICE

MILITARY SCHOOL.

We are requested to intimate that Officers of the Sedentary Militia, Volunteers Officers or other Gentlemen of the City of Kingston and vicinity, desirous of qualifying at the Military School, but who cannot give the whole time required daily, that a special list is being made up at the Brigade office of such as can attend in the morning or the afternoon, without the necessity of being at both. This opportunity is a most favorable one, and it is the duty of those gentlemen who now hold Commissions, as well as those who do not, to take advantage of it while they have the chance. In the Spring it may be too late.

The List is at the Brigade Office, where Lt.-Col. Shaw will give all necessary information.
