SATURDAY CHANGES

Since there are no changes for today (!), this space is will be used to thank all those who contributed to Super News this year. Your efforts were much appreciated!

The Africa Project has raised over $17,000 at the conference. Thank you to all of those who have already stopped by the booth across from the registration desk and, by donating, have joined the club of those sporting Africa Project stickers on their nametags. Another $10,000 in donations will ensure that Free The Children can build a school/public library in Africa this year. Your donations have already helped hundreds of Masai children to attend school.

June Wilson warns that she will personally check nametags at Saturday's luncheon. She also threatens to remove the knives and forks of those who do not have the valued stickers on their nametags. Innovation and the Right Brain of Librarianship; Diane Bedard Presented with OLA Distinguished Service Award

Stephen Abram told us libraries are not innovative enough. The rising ubiquity of mobile communication and storage devices have captured the imagination of librarians. The innovation theme continued with OCULA sessions featuring Gohar Ashoujhan (#1303) presenting an overview of M-Learning possibilities for our digital natives: ebooks on smart phones, smart phone driven presentations, audio library tours via phones, RFID based SDI's, and the emerging availability of library information resources, like databases that can be viewed clearly as smart phones. John Dunn and Laurie Morrison (#1207) enthusiastically talked about Mohawk College's mobile service institutes and their unexpected successes. Using a ISEO smart phone, they deployed their Brain to Go service. The service offers a .wml library website, librarian on the go wireless reference and instant messaging (IM) reference service. The future of mobile library services is promising.

-James Buczynski

CAMPBELL BROS. MOVERS LIBRARY DIVISION

EXPERTS AT:

MOVING COLLECTIONS INTERFILING COLLECTIONS REORGANIZING LIBRARY LAYOUTS

SHELVING INSTALLATIONS CREATING GROWTH SPACE

TOLL FREE 1-800-265-6015

www.campbellbros.com

Session Summary

Presenting in the Disciplines

Presenting. It makes most seasoned speakers nervous. For transitional year students it causes endless nights of sleeplessness, trying to decide what to focus on, how much detail to add, how much audience involvement is needed, what the professor is looking for, trying to memorize that script, and trying to fit all those elements into a twenty minute presentation without breaking out into a sweat.

Presenter Saira Mall continues to develop training courses for faculty and students focusing on enhancing the more advanced skills that transition year students require as they enter post secondary studies. "Presenting in the Disciplines," offered librarians a new opportunity to enter into the field of teaching academic skills beyond research and information retrieval. Saira focus on academic communication as the culmination of a successful research assignment connects librarians in not only to the research process, but also to the product. Steering students away from the public speaking skills learned in primary/secondary schools, Saira assists students in creating clear presentation objectives, organization, and how to demonstrate critical thinking skills through analysis and supporting evidence. This allows transitional year students to become successful presenters. Saira offered advice, strategies and resources for librarians interested in adding a new focus to existing information literacy instruction programs. For more information, visit: http://tls.utsc.utoronto.ca/ instruction/presentation/ default.htm

-Christina Tooulias-Santolin

OSLA Session Summary School Libraries & the 21st Century Learning Landscape

Participants cheered to the gentle nudge Joyce Valenza provided in her inspiring presentation. Her session blossomed with metaphors to gardening and sowing the seeds of success for our students "already born with the chip".

Joyce reminded us that students are most successful when systems are customized for them, thus the need to design new "learning spaces". School library web-pages are the new gardens. 21st century students need: 21st century teachers, 21st century teacher-librarians, 21st century "learning landscapes", and 21st century projects.

Joyce urges TL's to create pathfinders and webquests grounded in the inquiry process. Blogs and Wikkis are seeds we need to plant to create authentic learning landscapes for our students. Joyce reminded us that our job is to help students develop independence while providing intervention when needed with personal and electronic learning advice. She is living proof that now is the most challenging and exciting time ever to be a TL.

Joyce Valenza's presentation was simultaneously broadcast by TANDBERG Canada to Kawartha Pine Ridge TL's in two locations.

Friends Programming

A busy schedule for Friends of Libraries began Friday with three sessions, a poster session and a reception for Friends of Libraries. In sessions from OLBA and Friends of Canadian Libraries (FOCAL) conference programmers, delegates heard how to nurture their friends, from Sault Ste Marie Public Library experts Willie Eisenbichler and Dorothy Macnaughton.

We welcomed Friends of Libraries U.S.A. (FOLUSA) Executive Director Sally Reed. Many met Sally at the FOCAL/FOLUSA poster, and then attended her session on creating and reenergizing Friends groups, and making the case for your library. Sally's visit ended with a special Friends reception.

The Friends program ends Saturday with Friends Day sessions featuring Michael Fay, speaking on political advocacy (#1702) and a Friends showcase of successes and challenges (#1802).

OCULA Summary Work/Life Balance

For a SuperConference whose motif is a hemisphere of the brain, the theme of "consciousness" is emerging in several sessions. Dr. Donna Lero (Session 1206) of the Centre for Family Work & Wellbeing at the University of Guelph spoke to a jampacked room about the necessity of becoming more conscious of our work, hours of our work/life balance, and of the value and meaning in our life. How are we juggling our work roles and our many other roles? Are we aware of our limits? Are we conscious of when we need to separate "work" and "life" and when we need to integrate these? The economic and demographic trends dismally point to greater overload and stress in the future, especially for managers and supervisors and for those with aging parents. Dr. Lero raised our conscious of work/life balance as the work issue of the 21st century.

-Robin Bergart

OLITA Saturday Spotlight

Come one and all to check out the Top Tech Trends (Session 1701) coming down the pipe! Listen to Stephen Abram, VP of Innovation at SIRSI, Jenny Levine of "The Shifted Librarian" fame and Alan Darnell, Project Manager for Scholars Portal, one of the largest collections of scholarly resources in the world, discuss the Top Technology Trends they see showing up on the horizon, in our libraries and on our desktops!

This morning at 9:05 in IC Ballroom B

Passport to Prizes Winners

Visit the OLA Office (205A) this morning to claim your prize. Those not claimed today will be shipped by courier. Thank you once again to all those that participated!

Adams, Beth Bain, Sandra Benoit, Helen Big Canoe, Patricia Bombay, Dawn Bradbury, Vivienne Bureau, Valerie Campbell, Jill Cavers, Christine Clarke, Sheila Condotth, Carmen Conte-Pitcher, Eda Coughlan, Shirley Coutts, Paula DaSilva, Guido Deberham, Sue Dennis, Sharon Dobson, Katie Duhaime, Andree Gill, Theresa Harris-Wheatley, Jannie Hart, Muriel Hatten, Valerie Hibbard, Dorothy Kelly, Tracy Kerr, Sandra Kostiuk, Joanne Lamwatt, Royden Lawson, Nancy

MacDonald Gene-Marie McBrain, Nico Moon, Lynda Needham, Mary Ann ONeill, Suzanne Oakleaf, Cathy Park, Karen Povner, Marian Ramberansingh, Candy Ridgewell, Barb Robinson, Anne Rocca, Heather Roebuck, Patricia Senior, Christine Sharp, Ted Shields, Jacqueline Spoelstra, Joanne Stephenson, Patricia Swain, Lorraine Symons, Corinne Tolen, Rebecca Tollan, Jan Turrie, Cathy Warrener, Elizabeth Weir, Cindy Wilker, Jennifer Williams, Kathy Wray, Kathryn Zion, Rene

Ontario Cultural Pavilion Library Collection Winner

The prize for a collection valued at $5,000 is... Mary Jo Mahoney. Your prize will be shipped by courier.

Congratulations and thank you to all the donors!

OPLA Spotlight

Friday began with several highly rated, popular sessions. Todd Kyle's humour and knowledge shone through at his well-attended session Dora the Explorer vs. Stella Queen of the Snow and almost 200 lovers of Canadian fiction received an extensive reading list of debut novels in session 1012, great Canadian First Novels. Happy Reading All!

Now as we head into the last day of the conference, there are still lots of thought-provoking session to keep your right brain thinking. Teen parents and their children face many challenges in their day-to-day lives. The session 1815 panel of Jackie Howard (TPL), Jo Altilia of Literature for Life, and author Sylvia Olsen, Just Ask Us: Conversations with First nations Teenage Moms, will offer advice and strategies on how your library can reach out to these young at-risk families.

Be sure not to miss these other session that are sure to peak your interest:

- Session 1712 (9:05–10:15 am) Deepening Community Partnerships
- Session 1713 (9:05–10:15 am) The Power of Focus Groups And rounding out the conference at 10:40 am:

Ken Setterington and Andre Gagnon–The Doors Are Open (1807) and,

Session 1813 featuring OLA's Best Bets Committee; join committee members as they share their favourite reading picks.

OLBA Saturday Spotlight

Hello, fellow trustees. It's the last day of the conference. How do you feel? Energized? Empowered? Excited? We have 4 more sessions to cap off your experience here before sending you home to galvanize your board. Today for left-brainers: 1709–Please Mr. Postman Starting a Direct Mail Campaign. 1711–Media Relations Do's and Don'ts 1809–Rules! We Don't Need No Stinkin' Rules...Or Do We?? And for right-brainers: 1808–Got to Get.You Into My Life

Here's to an innovative year ahead. See you next year!

San José State

Conveniently located everywhere. The San José State University MLIS.

Quality education | Flexible programs | Live, hybrid, and online courses Affordable tuition | Opportunities to gain professional experience

http://slisweb.sjsu.edu

Super Conference 2006 Volunteers

Thank you to all volunteers for their time, effort, and enthusiasm. And a special thank you to Tammy Robinson and Joseph Sansalone for their co-ordination.

Joanne Bainbridge Alan Barry Jeff Beeler Debbie Bergson Steve Berkson Karen Black Rebecca Blackburn Chantale Boileau Charlotte Broome Robin Canham Judy Carter Yan Chase Li Cho Tatiana (Tanya) Chlygina Jason W Clark Rachel Couban Jennifer D'Asari Kate Davis Jennifer Dekker Lisa DiBarbora Anna Dworzak Grace Dymarska Victoria Edwards Joanne Ellis Shala Emamjomeh Trish Ertel Lucy Gan Carmen Genuardi Iana Georgieva-Kaluba Consuelo Goegan Elizabeth Gordon Irene Gotz David Griffith Udoy Gupta Shelagh Harris Alan Harnum Zeenat Hashmi Finbarr Healy Melissa Helwig Leslie Holwerda Jackie Howard Ian Hunter Peter Irwin Megan Jardine Allison Kelley Amanda Lee Kelly Shauna-Lee Konrad Helen Kubiw Marc LaPointe Cameron Lee

Virginia Leiter Marieta Levinson Daniela Liebregts Lilv Mac Darby Macnab Rvan Madden Adekunle Majek Shelli Mander Shannon McAlorum Katherine McConnell Alison McCullough Heather McKend Liz McQuaig Pat Micks Rose-Mary Mitter Richard Merino Tamara Monster Parvin Moosa Mina Mozafari Maryam Mozafari Moez Murji Jay Naik Julie Najjar Jessica Nelson Annie Ng Audrey Nichols Heather Nolan Anna Occhiuto Jav Peters Sheila Plant Mark Aaron Polger Jessica A Posgate Sarah Prahalad Maura Randi Deanna Refling John Reid Laurie Rodney Ivor Rodrigues Kathryn Rose Connie Ruscica Krystal L Rycroft Hayley Salvosa Linda Sansalone Carrie Sherlock Eun-ha Spiteri Rosemary Stackhouse Jackie Stapleton Lawrence Stewart Roxanne Sutton Elisa Sze

Zoe (Yuhong) Tang Luigi Tavernese Mindy Thuna Lily Tran Eliza Tru Dawn M Tushingham Susan Graham Walker Jennifer Wallace Linda Wallington Lisa Weaver Elizabeth (Lies) Weijs Qing Wu Rong Wu Jingju Yuan (Daisy) Tara Zarrin Valentina Zimina

Thank you to Cranium Games for the donation of 20 games and inflatable brain helmets!

OLA Career and Mentoring Centre

Special thanks to the following people who generously gave of their time to mentor and/or provide resume critiquing services:

Diana Arras Kathryn Goodhue Janet Kaufman Diana Krawczyk Marian Kutarna Vivian Lewis Pascal Lupien Donna Lynch Yvonne Patch Marilyn Pillar Ted Sharp Iennifer Soutter Frances Stocker Stephanie Stowe Elaine Tamura Sva Van Geest Barbara Wells Anna Wharton Sharon Yates

Session Summary User-Created Content

How does your library compete with Amazon? According to Beth Jefferson (#1217), libraries need to embrace user-generated content to provide peer-topeer relationships, creating a democratic sharing of ideas and recommendations. Users appreciate peer reviews and browsing, not subject readings or library recommendations. By allowing for user-generated content, libraries can support patrons in how they prefer to search. Ideas for user content include user-written reviews and digital return to allow for serendipity. Jefferson concluded that libraries should work together to develop and support user-generated content to meet the needs and preferences of the patrons we serve.

-Carly Brake

Total number of 2006 Conference Registrants... 4,549!

SUPER NEWS

is produced by the Ontario Library Association fo the OLA's Super Conference and EXPO. February 1-4, 2006. Metro Toronto Convention Centre. © 2006.

\m/

