An Unprecedented Oversight.

"Have you read Brown's speech to the jury in that murder case he has been trying?" asked the merchant.

"I glanced it over," replied the lawyer, in a deprecatory way.

"It seemed to me it had some very strong points," suggested the merchant.

"Oh, yes. There were some pretty good points in it," returned the lawyer.

"I couldn't see a chance to find fault with it anywhere. It was one of the ablest arguments I ever read."

"Oh, that's because you are not a lawyer. The argument was all right, but from a truly legal point of view the speech was faulty, extremely faulty."

"In what way?" inquired the merchant in surprise.

"There were some fearful oversights in it," explained the lawyer. "It violated all precedents in at least two instances."

"What were they?"

"Well, at the opening of his address he failed to say that it was the most intelligent jury that he had ever had the honor of addressing. That was an almost unheard of oversight and reflects seriously upon his training as a lawyer. Then when he closed he failed to compliment the jury on its patience and close attention to the proceedings."

"But it wasn't patient or attentive," protested the merchant.

"That makes no difference," replied the lawyer. "No real attorney was ever known to leave those remarks out of his speech, no matter what kind of a jury he had. Such neglect is unprofessional in the extreme."—Chicago Post.

WERE STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

A VERY SAD ACCIDENT OCCURRED THIS MORNING.

The Milk Waggon of Joseph Morton Was Struck and a Lad Named Gray so Seriously Injured That He Cannot Live.

This morning a sad accident occurred on Montreal street when a boy named Gray was, it is supposed, fatally injured.

Joseph Morton, milkman, with his nephew, J. Gray, were driving towards the city with milk for the customers. They were late and wishing to reach the city as soon as possible Mr. Morton drove fast. They sat in an enclosed rig such as is driven by milkmen and it was hard for them to hear a train approaching unless they saw it. The clatter of the waggon drowned the noise and the alarms of No. 2 train from Renfrew and neither Mr. Morton nor the boy heard the whistle blown as usual on nearing the crossing on Montreal street. They were watching the G.T.R. suburban train coming to the city, and got on the crossing the same time as the K. & P. train. The rig was struck and smashed in pieces, the horse was killed, and the boy fell against the train, which dragged him some distance. The bolts on the sides of the tracks scraped the back of the boy's head, and injured his skull so badly that he cannot live. The brain is exposed in several places.

Strange to say Mr. Morton escaped with only a few scratches.

The boy was removed to an adjoining house and Dr. Mundell and an ambulance summoned. The doctor said the boy could not live. He was removed in Drennan's ambulance to the general hospital.

T. Funnell, conductor, was interviewed and said the accident was not the fault of the train hands. The whistle was blown a good while before the train reached the crossing. If Morton had been in an open rig the accident would not have occurred. He would have seen and heard the train. Morton and the train reached the crossing at the same time. The train was not going at its highest speed and was stopped the length of itself.

This accident shows anew the need there is for gates or flagmen on the railroad crossings on the Montreal road. Many accidents have occurred at the two places and many more will result if watchmen are not stationed at them. But even watchmen will not correct the carelessness of men driving in closed waggons.

Morton was more severely injured than at first anticipated. After the accident he appeared pale and trembling. His head, face and body were bruised, and a piece of flesh was gouged out from under his chin.

The boy was carried into the office of the car works and suffered intensely. He screeched continuously and the noise could be heard a long way. He was laid on a table while waiting for the ambulance and struggled terribly.

Morton saw the G.T.R. suburban train coming from the city and thought it was a K. & P. train.

This afternoon Dr. Mundell reported that Gray was resting easy in bed in the general hospital. He suffered from compound fractures of the arm and skull. He may recover.

The Deputy's Opinion.

Deputy Sheriff Jarvis says that Toronto is as quiet as a country village, business is dead, and real estate never was of less value. The only thing that will revive the business of Toronto is a ship canal to the Georgian Bay. This is the Queen city's future hope.

The Messages Crossed.

Yesterday telegrams crossed each other announcing the death of two brothers. The telegrams were addressed to each of the deceased. Dr. D. Earl Burdette died in Belleville and his brother, Daniel Burdette, died in Newberry. Both funerals take place to-day.

Successful Pupils.

At the July examinations six pupils from Garden Island public school wrote for entrance. This is the greatest number that has ever passed here at one time for the high school.

From The Garden To The Tea Pot

Is the secret of our success. Do you ever think how many profits are made out of an article before you use it? None more so than tea, especially imported packet tea. We handle no teas but our own. Osh-Kosh is one of our reliable brands and is as good as any 40c. tea sold in the market. We are selling it for a limited time at 25c. a pound. Try a pound and you will want more. Stroud Bros., 109 Princess street, Kingston, also at Montreal, Peterboro, Ottawa and Toronto.

"She Couldn't Marry Three."

The above title seemed to arouse the curiosity of the New York public, so much so that on the opening night the house was packed to the doors. The success of the play was instantaneous, and during the entire New York engagement the theatre was crowded. The play is an unqualified success; the company a powerful and evenly balanced one, and Miss Lillian Kennedy as the heroine, presents a characterization which for histrionic ability has never been surpassed on the American stage.

Were Through The Rebellion.

Monday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first Red River expedition to quell the rebellion raised by Louis Reil. Lord Wolseley, then colonel, was in command of the expedition. Many of those who marched to old Fort Garry have passed away, but a few of the veterans still remain to "fight their battles o'er again." Several of those who took part in the rebellion are now residents of this city and vicinity. The company which went from Kingston was known as No. 6, Fort Ontario rifles. The volunteers were selected from the Frontenac cavalry, 14th battalion, 47th battalion, 48th battalion. Those known to be alive are: Sergt. Scott, W. D. Derry, J. Maloney, S. Kelly, W. Brewster, Sergt. Tweed, Sergt. Hora, R. Davis, W. Crallin, T. Moore; A. Ritchie, Inverary; T. Robinson, Newburg, and R. A. Fowler, Amherst Island; J. Haslett, Kingston.

A First Rate Entertainment.

The concert given by the VanAmburg family last night was fairly well attended and was very much appreciated. The programme was varied and nearly every number was encored. The entertainment was well worth hearing and should have been better patronized by the citizens. Earl, for one so young, plays the cornet and violin well, as does also Fred. on the clarionet. Miss Mollie Flanagan, of this city, rendered a piano solo and was forced to give a second. She also assisted at the piano during the selections given by the family. John Meagher brought the company here and deserves credit for his very enthusiastic work in making the entertainment a success. Mr. VanAmburg, on behalf of Mr. Meagher and himself, thanked the audience for their kind attention. The entertainment closed with the singing of the national anthem.

A Visit In The City.

Rev. R. Mackay, secretary of the christian instruction society, founded in 1825, Memorial hall, Farringdon street, London, E.C., is a visitor in the city. He formerly resided here, but has been living in England for ten years. He came out on the SS. Labrador on a six weeks vacation. He proceeds west in a few days. He is anxious to see the wheat crops of Manitoba. Mr. Mackay was much pleased with the many improvements he noticed in Kingston. The city has made much progress. Mr. Mackay is now a member of the committee of the self-help emigration society he formed in 1884. He is proud of the work of the organization. From the formation of the society in 1884 to the end of 1894, 4,905 emigrants were sent out at a cost of £23,945, of which sum £19,266 (74 per cent.) has been contributed by the emigrants themselves, or those personally interested in them.

THE TAX CASE SETTLED.

A Case of Considerable Interest Arranged in the Division Court.

There was an interesting case settled out of court to-day. Ald. Tait and J. A. Gardiner, bailiff, were interested. The collector of taxes through his bailiff, J. A. Gardiner, seized a horse belonging to Ald. Tait for taxes said to be due for the year 1888 with interest and costs thereon, amounting to the sum of $55. Ald. Tait claimed that he paid the taxes in the spring of 1889 to one Fillion now deceased and that the mice or something destroyed the receipt. He could prove that he paid the money by the evidence of those present. It appears that no return of the money was made to the collector, but it was reported to the collector that there were no goods on the premises of Ald. Tait to satisfy the claim for taxes. Ald. Tait claimed there must have been goods on the premises, as he always resided there. The return was incorrect. When the bailiff seized Ald. Tait's horse the alderman paid in court, under protest, $10. This morning the matter came before Judge Price, and the offer which was made by J. B. Walkem, solicitor for Tait, that the payment of $10 into court should be accepted in full of all demands, each party to pay his own costs, was agreed to.

Killed While Riding a Bicycle.

CORNWALL, Aug. 27.—David B. Moss, of Moulinette village, about six miles west of Cornwall, went to church in Wales on Sunday night, and after service started to ride home between the double track of the Grand Trunk railway, where there is a splendid bicycle path. Monday morning a farmer named Geo. Fickes found his body in a culvert, about a mile west of Moulinette. The body was still astride of the wheel, and lay in the fifteen inches of water in the culvert. The unfortunate young man probably rode into the culvert, and, striking his head against the wall, was either killed outright or stunned, so that he drowned in the water. A couple of bruises were found upon his forehead. The deceased was a fine young gentleman, twenty-two years of age, and had just matriculated with honors from the school at Richmond, Que. He intended to begin a medical course in McGill this fall.

Not the Place For Them.

This morning Mrs. Walkem, on behalf of the children's home, complained that girls eighteen years and over were sent to it to be cared for. This is not right. The ladies in charge of the institution find it sufficient to look after the children sent to them. The other day a girl named Clark, eighteen years of age, was sent to the children's home for shelter by Miss Chestnut. The girl is subject to fits and yesterday became very sick, and had to be sent to the general hospital. Mrs. Walkem says there should be a house of refuge for such girls. There is no room for them at the children's home.

THE RACES AT GANANOQUE.

WERE NOT AS LIVELY AS THOSE HELD HERE.

The Results Were Surprising In a Number Of Cases—The Pneumatic Tires Had a Stirring Time—The Summary Of the Races.

The horse races at Gananoque yesterday were not as lively as the meet which occurred here last week. A surprising feature of the 2:35 class was the fact that the judges had nothing to say about the driving of Acorn. It will be remembered Buchanan was "touched" for $25 here because of not driving out his horse, but the Gananoque judges did not seem to care as long as he went in the race. He could trail where he liked. When a sport went up to the judges and asked them if they could change Acorn's driver if he so requested during the race they replied in the negative claiming that the horse would be taken off the track by his owners sooner than allow this to occur. The fact of the matter was Acorn did'nt want to be marked. Although Wallace had several accidents during the race he was able to pull out a winner, and Billy Rysdyk getting a first was the only thing that gave him second place. It was a bad day for pneumatic tires. The track was not as smooth as it should have been and as a result hardly a race was started where a horse did not make the round with the rubber from her heels flying through the air. The track is not a bad one but the turns are apt to fool an unsteady horse.

The 2.22 class was left to three horses, Beethoven, Primo and Marven. Beethoven was the best horse by 100 per cent. and should have settled the race in three heats. As it was, Primo took the first heat. The class was not trotted fast.

The named race was the most disappointing. Patmus, with Mark Time, however, were held in the pools as first choice against the field. Men who held tickets on her were disgusted to see the grey break continuously and come in nearly the tail end every time. Mark Time had a snap and Wallace drove him well.

TIED HER IN BED.

A Son and Daughter-in-Law Charged With Ill-Treating an Old Woman.

Belleville Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Bowers were arraigned in the police court, this morning, charged with ill-treating Mr. Bowers' mother, a very old woman who lives with them. Mrs. Phillips and her daughter, Mrs. G. F. Hart, swore that Mr. Bowers locked the old woman up, tied her in bed, threatened her, wouldn't allow her out of the house and otherwise maltreated her. Mrs. Hart swore she saw Mr. Bowers shove the old woman several times. Mrs. Bowers had told her that the old woman was possessed of the devil. Both women said that otherwise the Bowers were very nice people and good neighbors.

Old Mrs. Bowers was examined but her answers were such that the magistrate said he could place no reliance upon her evidence.

At the close of the case Constable Johnson announced that he had been told by the defendants that he could not take the old woman back to the place where he got her. The magistrate said he must take her back to where he got her, and if she were turned out he could deal with that under another part of the statute.

Mrs. Bowers said she had tied the old woman in bed with a small cord, but it was necessary. The old woman had given her much trouble. The case was dismissed.

Had a Merry Day.

On Friday, 23rd inst., a citizen held a fishing party in honor of a visitor, N. J. Fraser, manager of the Johnston steamship line, Montreal. The place selected was Loborough Lake and the party included Messrs. W. Thompson, G. T. R. agent, D. Stewart Robinson, Frank Conway, of the K. & P., and W. Newlands. The party left Kingston at 7:30 a. m. and Battersea was reached at 9:45. Immediately the visitors started on a fishing tour in their boats, and had a fine day's sport. They caught 208 fish, mostly bass, weighing from two to three pounds each. The drive between the city and the lake was greatly enjoyed.

He Heard Yells.

G. Watson, who keeps a brickyard on Division street, says he heard yells about 4:30 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, and thinks it was the death yells of Cullen while hanging.
