GENERAL SESSIONS at the Court House today.

COUNTY COUNCIL meets again this morning.

LETTERS & TELEGRAMS—H. A. W., Ottawa; C. P., Pittsburgh; E. J. B. P., Brighton; G. H., London, (2).

LEGALITY OF THE COURTS.—A telegram was received yesterday afternoon from the Minister of Justice, intimating that the constitution of the Court of General Sessions was legal until the proclamation disallowing the same, appeared in the Official Gazette. From this we gather that the Recorder's Courts are still in force, notwithstanding the legality of the new Court, the act for establishing the same being about to be annulled.

The act for the registration of births, marriages and deaths, which was passed at the last session of the local legislature, comes into force on the 1st July next. The circulars and forms relating thereto have been printed, and will be distributed in a few days.

An Act was passed last session of the Local Legislature with reference to the securities by officers of Ontario. The Deputy Provincial Secretary is just now engaged in preparing the forms required under the act, and they will be distributed in a short time. The act is of wide operation, embracing Sheriffs, Registrars, County Attorneys, County Court Clerks, and Division Court officers.

A scheme is under the consideration of the Imperial Government for the appointment of a Bishop who will have Episcopal jurisdiction over all the clergy and congregations of the Church of England in the Falkland Islands, the Fuegian Archipelago, and on the East Coast of South America, excepting the diocese and Colony of British Guiana. The new sea will in all probability bear the title of 'Stanley,' and the Rev. W. H. Stirling, who is at present laboring among the natives of Tierra del Fuego, is likely to be the first Bishop. There are nearly thirty clergymen in South America, including the colonial and consular chaplains.

No Opera To-Night.

Dr. Barker on Saturday received a Telegram from Mr. Geo. Holman, stating that his father was at the point of death, and that the appearance of the Opera Troupe in Kingston to-night and to-morrow night must necessarily be postponed.

REV. JOHN GEMLEY.—The statement which appeared in the British Whig a few days ago, to the effect that the Rev. John Gemley had resigned his position as a Minister of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, is not correct. Mr. Gemley asked to be superannuated for one year in consequence of the delicate state of his health, and we understand that his request has been complied with.

We understand that a number of the friends of the Royal Artillery now stationed here intend giving them a Ball on Tuesday evening next. Invitations were issued for 50 King Street, but we were informed on Saturday that the Ball will take place in Ontario Hall instead.

COLLIERY EXPLOSION IN WALES.

London, June 11.

BANQUET—THE NEW FRENCH CABLE.

London, June 11.

A grand banquet was given on board the steamship Great Eastern last evening, to celebrate the successful landing of the new French Cable. Many notables were present. Speeches were made and toasts drunk, and altogether much enthusiasm was manifested. Among the toasts were: "England, America and France," which was appropriately responded to by the representatives of the several nations. The festivities were continued till a late hour. The Great Eastern has gone to Portland, England, for her supply of coal, and will leave that port to-morrow for Brest, whence she will proceed to lay the cable.

FENIAN ROBBERIES IN IRELAND.

AGITATION IN PARIS.

London, June 11.

The agitation in Paris last night continued until after midnight. Troops occupied Montmartre and vicinity, and the cavalry paraded through the streets all night. Shortly after midnight the crowd in one of the streets of Montmartre broke through the line of police and formed a barricade, but they were dispersed and pursued in all directions by the troops. Many windows were broken and other damage done to property in that quarter of the city. The cavalry charged on the crowd several times and many citizens were wounded but none were killed. The police have been very active, and have, it is reported to day, made nearly 600 arrests since midnight. Further disturbances are apprehended and extraordinary precautions have been taken by the government to prevent them.

FRENCH ELECTIONS.

The Patrie and other Paris journals give returns showing the election of 199 official and 93 opposition candidates.

EDITORS ARRESTED.

The editors of the Reveil have been arrested on a charge of conspiracy.

IRISH CHURCH BILL.

London, June 11.

In the House of Lords this evening Lord Bateman asked for the intention of the government in respect to the Irish Church Bill.

Earl Carnarvon and Lord Cairns opposed the question as unnecessary and inexpedient at the present time. Earl Granville, Secretary of State for the Colonial department, and in reference to outside rumors that the government had no intention to depart from that respectful course that was due to the House of Commons.

PETITION AGAINST DISESTABLISHMENT.

The Duke of Abercorn presented a petition of citizens of Belfast and vicinity containing 80,000 signatures, against the disestablishment of the Irish Church. In his remarks he said that this petition emanated from the most important demonstration ever held in Ireland. He showed the great changes which had taken place in the sentiments of the people since the general elections. He said he believed that the people of the North of Ireland were not singular in this particular. He believed a change was going on rapidly and certainly throughout the whole country on account of the injustice and partiality of the bill.

THE ALABAMA QUESTION.

London, June 11.

In the House of Commons this evening the proceedings were mainly unimportant. The debate on the Alabama question was postponed till the 9th of July.

The population of Canada appears to be decreasing. In the county of York, in which the important city of Toronto is situated, the census returns show that there are now 43,000 souls fewer than there were in 1861. The people emigrate to the United States, because they can do better there than under the Colonial Government. The best remedy for the evil is to transfer the whole country to the United States, and then its inhabitants would not need to abandon their homes in order to enjoy the shelter of the Stars and Stripes.—N. Y. Sun.

 This is one of the falsehoods in which the New York Press delights. There has been no Census of Ontario taken since 1861, but the population of the Province is known to be encreased one quarter of a million, if not more.

DANCING DIFFERENCES.—A writer in the Moravian says: 'What a strange thing thing this dancing is, after all, when you look at it from a philosophical, or, if you please, unsophisticated point of view. The other day, Insulanus asked a lady how it came to pass that the entrance upon the floor of a ball room made a wonderful change in the usual manner and habits.—She asked him what he meant, as she did not understand. He asked her, suppose I introduce you to a friend of mine a stranger, and he would not only take your hand but put his arm around you, what would you do? You may imagine her looks and answer! What would she do? All your lady readers know what she would do, and what the father, husband or brother of each lady would do. But said Insulanus as soon as you enter the "hop" or ball, you permit a perfect stranger, who is introduced to you at the same time, not only to take your hand but to put his arm around your waist and to sail around the room with you, in the giddy maze of the dance, and your father, brother and husband think it all right! The lady admitted that she had not exactly looked upon it from that point of view, but gave Insulanus no other information, than that things were allowable in the dance which are not so in ordinary life. How wonderful, that delicate ladies can dance from 9 to 12 p.m., square and round dances, and wind up with a sherry cobbler, and yet feel too weary to stand up during prayer in church.

Quebec, June 10.

Col. Gugy lectured at Inverness on Thursday afternoon, at the Court-house on the position of the British people in Lower Canada, going over much the same ground as he did at Quebec. The address was bitterly anti-French and strongly annexationist. Some parts were received with counter cries of "God save the Queen," "Long Live the British Connection" and so frequent were the interruptions that the Colonel became demoralized, and closed his lecture somewhat abruptly.

Fire Commissioner Prendergast has been engaged during the past few days in investigating into the origin of the fire on Abraham Hill. The Commissioner was on the spot soon after the alarm was given; and from what he saw, and a suspicous circumstance that came to his knowledge, there came a necessity of an investigation. The house was insured by the proprietor, Mr. Smith late of Beauport. The result of the investigation was the committal of the occupant for trial at the next Court of Queens's Bench.

AN OBLIGING GENTLEMAN.—A few days since a lady reached a railroad depot in Dayton, O., just as the train on which she desired to take passage moved away. She was extremely anxious to get aboard the train, but was left, which, of course was not right. As she stood gazing at the train, her arms full of packages and her eyes full of tears, a gentleman arrived at the depot on a full run, with his carpet sack in his hand, his coat on his arm, and his face streaming with perspiration. He too, wanted to take the same train, but alas, was too late. As he, looked at the train, now fast moving away, he set down his carpet bag, wiped his face, and very deliberately and emphatically said: 'D—n that train.' The lady heard him, and, smiling upon him with a lady's sweetness, said: 'Thank you, sir!' He had undoubtedly expressed her sentiments exactly.

DAY SHOD TO INDIA.—Captain Tyler in a report to the Board of Trade, on the Brennar Pass and the Brindisi route to India, declares that the line by Constantinople and valley of the Euphrates, and over a portion of the Greek frontier must yet be constructed; and, in fine, the hope of the Indian traveller of the next generation, chimerical as it may appear to many at present, must be nothing less than to pass dry shod from London to Bombay, as follows:—through a sub-marine tunnel from Dover to Calais, across Europe by railway, over the Bosphorus by a bridge, and forward by railway down the Euphrates valley, and round the Persian Gulf to Bombay.

The guano on the Chincha Islands is nearly exhausted. In a few months these islands will be deserted, and then all the ships engaged in the trade will make for the Guanape Islands, five degrees south of the equator. There is a supply of guano at Baker's Island, in the Hawaiian group, estimated at from 250,000 to 2,000,000 tons.

Mr. Sprague, of Chicago, was recently mulcted in the trifling sum of $100,000, for writing love-letters to a confiding damsel of thirty-five years of age. Her heart had been broken several times before by incontinent men, but we presume $100,000 in new and beautiful greenbacks will prove an effective cure for all her wounds, both old and new.

Restaurants in Cars.

A very ingenious and Frenchy mode of relieving the hunger of travellers has been adopted on the leading lines out of Paris. Without his cafe a Frenchman is nothing. The Champs Elysees, the Elysian of Parisians, is lined with restaurants, some of them of great elegance. In the Gardens of the Tuileries, right under the Emperor's fence, bearing an inscription, "English Spoken," is a long low cafe, from which the smoke and smell of the cooking is constantly going up. At certain stations on the road the railroad officials, all of whom are dressed in uniform, inquire if you will dine or sup, as the case may be. If you answer in the affirmative the fact is immediately telegraphed to the station where the meal is provided. Even the number of your compartment goes with it. On arriving at the station a box is put into your hands. It contains four courses, with soup and wine; you are allowed forty minutes to eat, which you do while the car is on its way. The dinner is hot and excellent. You eat at your leisure, and are charged the moderate price of 60 cents for the arrangement. Your box is taken from you, and you proceed on your way.

A somewhat romantic story comes to us from Memphis. Mr. Vaudement, a French dancer who had attained some celebrity in the States, was starring with a danseuse—Miss La Favre by name—in the South. While at Memphis some difficulty arose in which Vaudement was shot mortally wounded. Learning that his death was near, he expressed a desire to be married to Miss La Favre, to whom he was very much attached, ascribing as his reasons that he wished her to inherit an estate of some value in France that would come to him or his heirs. A license was hastily procured, and the girl, crying pitiously, took her place by the dying man's bedside and was married. The last words of the ceremony were hardly uttered before Vaudement fell back dead. His mother and sister were en route to join him, and were met on the road by the telegram, "Shot last night; died an hour ago."

Miss La Favre, whose proper name is Miss Cox, maid, wife and widow all within thirty minutes, is a daughter of a dry goods merchant of Belfast, of which city he has been Mayor, and it is believed that his daughter will now return to her paternal home.

The Fillibusters in Cuba.

Havana, June 7, via Key West, June 10.—News has been received from Santiago de Cuba up to the 4th inst. All the regular troops had left for active service in the field. The volunteers were guarding the city. The fillibuster who landed a Boy of Nipe had gone into the interior, taking the road to Holguin. It is reported that Col Teaker, who commanded the fillibusters brought over by the steamer San Salvador, has been killed.

FIGHTS WITH THE REBELS.

Havana, June 10.

The arrival of Gen Lesco at Cienfuegos has infused spirit into the campaign in that section of the island, and several engagements are already reported as having taken place between his forces and those of the insurgents.

THE NEW CAPTAIN GENERAL.

A committee of the citizens of Havana will go to Porto Rico and meet General Caballeras de Rodas, who sails to-day from Madrid, and escort him to this city.

CHANGE OF BAY ROUTE.—We are informed that it is the intention of Mr. Gildersleeve, the owner of the 'Rochester,' to put that steamer on her old route between Belleville, Bay ports, Kingston and Oswego, at a very early date. She will leave Belleville at half-past five, a. m., Kingston time, on Monday's, Wednesday's and Friday's calling at all the Bay Ports and Kingston, leaving the latter place about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and arriving at Oswego about 8 p.m. Returning, will leave Oswego at 8 a.m., on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and Kingston at 3:30, arriving in Belleville about 11 p.m. The steamer 'Bay of Quinte,' which is now undergoing a thorough repairing, will again be placed on the Bay route between Belleville and Kingston; for three days in the week, i. e. she will leave Kingston on Mondays Wednesdays and Fridays, at half-past three in the afternoon, calling at all the ports and arriving in Belleville about half-past three in the afternoon, calling at all the ports and arriving in Belleville about half past ten, p. m. Returning, will leave Belleville at two, a. m., Kingston time, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. By the above arrangement there will be a daily boat up and down the Bay, and a tri-weekly steamer to Oswego, from all the Bay ports.—Intelligencer.

Train Smashed.

THE PRESIDENT AND FAMILY ABOARD.

There was much excitement and many startling rumors at Washington yesterday morning concerning a railroad accident near Annapolis Junction the night before last. A locomotive ran against a cow, and two passenger cars were thrown from the track and shattered. The President, his wife, and two children were in the train, but were uninjured. So far as it is known none were fatally injured.

George Peabody arrived in New York in the Scotia. The London 'Daily News' denies the rumour that the great benefactor left England in broken health and for the last time. It says:

We are glad to know that he goes forth with settled purposes to complete a great work of mercy already auspiciously carried on, and with the full intention of returning, after some time to the land of his adoption. He is ever the almoner of his own bounty, and having taken measures for the expenditure of £250,000 in dwellings for the industrial poor of London, he carries out to America his added gift, to enlarge the beneficent operations of the Freedmen's Children Education Trust. As he departs, Mr. Story, the American sculptor, is coming, bringing with him the statue upon which he has been engaged for twelve months, and before Mr. Peabody is seen again amongst us his image will be found upon its proper pedestal in the city which acknowledges in him one of the greatest of its benefactors.

Sir Edwin Landseer has given his evidence in a London Police Court as to the cruelty of cutting the ears of terriers for the purpose of improving them either in appearance or for fighting. Sir Edwin explained with reference to his picture, 'Dignity and Impudence,' painted for the Queen, that he had merely painted the cropped terrier in deference to a custom. Her Majesty, he said, never allowed the ears of her dogs to be cropped. Evidence was given that, besides the pain inflicted upon the dogs by cutting their ears, the process had the effect, as might be supposed, of making them deaf. The parties accused of so cutting the ears of a terrier were fined by the magistrates on this evidence.

Philadelphia, June 10.

John M. Moriarity, President of the Irish Republican Association, Pennsylvania, has issued an address, calling on all Irishmen in the State, who favor universal suffrage, protection of American industry, and the liberation of Ireland, to meet in each Congressional District, and elect one delegate and an alternate to attend the Irish Republican Convention in Chicago, on the 4th of July. The address states that the position taken by Senator Sumner deserves the support of all true Irishmen, and that the vast majority of Irish citizens will ally themselves with the Republican party for the practical enforcement of his policy and views.

FISHING.—'Which would you rather do play or go a fishing?' is a question that will doubtless be frequently asked to-day. Our reporter, having carefully watched the operations of fishermen lately, is prepared to offer the following practical suggestions to incipient Izaak Waltons who intend seeking their day's amusement on the Bay, or along its inlets:

Your outfit should consist of knee boots, a broad-brimmed hat, fishing table and flies, lunch for six, and a quart flask in your side pocket for bait.

You will require some initiatory practice, to get your hand in. This you can obtain by baiting with corn and practising on the poultry in the first farm yard you come to. It is very amusing. N. B.—Ascertain how many dogs the farmer keeps.

If you fall in with a good fisherman who is smaller than yourself, fish in partnership with him. You can divide to your own advantage afterwards. When you cast your line do so with considerable noise. It informs the fish where you are.

Bait often: a quart of bait ought not to last more than four hours. If, in that time, you have caught not fish, bait oftener. Fishing requires patience. N. B.—If your bait gives out before you have caught any, you can buy a string of fish from the nearest boy for twenty-five cents.

Go home by a different route from the one you went. Receive the congratulations of your friends with modesty—you can afford it. Give your fish to your landlady with an air of indifference. Attribute your dullness to looking at the water. Sell your fishing tackle and retire upon your laurels, with the consciousness that you have had the same experience, in fishing, as have had all your friends; have felt a thrill of pleasure run to your finger ends, when something nibbling at the hook a salmon trout pertends, and felt in turn the deep disgust a log-caught fish-hook sends; have bought your fish, and paid for them, and so your fishing ends.

Metis is a watering place on the Lower St. Lawrence, which, as yet, is little known. On account of its retirement, many would, no doubt, prefer it to such places as Cacouna and Murray Bay, when they have to be more fashionable than they are at home. It is situated on the south side of the St. Lawrence 90 miles below Cacouna. The water is of course much salter there than it is at the other places. The only settlement of English speaking persons between Riviere du Loup and Gaspe, a distance of fifty 300 miles, is at Metis. In the neighbourhood, the Metis river, which is of considerable size, falls over a precipice about 150 feet in height. Fish-eaters can at Metis gratify their appetites with fresh herring, mackerel, trout, salmon, halibut, cod and other kinds of the finny tribe. Strawberries and raspberries are to be had in their season in great abundance. The beach for bathing is one of the finest on the St. Lawrence. There are two large bays where boating can be enjoyed. Metis is favoured with the post and as many telegraph offices; public worship, according to the Protestant form, is conducted there every Sabbath. When the Intercolonial Railway is built there will be a station in the neighbourhood. The roads along the shore in the summer are excellent. The Tariff Hall will be open for visitors during the summer. There are several houses by the side of the river, which those who prefer keeping house can rent on very reasonable terms. During the months of July and August the 'Secret' and 'City of Quebec,' belonging to the Quebec and Gulf Ports Steamship Company, will call alternatively every week at Metis. A good boat will be in waiting to take passengers ashore. Further information may be had from the Secretary of the Steamship Company at Quebec.

Sum Natral History.

BED BUGS.

I never seen enybody yet but what dispised bed bugs. They are the meanest of all creawling, creeping, hopping, or biting things.

They cannot take a man by dalite, but sneak in after dark, and chaw him while he is fast asleep.

A musketo will fight you in broad dalite at short range, and give you a chance to knock in his sides—the flea is a game bug, and will make a dash at you even in Broadway, but the bed bug is a gartrotter, who waits till you strip, and then picks out a mellow place to eat you.

If I was in the habit of swearing, I wouden hesitate to cuss a bed bug right to his face.

Bed bugs are uncommon smart in a small way, one pair of 'em will stock a hair mattress in 2 weeks with bugs enuff to last a small family a whole year.

It don't dew enny good to pray when bed bugs are in season; the only way to get rid of them is to hile the bed in acqua fortis and then heave it away and buy a new one.

Bed bugs when they have grone aul they intend to, are about the size of a bluejay's eye, and have a brown complexion, and when they start out to germote are as a greese spot, but when they get thru garroting they are swelled up like a blister.

It takes them two days few git the swelling out of them.

If bed bugs have any destiny to fill, it must be their stomacks, but it seems to me that they must have been made by accident, just as skivers are, tew stick into sumbodd.

If they wuz go up for some wise purpose, they must have took the wrong road, for there kant be enny wisdom in chawing a man aul nite long, and raising a family besides to follow the same trade.

If there is sum wisdom in aul this, I hope the bed bugs will chaw them folks who kan see it, and leave me be, because I am one of the hereticks.

FLEAS.

The smallest animal of the brute creation, and the most pesky, is the Flea.

They are about the bign ness of an onion seed, and shine like a bran new shot.

They spring from low places, and can spring further and faster than any of the bug tribe.

They bite wus than the muskeetoes, for they bite on a run, one flea will go aul over a man's suburbs in 2 minuts, and leave him as freckled as the measle.

It is impossible to do anything with a flea on you except swear, and fleas ain't afraid of that; the only way is to quit business or aul kinds and hunt for the flea, and when you have found him he ain't there. This is one of the flea mysteries, the inkulty they have of being entirely lost just as you have found them.

I don't suppose there is ever killed, on an average, during enny one year, more than 16 fleas in the whole of the United States of America, unless there is a casualty of some kind—once in a while there is a dog gits drowned sudden, and then there may be a few fleas lost; but if the land is not far off, the odds are in favor of the fleas not being drowned.

They are about as hard to kill as a flax seed is, and if you don't mash them as fine as ground pepper, they will start biznes on a smaller kapital just as persevorous as ever.

There is lots of people who have never seen a flea, but I've seen them in kounties 1,000's, and it takes a pretty smart man to see one enny how; they don't stay long in a place.

If you ever kotch a flea, kill him befour you do enny thing else; for if you do put it off 2 minuts, it may be too late.

Menny a flea has passed away forever in less than 2 minuts.

A crew of superior oarsmen has been organized at Pittsburgh, Pa., for the purpose of polishing off the St. Johns, N.B., crew, who so beautifully corquered the Ward Biothers at Springfield, Mass., last summer. It is probable the course for the next match will be on the Hudson, near Poughkeepsie.

From the Madoc Mercury of June 5th, we learn that some progress is being made in mining, though several of the crushers are idle for want of rock. Farmers are asking enormous prices for their lands ($1,000 per acre), and prospectors get frightened. The Richardson mine is still in the grasp of the law.

Garibaldi's physicians say he will never again be able to leave his bed.
