Sporting Gossip.

The base-ball tournament commences in London on the 23rd, and lasts five days.

Ottawa regatta has been postponed till the 21st, owing to the Paris crew having promised to attend a regatta at Niagara on the 14th. Toronto regatta next Saturday. We are since informed that this is not a fact. No postponement is to occur.

The match between the St. Catharines horse, "Rattlesnake," and the Hamilton horse, "Maitland," came off at St. Catharines. The betting at the start was altogether in favor of "Rattlesnake," who was looked upon as the champion of the Canadian turf, but was beaten in three straight heats.

A few people complain that too much space is devoted to sporting news in the British Whig—larrikins, grinders [illegible] and the like. Doubtless these persons have lost all interest in sports, or never had any, and they are exceedingly malicious if they imagine that on their account others who do interest themselves are to be precluded from what is at times welcome information. A newspaper has a hundred different tastes to please. When an editor publishes masonic, marine or agricultural news, it is not to gratify himself, but to please special classes of his readers. Thus a newspaper is made up of so many departments, the sporting column not being the least of the number. Grumble on, gentlemen.

The Eclipse To-Day.

Our readers will doubtless take great interest in their observation of the unusual phenomenon of an almost total eclipse of the sun, which will take place this evening, and which will be visible throughout Canada and the United States. Preparations have been made by astronomers in all parts where the eclipse will be visible, in order that so favorable an opportunity for the promotion of the cause of their science may be fully improved. We trust the sky may be clear; as so fine an opportunity to observe this interesting and unusual phenomenon will not recur for several years.

Events like the eclipse to-day are frequently neglected, and sometimes pass almost unnoticed by persons who, if their attention had been awakened in time, would have taken the deepest interest in them. What is always most wonderful in them is, the remarkable way in which they fulfil the minutest prophecies concerning them. The phenomenon is indeed common enough, if it is simply to occur somewhere on the earth. But that it is very rare when confined to a particular place or country may be illustrated by the following facts. The celebrated astronomer, [illegible]ated in 1715 that up to that [illegible] total eclipse of the sun had occurred at London for a period of 875 years, and since that date none had occurred at that place. At Paris, during the eighteenth century, but one total eclipse of the sun was seen, that of 1724, and during the nineteenth century none has been, or will be seen.

By the valuable calculations of Prof. Dupuis, of the Kingston Observatory, published last [illegible] made by [illegible] ...ed with interest [illegible] ...gston Observatory. The [illegible] week, we are furnished [illegible] ...ting particulars.

[illegible] ...ne of central eclipse comes in [illegible] on the continent near Newbern, in South Carolina, thence it pursues a northwesterly course through Lexington, Ky., Springfield, Ill., Des Moines, Iowa, and upwards to Behring's Straits. At places situate on or near this line the eclipse will be total, its totality continuing for a space of about two and a half minutes; but at those as far from the line of central eclipse as Kingston is, it will be but partial, although large, upon the sun's southern limb.

The elements of the eclipse calculated for Kingston Observatory are as follows:

	h	m.
Local time of first contact	4	57
" " " last "	6	47
Moment of maximum phase	5	54

The magnitude of the eclipse at the time of its greatest obscuration, as seen here, will be 87.100ths of the surface of the sun.

Reader prepare your glass, and be on your post promptly.

HOW TO OBSERVE THE ECLIPSE AND PRESERVE YOUR EYES.—Take a large card with a small round hole in the centre, and hold it against the sun's rays, so that the shadow will fall on the floor, pavement, wall, or other dark and smooth surface. In the middle of the shadow there will be a true image of the sun, and the eclipse can be studied in its progress without straining the eyes, and without smutting face or hands with smoked glass. This simple process was suggested by the familiar circumstance, that the light stops in the shadows, during a solar eclipse, take the shape of the luminous portions of the sun's disc; and the perforated card has been used with perfect success. Somebody suggests that the next best way to view is in a pail or tub of water, placed out of the wind. One with a dark colored bottom is best. In this way the progress of the eclipse may be distinctly seen, without any unpleasant effect on the eyes.

Cricket.

THE ELEVEN VS. TWENTY-TWO.

The match between the crack eleven of the K. C. C. and twenty-two players from the balance of the Club membership, came off at the Cricket Ground on Thursday afternoon, and resulted in a hard-earned victory for the eleven. The attendance was not very large, and afforded another instance of the declining interest in the manly game. Though spectators are indifferent, the players are by no means lethargic. The bowling, batting and fielding of the eleven, under not very favorable circumstances, were really excellent, and displayed a readiness of action denoting careful practice. The loss of Messrs. Brown and Glassy will not be perceptible in the mass of young players now moving rapidly to the front rank. The composition of the twenty-two brought into play the full resources of the Club. Among the players were several really good cricketers, as some of the scores against the swift bowling of Burns, Draper and Hornby showed, but there were others who, though bona fide members, had not earned their intuition of the science of the game by persevering practice this season. The score, therefore, is not at all discreditable, and if the twenty-two were vanquished this time, their day will surely come. The most noticeable fault of the twenty-two was their fielding. Many runs might have been saved by an efficiency in this department. The twenty-two being short in bowling powers, were assisted by Mr. Agnew, from the eleven, making a good team with Master Sharp.

The following is the score. It will be seen that there is a singular absence of the great scores of Hornby and others. The twenty two went first to the bat, and the lateness of the opening confined the match to one innings:—

This last score was reached before J. Glidden was put out, and the eleven are entitled to the honor of winning by two wickets to spare. There is a probability of a "return" after the match comes off on Wednesday next between the Garrison and Kingston Clubs. Oswego cannot meet our players before the 21st or 26th of this month. By that time the holidays will be over, and it will be very questionable if a "team" can be sent over.

THE THISTLES.—The persistent violation of the Thistles act, calls for some action on the part of the proper official. Who is he? The City Engineer, perhaps.

☞ The Rev. [illegible], formerly of Wo[illegible], and [illegible] Lindsay, [illegible] has taken great interest in [illegible] the schools of his [illegible]tion. Lately we notice [illegible] sent [illegible] fine new school [illegible] the erection of a [illegible] building through his efforts, and [illegible] various other encouragements [illegible] to the cause of education. A new school is wanted in one of the townships, and Father Stafford has offered the trustees a complete set of Maps, Globes, and other apparatus.

THE PRISONER RICE.—This prisoner is now in gaol on further remand until Monday next, Mr. Creighton having received a telegram from a person at Toronto, reporting the loss of over $200 in money corresponding to that changed by Rice. Probably he is the man to whom Capt. Prince in his telegram referred.

FATHER MCMAHON.—The Intelligencer may be as rudely impertinent as it pleases, but its impertinence and rudeness do not lessen a fact. Father McMahon has not left Kingston, and is still at the Bishop's Palace.

COMING.—D. C. La Rue, the great showman, has engaged Ontario Hall for August 30th, and two following nights. Something good ahead.

POLICE COURT, Friday.—No prisoners to dispose of. Mary Kelley, of Rideau street, convicted of selling liquor without license, was fined $20 and costs. A case of wrongful delivery of goods, between Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Parson and a carter was brought up and amicably, arranged. Finis.

☞ Sir Henry Rawlinson, the antiquarian explorer, has just made the striking announcement that he has discovered the original records from which the Book of Genesis was composed, and illustrates his claim by details of an interesting character. He says:—

"The progress now reached in the collation and arrangement of the Ninevah inscribed fragments, made it beyond a doubt that they would be able to derive the whole of the history given in the Book of Genesis, from the time of Abraham, from the original documents; and it was not too much to expect that almost the same facts and descriptions would be found in the Babylonian documents as in the Bible. He hoped very soon to have ready a paper on the Garden of Eden, (Paradise,) in which he would show that that was the natural name of Babylon. The rivers bore the very same names and the Babylonian document gave an exact geographical account of the Garden of Eden. The flood and the tower of Babel would be found to be most amply illustrated in the Babylonian documents."

Biblical scholars will look for the further development of this discovery by this eminent oriental scholar and antiquarian with especial interest.

Father McMahon.

The Cornwall Freeholder takes objection to the release of Father McMahon, and the Belleville Intelligencer approves of the Freeholder's remarks. The one probably represents a Roman Catholic, and the other an Orange view, though it is quite probable that as Mr. Bowell, who owns and edits the Intelligencer, is in Europe, and the reputed conductor of the Freeholder does not always inspire its productions, neither of these gentlemen hold the views which may, in consequence, be attributed to them. The personal view of the question is of importance simply from the fact that both the gentlemen referred to hold seats in Parliament. Apart from the personal view the agreement of these two papers is, perhaps, the best possible evidence of the wisdom which dictated the course which Sir John Macdonald saw fit to recommend to the Governor-General. The one disapproves of the release because the Minister of Justice frankly confesses that there were 'no redeeming features' in Father McMahon's case; the other because it is admittedly a concession to the Roman Catholic body in Canada. Sir John Macdonald deserves equal credit for his frankness and his open confession. There were no 'redeeming features' in Father McMahon's case: he was tried and found guilty by an unprejudiced jury; and, were he alone to be considered, apart from the office which he held and the important body to which he belonged, it is a libel to presume that he would still be serving out his term in the Penitentiary. He was released simply and solely because his continued imprisonment would have been regarded by the Roman Catholic denomination—its chief relation included—as a slur upon the loyalty of that body—which is unquestioned—and injurious to the peace of the society. If the highest duty of government be the peace and welfare of the whole body politic, it will hardly be denied that the Minister of Justice acted wisely in recommending in favor of Father McMahon's release. As few will deny the premise, so there will be but few to reject the conclusion.—Leader.

Items of News.

There were 107 deaths last week in Montreal, against 139 the same period last year.

The old town of Niagara is rapidly improving. It is becoming a fashionable watering-place resort, and property is greatly increasing in value.

There is no truth in the report that Mr. E. M. McDonald, M.P. [illegible] ...ector of the Halifax Citizen, has been appointed Prison Inspector for the Province of Nova Scotia.

John H. Graham, a clothing merchant in the town of Paris, has absconded leaving his financial affairs in a very unsatisfactory state.

It is announced that Wm. B. Astor intends to complete the long neglected monument to the memory of Washington; at his own expense. We shall be glad if this millionaire has concluded thus to immortalize himself in history.

A despatch from Buffalo, says: There is great indignation to-day among forwarders, at the high rates of toll on the canal. The railways are carrying grain at so much below what the tolls will permit the boats to carry that the latter are compelled to abandon any competition for grain. A majority of the boats have been laid up.

The carelessness of those who use steam boilers is illustrated by the report of the Inspector of New York, for June. The whole number of boilers inspected was 583, and the whole number of defects discovered was 354 of which 21 were regarded as specially dangerous.

ASSUMPTION OF THE TELEGRAPH BY THE ENGLISH GOVERNMENT.—An act was passed during the last session of the English Parliament, authorizing the Postmaster-General to purchase the plant, &c., of the telegraph companies, and a bill has recently been introduced to place the requisite funds at the disposal of that officer. The cost of purchase is estimated at £8,750,000, and an additional million will be required for preliminary expenses. It is expected that a gross revenue of £674,000 will be received, of which £314,000 will be profit. From this, however, must be deducted, say £226,000, being the interest on the purchase of money at 3½ per cent, leaving an annual surplus of £78,000. The business of some of the companies is increasing rapidly, and if the Government should offer additional facilities, the business generally would, probably, be greatly developed. The Government propose to charge a uniform rate of a shilling for 20 words, and to make all post-office and pillar boxes deposit offices for telegrams. They will also double the number of telegraph offices, by providing one for every 6,000 of the population. It is also proposed to extend the hours during which the telegraph is opened to the public.

Advantageous as this may seem, it is coupled with what may be a drawback. The Government ask for a monopoly of all telegraphic communication. Now this would be, not simply the monopoly of a business, but of natural force, and to concede it would seem like giving a monopoly of the water or air. It would also remove the stimulus to improvement, connected with competition. It is, therefore, not unlikely that Parliament will hesitate to finally invest Government with this monopoly, though it seems to be perfectly willing to allow it to assume possession and management of the present lines, and such as it may hereafter construct.

POOR CARLOTTA.—A melancholy little incident is related of the ex-Empress Charlotte. The unfortunate Princess has been staying for some time at Spain. The other day she insisted with such vehemence on playing at roulette that it was impossible to restrain her. On approaching the table she deliberately placed a gold piece on the number 19. The Emperor Maximilian was shot on June 19. The wheel turned, and, though 37 chances were against her, she won. She smiled sadly, took up the money, and quietly left the room. On her way out a poor man passed by. She gave him all the money, with injunction that was to "pray for him." It is known that the Empress Charlotte never pronounces the name of Maximilian.

ARREST OF A SUPPOSED ROBBER.—On Saturday last, Detective Sheehan, of Toronto, arrived at Coburg on the look out or parties involved in the commission of the late burglary and larceny at Aurora, in which the safe of Mr. Doane was blown open, and $3,000 abstracted, as well as a lot of gloves and other property stolen from the store. On his arrival, he found that the male portion of the supposed guilty party had escaped; but that a woman, Emma Curtis, was at liberty—her whereabouts having been traced by means of the purchasing of tickets at Toronto. After his preliminary legal arrangements, she was arrested, and brought before the Mayor; but not being prepared with her evidence she was remanded to Coburg gaol until Friday. The hearing will therefore take place this day, at 10 o'clock. In her trunk were found a lot of ladies' kid gloves, answering to the description of those stolen, and $75 in paper, gold, and silver, as well as letters; the whole giving the appearance of complicity in the theft.—Coburg World.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption is inestimable.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

Strong Testimony.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniment of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

THE AGE OF RAILROADS AND THE TELEGRAPH.

Gives rise to fast living, and increases the desire for making rapid fortunes—some wishing to outstrip, and other to be at least equal to their neighbors. In order to keep up with this eager and unequal contest, the brain is taxed to its utmost power, while humanity is rendered an easy prey to disease. The heart, Liver, Stomach, Lungs or Nervous System becomes afflicted and sickness in the form of Heart disease, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, Consumption, Paralysis, or Mania, is the result. The use of FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP will enable the mind to sustain a greater strain unfettered by conflicting thoughts and unwearied by continued study. It imparts power of concentration. What before seemed difficult of solution becomes comparatively easy, and the body is physically stronger under its use.
