All the people know that the Prince arrived last evening, and that a report of the great doings should be forthcoming in this issue. But the truth is, the Printers, as well as every other class, went off yesterday afternoon to see the Prince, and as the round of festivity promised to be kept up all night, we worked our edition of this morning off in advance of his arrival. This will give our limited staff more time to work up a report for to-morrow more faithful and extended than we could possibly present it to-day.

The Public Holiday To-Day.

Uncertainty and doubt characterize all the features of the Reception from its first inception; and the last, and not least notable instance has been the arrangement of the Public Holiday. On Tuesday the Mayor issued his proclamation appointing, by authority, a holiday for Wednesday (yesterday) afternoon, though for what wise purpose was and is still undiscovered, except, perhaps, as a dispensation for the benefit of the Country Show. The Prince and party were not expected to reach the city until a late hour, certainly not before the regular hour of closing the offices and stores, so that a half holiday was unnecessary, except as a mark of respect to the distinguished visitors. The Reception Committee wisely took this view, and on Tuesday evening rescinded the Mayor's proclamation, and appointed THIS DAY A PUBLIC HOLIDAY. To-day the real pleasure of seeing the Prince in daylight and without ceremony, is to be enjoyed; and further, it is intended that the Prince shall be accompanied down the river by the citizens and their families on an Excursion. The demonstration to-day will only be second in interest to that of last night, and therefore we trust that the Mayor's proclamation will be universally respected.

Reception Committee.

RECEPTION TO DAY.

Another meeting of the General Reception Committee was held on Tuesday evening, when about twenty members were present. The telegram from Sir John A. Macdonald announcing that Prince Arthur had decided to remain over until 11 o'clock to-day, was read and gave great gratification to all present.

During the evening great anxiety had prevailed as to the hour of arrival of the Prince and party. It had generally been understood that the special train would reach Kingston shortly after five o'clock, but a copy of a telegram was received ordering lunch at Coburg at three o'clock, and this threw consternation into the camp. The Ball would be a fizzle, it was said, since the Prince, considering the delays at other places, could not possibly arrive until 9 o'clock, and the Reception would occupy two hours. Then dinner and preparations would bring the Prince's arrival at the Ball as late as one o'clock, the hour at which non dancers would wish most to retire. Telegrams were sent to Toronto to ascertain finally and definitely the proposed hour of arrival. While the meeting was in session telegrams were received (sensation) to the effect that the train would arrive at 5 p.m., no delays intervening to prevent it. This information relieved a mountain of anxiety.

A slight change was made in the route of procession the new holiday appointed as appears in another column, the Royal Excursion arranged, address to Lt.-Gov. Howland adopted, and the final arrangements for meeting to carry out the Reception. Then the Committee adjourned to meet at 4 p.m. yesterday to drive to the Grand Trunk Depot and receive the visitors.

Prince's Weather.

Yesterday proved the finest day of the season. From the late dismal and unsettled nature of the weather we had no reason to expect this. There was nought wanted but one thing to give complete eclat to the demonstration of yesterday, and that was good weather, and we held it in priceless style.

To-Day.

No definite programme has been announced for to-day, as a great deal depends on His Royal Highness' and Sir John Young's disposition. It is proposed, though, that the Prince shall visit the Kingston Penitentiary about nine o'clock, and after inspecting it drive over to Rockwood Asylum, and view that magnificent building also. At the Penitentiary an Arch has been erected, and at the Asylum an imposing display of bunting and loyalty is intended. After the return from the Asylum the Prince will lunch at his residence, and about noon embark on the steamer Magnet for Montreal. An immense crowd, it is anticipated, will see him off, and a royal salute will be fired from in front of the Market Battery. The steamers accompanying the Prince down the river will be crowded with citizens, determined to take a lingering farewell.

A Ringing Welcome.

Yesterday afternoon the City Bells called the Firemen together, to make preparations for the torch light procession, and at four o'clock the Reception Committee were gathered in in the same way, preparatory to proceeding to the Depot in a body to carry out the appointed ceremony. The Bells rang out a joyful welcome to the Prince and Governor General on their arrival.

THE EXCURSION TO-DAY.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Wm. Ford, jr., made a proposition at the meeting of the Reception Committee, which was received with great favor and evident pleasure. A great many persons, he argued, were desirous of paying respect and attention to the Prince, who could not afford the luxury of a Ball-room, and in proposing an Excursion down the river to accompany the Prince's steamer, he was meeting the want complained of. The project was at once enthusiastically taken up and placed in the management of the Executive Committee, who can, and do promise, a great Excursion.

The Str. Bay of Quinte has been engaged for the trip. She will accompany the Magnet as far as Gananoque. It is altogether likely that the Governor General, Lady Young, Lieut.-Governor Howland and Mrs. Howland will accompany the party. The tickets are fixed at a moderate price, and will be so managed that they are not secured by indifferent characters, or roughs. The R. C. Rifle Band will be secured if possible, and we can promise to those who attend, the grandest excursion of the season.

Address to the Lieut.-Governor.

On Tuesday evening the Reception Committee adopted the address to Lieut.-Gov. Howland, and a copy was yesterday forwarded to His Excellency, by C. F. Gildersleeve, Esq., and Dr. Dickson, the deputation appointed from the Reception Committee to meet the Royal party at Belleville and conduct them to Kingston. These gentlemen left by yesterday morning's train on their mission. The Lieut.-Governor has intimated that he will receive the address this afternoon, and the Mayor and Citizens' Committee will wait on him at an arranged hour.

A SPLENDID DISPLAY.—It did our own and other hearts good to see the splendid display of Fruit made yesterday by Mr. R. Town in his handsome new store in the Market Square. The fruit was intended for the supper table at last night's Ball. Nothing we have seen here of late could equal the size or luciousness of the pears, peaches and grapes, so temptingly displayed. The varieties of these and other fruits were really surprising for the season. Mr. Town has been at great trouble and expense in procuring this supply from the Canadian and American markets. It certainly, for quality, has not been surpassed here.

Coburg.

Yesterday His Royal Highness Prince Arthur, His Excellency the Governor General, and party, lunched yesterday afternoon at Coburg, where the delay was taken advantage of by the Mayor, to present addresses.

Belleville.

On the arrival of the Royal party at Belleville yesterday afternoon on the special train, they were met by the Mayor and Corporation with an unusual gathering of citizens, who greeted Prince Arthur with enthusiastic cheers. Platforms, small arches, and decorations had been erected at the station, and with the great crowd of people, presented a very handsome and an animating scene. In accordance with the Mayor's proclamation, all shops in the town had been closed, and merchants and clerks alike made holiday. A guard of honor was furnished in the 15th Volunteer Battalion, supported by three Rifle Companies, and a Volunteer Band.

The Mayor presented addresses to Prince Arthur and Sir John Young, to which appropriate replies were made. The demonstration was grand and enthusiastic, and must have been truly gratifying to the recipients, though the may have just emerged from an unprecedented ovation at Toronto.

Napanee.

Napanee, with true loyalty, detained the Prince's train long enough yesterday afternoon to present His Royal Highness and Sir John Young with addresses by the Mayor on behalf of the citizens. Another large crowd, and handsome decorations, greeted the Prince.

☞ It is probable Mr. Howe, President of the Council, will, on his return from the North-west, change his seat in the Cabinet, taking either the Commissionership of Public Works, or one of the offices of the Secretary of State.

☞ The city portrait gallery has been transferred from the City Hall to Ontario Hall, where it formed, last night, an interesting addition to the ornamentation of the room.

Great Display.

At an early hour yesterday, the streets began to assume their last Holiday appearance. Flags, Streamers, and decorations were everywhere displayed, which, with the bustling crowd in the streets, gave the city an air which it has not assumed, or even approached, since the visit of the Prince of Wales in 1860. But of this, more anon.

Frontenac County Show.

There was an exceedingly good Show at the Crystal Palace and its Grounds yesterday; both of Animals, Articles, Exhibitors and Visitors; one of the very best since the last Provincial Exhibition. The day was beautifully fine, and the large number of goodly dressed ladies made everything look very gay and pleasant. We have no time for particulars to-day, but shall, when we publish a list of the Premiums, make some remarks on matters for which we can to-day find no space.

Board of Trade.

The Quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Mayor's Chambers City Buildings, on Tuesday evening at half-past seven o'clock. The attendance was large and respectable. The President, Henry Cunningham, Esq., in the chair, and Messrs. John Carruthers, John Fraser, W. B. Simpson, H. C. Voigt, Isaac Simpson, Wm. Ford, Jr., R. M. Ford, G. S. Hobart, A. Chown, M. Morrison, R. M. Rose, W. R. McKee, G. W. Andrews, J. Greenfield and W. P. Lacey. Dr. Neish and Mr. J. R. Bawden were present as a Deputation on behalf of the projected New Railway to Madoc.

The minutes of the previous meeting and of three meetings of the Council were read and approved.

Mr. Hobart moved, seconded by Mr. Voigt, that Mr. R. M. Ford be elected a member of the Board.—Carried unanimously.

The Secretary read a communication from Mr. H. L. Davis, enclosing a copy of the call for a Convention to be held at Oswego on the 6th of Oct., 1869, for the purpose of taking measures to secure the construction of a line of Railway by the most direct route from Chicago to Portland, by the way of Detroit, Buffalo, Oswego, Rutland, Woodstock, Bristol and the Ossipee Valley. An answer was requested on or before the 20th of September, a date prior to the reception of the communication. The Secretary was directed to acknowledge the receipt, and state that owing to the late period at which it had been received, it was impossible to attend it.

Communications were then read from Messrs. Henry Low, Robert Clapp (American Consul) and James Fairfield, applying for the appointment of Assignee at Picton, for the Estate of Price Edwards. A letter was also read from Mr. N. Beckus, the present assignee at that place, referring to the same subject.

Mr. Rose moved, seconded by Mr. Andrews, to proceed with the election, the vote to be taken by ballot.

Mr. Fraser moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. A. Chown, that the vote be taken in the usual way. The amendment was carried.

The requisitions were signed by the business men of Picton. After a lengthened discussion, Mr. Voigt moved, seconded by Mr. McRae, moved Mr. Low's appointment, and Mr. Rose moved, seconded by Mr. Fraser, moved Mr. Fairfield's appointment. Upon the vote being taken, Mr. Low was declared elected, and a supplementary resolution was passed fixing his security at $2,000 to be given by two persons qualified in $1,000 each.

The Secretary read a requisition to A. F. Wood, Esq., Warden of Hastings, signed by a number of gentlemen of Madoc and vicinity, requesting him to call a public meeting for the purpose of taking into consideration the landing of a cheap railway from Madoc to either Kingston, Belleville or Cobourg; and his reply calling a meeting at Madoc on the 20th inst. Dr. Neish, and Mr. J. R. Bawden, who were present, addressed the Board at some length, in favor of a scheme for opening up the back country, the benefits of which, to the city, were elaborately pointed out by both gentlemen. An interesting discussion followed, in which a strong desire was expressed for the success of the undertaking. Ultimately on motion of Mr. Voigt, seconded by Mr. Chown, it was resolved that the President and Mr. Bawden be appointed a deputation to attend the meeting at Madoc.

A vote of thanks was then passed to Dr. Neish and Mr. Bawden, for the kindness in attending the Board, and the valuable information they had communicated.

Mr. W. B. Simpson brought under the notice of the Board the great delay which frequently takes place in the transhipment of grain at this port, in order that a remedy might be provided.

Mr. Carruthers explained that the delay was exceptional, and might not arise again for a number of years. The Board soon after adjourned.

SCHOOL BOARD.—The Common School Board was to have met on Tuesday evening but the Reception occupied to much attention, that the meeting was dispensed with.

LACROSSE.—The return match between the Butchers and Pittsburgh Lacrosse clubs will take place Thursday afternoon, on Richardson's Common, at 2 o'clock.

LONG POINT.—Anyone who has sailed along the South shore of Lake Erie, will remember that some twenty miles south of Port Dover a long stretch of low sandy soil partly covered with stunted trees and underbrush, comes in view. This is Long Point, and among the swamps and rushes which bound on its banks, game of all kind is found in the utmost profusion. Every day in season for duck shooting, numbers of sportsmen in small punts may be seen darting about in all directions among the little islands of sedge, or among the narrow creeks which winding away towards the centre of the peninsula, afford a splendid retreat for wild ducks. Some years since a company was formed, composed chiefly of Hamilton merchants, who purchased Long Point, erected a shooting box upon it, and employed a trustworthy person to look after the preservation of the game. Here it was that on Tuesday last Prince Arthur arrived for the purpose of enjoying a day or two's experience of hunting life in Canada.

To the Weak, the Worn, and the Weary, the Editor of the Boston Recorder says, "We can most unhesitatingly recommend the Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of iron, to all the weak, the worn, and the weary, having richly experienced its benefits. It possesses all the qualities claimed for it by its proprietor.

ENTERTAINMENT TO-NIGHT.—The renowned and world-famed English Gymnasts, the Watson Brothers, with a first-class variety troupe, appear in the Ontario Hall this and to-morrow evening. The press in the Western part of Ontario speaks in the highest terms of them. The Hamilton Spectator says:—"They are the very best troupe ever in this city. Their Gymnastic performances cannot be equalled; their three flying men is the most daring act ever performed, and as for the numerous feats words cannot express its greatness; go and see for yourselves it is our advice. Their music performances are also of the best, while the clog dance of little Mach, and the beautiful singing of Miss Sophie West, are unsurpassable, in fact the whole entertainment is first class." We wish them a full house to-night. See advertisements.

☞ The death of the Hon. and Right Rev. Dr. Waldegrave, Bishop of Carlisle, is announced. He has been ill for some time, and of late little hope was entertained of his recovery. This is the third of fourth Prelate who has been removed from the Bench of Bishops since the accession to power of Mr. Gladstone. These unusually numerous deaths in the episcopacy has caused a feeling of surprise and almost of consternation in England. Dr. Waldegrave was comparatively a young man, and was justly regarded as an ornament to the Church.

☞ Mr. Rose has issued his farewell address to the electors of Huntingdon. He resigns his seat, and will be succeeded by Mr. Julius Scriver, M.P.P.

☞ Hopeful won the Coburg Steeple Chase, beating Fotheringay by a neck; Ailsa was a bad third.

THE LATE ACCIDENT.—Mr. Holt, who fell into the quarries on the Montreal road a few days ago, still lies in a very bad state. He received two cuts in the head, and several bruises about the body. Dr. Strange is attending him, but as he is unable to speak, the precise extent of his injuries is not known.

Incidents at Toronto.

The Toronto papers get of the following incidents of the Prince's visit:—

A woman named Mrs. Reid, resident on Mutual street, who was in the crowd on Yonge street, was thrown down and trampled on in the rush, and suffered dislocation of the shoulder, besides being badly bruised. A small boy also had one of his ribs broken from the same cause.

Just as the Prince alighted from the railway car, a lost block, who had worked his way into the station by some unknown means, stepped up to his Royal Highness and said, 'Black yer boots, sir?' Make 'em shine for ten cents.'

An enthusiastic lady on Yonge street remarked very opportunely, 'How I would like to kiss him for his mother's sake.' To which a gentleman replied, perhaps you would do it for himself if you had a good chance.' The lady frowned and made some remark about brutes.'

A large Loquet thrown by a lady from the upper story of one of the stores on King street, fell directly on his Royal Highness' knees.—The Prince picked up the beautiful offering, and raising his hat bowed gratefully to the lady who had thrown it.

As the carriage of the Prince stopped at the stand where the children were placed, an enthusiastic individual rushed up with outstretched hand and said—'God bless you my boy—for your mother's sake you are one thousand times welcome.' The Prince smiled, took the outstretched hand in his and shook it warmly.

Shortly afterwards, as his Royal Highness was leaning over the side of the carriage, a flower happened to fall from his bouquet into the street. Instantly a tremendous scramble for its possession took place among the bystanders, which resulted in its being torn to pieces. Several of those who were fortunate enough to obtain fragments of the coveted memento bore them off in triumph, and will undoubted preserve them carefully.

Good for Sir Geo. Cartier.

The Toronto papers are indignant that Sir Geo. E. Cartier, Minister of Militia, did not feel himself warranted in authorizing the large outlay which a general review of the Volunteers at Toronto would have occasioned. But it is questionable if the rest of the country will not think that he has pursued precisely the correct course. Twenty-five thousand dollars would have been the least possible expense that would have been incurred in concentrating the men for review. Such a sum of money is no trifle to be spent for the special gratification of the Toronto people. As to the Prince, every honor has been done him, an honor which could not be increased by diverting $25,000 from some useful purpose and spending it in a needless military parade. We think all the more of Sir Geo. Cartier for stepping in to prevent a waste of the public funds, which was not desired by the Prince, and only asked for by the Toronto people for their own gratification. The Globe, selfish as usual, censures the authorities for not bringing on their volunteers, and d—— the expense.—London Free Press.

From the Pacific to the Atlantic.

The all-rail route between the two Oceans has now been perfected by the completion of the Western Pacific Railroad link between Sacramento and San Francisco. Hitherto the journey has been made between these two places by water. The inconveniences of transfer which have been suffered at Sacramento are now at an end, and freight and passengers can go between the two Oceans without transfer from the Main Railway system.

This is the consummation of the great idea of inter-ocean communication by Railroad which was conceived before the American war between the South and North began, and which in spite of the turmoil and chaos of the war period, was proceeded with during the four years of civil slaughter. It threatens seriously to affect the trade of Europe, and especially the Anglo-Indian commerce to which its means will afford a direct occidental route.
