UNITED STATES MAILS.—Very general complaint is made of the unsatisfactory service of the United States mails. The Oswego mail does not come to hand with any approach to regularity, and very often the regular newspapers are missed altogether. The mails for the States leave Kingston only once a day, at 2:30 p.m., and instead of reaching Rome the same night are obliged to be locked up at Cape Vincent over night, and forwarded on the next morning, thereby losing twelve hours in transit. The evil is not one without a remedy. By forwarding the mails by the 11:30 a.m. boat to the Island and sending them thence across to the Cape to catch the afternoon train, all the connections can be carried out the same night.

— Since the above was written, the Post Office authorities have made new arrangements for the public convenience. See advt.

FIRE.—A second alarm of fire was sounded on Sunday morning about nine o'clock, but ending as before in smoke. The chimney of Mr. Thompson's house, King street, next door to the Express office caught fire, and threatened to communicate with the building, but was fortunately got out in good season to prevent that calamity.

FATHER MCMAHON.—The St. John News speaks correctly when it says that immediately after his release, Father McMahon publicly announced that he would spend a few weeks of seclusion in the residence of the Bishop of Kingston, and then retire to devote himself to the ministration proper to his priestly character. Instead of that, the News was surprised to learn that he had turned up in the Eastern States, in the well-worn and oft-dyed garb of the Irish martyr. It is thus that he first appeared before a Philadelphia audience, and more recently at a New York meeting.

ST. THOMAS MISSION.—A meeting of the St. Thomas Church Brotherhood for young men will (D.V.) take place at St. Thomas Mission School House on Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. An essay on Church Mission will be read by Mr John Purnell, and a select reading by the Secretary. Objects of this Society, the promotion of Church work, study and temperance. Young men invited to join.

POLICE COURT, Monday.—Richard Hutchinson, Charles Shaver, Pat McCutcheon, Mike Doyle and Sultan Halloran, five young lads, were charged with stealing almonds and nutmegs from the store-house of Messrs. Swift & Co., on Saturday morning last. The bags containing the nuts were cut open by young Hutchinson, and the others do not appear to have been at all backward in availing themselves of the opportunity to "dig in." Mr Swift did not wish to press the charge, and after administering a severe reprimand, the Magistrate allowed the culprits to depart.

Lorrible affair.

DREADFUL BUTCHERY IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Huntington, Nov. 18

With the exception of Probst's butchery of the Dorling family at Philadelphia a couple of years ago, the most horrifying slaughter that has ever occurred in Pennsylvania was committed last night in the small village of Pleasant Grove, but a short distance from this place. Just after dark, and between the hours of six and seven o'clock, the family of Mr. John Peightals was entered by two fiends in human shape, who while the family, consisting of Mr. Peightals, his wife, and a boy about twelve years of age, named Gardiner, were eating their supper, split Peightals through the head, killing him instantly. The boy Gardiner was despatched in the same way, and then they split the wife's head open with an axe.

The first intimation of the awful slaughter was the discovery of the house being on fire. On repairing to the scene the appalling spectacle met the gaze of the few neighbours who assembled. There lay the mangled dead bodies of the victims, covered with blood, the wall besmeared from floor to ceiling, and the brains of the victims oozing from their wounds. The murderers, after perpetrating the horrible crime, covered the dead bodies with bedclothes, and then set fire to the house, to hide the deed.

The statement attending the discovery was most intense. Suspicion at once leveled on two men who had been seen loitering about the neighborhood for some time past. It was learned that they took the night train from this place for the West. Deputies were at once sent to the station agents and police all along the Pennsylvania road, and when the train arrived at Altoona the suspected assassins were arrested and brought back to this place this morning. Their names are Sadderberg and Benner. On their person was found $300 of the plunder which prompted the terrible massacre. Benner has made a partial confession, and aside from this there is unmistakable evidence of their guilt.
