Books are still popular at library

Oakville Public Library

Summer Reading is now in full swing, and by the looks of it, reading is alive and well amongst the kids in Oakville.

As of this week, there have been about 3,000 sign-ups and 1,000 returning participants, and the numbers continue to grow.

Books are by far the most popular format in which children are doing their reading, with DVDs, magazines and audiobooks following far behind.

If you're looking for some recommendations on which books to read next, the top five reported items are Diary of a Wimpy Kid by Jeff Kinney, And Then It Happened by M. Wade, Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows by J.K. Rowling, Dork Diaries by Rachel Renee Russell and Pink Around the Rink by Victoria Kann.

New this year at the library, we have weekly drop-ins that allow children to further immerse themselves in the Summer Reading 'Splash' theme. They involve games, a craft, and for the older kids, an interactive book talk. A weekly handout sheet includes word searches, puzzles, mazes and jokes. Drop-ins have been popular with both children and parents, and give children the ability to participate in themed programs that facilitate reading and learning.

The upcoming weekly themes are:

- Sea Monster Madness: July 25-29
- Exploring the Seven Seas: Aug. 2-5

• Sailors Wanted, Learn the Ropes: Aug. 8-12

• Something's Fishy: Aug. 15-19

• Splash Blast: Aug. 22-26

Drop-ins will run weekly at each branch (except for Clearview Neighborhood Branch) until the end of August, from 2-3:30 p.m. To check the day of the week that holds the drop-in programs at your local branch, and to see a list of dates for the Clearview drop-in programs, please see page 24 of the @ your library Summer 2011 guide. This guide is available in print at all branches, as well as online at www.opl.on.ca/guide/

As always, a special thank you to all our sponsors:

African Lion Safari, Conservation Halton, Friends of the Oakville Public Library, McDonald's Restaurant in Oakville and YMCA of Oakville.
