ment. In this writing I may be liable to the charge of egotism. There is a time for all things. Now it would be criminal for me to be silent. If it is a last effort I will not shame my friends by my silence nor give my enemies an opportunity to rejoice at the successful result of the dastardly blow dealt me when my back was turned, in the absence of three members of the Board who would have crushed this report, without notice, and without cause. Theirs is a malignant satisfaction. Let them exult. It answers the purpose of this Committee to taunt me with a Roman Catholic bias. If to be just and fear not is such a bias, then I plead guilty. But if it means anything degrading to the spirit and principle of an honorable man, then I fling the calumny in their teeth and brand the aspersion as it deserves, as false and unmalignantly wicked. If I have the good will and kindly feeling of my Roman Catholic fellow-citizens is that to me to be a crime? If they support me because of their belief in my ability, rectitude and honor, am I to forfeit the confidence of my fellow Protestants? Is that to form the base of operations whence to sap and mine my position—destroy my prosperity and peace of mind, injure my family, blast my reputation, and in the emphatic language of the Rev. Mr. Burns to cast a stigma upon me for life? But I have yet to learn that the action of this accidental majority will be sustained by this people, especially in the face of the indignant and comprehensive protest of the gentlemen who dissented from this action.

If then, I so stand in the estimation of the people of this city, how do I stand in the United Counties? Some four years ago I was elected Secretary to the County Board of Public Instruction—have retained the office and the good will of its members to the present time. I may say without fear of contradiction that I have the warm personal friendship of every Township Superintendent in these Counties, and very many of the Grammar School Trustees. Again I have assisted in the examination of from 300 to 400 teachers every year, making something like from 1200 to 1600 examinations. Although my duties have sometimes been anything but pleasant, what is my position with the teachers of these Counties? I was elected, and still retain the office of President of the Teachers Institute. This was an honor which deeply affected me at the time, and is still remembered by me with feelings of pride. To be the official head of such an intellectual body is an honor of which any man, however exalted his position, might be proud, much more then is the honor great to one in my humble position—Without wealth, without powerful connections, without any adventitious aids, I have been thus elevated.

Such being my position it is deeply painful and galling to my feelings to have such a man as Bibby who can scarcely read and who cannot write—such a man as Acheson—whose intelligence is only sufficient to procure for himself a messenership in the Railway department, and such a man as Flanigan, comment upon whom is superfluous, a waste of words, to sit in judgment upon my conduct, to examine an intricate and elaborate public document. All these combined have not intelligence sufficient to understand such a report—much less to comment upon its correctness. This is plain and severe language. I have been treated harshly, rudely, without consideration—gentlemanly forbearance would be to them without point.

For the present I have done; in conclusion I beg distinctly to state that I will exercise the office of Superintendent of the City Schools until Jan. next, unless instructed to the contrary by the Chairman of the Board. And that at or before that time I will make personal appeals to you gentlemen, in your Wards to sustain me. If against me, then I wish it to be distinctly and unequivocally recorded at the Polls. To your decision I will bow without a murmur.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obd't serv't,
R. S. HENDERSON,
City Sup't C. Schools

June 6, 1855.

On the state of Italy, the Journal des Debats has the following, which is said to be confirmed by private letters:—"The revolutionary spirit is aroused. An unusual agitation has been observed in several important cities, which coincides with the appearance of the agents of secret societies. Some of these agents have been arrested, papers of consequence been seized, and the proofs of a vast conspiracy been found, the object of which was an insurrection in the Central States. Enough is known to show that danger exists, but not sufficient to prevent it."

THE GREAT AMERICAN HAIR TONIC.
Bogle's Celebrated Hyperion Fluid,

For the Growth and Preservation of the Hair, is well known to be without a rival on this Continent—Hundreds of imitations have started into an ephemeral existence since the introduction of this unrivalled Hair Restorative, and their doom been sealed, whilst Bogle's Hyperion Fluid, with a popularity never attained by any other article, goes on "conquering and to conquer." There is no malady that can effect the hair but can be cured by this incomparable preparation. To ladies it is invaluable, and on children's heads it lays the foundation of a good head of hair. It is now patronised by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, and commands an extensive sale throughout Europe.

BOGLE'S AMERICAN ELECTRIC HAIR DYE, Converts RED or GREY HAIR into a beautiful Black or Brown, the moment it is applied, literally dyeing the hair without staining the skin, and leaves the hair soft and glossy, without injuring its texture in the least—a decided superiority over all other Hair Dyes.

Bogle's Amole Shaving Compound
