Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Fire Proof Roofing

THE BEST FIRE PROOF ROOFING ever introduced is said to be that of Mica, Soapstone and Plumbago, combined with other ingredients, which has been patented by the Brockville Mica and Plumbago Company, and which is now introduced into almost every city and town in this Province.

It is warranted to be perfectly proof against fire and also against frost as far as it has been tested during the last two years.

All parties wishing to get a good Fire Proof Roof are invited to my Foundry, corner of Union and Ontario Streets, in this city, where they can see for themselves the ravages made by fire close to my Moulding Shop, while strange to say, it came off comparatively unhurt from the flames.

SATURDAY EVEN'G, FEB. 6, 1875.

IRELAND.

Here is a German ballad on the alleged sufferings of Ireland, translated by Mary Howitt. Ferdinand Freiligrath is not inspired serviceably by the beauties of the German Fatherland as by the sorrow of Erin! As a specimen of poetry alone we give it:—

The boat swings to a rusty chain;
The sail, the oar, of use no longer!
The fisher's boy died yester even,
And now the father falls with hunger.
Pale Ireland stands Landlord's wish,
It gives him costly food and raiment;
A tattered garb, an empty dish,
These are the fisher's only payment.

A pastoral sound is on the wind,
With kine the roads are thronged—oh pity!
A ragged peasant crawls behind,
And drives them to a seaport city.
Pale Ireland's herds the landlord claims—
The food which Paddy's soul doth nourish—
That would nerve his children's frames,
The landlord's export trade requireth.

To him the cattle are a fount
Of joy and luxury never scanty,
And each horned head augments the amount
Which swells for him the horn of plenty.
In Paris and in London town
His gold makes gambling table glitter,
The while his Irish poor lie down
And die, like flies in winter bitter.

Hallo! hallo! the chase is up!
Paddy, rushed in—he's not a dreamer—
In vain! for thee there is no hope,
The game goes with the earliest steamer;
For Ireland's game is landlord's games,
The landlord is a large encroacher—
God speed the peasant's righteous claim;
He is too feeble for a poacher!

The landlord cares for ox and hound,
Their worth a peasant's worth surpasses!
Instead of draining marshy ground—
Old Ireland's wild and drear morasses—
He leaves the land a boggy fen,
With sedge and useless moss grown over;
He leaves it for the water hen,
The rabbit, and the screaming plover.

Yes, 'neath the curse of heaven! of waste,
And wilderness, four million acres!
To your corrupt, outworn, debased,
No wakening peals prove slumber breakers.
Oh, Irish land! land! land!
And, therefore, by the wayside shivery
The famished mothers weeping stand,
And beg for means their babies to bury.

A wailing cry sweeps like a blast
The length and breadth of Ireland throughout
The west wind which my casement passed
Brought to my mind that wail of sorrow.
Faint as the dying man's last sigh,
Came o'er the waves my heart strings searing
The cry of woe, the hunger cry
The death cry of poor weeping Erin.

Erin! she kneels in stricken grief,
Pale, agonizing, with wild hair flying,
And strews the Shamrock's withered leaf,
Upon her children, dead and dying.
She kneels beside the sea, the streams,
And by her ancient hill's foundations—
Her, more than Byron's Rome, beseems
The title "Niobe of Nations."

Indispensible.—There are some simple remedies indispensible in every family. Among these the experience of years assures us, should be recorded Perry Davis' Pain Killer. For both internal and external application, we have found it of great value; especially can we recommend it for colds, rheumatism, or fresh wounds and bruises.—Christian Era.

An Exciting Day in Paris,

The first of January, 1875, was a day which Paris will long remember. It never had a like experience, and according to all descriptions no other day ever had. Enough rain had fallen during the day to thoroughly melt or wash away the snow. About dusk it commenced to freeze. New Year was a gay day for Paris and theatres, all places of amusements and private houses were filled with Parisian society. But returning home the most brilliant mademoiselle and the raggedest beggar were all on a level in this world. The streets and sidewalks were literally glass. Every one sat down the moment he or she placed the foot upon step or sidewalk.

Before the Vauderville more than a score of men, women, and children went down pellmell, and slid together into the gutter. The efforts to rise were like those of an inexperienced skater. Finding it impossible to walk, or even to stand, crowd many sat down upon the ice, and either wrapped handkerchiefs and foulard about their shoes, or took off their stockings to put them on the outside. The police did all in their power to aid the people, but they were slipping about like the rest, and frequently went down heavily beside those they were helping to rise. These brave fellows finally took off their boots, and, with bare feet walked about for more than an hour, until all leaving the theatre were safely deposited in the middle of the street.

Before 11 o'clock broken-down cabs, carriages and vehicles which it was found impossible to draw over the glare of ice, and horses which had broken their legs by falls, blocked up the way between the Arc de Triomphe and the Place de la Concorde. Coachman tore up their blankets, and wrapped them about the horses' feet, in order to get them safely home. Pedestrians put their stockings over their boots, and with many narrow escapes managed to slowly propel themselves. Well by ladies, entirely powerless to move, remained in their carriages over night, or spent the night in the police stations, wrapped up in the big coats of the gensdarmes. Anywhere from thirty to fifty francs was the price paid for any kind of conveyance for any distance. Neither were the cabmen and omnibus the only individuals who took advantage of the necessities of Paris on that night. One shop-keeper stationed himself in a theatre with a supply of woollen stockings and sold out all at any price he pleased to ask. Another man, a blacksmith, stationed himself at a corner of the street, and drove a few nails through the horses' shoes, enough to give them a slight hold upon the ice; and the coachmen who sacrificed their blankets to make stockings for their horses, gained enough to buy several new blankets, and saved their horses and cabs from accident.

The next morning the ice had thawed sufficiently so that the detained ones could pursue their way; and the result of that night in broken limbs seems never before to have had a parallel. One hospital had 217 cases of broken limbs during the night and day. Three hundred and fifty horses are reported to have been killed after having their legs broken, and more than fifteen hundred accidents to persons are reported. The great havoc made in the ranks of horses is accounted for by the fact that they are never sharp shod in France, as the asphalt pavements would thereby be destroyed by their shoes.

Chinese Politeness.

Rules of politeness are all regulated at Pekin by the tribunal of rites. In case you wish to pay a visit to a mandarin, the proper thing to do is to send in your card, on a small piece of red paper, on which is your name, followed by a polite sentence, as this: "The tender and sincere friend of your doctrine, thus presents himself to pay his respects and to bow before you to the earth." If the mandarin is willing to receive you he asks you to pass before him. You are expected to make the humble reply, "I dare not;" and, after an infinity of gestures, which are all arranged, and obligatory phrases, the master of the house bows to a chair, and slightly dusts it with the corner of his robe, upon which you are at length seated. The difficulties are much increased when ten or a dozen mandarins call upon an Englishman at once, and, according to the custom tea is offered, beginning at one of the highest rank. He pretends to offer to the next, then to the third, and so on to the last, all having politely refused, he pretends himself to drink it. The second, in his turn, has to offer the cup to the others, and thus the farce proceeds, until all have gone through the wearisome task.

Thousands have been changed by the use of the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of Iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific.

Hemorrhoids (or Piles) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per Pot, or 6 Pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chem. Company, Montreal and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 138 Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

Consumption, so prevalent and fatal in Canada as the great scourge of our race, and yet in the formative stages, all pulmonary complaints may be readily controlled by using "Bryant's Pulmonic Wafers." They will relieve the worst cough in a few minutes, and have a most beneficial influence on the bronchial and pulmonary tissues—but they must be used in time. Public speakers and singers will also derive great benefit by using them. Sold by all medicine dealers and country stores, at 25c per box.

Lyon's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the famous fruit flavors now in the market. They are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need be used.

Prostration, resulting from the effects of the intense heat of the summer months is one of the most prevailing causes of so many of the diseases peculiar to hot weather. The stomach partakes of the loss of vitality pervading the whole system, and is unable to promote the digestion; the food passing through is solven through the bowels, and then follows the long menu range of Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, and when prevailing, Cholera may be expected. Attention to diet, moderate exercise, bathing, and regular habits must be observed. To maintain the vital forces and prevent lassitude and exhaustion, Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya is unquestionably reliable, as it invigorates the digestive organs, and supplies material for generating nerve force.

Letter from Rev J. Salmon, M.D.—Chipman Queen's County, N.B. Mr Jas. I. Fellow—Sir In the practice of medicine I have recommended your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and have invariably the following results: Greater freedom in the action of the Lungs, increased and more easy expectoration in cases indicated by dry cough, and decided augmentation of tone to the whole nervous system. I can safely and consistently recommend your invaluable preparation in a variety of cases, especially for chest diseases, having successfully prescribed it in Bronchitis, Asthma, Debility from liver complaint, Debility from impoverished blood. I am, sir, yours truly, JAMES SALMON, Practicing Physician and Surgeon.

Owners of Horses Rejoicing.—And why not? And who knows but what their horses are rejoicing as well; who can prove the contrary? But their owners rejoice because of the astonishing and almost miraculous effects on their horses of 'Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy.' Some were lean and poor having no appetite; other would devour their food ravenously, yet derive no benefit from it; some were hide-bound, with rough and shaggy hair; others had severe colds and coughs; many had the heaves and other complaints peculiar to horses; on all operated like a charm, the disease or complaint was speedily removed, the appetite and digestive organs corrected, the skin softened, and a sleek and shining appearance given to the coat. All without any danger or preventing the horse being used. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hord & Co is on each package.—Northrop & Lyman, Toronto Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

ELECTRICITY

Thomas' Eclectric Oil.—Is Ten Times its Weight in Gold.—"Life cannot Stay where it is used."

It is the cheapest medicine ever made—one bottle does cure common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing Cough. It positively cures Catarrh, Asthma and Croup. Fifty cents worth has cured Crick in the back and the same quantity Lame back of eighty years standing. The following are extracts from the few of the many letters that have been received from the different parts of Canada which we think should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical. J. Collard, of Sparta, Ontario, writes: Send me 6 doz of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, have sold all I had from you and want more now, its cures are truly wonderful." Wm Maguire of Franklin, writes: "I have sold all the agent left, it acts like a charm, it was slow first but takes splendidly now." M. Cole of Iona writes: "Please forward 6 doz. Thomas Eclectric Oil. I am near out; nothing equals it. It is highly recommended by those who have used." J. Bedford Thamesville, writes: "send at once a further supply of Eclectric Oil. I have only one bottle left. I never saw any thing to sell so well and give such satisfaction." J. Thompson Woodford, writes: "Send me some more Eclectric Oil. I have entirely sold out. Nothing takes like it." Miller and Rye, Cliverton P.O., writes: "The Eclectric Oil is getting a great reputation here and is daily called for, send us a further supply without delay—Leymone, Gibb & Co., Buckingham, P.Q., writes: "send us one gross Eclectric Oil—we find it to take well."

PAIN-KILLER!

After thirty five years' trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Physicians of the first respectability recommend it as a most effectual preparation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for bruises, cuts, burns, &c., but for dysentery, or cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint, it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency and rapidity of action. In the great cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for such complaints, as well as for dyspepsia, liver complaint, and all kindred disorders. For coughs and colds, rheumatism, and rheumatic difficulties it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be be an invaluable medicine. It is used internally and externally.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle. PERRY DAVIS & SON, Agents. Sole Proprietors.
