How to Live, Love and Laugh a Lot

Bette Davis said it best – "Aging Isn't For Sissies." In this complimentary Delmanor LivingWell lecture for seniors, Judy Suke shows you how to use laughter to face life on life's terms. Seriously, you'll have a laugh as you learn the key tools to living in the present, controlling negative thoughts, reducing stress and sticking up for yourself!

You'll be in good hands: Judy Suke is a Motivational Humorist, College Professor, Coach and author. Her humour has helped make her Mississauga Woman of the Year and Pinnacle Business Woman of Distinction. Join us as you learn to use laughter to help heal the body, soothe the soul, lift the spirits and give you energy. We think Mark Twain had it right: "he who laughs, lasts."

Admission is free but seating is limited. Refreshments served. Please RSVP early. Missing out is no laughing matter.

Should you be unable to attend, contact us for other times and locations.

Volunteer for Pink Ribbon Days

With October being Breast Cancer awareness month, the Canadian Cancer Society Halton Unit urgently needs volunteers for the annual Pink Ribbon Days campaign running from Thursday, Sept. 29 until Sunday, Oct. 2.

Volunteers are needed to help sell pink ribbons and Thingamaboobs at various retail locations in Oakville. Shifts are two and three hours in length and are worked in teams of 2 volunteers. This is a great opportunity for students to earn community hours while supporting a great cause, clubs, teams and church groups.

To volunteer or for more information, contact Sandy McDonald at 905-845-5231, ext. 3163 or e-mail smcdonald@ontario.cancer.ca.
