CITY AND VICINITY.

THE Curling Rink is in good ordert again; best ice of the season.

THE English mails per Polynesian were received here this morning.

BEHIND HAND.—Notwithstanding tha some of the merchants are making tempting displays of garden seeds, for some time past, we haven't seen any one setting out tomato or cabbage plants.

DEMISE.—Mrs. Elliot, of Pakenham, mother of the Rev. G. Elliot, of this city, President of the Montreal Conference, is dead, and the Revd. gentleman receives the condolences of many friends.

NEW FIRM.—The long standing firm of M. & J. Donoghue has been dissolved, and the business now be carried on by Donoghue & Grimshaw, who, we feel sure, will continue its good name.

MONEY is being spent every summer in dredging Kingston harbor, and time is spent every winter in carting loads of rubbish out on the ice near shoal tower to help to fill up the water near the ferry landing. Shameful!

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—If "The Giant that Killed Jack" had sent his name, the Washburn Debating Society would have had the benefit of his vigorous defence; 978th time, for us: anonymous communications are never published.

ELECTION.—A mighty engine at election times is the Press. The published return of election expenses of Dr. B. S. Wilson for East Hastings shows all the outlays to have been for printing—$145.82, every cent of it. Mr. Thos. Wills' agent advertises his expenses in West Hastings at 266.04.

THE I.P.B.S.—The President, Sheriff Ferguson, entertained the members of the Society at lunch at Richardson's Club Rooms yesterday, and the Society wafted its cordial sentiments to sister Societies. Arrangements are being made for a concert or festival on behalf of the Society, its public "coming out."

THE PROROGATION.—It is not known whether or not Parliament will be able to adjourn before Easter. The prevailing opinion seems to be that the business is not far enough advanced to admit of an adjournment at so early a period, and those efficient guessers and rumor-creators the capital correspondents, have fixed on April the 8th as the day of adjournment.

THE NEW COLLEGE.—It was thought by many that Colonel Fletcher would have been appointed Chief Instructor of the new Military College, Kingston, but his early departure for England to rejoin his regiment, makes this improbable. It is said that an officer of the Royal Engineers has already been selected as Commandant of that institution.

"THE SCOTSMAN."—We have received two numbers of this weekly issue—a journal devoted to Scottish interests in America. It is a similar publication to the Scottish American, which has won a wide reputation and a long continued favor for its never failing excellencies. In size and appearance the Scotsman excels its predecessor in the field, and in talent appears to be its rival.

A PROPHET HAS NO HONOR, &c.—A correspondent commends the Kingston Post Office for two things—its bulletin board announcing the arrival or non-receipt of mails, and the discontinuance of the sale of stamps at the delivery. The correspondent never lived in Kingston, we fear, or he would not insert that stamp clause. Belleville Post Office hours are extended to 7:30 p.m.

THE DEPUTATION.—The Mayor, Messieurs Gildersleeve and Ford, of the Board of Trade and civic deputation to Ottawa, returned to-day. They are satisfied that though the Hon. the Minister of Public Works does not intend to interfere with the present contracts to deepen the Welland Canal to 12 feet, he will before a year is out supplement that work by contracts to make a 14 feet draught of water.

POLICE COURT, Thursday.—Wm. Ainsley, arrested on a peace warrant, was bound over to keep the peace towards his family. Three young men, charged with being drunk, were dismissed, as St. Patrick's Day comes but once a year. Hugh Alderdice, charged with drunkenness, assault, and larceny of a coat and hat, the second and third being a result of the first. The first two charges were dismissed, and he was sent up for trial for larceny. An adjourned case for furious driving was further adjourned.

OUR EXCHANGES.—The Coburg Star has coined the word "pipe-tailed." Twinkle out the meaning.—The Napanee Standard does not give a premium chromo to each subscriber, but it puts "Esquire" after the name of every person who inserts a birth notice.—The Woodstock Review, a well-filled, cleanly printed and newsy paper, has again invaded our sanctum.—The Hamilton Times with a supreme air of triumph ridicules the St. Catharines News for saying that the canal deputation only left the city for the capital on Monday, adding: "The deputation from this city, Toronto, Kingston and other places went to the capital last week, interviewed the Government and returned on Saturday." Wrong yourself, dear Times; the deputation did go East on Monday night, and only had its interview yesterday, a few hours before the paper was issued.

BRIGHAM YOUNG'S OLD AGE.—Age and persecution are gradually souring the mild and gentle temper of Brigham Young, of Salt Lake City. Instead of mellowing it, they are ruining it. Adversity is not softening his view of life, nor reducing the asperity of his language. Perhaps it is Ann Eliza who has done this; perhaps it is the ladies of the harem. According to the Salt Lake Tribune, a disagreeable scene occurred a day or two ago. One of the prophet's many sons President of the order of Enoch, and a vagabond of spendthrift reputation, ran short of money and called on the old gentleman to get his sum. Brigham referred young hopeful to Geo A Smith, trustee in trust of the church. Smith gave the younger Young a bit of his mind, called him a spendthrift, a squanderer, a vagabond and wound up by telling him that the treasury of Jesus Christ would never furnish him with a penny. According to The Tribune Brigham threw his hat in Smith's face. "Take that d—n you," said the prophet, "things have come to a pretty pass when my sons cannot get the money I earned." The hat was restored to him, and the old gentleman's ire was soothed with a check given to the young one. The same paper charges Brigham with confining his aged wife, his only lawful one, in an old school house behind the seraglio, and slowly starving her to death. Take it altogether, Mr Young must be getting to be a very disagreeable sort of prophet.

ARRIVAL OF EMIGRANTS.—A party of about 700 emigrants sailed from Liverpool for Portland on the 4th inst., and is hourly expected to arrive. These people are chiefly farm laborers and female domestic servants, who have been selected with the greatest care by the emigration agents of our Government. The unusually early period of their departure from England this season is due to the advance in the rates of steerage passage announced by the several steamship companies to come into operation during the months of March and April. The rush of emigrants will, therefore, take place at least a month earlier than usual, and it becomes farmers and others who wish to secure labor to take immediate action, otherwise it may be difficult, if not impossible, to meet their wants for spring operations.—Citizen.

CONSPIRACY BILL.—Owing to the troubles existing in New York and Pennsylvania, and arising out of the struggles of Capital and Labor for supremacy, the legislature of the former State is about to enact a Bill to be known as the Conspiracy Act. It is very similar, to, if not a copy of, the British Act adopted in Canada in 1872, and just repealed through the instrumentality of Mr. Irving. Its provisions are such that the police must disperse all gatherings, and can make indiscriminate arrests if people meet together for any purpose the law is opposed to. The object is to prevent men assembling and discussing their grievances, and they can be apprehended if they refuse to disperse, and a complaint of conspiracy preferred against them. There is a great outcry on this matter, and strenuous efforts are being made to defeat the passage of so obnoxious an Act.—Hamilton Times.

THE OCEAN.—Sailing vessels have been decreasing in number for the last four years. In 1870 the total number of registered sailing vessels in the world was 56,518. In 1874 the number had decreased to 56,289. At the same time the average size of the ships had also decreased, in both cases this took place principally In the fleets of America, England, France, and Germany, where steamers are rapidly supplanting sailing ships and this decrease has been sufficient to more than counterbalance the increase of the number of sailing ships belonging to Greece, Portugal, and Norway.

UNJUST ACTION.—A report was circulated a few days ago that one of our principal citizens in the boot and shoe business was going to "suspend payment" and an order to make an assignment of his estate and effects was served on him. He opposed this friendly (!) application, and this morning the case was before the judge, and the gentleman in question proved that he was worth $70,000 over and above all liabilities. A change in the Insolvent Act of 1869 is certainly necessary if an action of that kind can be taken on rumors circulated by irresponsible and unreliable individuals.—Citizen.

A NEW USE.—Fresh encouragement of the so-called game of chess has been found in the use of postal cards. A cent a move is cheap enough; and, by trusting to the mails for communication between the players, everybody has time enough to let his thoughts surge over the board. Then there is the satisfaction of knowing that any deluded fellow creature is being robbed of his natural food and sleep in consequence of the queen's interesting situation or the king's imminent peril, or any lesser complications.

IN DISGRACE.—And now comes plainly enough the name of the English major who cheated at cards at Nice. He was the major of the regiment in which the Duke of Connaught, one of the Queen's sons, is captain. He is thus referred to in the beautiful brevity of a general order:—"The Hon. Major Walter Harbord, of the Seventh Hussars, is discharged from the army. Her Majesty having no further need of his services."

A MIXTURE.—They have issued a Presbyterian cook book in Philadelphia. Why Presbyterian? It was Erasmus who said, when caught eating a savory dish of meat in Lent: "Oh! I have a Catholic soul but a Protestant stomach." Let us have orthodox cooking, by all means.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk.—Sold by Grocers in packets only, labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, 48, Threadneedle street, and 170, Piccadilly; Works, Euston Road and Camden Town, London."

MANUFACTURE OF COCOA.—"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of dietic articles, at their works in the Euston Road, London.—See article in Cassell's Household Guide.

A Great Undertaking.

One of the greatest engineering enterprises ever undertaken in this country has been begun at New York. The design is to construct a tunnel from the foot of Christopher street, under the Hudson river, to Jersey avenue in Jersey City. Two companies have been formed to carry forward the work, the one having a capital of $7,000,000, and the other $3,000,000. The tunnel will be 24 feet high and 26 feet wide, and is to be kept independent of the railways, although a large part of its business will of course come from the roads terminating on the Jersey side. Two tracks are to be provided, and trams will be at frequent intervals to accommodate the travel now going over the numerous ferries.

The need of a tunnel has been severely felt by New York and Jersey City for years. The enormous expense of such a work has deterred capitalists from embarking in it. But the business crossing the river daily at this point has become so immense that there can hardly be a question as to the financial success of the undertaking, if it can be completed. The prosperity of the city would be greatly enhanced by it, and the railway terminal facilities, for which there is such a great demand, would thus be provided.

A SAD CASE.—A few days ago a young woman died in the Lying-in Hospital in this city. She was well known in circles of high respectability in Toronto, having for a considerable period resided here, as also did her father, though at the time of her death her residence was in another part of the Province. Deceased was a young lady of noticeable beauty and many accomplishments, and her untimely death, and the circumstances under which it occurred, will cast a gloom over many countenances. The scoundrel the cause of her ruin was a resident of this city, rather unsteady and dissolute in disposition, though affecting a considerable "society" standing. He had been, it seems, more or less intimate with deceased for two or three years, finally succeeding in accomplishing her ruin. Profound sympathy is expressed for the unfortunate parent, and deep maledictions are showered on the head of the betrayer, who, by the way, has betaken himself to parts unknown. Do we need to point this moral or adorn this tale? The moral is sufficiently obvious, and it is one which parents and thoughtless young women would do well to lay to heart. As for male scoundrels of the sort we have depicted, the dictionary contains no words to express the contempt and abhorrence in which they ought to be held.—Liberal.

HOW THE SEVENTEENTH WAS CELEBRATED.—In Toronto by 11 societies, 7 bands, and 5,000 in procession; Montreal, 16 societies 12 bands, 8,000 processionists; Buffalo, 13 societies, 7; bands 4,500 in line; Detroit, 10 societies, 7 bands, 3,000 in procession, Boston, 32 societies, 12 companies of cadets, 25 bands, 10,500 processionists; Chicago, 37 societies, 27 bands, 13,000 in line; St. Louis, 39 societies (including 2 colored) 28 bands, 12,000 in procession; Philadelphia, 52 societies, 40 bands, 35,000 men; New York, 270 societies, nearly as many bands and 51,000 men in procession. Some of the bands referred to are fife and drum corps. The figures were compiled from the reports of Society Delegates assembled in convention in the different cities to prepare for the celebration.

AT OTTAWA.—There was an immense demonstration of Irishmen in procession at Ottawa. They assembled at St. Patrick's Hall, and marched, with music and banners, to St. Patrick's Cathedral, where solemn High Mass was performed by Bishop Duhamel, and an eloquent sermon was preached by Reverend Father Stenson. After service the procession re-formed, and passed through the principal streets of the city. The Patrick's Temperance Society was by far the largest organization in the procession, and showed greatly increased numbers since last year. Among the distinguished persons present was the Roman Catholic Bishop of Cleveland, Ohio. The demonstration was the largest known in Ottawa for many years. Everything passed off quietly.

THE TORONTO PARADE.—The Irish societies assembled at De La Salle Institute and proceeded to St. Michael's Cathedral, where Mass was said by Dean Proulx, after which Archbishop Lynch delivered a pastoral address which was chiefly on Irish national eulogy and exhortation. The procession then paraded the city. The number was not so large as last year No disorder occurred. Strong detachments of police were posted in convenient positions.

HOW THE P. I. SPEAKS.—The banquet tendered to the Prince Imperial by the officers of the Royal Artillery at Woolwich, on the 23rd of February, was a very brilliant affair. The General commanding the garrison toasted the young Napoleon in handsome terms, and the Prince replied in English as follows:—General D'Aguilar and officers of the Royal Regiment of Artillery, I thank you for the kind words you have just spoken, and the hearty manner in which you have received the mention of my name. (Cheers.) I hope that the officers of the Royal Artillery will allow me still to consider myself as belonging to their corps. (Cheers) Thanks to the hospitality of England, I have been enabled to carry on the traditions of my family of gunners. (Cheers.) Not having been able to complete my education in my native country, I am proud for having had for companions men who have fought with us so bravely on many a field of battle. (Loud and prolonged cheers) At all events, I never can forget the two years I have spent in this garrison, or fail to estimate highly the honour of belonging to a corps whose motto is "Ubique quo jas et gloria ducunt." (Much cheering.

—Wednesday night the wife of David Brown, living four miles north of Crawfordsville, Indiana, was shot dead in her own house, by some one stationed outside. The circumstantial evidence, as reported, is strong against her husband, and some believe that the murder was committed by him. He bought a revolver a few days ago, which was found with one cartridge discharged, and when asked about it said he had fired it in a tree about a mile from his house, describing the tree and place, but no such tree could be found.
