THESE LOTS

Are Situate on Dr. Schultz's River Side Estate,

In the City of Winnipeg,

The Town is advancing rapidly around them, over 1200 Lots of the Magnus Brown Estate, which lies on the outside of the above Property, were sold during last year at prices from $25 to 100 per Lot, and a large number of Buildings erected thereon. It is an actual fact that all who have purchased City Property has doubled their money every year they have held, and as a speculation there is nothing better offering for a small Capitalist. Winnipeg, which was a mere hamlet in 1870, had 5000 last year, and is expected to have 10,000 next year.

Alternate Blocks will be Reserved by the Vendors.

CITY AND VICINITY

RICHMOND & BYDEN announce the completion of the stock of their Millinery & Mantle Departments, and the opening of their Show Rooms.

POLICE COURT, Tuesday.—(Before Mr. Strange, P.M.)—An adjourned case for selling liquor without a license, against Mr. Spankie, of Williamsville; the charge was not proven and the case dismissed.

A SWAP.—Gananoque is about to buy a Steam Fire Engine, and thinks that it will educate the people as well as quench fire. The School estimates for the present year amount to $2500, being one hundred dollars less than last year. This is a saving at the wrong end.

ONLY HALF DONE.—Mr. Seed, permanent head of the Customs and Marine Department of New Zealand, who has been at Ottawa a few days, examining the working of our Departments, left for Europe on Saturday. He should certainly have visited the Agricultural Bureau. You see he'd been at home there.

THE OFFICERS.—At the late meeting of the St. Lawrence Base Ball Club the following members were elected as officers for the ensuing year:—

G. W. Gaden, President.
John Anglin, Vice President.
W. R. Dick, Secretary.
W. Carson, Treasurer.

A CHAMPION FIB.—An exchange says: "The river is open between Kingston and Brockville, and steamers regularly ply between those places." If the writer of that was dropped down in the river to rest there till one of these steamers come along to pick him up, he would freeze or starve, we opine.

CATARAQUI CHAPTER, No. 12.—Last evening at the regular quarterly meeting of this chapter of Royal Arch Masons the annual election of officers took place with this result:—

V. Ex. Comp. R. Hendry, jr., Z.
Ex. " Thos. Gordon, H.
" R. Bunt, jr., J.
" Thos. Geale, P.S.
" F. Rowland, S.E.
" E. S. Boyden, S.N.
Ex. " Henry Dumble, Treas.
" E. Ball, Janitor.

BUSINESS is real dull yet in town. Fully 200 men, good material for insurance agents, lightning rod peddlers, railway navvies and sich, stood to-day for over ten minutes watching the silly performances of a drunken countryman, whose enthusiasism for a row was not cooled off by repeated and effective knock-down arguments from those whom he assailed. The police ended the free show.

THE DUCKS.—Mr. John Walters of Picton has driven over to the main Ducks Island on the ice, since Captain Eccles has returned from his last trip. The former left on the 3rd for shore, the New Nation says, leaving the famous old watchman who guards the Island comfortable in his wonted solitude and still supplied with all the necessaries of life. Captain Williamson, with crew of seven men, was at work raising the iron with which the ill-fated Star of Mill Point was loaded. They are provided with provisions till navigation.

Y.M.C.A.—A very pleasant evening was spent at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms last night. The entertainment consisted of readings and vocal music. Mr. J. Galloway read a beautiful poem, entitled David and Absalom, which was well received, and was followed by Dr. Jarvis, who recited a piece by H. G. Bell, entitled Mary Queen of Scots after which Mr. J. Westlake sang with his usual taste, "the daughter of Israel," which was received with applause. Mr. D. Fraser then read a portion of scripture and made a few remarks upon it, when the Secretary was called upon and sang, "Waiting at the Portal" after which the meeting was closed with singing and prayer. Arrangements are being made for a public meeting in the City Hall; full particulars will be given shortly.

BELLEVILLE.

Belleville, April 12.—The large grist mill near here, called the "Moira Mills," owned by S. M. Hicks, was destroyed by fire on Saturday evening. The building was of stone and was completely gutted, most of the machinery being utterly destroyed, and the walls much damaged. Ford's paper mill adjoining was saved with much difficulty. Loss about $10,000 on the building: insured for $4,000. Loss on stock, $1,500, insured for $1,000.

The ferry steamer commenced its trips between Belleville and the Prince Edward shore on Saturday evening. There is still some ice both above and below the steamer's route.

SHREWD DODGE.—A curious life insurance case has come to light. A man named Flynn personated another called Neville, who was then in a sickly conditton, and effected an insurance on his life. Neville afterwards died; Flynn absented himself and Mr. Flynn drew the amount of the policy as Mrs. Neville. Flynn has returned after an absence of some years, and, the matter having leaked out, he will be prosecuted.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—An accident occurred on Thursday last at the hotel being erected at Caledonia Springs, whereby a number of workmen received serious if not fatal injuries. A scaffold used by some painters on the outside of the building gave way, and a number were thrown to the ground, some of whom are said to have their limbs broken and otherwise to have received fatal injuries.

A PRAYER.—Every newspaper publisher will when he pays his weekly postage bill for prepayment on the newspapers, turn the receipt over, close his eyes and breathe a prayer that Postmaster-General Macdonald may have some day to rest for two hours on a hot shovel.

PITTSBURG.

CHEESE METTING.—We were present a few evenings ago at a meeting in Atkinson's school-house, convened by George Morton, Esq., for the purpose of making arrangements for the manufacture of cheese during the coming season. Mr. Morton, having just arrived from a tour through Britain and Ireland, made with a view of adding to his already extensive knowledge of the cheese business, a very large audience assembled, notwithstanding the bad roads and dark night, to hear his opinions on the present and future prospects of the cheese trade. Mr. P. Shortell was called to the chair, and stated briefly the object of the meeting, and then called on Mr. Morton as the first speaker. He described minutely his observations of farming, stock-raising and cheese-making in England. He dwelt at length on the desirability of bringing the land in Canada into a higher state of cultivation, and instanced a farm of three hundred acres in England, where the occupant paid two pounds ten shillings for rent, and spent an equal amount in artificial manure, and still had a large margin for profit. He next referred to the manufacture of the three famous brands of English cheese—Stilton, Cheshire and Cheddar—which, he said, commanded two cents a pound more than the best Canadian make, but added that it only required care on the part of Canada to equal them. He gave it as his opinion that, owing to the high price of beef and mutton in Britain, the demand for cheese would be on the increase, and that a superior article must be produced. Owing also to the recent decline in breadstuffs cheese would be lower in price than last season, which prohibited any advance in the price of milk. Mr. Ruttal, a cheese manufacturer from Leeds, who is very popular with his patrons, and deservedly so, made a few remarks which were well received. Mr. Morton then proposed to pay nine cents per ten pounds, or make the cheese for two cents per pound, but the farmers stood out firmly for a cent a pound for their milk. The prospect of a fall will hardly warrant any advance, and while it would be a mere nothing to the farmers it might ruin the dairymen, which would certainly be no benefit to the country. Mr. Morton deserves every encouragement and patronage, as he has added much to the farmer's income wherever he has built factories.—[COM.

The Churches.

(Omitted from Yesterday.)

CHALMERS' CHURCH.—The Rev. E. B McLaren, M. A., preached twice—morning and evening—and did so quite ably. He is eagerly heard and very popularly received here at each of his visits, and his many friends are pleased again to hear of his prosperity and early success in the sacred calling. He is now visiting his home for a few days, having resigned his charge in Merrickville to accept a flattering call from a much larger congregation in the Toronto Presbytery.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—The sermon for the benefit of the children yesterday morning drew an increased attendance, and brought forth a more than usually interesting service.

P. M. CHURCH, BROCK STREET.—Last evening the Rev. J. F. Porter preached an impressive funeral sermon in the evening on the death of the late Mrs. Stephen Kidd. It was a touching tribute to a worthy woman, and the occasion was a solemn one.

Wolfe Island.

MR. EDITOR,—In reading some of your last week's issues I notice in the minutes of the Wolfe Island Council a petition from the magnificent village of Marysville, praying the above Council to dig a well for public use. If those ratepayers (I don't know as I am justified in calling them such) requested the Council to dig a well for private use, I think it would be coming nearer the point, as the farmers of Wolfe Island can always manage to get water enough without calling on a village well. I am happy to see the Council had presence of mind and also good sound judgment to reject such petition.

Yours, &c.,
—OLD HICKORY.

Wolfe Island, April 13th, '75.

GOING WEST.—A large number of young men from various parts of Stormont and Glengarry, rendezvoused in Cornwall on Monday en route to California. It is sad to see the bone and sinew of the district voluntarily expatriating itself in this fashion, but the bone may not be without its antidote, if they return a few months hence sadder but wiser men. It is said to be very hard to get employment now on the Pacific Coast, and thousands have had to leave San Francisco for other and less genial parts of the country.—Cornwall Gazette.

GRAIN ELEVATORS.—Buffalo has thirty two elevators having a total transfer capacity of 2,000,000 bushels per day. Eleven are now running and under railroad management. Half of these charge as high as 1½ cents for storage and elevation. There are 64 elevators in New York, forming a similar combination with the railroads. Their capacity is 11,450,000 bushels, and a transfer capacity of 4,680,000 in 25 hours. Lighterage rates are known to be abominable.

DEATH OF A SHOWMAN.—Dan Bryant, the prince of negro minstrels, died on Saturday in the midst of a large number of friends, at his residence in New York, from pneumonia. He caught a cold on the 3rd inst., which settled into the disease which carried him off. The deceased was born in Troy on the 9th of May, 1833, and appeared on the stage at the early age of eleven years at the Vauxhall Gardens in the Bowery. He leaves a wife and five children.

STILL SPREADING.—Small-pox has been conveyed to Galt in four bundles of rags from Montreal which were being used for the manufacture of shoddy in Thompson's woolen factory. Two of the female operatives are down with it. Some of the rags are being reshipped to Montreal, while all necessary precautions have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

CONVICTS ESCAPED.—New York, 12th.—At 7 p.m. yesterday seven convicts escaped from the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island, while the keepers were going their rounds, by opening the safe in which the keys of the cells are kept, with a false key. At 10 p.m. all, except one named Kane, were re-captured.

CANADIAN OARSMEN.—Mr. Darbishire, at one time stroke of the Oxford crew, has become a resident of Ottawa. He is endeavouring to form a four-oared crew to row at the Toronto regatta next summer, and afterwards at the Great Centennial regatta proposed to be held in the United States.

LIBEL.—Miss Rye has brought a libel suit against Mr. Doyle for the following statement in his report to the English Government: "Miss Rye and her coadjutors made a clear gain of £5 per head upon every pauper child brought to Canada."

Tilton Baffled

Tilton's friends are deserting him rapidly, a fact which he knows and feels bitterly. He says now that he has neither home, friends nor family, he had rather die than live, and that in his downfall he will make Beecher feel the penalty of his crime. It is stated that Tilton's lawyers are utterly discomfitted. They charge that Tilton has deceived them all along; that he has asserted, and that Beecher has produced testimony of important and vital facts, which Tilton must have been aware of before, but failed to apprise them. They now say that he assured them he could break down Bessie Turner's testimony, on the crossexamination, which it was impossible to do, and that ever since she left the stand they have felt the hopelessness of his case, and it is believed they will enter a discontinuance before Beecher's testimony is through with. It is said, also, that Tilton is out with his lawyers, and alleges that they have allowed themselves to be duped, and that they tamely permitted Beecher to relate facts fatal to him, and to which they could have successfully objected.

Even the strongest points of Moulton's evidence have melted away before the clear and convincing statement of Beecher, and it is apparent that Moulton, at least, perverted and exaggerated ordinary and insignificant facts into proof of criminal conduct and admissions. Beecher made a great point by the superb manner in which he described the conference with Moulton, where he was induced to sign an apologetic memorandum, written by Moulton and addressed to Tilton, and also to give up the retraction which he had obtained from Mrs. Tilton for his own protection. Instead of the penitent, remorseful, self-confessed criminal that Moulton described him to be on that occasion, he showed that he made no confession of the sort, persistently denied all intention of wrong to Tilton, and only, in his generosity, goes so far as to acknowledge that he had been the unconscious and unwilling cause of unhappiness in his household.

A BRUTE.—A terrible tragedy occurred in Farmington, Mass., on Friday. George W. A very while in a fit of insanity, made a deadly assault upon his father with a gun and pistol. He fired the gun, the charge making a flesh wound in the old man's chest and passing through the left arm. After a desperate struggle the father succeeded in wresting the pistol from the son's hand and discharging it. He then ran into another room and shortly after started after a neighbour for help. During his absence the insane youth went to the barn, turned out all the stock, then shut himself in, fired the building and perished in the flames. The son was thirty-five years old, and has been in an insane asylum twice. The father is sixty-seven years of age and is not dangerously injured.

WHAT A SIGHT!—There's a revolution coming, sure, the critics say. The men's trousers are swelling and the women's skirts are shrinking. It's just like having both legs in one pantaloon to wear the present fashion for ladies. If this thing continues the women will be wearing the breeches in good earnest, and the despised petticoat will adorn the nether limbs of man. The new spring trousers are big and wide and petticoaty; the new Spring skirt is 2½ yards at the bottom only, and tied back at that till one can just walk.

DIDN'T WANT TO.—A parson was picturing to an old sinner on his death-bed the glories that awaited him if he would repent. He promised him, among other things, that he should soon be an angel. "Don't talk that way, please, parson," said the dying man; "if there is anything I have a horror of, it is of being an angel sitting on a damp cloud picking a harp by moonlight."

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL and COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many doctors bills.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk.—Sold by Grocers in packets only, labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, 48, Threadneedle street, and 170, Piccadilly; Works, Euston Road and Camden Town, London."

MANUFACTURE OF COCOA.—"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of dietic articles, at their works in the Euston Road, London.'—See article in Cassell's Household Guide.
