CITY AND VICINITY.

C. M. CHURCH.—The annual District meeting in connection with the Kingston District of the Canadian Methodist Church is to be opened at Odessa on the 25th instant.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.—The Canada Presbyterian Synod at Ottawa has been closed. It is to assemble in Brock Street Church, Kingston, at 7.30 p.m., on the 1st Tuesday in May, 1876, subject to the decision of the General Assembly.

DURING the play of "Macbeth" last night there was a noticeable and much noticed absence of posts on the stage. The President of St Andrew's Society was confidently looked to to make some representation on the subject of complaint but none came.

PROGRESSING.—The neighboring town of Napanee is still progressing, as shown by the Assessor's returns. Its population foots up to 3,364, and the total assessment is $864,037, an increase of $38,293 over last year's assessment. The wicked as well as the good flourish among towns as well as people.

P.M. CHURCH.—The quarterly meeting of the Primitive Methodist Church was held this week, when an increase in membership, Church funds and every department of work was announced. This is very gratifying and encouraging to the esteemed pastor, the Rev. Mr. Porter, who, we are glad to learn for the good of the congregation and the pleasure of the citizens generally, will remain in Kingston for another year.

SOME HISTORY.—The Oswego Palladium of yesterday orateth as follows: "To-day is the 61st anniversary of the battle of Oswego. The only person now living in Oswego who witnessed the battle was the Hon. Alvin Bronson who was taken prisoner by the British when they captured the town, and was taken to Kingston. The flag on the old City Hall is flying in commemmoration of the battle. "The Hon. Alvin does not feel, we presume, like fighting his battles o'er again of the unpleasant experience narrated above.

A VERDICT.—Mr. Willis Phelps, father of Mr. G. B. Phelps, one of the K & P. RR. contractors, yesterday obtained a verdict of $100 dollars at Springfield, Massachusetts, against the Republican of that city, for a libel. That is a better salve than Canadian juries give, and Mr. Phelps can afford to be generous with the money, and, perhaps, lend it to G. B to hurry up a little work or something on the K. & P. R. Let us dream of it anyway, for comfort, MACBETH.—A full house greeted Mr. T. C. King and the Herndon Company last night when "Macbeth" was put upon the boards. Of Mr. King's presentation of the title role little need be said, as his reputation as a tragedian is such as to make any praise of his acting idle and unnecessary, further than that he fully maintained his very high credit, and frequently commanded the applause of the audience by his grand impersonation. He was ably supported by Mrs. Herndon, Mr. Harrison, Mr. Herndon and other members of the company. We are glad to see this short series of the Shakesperean drama so successful, as it shows that the local taste for the legitimate only needs to be properly catered to by a manager like Mr. Herndon to bring out good houses. To-night Bulwer-Lytton's play of Richelieu, the cardinal-statesman, will be presented, and to-morrow night Ingomar. We bespeak overflowing houses.

BRIEFS.—The English mail per Austrian were delivered in Kingston to-day. —The sun is as lazy as store clerks are becoming these dull times. It does not get up brightly at all these mornings. When it does come out in the afternoons, however, it tries to alone for failings.—Brockville is to have another spelling match to-night. The Port Hope Methodist congregation is preparing for a dictionary wrestle.—Right here we may as well give the latest conundrum: "There are four seasons in the year—what's this?"—The Charity Committee of Brighton, Ont., return thanks for a donation of $10 from Mr. Robertson, of Kingston. —Our contemporaries all over the country are informed that "Dunkin"—the name of the late Temperance M.P. who has to father the optional prohibitory act—is not spelt "Duncan" when the writer expects to reach the head of the class.—The Driving Park meeting was so far encouraging that a second meeting to organize the concern is to be called.

MARINE NOTES.—The str. City of Kingston left for Ottawa to-day. The steam barges Nile and Bedford started also for the Rideau Canal. Among the arrivals in port are:—Jones & Millar's.—Schr. Caledonia, from Cobourg, 7,700 bush. peas. St. Lawrence & Chicago Forwarding Company.—Schrs. Eliza White, Port Hope, 7,619 bush. wheat; Two Brothers, Port Hope, 8,437 bush wheat; Philo Bennett, Port Hope, 7,017 bush wheat; Kate, Port Hope, 6,304 bush peas; E. Quinlin, Port Hope, 8,663 bush wheat.

The props Columbia and Prussia have passed down to Montreal.

Detroit, May 7.—Vessels passed up.—Schrs Manzeanillo and Wabash; props Gordon, Campbell and barge Sison. The schr Home cleared for Oswego this morning.

The Chicago Post and Mail say nearly all of the deeply laden vessels are aground at that port.

The gales drove all the ice in Lake Erie down to the foot of the lake, where it remains solid. Buffalo has nearly despaired of navigation opening this season.

—Among the passengers on board the steamship Polynesian are six Carmelite nuns, coming out here to establish a branch of their order. The Rev. Father Murphy delivers a lecture on them and their work next week in the hall of the Jesuit Church, Montreal.

—A Brockville paper refers to an advertisement for a lost silver thimble "with the name Mattie marked on the owner." This habit of tattooing young ladies may have been quite fashionable in Canada several hundred years ago when the red man roamed, &c., but its introduction into civilized life must be deprecated.—Sun.

The Council then adjourned to meet on the first Monday in June at 10 o'clock a.m.

P. McKIM, Clerk.

A Noble Deed.

One of the finest chapters in current history is quietly recorded in the report of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal upon the famine of 1874. We find it condensed in the Spectator. The English Government recognized the impending danger, brought every resource to bear, and completely averted it. The most efficient instrument was a railway rapidly built to connect the threatened district with a richer country. Little money was wasted (there is no hint that any was stolen), for the spectator estimates that three fourths of the expense was most necessary and the remaining fourth was amply repaid by the experience gained. But the most noteworthy feature is the net result of lives saved. The Lieutenant-Governor upon a careful estimate concludes that two millions of people would have perished but for the Government's intervention. That is, there were saved from the most distressing of deaths a number of people three or four times as great as the whole number that perished in the American civil war. And it is noted that instead of being pauperized by the relief, the people were found to have become more industrious. It may be presumed that India at least will rate this achievement higher than any victory of Clive or Wellesley.

THE PRESS.—The position of the Press Gallery in the Impeial House of Commons has been brought up by the Marquis of Hartington, leader of the Liberal party, who moved that the House should not entertain any complaint as to the publication of its proceedings unless there had been wilful misrepresentation or express prohibition of publication, and that strangers should not be ordered to withdraw, unless they were disorderly, except by vote of the House. Premier Disraeli opposed any curtailment of privilege, but thought that the inconvenience of the present method might be dealt with by suspending the rule permitting a single member to order withdrawal. Mr. Lowe denounced the continuance of the anomaly, and Mr. Sullivan cleared the galleries, after which the debate was adjourned until May 25th. If Mr. Sullivan continues to clear the galleries he will soon cause some change in the regulations, for neither the members nor the public will consent to have the speeches wasted on the comparitively desert air of the House of Commons.

THINGS IN GENERAL.

—"Mark Twain's" property in Hartford is worth $80,000.

—Cardinal Manning is receiving many congratulatory addresses.

—They are so careful of their opera houses in London that they will not allow Moody and Sankey to pray in them.

—A crusty bachelor's objection to ladies with beautiful teeth is that nine out of ten of them would laugh at a funeral.

—Eugenie and the Prince Imperial are going to Madrid on a visit to the Countess Montijo, mother of the Ex-Empress.

—Kenealy, of Tichborne fame, calls the English Premier "that attorney's clerk, Disraeli," and himself the "heroic Doctor."

—The English Court of Arches has granted a letter of request requiring an organist to desist playing when asked by the vicar.

—An apparently demented man, with a loaded pistol in his possession, has been arrested while prowling about the premises of Prince Bismarck.

—The contract for the carrying of the Dominion mails between San Francisco and Victoria is to be given to a British Columbia firm for the next five years.

—The Duchess of Edinburg is said to now live much more after a domestic fashion than most people of her rank, and to be joined by Alfred, who has settled down into quite a model husband and father.

—First and last, rather more than six hundred survivors of the famous "Charge of the Light Brigade" have died in this country, and now another of the brave troopers has just stepped down and out in Trenton, N.J.

—Meissonnier, who is the best paid if not the most distinguished artist of France, takes two years to paint a picture less than a foot square. His latest work, representing the halt of a horse in the days of the First Empire, was this size, and sold for $24,000 in gold.

As Numerous Cases of Poisoning and Death have occurred from the use of Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, containing strychnine, sold the public without being properly labelled "Poison," purchasers of Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, are requested not to confound the two preparations, as they are entirely different chemically and medicinally. Phosphates are necessary elements of the human organism, and essential to the phenomena of life, entering into the composition of every solid and fluid of the body, and are as harmless as our ordinary food. As Strychnine is frequently poisonous in the smallest doses, it is of the greatest importance that this caution be heeded.
