CITY AND VICINITY.

MARINE.—The schooner Dundee, which was aground at the foot of Big Island, has been safely taken off.—It blows a gale today on the lake, one of the worst kind, a succession of gusts and squalls.

A BIG AFFAIR.—It is expected that the Drill Shed will have to be secured for Mr. Youmans's next concert, the public halls being too small for the audience sure to be drawn together.

ENGLISH MAILS.—The Scandinavian's mails were delivered here this morning. The London papers received contain interesting accounts of the grand Masonic Installation of the Prince of Wales.

BELLEVILLE is having an arbitration over the amount it ought to pay the contractor for its new Market House. Mr. H. H. Horsey adjudicates.

A BENEFIT.—To-day Mr. J. W. Youmans visited the House of Industry, and with his violin and songs enlivened the spirits of the poor inmates. It was a kind act, but the pleasure it afforded was ample reward. The women inmates even forgot what it was to struggle along without that long-wished for washing machine and wringer.

A GOOD PURCHASE.—Mr. Charles McMillan has purchased from Mr. John Fraser Maple Row on Barrie street, five excellent houses, with the three residences adjoining it on the south and extending around into Brock street to the P. M. Church, for $8,000 cash. The property is well worth the money.

POLICE COURT, Wednesday.—Before Mr. Strange, P.M.—Two boys, arrested for being disorderly on the street, William Stigney and George Mullen, were dismissed with a good scaring. An adjourned case of selling liquor without license against an Ontario street shop keeper was further adjourned until the 14th inst. One of the publicans was charged by the Commissioner with selling liquor after seven o'clock on Saturday night. The case was adjourned until tomorrow. A city builder was charged with erecting a chimney contrary to by law. Adjourned to permit the Commissioner to consult an architect.

CARSWELL, THE LECTURER.—Last night Mr. Carswell gave his first temperance lecture. The audience was not nearly as large as expected, and not a tithe of what the oratorical effort deserved. The lecturer has lost none of the vigor and sprightliness of address which gave so much pleasure to his hearers years ago, and his fund of anecdote, so entertaining and effective in illustrating his arguments, has not been exhausted, but rather enlarged. The lectures will be continued to-night and to-morrow night, and should be attended by those who like to be well entertained.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.—In New York just now the Superintendents of Education have a lively time of it in their endeavours to enforce the compulsory school act now being applied in somewhat similar form in Kingston. When they arrest a truant boy and punish him, his father gets out an action or a revolver, and the Superintendents have to sing small and let the youth go. The law cannot be enforced there legally, because unconstitutional. It is pretty constitutional, however, in Ontario, though the local truant officers should get a life policy and be armed with an indemnity bond for costs and personal damages.

BIG WORKS.—There is a good deal of heavy building work in prospect in town, to supplement that so active now through the numerous residences and shops and stores in process of erection. There is much to do in connection with the Military College, and the repairs of all the military properties; the Court House is to be rebuilt, and a new Baptist Church, with two large Halls for the Oddfellows and Y. M.C. Association, are talked of. That big sewer has to be finished, besides, with the K. & P. RR. difficulties to battle through, the Central Fair to carry to a success, the Volunteer Camp in June to accommodate, and the Street Railway (now awaiting its charter to permit of a beginning of the track laying) has to become a fact. Then there may be a chance of getting the G. T. R. to run directly through the city and of establishing a union station. Officials and contractors will not be Othellos this year; they will have occupations plenty.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—Last evening the regular monthly meeting was held, with a good attendance. The Society entrusted the Committee of Management with a deserving case of relief of an English family, lately bereaved. A number of new members were received, and propositions for the election of honorary members to the Society were brought up and referred to a committee for a report at the next meeting, when it is expected that the names of several English gentlemen of the city will be placed on the honorary list, as deserving of it for their connection with St. George's Society of old and for their national benevolence. A register was ordered to be prepared of all Englishmen living in the city, and it is likely a most useful book, not only to the Society as a body seeking out its kinsmen, but to new arrivals seeking their friends, and last of all as a record worth preserving. As the monthly meetings are to be in the future largely literary, the President, Major Barrow, led off with a capital reading, and next month Mr. Smythe will read an essay, Mr. C. F. Smith contribute a reading, and Mr. Basson and others songs and recitations.

CANADIAN AND GENERAL.

—"Pronounce "Syzygy."

—May showers bring forth June bugs.

—Reports from the wheat counties of New York State are unfavourable.

—The fall wheat is said to be badly killed along the lake shore.

—Book agents are again on the wing—selling the life of Henry Ward Beecher.

—The Good Templars and Odd Fellows of Forest, are to have a spelling match.

—Our colored citizens, says an American paper, are about to organize a "smell-match" club.

—The author of "When this old hat was new," was undoubtedly a verse a tile genius.

—A young son of the Hon. Hector Langevin died at Quebec on Saturday last.

—It is probable that the Premier, Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, will leave for England during the first week in June.

—Major-General Smyth will spend several days at each of the Volunteer camps this summer.

—The New York Tribune announces that it has rented the tenth story of its new building. How is that for high?

—She said: "Nothing is so sensitive as a mother's ear for the wailing of her infant." Except," he growled, "a wife's nose for whiskey."

—Six thousand German families are stated to be preparing to emigrate from Russia on account of the oppressive conscription.

—There was a lady in church last Sunday morning, who didn't look around to see who had on spring hats. She was blind.

—Mr. F. McGuire, of Trenton, has been appointed Assistant Surveyor in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway Survey.

—The Massachusetts Legislature has appropriated half a million dollars towards the representation of the State at the Philadelphia Centennial.

—The Crown Princess of Germany is said to be so devotedly fond of painting that she frequently abandons her bed of state of her palette.

—Sergt. Conway, of Brockville, has been appointed Superintendent of the charwomen and charmen employed in the Government Buildings at Ottawa.

—The powerful steam hopper dredge St. Lawrence constructed for the Dominion Government by Messrs W. Simons & Co., of Glasgow, sailed from the Clyde for Halifax on the 17th ult.

—At the Westminster Police Court a gentleman's servant has been convicted and fined £20, with the alternative of three months imprisonment, for endeavoring to obtain a situation by means of a false character.

—Louisville's authorities have taken to stopping milk-waggons on their way to town and testing the contents for adulterations; so that the milkmen are now altogether dependent on the city water supply.

—The report from Scotland that on the 18th of April the heat there was so oppressive that deaths from sunstroke occurred, will be read with astonishment by people here where we are only emerging from the cold of an unusually severe winter.

—The Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Weston, who has been at variance with a portion of his congregation, sent to his resignation to the bishop and it was accepted. A petition is in circulation advising that the resignation be cancelled.

—Although the health of the Lieu. Governor of Ontario, Hon John Crawford is materially improved, his condition still causes the family considerable anxiety, and it will doubtless be some time yet before His Honor thoroughly regains his strength and can attend to his official duties.

—The dinner given to ex-Senator Schurz in New York will grow in importance as it becomes known that it probably saved his life. It is said that but for the delay necessitated by the dinner, Mr. Schurz would have sailed by the ill-starred Schiller. As it chanced, he sailed in the Pommerania the next day, for the Schiller bound port.

The U. S. Canal Frauds.

The journals in the United States which have so eagerly contended for the punishment of the members of the Canal ring, and equally furiously exposed its singularly clever frauds, have received a slight check. The ring evidently means to die very hard. It was proposed, as a species of remedy for the evils that have prevailed, that the chief State Executive officers in the matter should be held personally responsible, and liable to removal for their offences by the Governor. By a vote of the entire Republican side of the House of Assembly recruited, and their ranks swelled by the ring Democrats, this proposition has been defeated by a majority of thirty. The comments upon this matter in the public press of New York would, if they appeared in a Toronto paper, seem of a singular and unprecedented character. Our legislators are, many of them, unworthy of anything save condemnation for the heedless manner with which they follow the lead of the Minister who directs them, much as though an idea of independent thought never entered their heads. But the charge of deliberate purchase has never, happily, been made against any of our members of Parliament. We trust the day will be far distant when a similar passage to the following, commenting upon the vote, in a New York paper, will have to be written, concerning any of our legislators:—"The Democrats who appear in "the Opposition, but who belong either "to the friends of the Canal Ring, or are "men who have the reputation, whether "justly or not, of being purchasable." It is plain speaking, but must be deserved. The ring has, however, attracted too much attention in the public walks of life to permit it long to survive.

A CIRCUS, HURRAH.—The heart of the small boy is touched to-day. The first circus poster of the season has been put up. The handsome agent of the Excelsior circus is in town, letting folks know by the mighty medium of printers' ink that the Show, which includes a menagerie, will be here on Wednesday, May 26th; at Gananoque on the 27th, and at Brockville on the 28th.

RAIN.—April showers lose none of their strict business qualities when they come in May, as they are now doing. This morning there was another tearing old rain storm. Of course it is good for the crops, and if any further use can be found for it so soon after Sunday night's, we will be delighted.

CRICKET.—The Kingston Club has made its arrangements for two matches—at Ottawa on May 24th and at Prescott on the 25th. It will send forth a good team, but it has strong clubs to face, and we cannot hope for a double success. No, thank you, we will not bet.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.—This evening, at half-past seven, there will be evening service in St. Paul's Church. The preacher will be the Rev. Canon Preston, rector of Cornwall. Seats free.

A NICE KIND OF A BOY.—Boston, May 10.—John Best, of Stoneham, Me., member of the Legislature, commander of G. A. R., collector of taxes and assessor, was arrested to-day for stealing $1,500 from the safe of Aaron Hill, a prominent merchant, having been detected in the act. Best is a man of some wealth and heretofore stood very high.

THINGS IN GENERAL.

—The Prince of Wales, in his yacht Osborne, will proceed some distance to sea with the Arctic ships.

—The French papers have received an intimation from the Minister of the Interior to abstain from discussing military matters.

—The union of all the United Greeks in Russia with the Orthodox Church will soon be accomplished. The movement is steadily extending.

—An advertisement appears in the Manchester papers announcing that Brigham Young and his thirty-six wives are on exhibition there. Admission, sixpence.

—The Archbishop of Canterbury has announced that a second Pan-Anglican Synod will be assembled in 1877, when steps will be taken to secure the attendance of the Colonial Bishops.

—An English and American Mutual Aid Association has been formed at Rome for the purpose of protecting foreigners against extortions of Italian hotel-keepers, especially in cases of sickness or death.

—Two publicans, near London, have been fined each £50 for having in their possession a mixture of treacle, sugar, and water, used for the adulteration of ale. It was not proved that they had so employed it.

—A case has been before the English Divorce Court of a man suing for a divorce on the ground of his wife's desertion. The Judge said it was the first case of the kind since the establishment of the court seventeen years ago.

—Richard Moos, colored, was hanged on Friday at Point a-la-Hache, La. A thousand persons witnessed the execution. Moos' only remark on the scaffold was that he was willing to die and expected to go straight to heaven.

—Mr. J. J. Prior, the well-known actor died of heart disease on Saturday last, in his dressing room, at Toledo Opera House, whilst the performance of "Little Nell" was going on. Mr. Prior was 52 years of age.

—The Custom-house officials at Calais have seized a number of little boxes sent from England, and apparently containing pencils. These pencils, however, are hollow, and, instead of lead, contain false twenty-franc notes.

—A committee, at the head of which is the name of Mr. Disraeli, has been formed for erecting by public subscription a monument over the grave of Lord Bryon, in Hucknall Yorkard Church, where hitherto there has been no memorial of the poet.

—Mr. Robert Bonner, proprietor of the New York Ledger, a paper which has done more to corrupt the taste and cultivate the morbid appetites of the young, than any other ever published, has given $100,000 towards the erection of Dr. Hall's new church.

—Mr. Disraeli is one of those men who "fight it out on that line if it takes all summer." He intends to pass all Government measures, if the prorogation is indefinitely delayed by adhering to that programme. Mr. Gladstone was obliged to ask the Tory Premier to treat the House more respectfully in his future speeches.

—The recent earthquake in Italy was felt from Naples to Nice with more or less violence. At Siena the church bells rang and portions of the facade of the theatre into the street. Bologna was also very severely visited, and so were Rimini and Forli, in which latter cities several children were killed.

—A wager was made between two Orange, N. Y., men a year ago as to the quantity of liquor a certain other party could drink. Within the year the man who made the wager and the keeper of the saloon in which the liquor was drank have died suddenly, and the boy who carried the liquor has committed suicide.

—The extraordinary rate of mortality among the colored people and poorer class of whites in Washington during the past winter and spring, is accounted for by defective sewers, which were constructed at an enormous cost. The result has been that cellars and basements have been saturated with foul sewage, and the soil polluted with poisonous liquids, whose pestilent exhalations have caused sickness and death. Bad water and defective drainage produce more sickness and death than all other causes combined.

Religion at Portsmouth.

A HINT FOR THE REV. A. WILSON TO ACT ON.

The latest and oddest phase of the war between the High and Low Churchmen in Ontario is the vehement protest of the evangelical faction against the introduction of ritualistic practices into the services at the penitentiary and lunatic asylum. It appears to the unprejudiced observer as if this conflict could best be concluded by a compromise, the Low Churchmen taking the convicts and the High Churchmen the lunatics. The severe simplicity of the services of the evangelicals would accord better with the stern and unornamented architecture of the prison, and the imposing accessories of the ritualists—and Canadian ritualists are very High Church—would produce a more decided impression and effect on the minds of the inmates of the asylum.—N. Y. World.

FORTUNATE.—Lieut Colonel Lovelace, a volunteer cavalry officer of Montreal, who received from the Sultan large grants of land in Bulgaria at the close of the Crimean war, is returning with the full rank of Colonel in the Turkish army. He will probably realize a handsome sum by their sales, as the land which was considered almost worthless has been advanced in value by railway and other improvements.

FISHING.—Complaints are being made against the fishery regulations, which allow fishing between Gananoque and Kingston and none between Gananoque and Brockville. We believe the vote is set down to prevent the general slaughter of fish by the visitors to Alexandria Bay and other localities.—Recorder.
