CITY AND VICINITY

CHEAP EXCURSION.—The weather is so handsome to-day that the owners of the Maud are regretting that they had not arranged a cheap excursion to the Cape for to-morrow. They now, however, announce one for Saturday of next week.

POLICE COURT, Friday.—(Before Mr. Strange, P.M.)—John Jones, drunk, $2 or 30 days in gaol. Charles Burns, drunk, dismissed. Charles Suds, charged with assault on Mr. Brady, case adjourned until Tuesday next.

ONTARIO DIOCESE.—The Anglicans of Kingston will be pleased if rumour speaks truly through the Free Press, to the effect that Rev. Mr. Crawford, of Hawkesbury, will be appointed to the rectorship of St. Albans, Ottawa, rendered vacant by the resignation of Rev. Mr. Jones.

D'YOU HEAR.—If the Algoma Tribune mail-man does not at once stop addressing this widely celebrated and dignified journal as "The Wig," we will walk up there some morning and pull his hair so hard that a first class skating rink will be created where a wig ought most to run in his head.

DAILY LINE.—The Richelieu Navigation Company's steamers (Royal Mail Line) are about to branch out from tri-weekly line to a daily line again as in past seasons, leaving Kingston daily downwards and upwards, Mondays excepted. We hope that the pleasure travel to be secured will repay the enterprise.

COURT OF REVISION.—To-day the appeals from Ontario Ward were taken up, and to-morrow being a business day, the next sitting is fixed for Monday, when Rideau Ward complaints will be heard by the potent, grave and reverend Aldermen of the Court.

THE RIVER.—The low water is playing hob with the boats. Yesterday the propeller City of St. Catharines got off the shore on Sir John's Island safely, but the prop. D. R. Van Allen ran ashore above Brockville with the schooner W. B. Ogden, which she had in tow. Both vessels were loaded, and the prop. Shickluna went from Brockville with a lighter, and there was every prospect of her taking them off in perfect safety.

CHARACTERISTIC.—It was with native impudence and cheek that Mr. Peter Conley a Belleville prisoner after going out his way to beat another man against whom he had a grudge, asked his victim in court to lend him $7 to pay the fine imposed. In any other place but the City of the Bay so cool a customer would not be going around loose like that. He would be captured at once by the proprietor of the largest refrigerator and locked in it. He would be made useful all summer in saving the cost of a season's ice.

THE CAMP MEETING.—The Rev. Mr. Dayan, of Watertown, the chief organizer and secretary of the International Camp Meeting Association of Well's Island, came over to the city to-day to make arrangements for the furtherance of visits to the grounds by Kingstonians, with a view to awaken their interest in the goody enterprise. The Messrs. Folger Bros. offer a free trip on the Maud to the Cape on the excursion day, of which we will speak more to morrow.

RUNAWAY.—One of the sewer blasts this morning went off pretty loudly, and almost simultaneously a buggy and horse went off on Bagot street almost as suddenly. The buggy was pretty well zusammengelrochened before the escapade came to the common ending near the Cricket Field. The Americanism for such a catastrophe is "busted," but to speak of a smash-up in the German; "zusammengelrochen," makes a good deal more of it. The word is not patented, and Mr. Woods may give it at the spelling mill in St. Andrew's Hall to-night, if he uses it kindly.

THE PESKY BUG.—The potatoe bug is early at work. The plants are just peeping above the sod and yet to-day in an up-town garden (near Sydenham street) the rapacious, impudent insect has found a dress circle or gallery seat upon each. The little idiot has begun his performance too early. He could better afford to wait around till the potatoe tops grew up big and then have a first-class tuck in. Now his early vegetable feast will be made up of short though dainty morsels. Avaunt, creature.

REMOVAL.—The Rev. Mr. Barry has accepted a call to Trinity Church, Gouverneur, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y. We learn that the call was unanimous from the vestry and congregation, so much so that they sent one deputation to wait upon Mr. Barry, and another to request the Bishop of Ontario to permit Mr. Barry to retire from his mission at Birmingham. Trinity Church is a new beautiful gothic building, will seat 400 persons comfortably, and cost $10,000. All here will regret Mr. Barry's departure from this neighbourhood, where he was doing a good work, and will wish him every success in his new Mission.

BRIEFS.—If we had space sufficient, we would publish the names of the many streets in town that need sprinkling.—Belleville is to hold a temperance demonstration on June 4th. The participants are all expected to come from a distance.—It is again very warm to-day. If anything the mercury has moved up a notch or two. Thus Summer is sliding up to us. She's been a coy maiden.—Every body is talking about "Chris and Lena" these days. They are big, gigantic, immense, as fun provokers.—Masonic honors will attend the laying of the Belleville St. George's Church Corner Stone on Monday.—Fans, linen dusters, straw hats, ice cream, croquet, soda water and the boating fever have broken out in a rash all over town.—Contractors are busy inspecting the Court House ruins prior to making tenders for the reconstruction work.

CANADIAN ITEMS.

—An Aylmer rooster committed suicide a few days ago.

—The Union Navigation Co. advertise to carry cabin passengers between Quebec and Montreal for $1.

—The Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Toronto, lost nearly $300 in their recent demonstration.

—Bears are more than usually numerous and destructive on the Gatineau this spring; in one instance a farmer had twenty sheep killed in one night.

—M. DeBoucherville has responded to M. Joly's challenge, published in l'Evenement, and will meet him in his own district, county of Lotbiniere, at an early date.

—Martin Honan, an advocate member of the Bar in the district of Three Rivers, has been suspended from practice for one month by his confreres for improper retention of money paid him on account of his client.

—Two instances of criminal carelessness are reported. Some Toronto sportsmen accidentally shot a woman, who has since died, near the Don River, and a man has been killed at Hamilton by a runaway horse, the driver of which was condemned by the Coroner's Jury.

CURRENCY.

—To remove dandruff—Go to Arizona and interview the Apaches.

—The appearance of the vine in nearly all the wine growing centres of France is excellent.

—Beet root sugar can be made in California at seven cents a pound, including every expense.

—A St. Alban's fellow stole a lot of young pigs last week. That's stealing from Hogg's litter-ary productions.

—A member of Parliament has been $353 in a London Court for allowing the sewage of his house to flow into the river Lea.

—The Rev. Percal Lamb is the suggestive name of a recently ordained English curate. He should preach green peace on earth, if any.

—Henry Ward Beecher, Theodore Tilton, and Bessie Turner are fishing boats on Chateauqua Lake. The ragged edge and Down and Out are building.

—At a spiritual scene in Paris lately, the spirit of Cartouche, the famous thief was called up, and came so practically that nearly every one present subsequently missed a watch or purse.

—The Indianapolis Sentinel shows some concern over a case of premature burial—as if the burial of a confirmed Indianapolitan could under any circumstances be considered premature.

—When a clown in a circus gets $125 per week for giving you solid jokes, it is no wonder that a country minister on $500 per annum, part potatoes, oats, hay and shoulder hams at that should get discouraged.

—There are now in the French army 90,000 horses. If the same army were put in active service it would require 220,000 horses. Hence the importance of that German decree in relation to horses.

—A man named Chambers, who belongs to South Bay and who was engaged as a sailor on the schooner Southwest, fell from a yard arm of that vessel in Oswego on Wednesday last and was instantly killed.

—How soon some women change their minds respecting their husbands! Mrs. Spinn was forever telling her husband that he wasn't worth the salt in his bread; but when he got killed in a railway collision, she sued the company for five thousand dollars.

—Later reports from the Western States are to the effect that the districts ravaged by grasshoppers last year may escape the plague this season, but large portions of Eastern Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, and Minnesota must certainly suffer immensely.

—A second successful voyage by an iron turret ship is now reported. The Devastation crossed the Bay of Biscay successfully in very heavy weather, and proved a good sea boat. She excited great interest at Lisbon, where the King of Portugal visited her, and thence made a good voyage to Gibraltar.

—Young grasshoppers are said to be eating every green thing before them in the southern parts of Nebraska. In that case it may be well for the emigrants to that State to look out, as they stand a chance of being devoured, and robbing their friends of the pleasure of giving them a christian burial.

OCEAN DISASTER IN THE PACIFIC.—By the arrival of the steamer Alaska at San Francisco from Hong Kong and Yokohama, we have details of the collision on Sunday, April 4, of the steamers Ocean and Fusing, in a dense fog, 125 miles North of Shaweishan Islands, by reason of which fifty five of the 125 passengers on the Fusing were lost. A large hole was knocked in the Ocean's port bow, above and below the water line, about ten feet by five feet. The steamer Fusing settled down by the head, and as soon as the ship got clear they lost sight of one another. The Ocean's boats were all lowered, and proceeded to the assistance of the sinking ship, being guided by the cries of the Chinese passengers. The Fusing foundered almost instantly, and the passengers were clinging to the wreckage. Only one boat belonging to the Fusing got clear of the wreck, with the European portion of the crew (except Mr. Stewart, the third engineer, who was drowned.) and some Chinese—twenty-three in all. After putting the rescued men on board the Ocean, the boats returned and searched for over two hours among the wreckage for any other survivors. The campradore was found floating quite dead. Many of the Chinese saved had sustained severe bruises, and had an arm or a leg broken. Their wants were attended to as soon as possible. All attention was then given to the condition of the Oacen; the hole in the bow was blocked up with planks and bags of rice, and all hands crew and passengers, were set to work to jettison the cargo, (which consisted mostly of bean cake,) out of the fore compartment. By midnight the ship was sufficiently lightened to enable her to proceed for the nearest port.

THE TREES.—The heavy rains throughout those portions of Pennsylvania lately swept by forest fires confirm the old assertion that great conflagrations, like great battles, bring about meteorological changes favorable to the deposition of water from the air. What the subsequent effects will be is worth some thought, for here is an immense tract of land denuded of its trees, which have a great influence on the rainfall. Scientists predict that the disappearance of the forests will have a baneful effect upon the climatology of the country, and we are advised to look out for heavy floods and freshets next spring—much worse than those of this year.

RYKERT.—The London Advertiser says: "The spectacle of the purist Rykert, who believes in the potent influence of the dollar not only at the polls but in the Legislature, bringing his opponent to book is most entertaining. If Mr. Rykert gets back into the House he will be careful how he recoups his election outlay by operations in Private Bills."

SPIRITUAL CUT.—Grip has a cartoon of the Blake question. It represents Mr. Blake as the Davenport Bros., with his hands tied entering the Cabinet, and George Brown wondering whether he can play on a number of Canada's first instruments lying beside him.

WANTED, A RUNAWAY HEIRESS.—Miss Agnes Burns, the beautiful daughter of a poor weaver of Dundee, Scotland, secretly left her home last September and sailed for New York. Since then nothing has been heard of her except that her name was found on the passenger list of a Glasgow steamer. Though her father was poor, Miss Burns was given a fine education, and was surrounded with luxuries by Mr. Robert Gray, a wealthy bachelor uncle, of Glasgow. She was only 18 years old, and had just completed her school days when she ran away. Mr. Gray was travelling on the continent at the time, but he returned at once and has since made every effort to find her. He has authorized Drs. Clow and Calnek, of 216 West Twenty-eight street, to offer a reward of $5,000 for news of her whereabouts, and he will come to America this summer unless she is discovered before that time. Mr. Gray is over 70, is worth £100,000, and his neice is his only heir. Miss Burns was unaware of her fortune in prospect when she quit her home.—N. Y. Sun.

THE OTHER KIND.—Two Irishmen, lately landed in New York, were boarding at a hotel where they were sorely troubled with mosquitoes, and could hardly obtain sleep enough to satisfy nature. "Put your head under the blankets Mike, on then they'll not bite yees." Pat did as requested, but scarcely had he found himself free from the mosquitoes when he was attacked by bed-bugs) that he had failed to notice. "Bad luck to me, Mike," said he; "here's another kind without wings an' fiddles; but begorra, they bite as hard as the others.
